REAL NEWS.
The Post is the only morning newspaper in Washington served by the Associated Press.

The Washington Post.

Today—Probably showers.
Tomorrow—Cooler.
Yesterday — Highest, 75; lowest, 59.
Details on page 7.

NO. 20,246. ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER POSTOFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C. WASHINGTON: SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1931  THREE CENTS.
COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY THE WASHINGTON POST CO.

TAMMANY MAN SEEKS POST OF HOUSE LEADER

John J. O'Connor Claims Strong Support for Floor Chief.

NEW YORKER RATED AS OUTSPOKEN WET

Holds Northern Liberal Need as Southerners Will Get Speaker's Chair.

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

A Tammany man, Representative John J. O'Connor, of New York City, yesterday laid claim to the coveted post of Democratic floor leader of the House of Representatives.

The floor leader is the pivot man, the spokesman of his party in the House. His is always an important position. This time, however, it will be doubly important because of the bearing the forthcoming session will have on the presidential race of 1932.

In announcing his candidacy for floor leader yesterday, Representative O'Connor stated bluntly that it was this—the imminence of the presidential fight—that entitled him to the office.

"A Northern liberal ought to be floor leader," Mr. O'Connor said. "If a Democrat is to be elected President in 1932, he will be elected not by the Democrats of the South, but by the Democrats of the entire country."

Strong Opposition Likely.

Opposition to O'Connor, and there undoubtedly will be plenty of it, will be based on the argument that his political organization, Tammany, is under investigation, and that he is an outspoken wet. Virtually all other candidates for the office are drys.

Mr. O'Connor declined to say who he favored for the Democratic nomination for President.

His brother, D. Basil O'Connor, is the law partner of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, now regarded as the outstanding candidate for the presidential nomination.

That a lively fight will be waged for the position of Democratic floor leader is certain, and in all likelihood it will take on a sectional tone. The Northern Democrats say that inasmuch as the Southern Democrats are to have one of their number—John N. Garner, of Texas—in the Speaker's chair, and inasmuch as Southern Democrats are in line for the most important committee chairmanships, it would seem only fair that the floor leader should be a man from above the Mason and Dixon line.

Southerners Launch Booms.

Some of the Southerners concede the justice in this argument, but not all of them. Already four members of the Alabama delegation are busy seeking support for their colleague, Representative John McDuffie.

Booms also have been launched on behalf of Representatives Joseph Byrns, of Tennessee; Charles R. Crisp, of Georgia, and John E. Rankin, of Mississippi.

Among the Northerners, Representative O'Connor's principal rival for the position is the white-haired veteran from Illinois, Henry T. Rainey, whereas O'Connor is a wet, Rainey is a dry.

Representative O'Connor, an attractive Irishman of 46 years, about to start his fifth term in the House, fairly exuded confidence as he talked to newspapermen yesterday.

Has Tammany Support.

He said that all of the members of the big Tammany delegation in the House were backing him, and that he had received promises of support from members in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Kentucky and Missouri. He said he expected support from the Maryland delegation, which is now solidly Democratic, and also from some of the Southern members.

Most surprising of all was his statement that some members of the Illinois delegation, the delegation that was expected to present the name of Representative Rainey, had promised to support him.

The choice of a floor leader will be made at a Democratic caucus which will be held a day or so before Congress convenes.

Native of New York.

Representative O'Connor, who represents the Sixteenth New York District, a district long represented by the late Bourke Cockran, was born in the metropolis, November 23, 1885, attended the public schools, and in 1908 received his A. B. degree from Brown University. Three years later he received his degree of doctor of laws from the Harvard University Law School.

His active participation in politics began almost as soon as he had hung out his lawyer's shingle. He served three terms in the New York Assembly before coming to Congress.

He is married and has four sons.

Roosevelt Is Indorsed By Democrats of Iowa

Des Moines, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Members of the Democratic State central committee here today indorsed Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, for the party presidental nomination.

Although the group did not take formal action, members said they considered Roosevelt the most highly qualified man for the Presidency and they believed he would be satisfactory to the corn belt States. Individual members predicted that he will have an instructed delegation from this State.

H. P. Fletcher Slated To Go to Arms Parley

Tariff Body Head May Be Chief of Delegation at Geneva.

(Associated Press.)

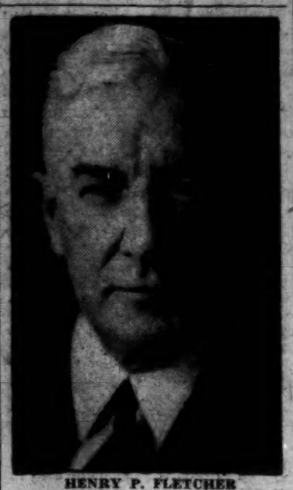
The diplomatic experience and good-humored poise of Henry P. Fletcher will be utilized in America's efforts to effect a general reduction of armaments.

Word got around yesterday that he is to be a delegate to the arms conference in Geneva next February under auspices of the League of Nations. He is considered the most likely possibility for chairman of the delegation if Secretary Stimson is not one of its members.

President Hoover has said nothing about it publicly, but those who should know say he has definitely decided upon Fletcher, whose retirement as chairman of the Tariff Commission comes November 30.

In whatever capacity he goes, however, the Greencastle, Pa., native will be at home when the statesmen gather, either in the formal atmosphere of a plenary session or in the informal gatherings where much of the real work is done under eddies of tobacco smoke.

He has spent almost 29 of his 58 years in statecraft. He was Undersecretary of State during the Washington arms conference in 1921 and 1922. He was Ambassador to Italy from 1924 to 1929. He headed the American delegation to the Pan-American conference at Havana in 1923. He was Ambassador to Mexico during the trying times of the World War—to mention only the more important posts he has held since Roosevelt sent



HENRY P. FLETCHER

Continued on Page 5, Column 1.

U. S. GOODS HIT BY 50 PER CENT LEVY IN BRITAIN

New Duties First Passed Under Antidumping Tariff Law.

MEASURE EFFECTIVE ON NEXT WEDNESDAY

Tools, Clothes and Toilet Accessories Are Among Articles Affected.

London, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The first duties under Britain's new anti-dumping measure will become effective next Wednesday and will hit numerous articles the nation has been accustomed to receive from the United States.

The text of the "abnormal importations act," which was issued tonight, showed duties of 50 per cent, based on value. The order imposing these taxes was made under the terms of the antidumping measure which earlier in the day received royal assent, after having passed all stages of Parliament.

Many Lines Affected.

The following articles will be subjected to 50 per cent duties:

Metal furniture, cutlery, including surgical instruments and safety razors; hand tools other than agricultural implements, vacuum cleaners, wireless sets and the component parts thereof excepting valves, permanent magnets or batteries, typewriters.

Other articles affected include:

Woolen manufactures, stockings and hose of silk or artificial silk, handkerchiefs wholly or partly of linen, men's and boys' overcoats, mantles, suits, coats, waistcoats and trousers, all gloves except rubber gloves, paper and paper manufactures, tires and tubes, heels and soles, linoleum, oilcloth and similar floor coverings.

Canada May Be Hit.

The new duties also hit all kinds of perfumery and cosmetics, including toothpastes, creams, deodorants, sachets, lipstick, rouge, grease paint, lotions and soaps.

Toilet requisites also are affected, such as powder puffs, nail buffers, clippers, files and tweezers.

The order, designated as "number one," was signed by Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade.

The preamble to the order directed attention to the fact that under the abnormal importations act duties up to 100 per cent might have been levied.

It also said the board of trade was satisfied that in every case listed importations into the United Kingdom had been in abnormal quantities.

Imports from the dominions will be admitted duty free, but there were rumors an exception might be made in those from Canada to block the possibility that American firms might assemble articles in that country and ship them from there.

CHINA AND JAPAN REJECT PLAN FOR ARMISTICE IN MANCHURIA; ACTION DISMAYS WASHINGTON

President and Stimson Greatly Concerned at Turn of Events.

U. S. MAY WITHDRAW TOKYO AMBASSADOR

Dawes Asserts United States Must Preserve Freedom of Judgment.

By HAROLD J. T. HORAN.

President Hoover and Secretary Stimson were greatly concerned last night with the reported decision of the Chinese delegate to the League of Nations, Dr. Alfred Sze, to refuse the appointment of a neutral commission of inquiry in settling the Manchurian difficulty between China and Japan. Japan's action in doing likewise was regarded as virtual rejection of further League of Nations intervention and leaves the United States as the remaining source of hopefulness of solving the crisis. The refusal of the Tokyo government was announced this morning, too late to be handed to President Hoover or Secretary Stimson.

The abrupt rejection of the league's suggestion for an impartial commission of inquiry has completely overturned the projects of peace which were laboriously constructed by the chairman of the league council, Aristide Briand, and American Ambassador Charles Gates Dawes.

Presence of Ambassador Dawes in no way implied American participation in activities of the league council. Ambassador Dawes made this clear earlier yesterday when he announced:

"The United States must preserve its full freedom of judgment as to its course."

Borah Against Force.

The State Department has no definite plan of action either independently or in conjunction with the league, but it was believed here last night that the situation created by the Chinese rejection may force the United States to indicate its displeasure by withdrawal of American Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes from Japan.

Such a deliberate action would find sympathy in the Senate foreign relations committee where yesterday Senator Borah declared that the intervention of the United States should not involve the use of force. The senator said:

"The proposal from Paris that the United States should intervene or in other words employ force to settle the Manchurian difficulty is incredible. In saying this, I don't mean to approve what Japan is doing. Far from it. This talk of the use of force or intervention, implied from the very beginning, has had the very reverse effect of bringing about peace.

U. S. Limit Is Seen.

"When the United States employs its good offices in every reasonable way to bring about peace it has done all it can do or should do. No treaty and no duty devolves upon the peace of nations which requires or permits the United States to go further."

The delicacy of the problems involved in the settlement of the Manchurian impasse has caused Secretary Stimson more anxiety than any other international situation that has developed during his term of office.

Yesterday frequent cables were exchanged between the State Department and Ambassador Dawes, who

Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

Wars Are Not Private, Kellogg Tells Powers

Coauthor of Peace Pact Calls for Mobilization of World Opinion to Force Settlement of Sino-Japanese Conflict.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Frank B. Kellogg, co-author of the Kellogg-Briand peace pact and World Court judge, tonight called for mobilization of world opinion for peace should present negotiations fail to produce settlement between China and Japan.

Saying that he hoped "very much" the negotiations involving the two nations would result in speedy settlement, Mr. Kellogg, former Secretary of State, called for efforts by all nations signatory to the pact of Paris if they do not.

"The time for secret diplomacy in grave instances of this kind is past," said Mr. Kellogg. "Private conversations by ministers of foreign affairs with the diplomatic representatives of China and Japan do not adequately meet the situation."

"Private conversations," he said, "are apt to be misunderstood and misinterpreted.

"No nation has a right to consider itself aggrieved by having its attention called to violations or threatened violations of treaties. War is no longer the private affair of belligerent nations. The nations of the world should publicly acknowledge their own obligations and demand that the obligations of other signatories should be fulfilled, if peace is to be maintained."

Dr. Sze Denies League Announcement of Acceptance.

IDEA "UNTHINKABLE," IS TOKYO'S DECISION

Council Had Been Reported Agreed on International Board of Inquiry.

(Associated Press.)

China's delegate to the League of Nations last night emphatically denied an earlier announcement by the league secretariat that he had agreed to an armistice in Manchuria. The Chinese spokesman said he could not agree to any proposal which did not stipulate evacuation by the Japanese army.

The Japanese government yesterday also rejected as "unthinkable" the reported armistice proposal. Tokyo instructed its delegate at the League of Nations council in Paris concerning this decision.

Earlier in the day secretariat officials said both Japan and China had approved the appointment of an impartial commission of investigation.

League circles suggested an American head the commission and the names of Ambassador Dawes, Gen. Pershing and Thomas W. Lamont were mentioned.

Communications at Front Broken.

The activities of opposing armies on the Manchurian front were clouded at Mukden by a breakdown in communications. The first Japanese casualties from the capture of Taitsihar arrived.

Foreign Commissar Litvinoff, of Russia, expressed concern in a new note to Japan lest widening Japanese military activities in Manchuria involve the interests of Russia.

President Chiang Kai-Shek received the approval of the Kuo-Mintang Congress at Nanking to go to Manchuria and assume command.

Martial law was invoked at Tientsin again after firing had resumed, and the situation quieted down.

Wheat broke heavily in Chicago on the basis of dispatches from Paris.

Unthinkable, Japan Holds.

Tokyo, Saturday, Nov. 21 (A.P.).—The Japanese government today rejected as "unthinkable" proposals for a so-called armistice in Manchuria.

Instructions concerning the government's decision were sent to Kenkichi Yoshizawa, the Japanese delegate, at the League of Nations Council meeting in Paris. Reports of the purported armistice caused the greatest surprise in official circles.

"Acceptance is unthinkable," an authoritative spokesman said. "It would mean the total surrender of the Japanese principles involved."

The government took the stand that armistice would be tantamount to agreeing to evacuation of occupied territory outside the south Manchurian railway zone.

Safety of Japanese Lives.

From the beginning of the conflict with China Japan has contended that to withdraw her troops is impossible until the safety of the lives and property of Japanese nationals has been guaranteed by trusted Chinese authorities.

It was said authoritatively that if M. Yoshizawa had committed himself to any proposals for truce it would mean he would be asked to resign immediately.

The instructions sent to the Japanese delegate directed that he reject armistice as simply out of the question.

"How can Japan agree to suspend hostilities in the face of imminent danger of attacks not only by Chinese regulars but also by bandits?" a government spokesman said.

"Japan can not agree to any conditions which restrict army activities in Manchuria in view of the Japanese contention that those activities to date have been made purely in self-defense and necessary to protect our interests."

(Copyright, 1931, by the Associated Press.)

Paris, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese delegate to the League of Nations, emphatically declared tonight that he had not agreed to an armistice in Manchuria as the league secretariat had announced earlier in the day.

His declaration upset the belief

Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

STANDARDS BUREAU UNION BACKS A.F.L.

Local Is Second to Uphold Federation; Nearly 40 Vote Withdrawal.

By J. B. McDONNELL.

The first important flareback against the recommendation of the executive committee of the National Federation of Federal Employes that the organization withdraw from affiliation with the American Federation of Labor was heard last night when it became known that the Bureau of Standards local, No. 260, had voted against withdrawal.

No announcement was made of the vote of the Bureau of Standards local and officers of the union refused to discuss the subject nor to admit that reports of the outcome of the balloting were correct. National officers of the federation said they had received no report from the Standards local and it had been decided that, as a matter of policy, no announcements of partial results of the Nation-wide poll would be made because it might be felt that an effort was being made to bring the influence of publicity to bear on the decisions of locals which had not acted.

Whatever the result of the poll of their members, officers of the Bureau of Standards local said, the local would stick with the national federation.

"Assuming the local voted against the recommendation of the executive committee of the federation," one officer of the local said, "that would mean only that our local was expressing its opinion on one question. It would not mean that the Bureau of Standards local was at loggerheads with the national federation. Whatever disagreement there may be between the bureau local and the national federation undoubtedly can be ironed out among ourselves.

"Any one who assumes to announce the outcome of the voting of the Bureau of Standards local on this question is assuming a responsibility without his or her official duty. We are anxious that nothing that is done by our local can be said to have influenced any other local and we know that such a policy has been pursued by our local officers. This question must be decided on its merits according to the best judgment of federation members. Whatever the outcome of the referendum the Bureau of Standards local will abide by the decision of the majority."

Another Detroit local may go against the recommendation of the national officers and executive committee and vote to stay with the American Federation of Labor. It is

Continued on Page 14, Column 5.

ROADS TO BE HEARD ON RAIL LOAN PLAN

Commerce Commission Will Get Carriers' Views on November 28.

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.

Moving to hasten a decision on the establishment of the projected Railroad Credit Corporation, the Interstate Commerce Commission announced yesterday it would hear arguments next week on the carriers' plan, submitted Thursday, for administering the emergency loan fund.

Arguments will begin Saturday, November 28. Officials of the commission believe they will not require more than three days.

Although hope had been expressed in some quarters that the rail executives' modified plan might be accepted without formal hearings or argument, the commission's adverse decision on this point was not regarded last night as a threat to the ultimate approval of the loan program.

In their response to the emergency rate increase proposal of the I. C. C. made October 19, the rail chiefs rejected the proffered national pooling plan, but suggested creation of a revolving fund from which the weaker roads might borrow. Legal obstacles in the way of the direct pooling of the increased revenues influenced the decision in favor of the loan fund. The emergency revenues provided under the October rate decision would make available about $100,000,000 to $125,000,000 a year for the loan pool. The decision required submission of the administrative plan before December 1.

Despite the apparent intention of all parties involved to hasten the preliminaries, actual advances under the plan proposed by the carriers would not be available for perhaps three months. Several weeks would be required for the publication of the

Continued on Page 14, Column 6.

Hurley's Daughter, 8, Gulps Red Cross Badge

(Associated Press.)

Eight-year-old Ruth Hurley, daughter of the Secretary of War and Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, is suffering at Walter Reed Hospital from having swallowed a Red Cross button.

The child was reported at the military hospital yesterday not to be in serious condition. The pin was described as "passing through." The child gulped it down Thursday. Mr. Hurley was notified of the accident in New York City, where he had been speaking.

British Mine Blast Kills 18; 7 Missing

Unaccounted For Believed in Pit of Raging Flames; 27 Are Injured.

Doncaster, England, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Eighteen miners were killed, seven were missing and 27 were injured tonight in an explosion and fire in the Bentley colliery, near Doncaster, one of the biggest in Yorkshire. The seven missing were believed to be in the pit where flames raged furiously and there was little hope they would survive.

About 1,000 men were below at the time of the explosion and hundreds of them were temporarily isolated by roof-falls but succeeded in escaping. An inrush of gas followed the explosion, setting fire to the mine.

Hundreds of volunteer rescuers were working, but conditions in the pit necessitated their coming to the surface frequently despite the fact that they were equipped with gas masks. Willing relays were ready to replace exhausted rescuers.

Of the killed many were burned so badly they could not be identified.

Three Men Are Killed In Avalanche of Rock

Danville, Ill., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Three men were killed and one seriously injured today in a fall of rock in the new shale mine of the Western Brick Co. The dead are Harry S. Siders, John Seely, and Hanley Johnson. Roy Medford was crushed internally.

Schooner, 23 Aboard, Grounds Off Scituate

Scituate, Mass., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—A fishing schooner with 23 men aboard went aground in dense fog tonight a few hundred yards from the North Scituate Coast Guard Station. Coast Guardsmen set out at once to the vessel's assistance.

The schooner was the Angie Marshall, owned by J. M. Marshall, of Gloucester. It was returning from the fishing banks with 50,000 pounds of fish.

Lindbergh Lands Giant Plane in Cuba

33 Passengers Aboard the American Clipper on Maiden Voyage.

Cienfuegos, Cuba, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—(By Pan-American Airways radio to Miami).—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh sailed a new queen of the skies on her maiden commercial voyage today into Latin-America, but after a late arrival here decided to remain overnight instead of proceeding to Kingston, Jamaica, as scheduled.

Col. Lindbergh, flying Pan-American Airways' giant American Clipper, did not wish to risk a night landing at Kingston with his 33 passengers. The seaplane took off from Miami 1 hour and 45 minutes late this morning due to last-minute motor trouble. He will resume the voyage tomorrow to Kingston and Cristobal, Canal Zone.

A gala welcome, with most of the city's populace joining for a first glimpse of the celebrated aviator, was accorded the Clipper and her passengers and crew here. Similar celebrations are planned along the route as the colonel plies his way across the Miami - Kingston - Barranquilla - Cristobal route for the first time.

Jury in Principal's Trial Fails to Agree

Morgantown, W. Va., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The jury in the trial of John T. West, Morgantown High School principal, accused of misconduct with Esther Williams, a teacher, disagreed today and was discharged by Judge Charles G. Baker.

LOYALTY OF ITALIANS TO U. S. GRANDI PLEA

Addresses Italo-Americans After New York and Philadelphia Honor Him.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Signor Dino Grandi, speaking as Foreign Minister of Italy, emphasized tonight that Americans of Italian blood are Americans, not Italians.

They must be loyal citizens of the United States, he said, and in Italy people wish them to be the best of America's citizens, believing that in no other way can they show their natural affection for Italy.

He gave this message in the name of his country and of Mussolini to the millions of Italo-Americans in an address spoken in Italian at a dinner given by the Sons of Italy, at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

"Three years ago," he said, "in a speech to the Italian Senate on our foreign policy, Mussolini said that he had occasion to repeat many times afterward and lately in a telegram sent to the supreme venerable of the Order of the Sons of Italy: 'The Americans of Italian descent must be faithful and loyal citizens of the United States.'

"But I think something more is desirable; I think that in Italy we wish that Italo-Americans be the best American citizens and in no other way could they show their natural affection toward Italy than by giving a constant and vivid example of civic virtues in this country. The more they love America, the more they serve America, and the more they will be worthy representatives of the Italian race in this Commonwealth."

Here for a brief 24-hour stay, the Italian foreign minister expressed delight at the evident result of his mission. "The valuable words which have been spoken from the White House on peace and disarmament

Continued on Page 2, Column 2.

Bids for Treasury Bills Triple Amount Offered

(Associated Press.)

Secretary Mellon announced last night that applications of $173,213,000 had been received for an issue of about $60,000,000 of 93-day Treasury bills dated November 23 and maturing February 24, 1932.

Average price of the bills to be issued, totaling $60,182,000, is 99.411. Except for two bids for an aggregate of $115,000 at prices averaging about 0.70 per cent, the highest bid made was 99.500, equivalent to an interest rate of about 1.94 per cent on an annual basis. The lowest bid accepted was 99.381.

DEMOCRATIC CHIEFS DRAFT TAX PROGRAM

Relief of Unemployment Is Also Discussed After Walsh Conference.

(Copyright, 1931, by the Associated Press.)

Formulation of a Democratic legislative program with taxation and unemployment relief the first consideration was advanced yesterday at conferences between party leaders.

The discussions were based on progress made Thursday night at a meeting of Democratic leaders of the House and Senate. To avoid publicity, this was held at the home of Senator Walsh, of Montana, assistant Democratic leader.

Everything indicated that the Democratic tax program—all important because of the party's probable control of the House, where revenue legislation originates—would lay the chief burden of increased revenue on big incomes and large inheritances.

With the Treasury deficit this year already more than $700,000,000, Republican leaders of the Senate have agreed that a tax increase is necessary. Chairman Smoot of the Senate finance committee has proposed increasing income taxes all along the line and imposing a selective sales tax on luxuries.

Democratic spokesmen said yesterday that their tax program would not be definitely completed until they know what the administration will recommend and how much increased revenue is essential.

The problem was discussed in detail yesterday by Senator Harrison, ranking Democratic member of the finance committee, and Representative Collier, of Mississippi, who will be chairman of the ways and means committee if Democrats organize the House.

No definite conclusions were reached at the conference Thursday night,

Continued on Page 4, Column 4.

French Banks Balk At U. S. Cotton Deal

Paris, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—A plan to sell approximately half a million bales of American cotton to France by means of a credit arrangement between French and American banks fell through today because private banks in France were unwilling to guarantee the notes of French spinners.

It had been arranged that the Chase National Bank, backed by the Federal Reserve of New York, would discount six months' cotton drafts up to $25,000,000 on condition that the French banks guarantee payment.

Washington Antiques Taken From Lee Home Are Sought

No Clews Guide Police in Search for Family Heirlooms Valued at $8,000 Stolen From Cupboard in Carefully Closed House.

Valuable heirlooms of the Washington family, carefully preserved by successive generations of the Lees of Virginia, last night were the object of a city-wide search following their unexplained disappearance from the home of Mrs. Robert E. Lee, 2140 Wyoming avenue northwest.

The antiques, 17 pieces in all, of an estimated value of $8,000, were mysteriously removed from the locked and boarded home while Mrs. Lee, widow of Col. Robert E. Lee, grandson of Gen. Lee, was abroad last summer.

The robbery was discovered in her absence and reported to the insurance firm of Ralph Lee, jr. Mrs Lee was told of the loss on her return from Europe early this month.

For nearly a week police have been running down every possible clew. Last night they declared they were no nearer a solution. As double doors to the entrance were heavily locked and bolted, the windows boarded and locked, and articles in the collection carefully locked in a closet within, Mrs. Lee said she was at a loss to explain "how they could have been taken from the house."

She enumerated the items stolen as follows:

A dozen glass pieces, including port and claret wine glasses, and three glass finger bowls.

Two salt cellers, of dark blue glass, trimmed with silver.

Two pepper cruets, of silver.

One silver mouffonier.

Mrs. Lee said the articles missing

Continued on Page 14, Column 6.

Pollard Threatens to Act In Virginia Beach Gaming

Governor Plans to Invoke Every Power of State and to Remove City and County Officials Unless Conditions Complained of Cease.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Gov. Pollard today announced action to end at Virginia Beach what he termed conditions constituting open rebellion against the laws of the Commonwealth.

"Local authorities have been given every opportunity to enforce the law and have failed," the chief executive said after reading the report of the Princess Anne County grand jury, which found no evidence of the operation of gambling houses at the Virginia resort. "Every power of the State will be used at Virginia Beach to assure law enforcement."

Asked to detail his method of procedure, the governor said he had not determined the full course of action, but he cited newspapermen to a letter he sent by registered mail August 18 to the mayor, Commonwealth's attorney and chief of police of Virginia Beach, in which he said:

"This is to notify all officers concerned through you that unless arrests are made at once of these lawbreakers and all gambling paraphernalia seized, I shall proceed to exercise such authority as is invested in me by law, not only to suppress lawlessnes but to remove the officers who may have failed to do their duties in the premises."

A month later the governor wrote Edwin J. Smith, Commonwealth's attorney, suggesting he witnesses, including one high official of Virginia Beach, to be called before the grand jury. The governor said today that only one of the five appeared. In his letter the governor told Mr. Smith he had been informed that one of the

Continued on Page 2, Column 2.

Summary of Inside Pages

Pages.
2—Wire Rivals Open New Service. Berlin Asks Early Debts Parley. La Fontaine Tells of $400,000.
3—Morgans Guarded After Notes. Two Vessels Crash in Fog. Twenty Seized in Brewery Raid.
4—Johnson Scores Hoover's Policies. Chicago Sees Trade Upturn. Truce Sought in Fess War.
5—Cannon Defense Fund Asked. Pohick Cornerstone Laid.
6—Editorials.
7—Texas Oil Curb Called Plot.
8—Society.
9—Radio Programs and Features.
10—News of Capital Churches.
11—The Post's Food Page.
12—McQuade's Death Is Accident.
13—News of the Suburbs.
14—About the Showshops. Cinema Reviews.
15-16-17—Sports.
18-19—Financial News.
20—The Post Comics.
22—Blaine to Push Realty Bills. Keech Urges Public Counsel. Body May be Capital Girl's.

WIRE RIVALS START NEW FAST SERVICE

Western Union and Postal to Compete With A. T. & T. on Private Teletypes.

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Spirited competition between the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. on the one hand, and the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies on the other, began today in a new system of local and long-distance message communication.

The announcement of the new service marked the first time the Postal and Western Union, in their 40 years of rivalry, have joined in a cooperative move of connecting their wires and offering a joint service.

Automatic typewriter-telegraph instruments, with standard typewriter keyboards, will be offered for installation in homes and offices. The machines will be similar to those used for the transmission of telegrams and for the nation-wide distribution of news by press associations.

Under the new system a subscriber to the service may signal a central operator and have his machine connected with the machine of any other subscriber, whether that person is in the next building or on the other side of the country.

Then he will be able to engage in direct two-way communication with the person at the other end of the circuit by typing on his machine, which will send out electric vibrations that will cause the message to be automatically typewritten on the receiving machine.

The possibility of securing connections with any other subscriber in the country is comparable to the facility of telephone service. The fact that the "conversation" will be recorded by typewriter preserves one aspect of telegraph service.

The charge will be made by the minute instead of by the word. The A. T. & T. will require a guarantee of $30 worth of business a month. The Postal and Western Union have not announced their minimum charge on their rates.

The A. T. & T. will charge approximately 20 cents for a five-minute local communication and about $4.60 for a five-minute communication with San Francisco.

Inauguration of the service by the Postal and Western Union will begin in New York about December 1 and the system will be spread to other cities and towns as rapidly as the demand for the service spreads.

Large business houses with branch offices, which do a great deal of telegraphic communication, are expected to be the principal users of the service.

The simultaneous announcements were made by Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union; Col. Sosthenes Behn, chairman of the International Telephone & Telegraph Co., parent company of Postal Telegraph, and by the A. T. & T.

The Postal-Western Union statement said a minimum charge will be made for a three-minute conversation, during which time 100 to 180 words can be transmitted, according to the sender's skill in operating a typewriter.

Western Union and Postal already have 10,000 typewriter-printers installed in business houses for direct communication with some single point. These subscribers, under the new system, will be able to secure a connection with subscribers of either of the two rival telegraph companies.

The announcement by A. T. & T. marked its entrance, in effect, into competition with the telegraph business.

At the beginning of the year there were 10,000 A. T. & T. typewriter-printers in use, utilizing 48 per cent of the system's private line wire mileage.

Hiccough Victim Facing Operation

Surgery to Dispel Infection May Cure Ohioan, Is Belief.

Mansfield, Ohio, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—An operation, intended to remove an abdominal infection, may be performed tomorrow on Ira A. King, who for the past thirteen days has been helpless due to a chronic case of hiccoughs.

His relatives said today he had partaken of nourishment for the third successive day and that he appeared to be gaining strength slowly. If his condition will permit, they reported, an operation will be performed tomorrow.

The attack has abated somewhat during the past three days although the ailment has stubbornly failed to react to numerous treatments of his physicians. The infection was discovered by X-ray pictures and some expressed a belief it may be the cause of the hiccoughing.

Virginia Firemen Rescue Woman Victim of Gas

Overcome by gas escaping from a range in the kitchen of her home on Dulaney avenue, Virginia Highlands, Arlington County, Va., Miss Margaret Hagood was revived yesterday by the Jefferson District Fire Department, which responded to an emergency call.

Miss Hagood was discovered in an unconscious condition by Mrs. S. Graveley, who investigated when she smelled the escaping fumes. Members of the fire department rendered first aid and removed her to Emergency Hospital for treatment.

Rome Hails Result Of Grandi's Parley

World Will Be Raised to New Economic Level, Is Official View.

Rome, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The understanding reached by Foreign Minister Dino Grandi and President Hoover in Washington means that the world will be lifted to higher economic ground in 1932, government spokesmen said today.

The new year will face two major problems—the disarmament conference at Geneva in February and the end of the Hoover moratorium in July, it was pointed out. After studying the official communique Italian public opinion is certain both problems will be solved.

Rome was in the best of spirits in view of the news from the United States. Newspapers headlined the dispatches on Signor Grandi's visit and devoted their entire first pages to stories from Washington.

GRANDI IN NEW YORK

Signor Dino Grandi, Mussolini's accomplished foreign minister, photographed in New York City with Mayor James J. Walker in an automobile in front of City Hall.

PHILADELPHIA AND NEW YORK GIVE GRANDI WARM WELCOME

Continued from Page 1.

have found a deep echo in our hearts," he said.

He arrived early in the afternoon only a few minutes after Signora Grandi had arrived on another train from Washington. The vivacious signora did not accompany Signor Grandi on his New York visit.

A single incident, minimized by police, marred the reception here. A young Italian, expressing hatred for the Italian Fascisti, jumped to the running board of the car bearing Signor Grandi from the station to the Athletic Club for a luncheon. He was immediately arrested and held for investigation.

Signor Grandi spoke feelingly at a luncheon at the Penn Athletic Club on the friendship existing between his country and the United States. Mayor Harry A. Mackey presided and in welcoming the guest of honor said that Philadelphia was in entire sympathy with the minister's mission.

After complimenting the City of Philadelphia and referring to the historical events that took place here, Signor Grandi said that he was a firm believer in the friendship and collaboration between the United States and Italy.

Stations Heavily Guarded.

Signor Grandi was acclaimed by large crowds wherever he appeared before resting at the hotel prior to the dinner tonight. He was greeted by several thousand persons at the railroad station, including delegations from the Sons of Italy, Italian War Veterans and representatives of other societies. Mayor Mackey headed the official city reception committee.

Signora Grandi was also given a cordial reception by a women's welcoming committee, and was driven to the Athletic Club, where she joined her husband.

The railroad stations were heavily guarded by policemen, as were the places visited by the Italian party.

The pace at which the minister has been going since his arrival in this country has begun to tell on him. He was so tired after returning to the hotel late today he immediately lay down to rest until dinner time.

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Hearty cheers went up from crowds along Broadway, a paper snowstorm filtered through the fog, thousands of guards looked in vain for signs of trouble and Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy smiled his appreciation of New York's 87-minute reception today.

The visit of Premier Mussolini's traveling proxy was marked by the spontaneous enthusiasm for the black-whiskered young diplomat by the thousands who formed his unofficial reception committee.

As the man who came to America to discuss world problems with President Hoover left by train for Philadelphia, he gave a snappy Fascist salute and said:

"I am moved and amazed by New York. The welcome touched me deeply. The city stirs my soul.

Two Men Arrested.

"I see these great buildings, these masses of people as a symbol of great power—a power for good. It is stupendous and a beautiful sight."

The heaviest police guard New York ever has mustered for a distinguished guest watched over the Italian official, whose visit had been threatened with possible anti-Fascisti demonstrations.

As the reception was in progress two men were arrested for pasting more than 1,000 posters derogatory to Grandi on automobiles and shop windows along Broadway. They gave their names as Gaetano Musseonne and John Castelli, and pleaded guilty. They will be sentenced tomorrow.

(Associated Press.)

Dino Grandi set a new high mark for tips given chauffeurs by prominent foreign visitors in Washington. The record now stands: Grandi, $40; King Prajadhipok of Siam, $30; Premier Laval of France, $20, and Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, $15.

The Italian Minister gave $40 to each of several chauffeurs who drove him, including one of the White House drivers.

POLLARD THREATENS TO ACT IN VIRGINIA BEACH GAMBLING

Continued from Page 1.

men was operating a gambling device at a Virginia Beach club on September 5 and 6 and that the other four were present.

Gov. Pollard said he desired to emphasize that he had no criticism of the grand jury, because he did not know what evidence had been presented to it.

"However," he said, "it is an open and nortorious fact that gambling has been going on in violation of the law, and recognizing that the enforcement of the law is a primary duty of local authorities I have been engaged for months in trying to get them to perform their duties."

Gov. Pollard, who conducted an investigation at Virginia Beach on his own initiative this summer, said the gambling was stopped for a time and then was reopened in full swing. "So openly as to make it incredible that the oficers of the law are not acquainted with the facts."

Mayor Denies Gambling.

Mayor Charles E. Barco of Virginia Beach, informed of the governor's action today, said there is no gambling going on at Virginia Beach now and that if the governor thought otherwise and wanted to conduct his own investigation that was his own affair.

Several months ago, following receipt by Commonwealth's Attorney Smith of a number of letters from the governor, I personally made a survey of Virginia Beach and other officers of the county made a survey of Princess Anne County," Mayor Barco said. "Members of the Virginia Beach police force, at my instruction, conducted a number of raids on places where gambling was alleged to be in progress, but they found no evidence that there was any going on. There is no open gambling at Virginia Beach today and there has been no open gambling there for a long time."

While the governor said he had not mapped out his definite course of action it was presumed here that he would request the attorney general to direct an investigation. The chief executive recalled today his own action as attorney general in proceeding against race track gambling in the Norfolk area when he went to the scene of action with his own officers.

In his letter to Commonwealth Attorney Smith August 18, which he cited when asked for his course of action, the governor said:

"I have not heard from you in response to my letter of August 7. On July 31, during my absence from the city, your letter was received in my office in which you made the following statement:

"I have had a conference with the mayor, several of the townsmen and the chief of police, and matters have been gone into carefully. They have all agreed that the slot machines and other gambling must stop operating and have guaranteed that they will do their part to that end. This being the case, I don't know of anything additional that we can do except watch the situation and see that their agreements are carried out."

"Upon investigation, it is reported to me that a number of operators of gambling houses and devices, having been notified of my interest in the enforcement of the law at Virginia Beach, closed their places and machines, but that a few days ago a number of them opened up again and have been running as formerly, so openly as to make it incredible that the officers of the law are not acquainted with the facts.

Officers' Removal Threatened.

"This is to notify all officers concerned that unless arrests are made at once against these lawbreakers and all gambling paraphernalia seized, I shall proceed to exercise such authority as is vested in me by law, not only to suppress lawlessness, but to remove the officers who may have failed to do their duty in the premises."

Richmond and Farmville men were represented in the group the governor suggested to the Commonwealth's attorney as witnesses in the recent grand jury investigation in Princess Anne County.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Judge D. B. White, of Princess Anne Circuit Court, who presided over the investigation, offered no comment when told of the statement today by Gov. Pollard with reference to the Virginia Beach gambling charges.

Commonwealth's Attorney Edwin J. Smith expressed the opinion that the court and its officers had done all they could, under the circumstances.

"We had the special grand jury," he said, "and we summoned all the witnesses we knew of. They didn't know anything about it. That was all we could do. We got all we could get."

Mr. Smith's term of office expires January 1. He was not a candidate for the office in the recent primary or election.

BERLIN ASKS EARLY WAR DEBTS PARLEY

Greatest Urgency Stressed in Formal Request to Settlement Bank.

Berlin, Nov. 20 (U.P.).—Germany's "unparalleled economic crisis" demands the utmost expediency in the coming reconsideration of her capacity to pay reparations, the government said today, in a formal request for an early meeting of the international committee to discuss war debts.

"Present circumstances," the government's memorandum to the Bank for International Settlements said, "require that the necessary measures be taken with the greatest urgency."

The government proposed that the special advisory committee should meet without delay and should "carry out its task as quickly as possible so that a conference of those governments concerned with its decisions may take place in the near future."

Crisis Has Altered.

"Since the new (reparations) plan was conceived and adopted, the economic situation in the world, and particularly in Germany, has fundamentally altered in an unparalleled crisis," the note declared. It continued:

"As the new plan confers upon the special advisory committee the task of considering the position from all viewpoints, the committee must examine the problem as a whole, with a regard for all contributory causes.

"In so doing it must particularly consider the fact that Germany's private indebtedness must be settled before the end of February, by an agreement to be concluded between the foreign creditors and the German debtors."

Moratorium Insufficient.

Referring to the activities of President Herbert Hoover, the note said that "hope that his proposals would bring a decisive turn in the world crisis has not been realized, and as a result of later developments, the year's moratorium alone has proved insufficient to banish the danger of collapse."

Paris, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Germany's letter to the World Bank asking for an inquiry into her capacity to continue paying reparations drew expressions of satisfaction tonight from spokesmen for the French government.

Official opinion was represented as feeling that France had preserved intact the principle that the payment of unconditional payments was sacred and that the Young plan must be followed in the investigation of Germany's finances.

American Adviser Named.

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Walter W. Stewart, prominent investment banker, has been named American member of the special advisory committee to consider Germany's capacity to pay reparations under the Young plan.

Announcement of the selection of Mr. Stewart, who is chairman of the board of directors of the investment banking house of Case, Pomeroy & Co., was made today by George L. Harrison, governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank.

Root Court Plan Faces Long Delay

Adherence Formula Must Wait on Emergency Legislation.

(Associated Press.)

The Root plan for World Court adherence is destined for a long wait before receiving the attention of the Senate.

Senate leaders have determined that action on this controversial question must wait until emergency legislation is out of the way. Advocates of adherence have acquiesced.

The treaty is scheduled to come before the foreign relations committee December 16, under an agreement reached at the last session. There is no disposition to delay it in committee, but it faces a heavy calendar in the Senate.

Senator Walsh (Montana), Democrat, who is a leading sponsor of American adherence and who sought action last session, said yesterday there would be "no disposition to press the World Court" until after revenue, relief and other emergency legislation was out of the way.

Advocates of the World Court are not anxious to be put in the position of urging action on such a controversial international issue when many domestic problems await action.

Man Dies in Chair For Wife's Murder

Woman, Alleged Actual Killer, Is Awaiting Second Trial.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Tilby Smith, confessed plotter of the murder of his wife, Clara, forfeited his life in the electric chair at Ohio Penitentiary tonight. The 26-year-old Ashtabula truckman went to his death at 7 p. m.

Smith did not eat a bite of the last meal of fried chicken, prepared for him by Mrs Preston Thomas, wife of the warden. He spent the day praying and talking with his father, the conversation dealing mostly with his three children.

Prior to his death, Smith had nothing to say about Julia Maude Lowther, 23, the West Virginia girl and alleged actual killer of Mrs. Smith, on May 29, 1930. The Lowther woman is now in jail at Wooster awaiting a second trial. At her first trial she was convicted and sentenced to die, but the appeals court granted her a new trial and a change of venue from Jefferson to Wooster.

Man Governor Offered Blood Dies.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Col. Edgar M. Hoopes, jr., a member of the staff of Gov. C. D. Buck, for whom the Governor and Mrs. Buck offered their blood for transfusion operations, died today. Tests showed the Buck's blood was not of the required type and they were not called upon.

Oil Tariff Resolution Promised.

Ada, Okla., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—A resolution for an interstate compact to regulate domestic oil production and to provide for an automatic tariff on oil imports will be introduced in Congress next month by Representative Tom D. McKeown, Ada, he announced today.

Carol and Brother End Wedding Feud

King Allows Nicholas to Be "Friendly" With Plebeian Bride.

Vienna, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—A truce between King Carol of Roumania and his brother, Nicholas, in regard to the latter's marriage to a commoner, was reliably reported from Bucharest tonight. The mediator was identified as Prince Friedrich Hohenzollern, brother of the late King Ferdinand and uncle of the two men.

King Carol was said to have sent a message by Prince Friedrich saying that he did not object to Prince Nicholas maintaining friendly relations with Mme. Deletji, his morganatic bride, but that he must not attempt to validate the marriage in a religious ceremony. He must not receive any official visits in her house or be seen publicly with her.

Prince Nicholas agreed to the king's demands, but it was not believed in court circles he would submit to dictation long. The king promised not to take any coercive measures or deprive his brother of his royal rights.

DOMINION RULE BILL IS UP IN PARLIAMENT

Proposal to Give Effect to Commonwealth Status on Allegiance.

London, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—A bill replacing the ancient, theoretical supremacy of the British Parliament over the Dominions with allegiance to the crown was passed on second reading in the House of Commons today without a division.

The bill, known as the statute of Westminster, would give effect to resolutions adopted by the imperial conferences of 1929 and 1930 by which the Dominions obtained virtual independence and would merely legalize the existing sovereignty of their parliaments.

In introducing the measure, Secretary for Dominions J. M. Thomas described it as "in one sense the most important and far-reaching bill that has been presented to Parliament for several generations.

"This marks the end of a long road which had its beginning when parliamentary institutions were first established in the overseas dominions of the crown three centuries ago," he said.

Winston Churchill, former chancellor of the exchequer, expressed fears in debate on the measure's effect on the Irish Free State, which is included among the dominions.

"I am informed on good technical authority," he said, "that the bill confers on the Irish Free State the right to abolish the Irish treaty at any time they see fit. It will be open to the dail to repudiate the oath of allegiance, and also to destroy the proportion which the Irish army bears to the Irish population."

The measure enunciates the principle that "the crown is the symbol of the free association of the British commonwealth of nations" and that the dominions "are united by common allegiance to the crown."

It stipulates that the British Parliament has no power to legislate concerning a dominion unless the dominion requests it and that no law passed by a domiion shall be inoperative because it is "repugnant to the law of England."

British Cruiser Delhi On Way to Bermuda

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The British cruiser Delhi, which arrived at the Hampton Roads naval operating base yesterday morning, sailed at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon for Bermuda and expects to arrive there Sunday.

Vice Admiral Sir Vernon Haggard, commander of the America-West Indies squadron of the British navy, has his flag on the Delhi.

Deposits of Olvany Firm $5,283,932

Sum Banked in Last Six Years, Investigators Are Informed.

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Deposits of $5,283,932.18 were made by the law firm of Olvany, Eisner & Donnelly during the last six years, the Hofstadter legislative committee was told today as it traced the activities of George W. Olvany, Tammany Hall leader, from 1924 to 1929.

Samuel Seabury, counsel of the Republican-controlled committee, offered testimony of bank deposits between January 1, 1925, and November 5, 1931, after Olvany had declined to open the firm's books to the committee.

The disclosures trailed another development in which Seabury traced a profit of more than $450,000 accruing to the Park River Holding Co. on a cash investment of $25,000. Olvany's firm was engaged by the company, and a piece of property which it bought for $210,000—$25,000 in cash—was sold to the city four months later on condemnation proceedings for $634,601.25. When the city finally paid, the interest brought the sum to $755,492.

32 Men Pass Test For Vice Consuls

Results of Examination for Foreign Service Are Made Public.

(Associated Press.)

Thirty-two young men were named yesterday at the State Department as having passed the rigid foreign service examinations for appointment as vice consuls.

The list of future diplomats included:

John Davies, jr., Cleveland; Frederick E. Farnsworth, Colorado Springs; Douglas Flood, Kenilworth, Ill.; James E. Henderson, San Francisco; Theodore J. Hohenthal and Gregor C. Merrill, both of Berkeley, Calif.; Foy D. Kohler, Toledo, Ohio; Robert M. McClintock, Altadena, Calif.; Patrick Mallon, Cincinnati; Walter W. Orebaugh, Wichita; Wales W. Signor, Ypsilanti, Mich.; Orray Taft, jr., Santa Barbara, Calif.; Robert M. Taylor, Seattle; Milton K. Wells, Bristow, Okla.; Robert F. Woodward, Minneapolis; Reginald Bragonier, jr., and Reginald S. Carey, both of Baltimore.

LA FONTAINE TELLS OF HIDING $400,000

Kept Sum in Home, Court Is Informed; Judge Defers Sentence.

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 20.—Imposition of sentence on James A. "Jimmy" LaFontaine, of Washington, was deferred today by Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut so that he might give "serious consideration" to the penalty to be imposed.

LaFontaine on Thursday pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with evasion of income tax payments, and Judge Chesnut at that time was told by Simon E. Sobeloff, United States' attorney, that the Government's civil claim amounting to more than $200,000 had been paid by the defendant.

Following statements by William Curran, Morton P. Fisher and E. Barrett Prettyman, of Washington, attorneys for LaFontaine, the man himself took the witness stand and was questioned by Judge Chesnut.

Speaking in a low, quiet voice, the small, white-haired gambler told Judge Chesnut that he was 63 years old and had been a gambler all his life. He explained certain alleged discrepancies in his income tax returns by saying that it was necessary for him to keep large sums of cash in his possession.

He said that at times he had between $250,000 and $400,000 cash in his safe, in bureau drawers and under a pile of old boxes in his home in Washington.

In deferring sentence, Judge Chesnut said it was very difficult to decide the penalty in such a case.

"There is the punishment to be meted out to the offender, as well as the example which must be set to other people," the court declared. Judge Chesnut said it would be an easy matter were the personal equation of the defendant the only thing to be settled.

LaFontaine was released in $10,000 bail.

Thought Money Exempt.

Under interrogation from Judge Chestnut, LaFontaine explained that he had thought that gambling profits, being illegal, were immune from taxation until some one told him differently in 1927, although "I couldn't tell you, judge, to save my life, who told me that," he added in response to a question from the bench.

LaFontaine's chief attorney, E. Barrett Prettyman, of Washington, declared that his client had made no effort to conceal the amounts and sources of his income from Government agents for the years from 1926 through 1929.

"In fact," he said, "LaFontaine showed the Government agents his books for those years, and told them he paid only $8,231.95 in income taxes during those years."

Morton P. Fisher, of Baltimore, associate defense counsel, told Judge Chestnut that LaFontaine had thought his gambling income to be tax free because "there has been a variance of laws regarding the taxability of illegal incomes."

He cited two cases prior to 1925 to support this claim, although he admitted that the United States Supreme Court had ruled in that year that illegal incomes were taxable. He declared, however, that LaFontaine had not been aware of that decision.

In "Moderate Circumstances."

Although LaFontaine explained that his income since 1914 has averaged about $800,000, Prettyman told the court that his client was in "moderate circumstances and pays only $27.50 a month rent."

Judge Chestnut thereupon asked if LaFontaine was a man "to whom $200,000 would be immaterial," as District Attorney Sobeloff pointed out that LaFontaine had settled his civil indebtedness to the Government for $206,651.09.

When defense counsel seemed puzzled by the question, Judge Chestnut explained that the information would guide him in fixing the defendant's degree of guilt.

Prettyman then declared that LaFontaine was "getting along in years," and would rather pay the money and get the case settled than go through long-involved litigation.

Defense attorneys disclosed that Jimmy's chief source of income was a "business' known as the "LaFontaine-Stamm Establishment," and operated by others, with the financial backing of LaFontaine. Funds were kept in a Prince Georges County bank and divided "every so often."

Prettyman told the court that LaFontaine's income tax returns were made out by Crandal Mackey, former Commonwealth's attorney for Arlington County, Va., from information supplied to him by LaFontaine. He said that no returns on gambling profits had been made by LaFontaine in 1925 and 1926, although in subsequent years he had included them under the heading of "other income" on his tax blank.

Other Income Sources.

Prettyman stated that LaFontaine had "sixteen to eighteen bank accounts" and that in addition to gambling, he made money from rents and from stocks and bonds.

LaFontaine went into the Baltimore court yesterday afternoon as soon as the indictment was returned against him and pleaded guilty to the second count, charging failure to pay $11,622.62 in taxes in 1927 on his 1926 income.

The first count, charging evasion of $1,349.97 in 1926 on his income for the previous year, was nolle prossed by District Attorney Sobeloff, who told the court LaFontaine had paid the Government $206,651.09 in back taxes and penalties on his income for the years 1924 to 1929, inclusive.

This amount wiped out the civil indebtedness to the Government, Sobeloff told Judge Chesnut, and there remained only a finding by the court of LaFontaine's criminal liability for evading the taxes.

Three Killed in Benzol Tank.

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Two men who went inside an empty benzol tank to clean it, and a third man who tried to rescue them, were killed here today by poisonous fumes. The victims were Walter Resecker, 26, Edward Puterbaugh, 26, and George Conrad, 38.

Medical Group Elects Dr. Moorman.

New Orleans, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Dr. Lewis L. Moorman, of Oklahoma City, dean of the school of medicine at the University of Oklahoma, was unanimously elected president of the Southern Medical Association today. He succeeds Dr. Felix J. Underwood, of Jackson, Miss.

Hickey-Freeman
CUSTOMIZED CLOTHES

SILK MIXED WORSTED SUITS

If you like suits that hold their shape over a long period of wearing, we recommend the hand tailoring of Hickey-Freeman. And if the fabric is a silk-mixed worsted it will require little pressing. New dark colours of these fine cloths are now offered.

$60

Goldheim's

Apparel for Gentlemen . . . Established 1875
FOURTEEN HUNDRED AND NINE H STREET

MEXICO'S BUILDINGS LEAN, SAWDERS SAYS

Lecturer Reveals Ancient City With Films Before Geographic Society.

If the famous Leaning Tower of Pisa were in Mexico City it would not be noticed today—at least not for its slant, Maj. James C. Sawders told the members of the National Geographic Society during his lecture, "The Wonderland of Mexico," at the Washington Auditorium last night. Buildings in the older sections of the Mexican capital, erected on swampy land, are sinking rapidly, and many of the finest old churches are in danger of toppling into the streets, Maj. Sawders said.

With the aid of new motion pictures and colored slides, Maj. Sawders took his audience on a tour of the republic south of the Rio Grande, which, he claimed, is undergoing sweeping social and economic changes.

"It is unfortunate," Maj. Sawders pointed out, "that most of the news we read in the papers about Mexico stresses bandit activities. Ninety-five per cent of the pepole of Mexico, like the people in any nation, are honest and industrious. More than 6,000 new schools have been opened in Mexico in the last six years, and good roads and other modern benefits are helping to knit together a nation."

One of the most interesting pictures showed the ancient pyramid of Cholula, which Maj. Sawders said was the largest in the world, far larger than the great pyramid of Cheops in Egypt. It was built by Indians of whose past we know little or nothing. Mexico is still a sort of a happy hunting ground for acheologists, Maj. Sawders said, for of its 135 known archeological sites, only a few have so far been studied. Mexico has more than 100 large pyramids, and most of them show by their arrangement that the people who built them knew mathematics and astronomy.

The reason why many of the older buildings are sinking and are far out of plumb, Maj. Sawders explained, is that the entire City of Mexico, since the days of the Aztecs, rests on the soft soil of an island in a lake. The island was gradually extended until nearly all the area of the old lake has been filled in, but nowhere in Mexico City can a foundation capable of bearing great buildings be found.

One of the pictures showed the still uncompleted opera house, which Mexicans hope to make the finest building of its kind in the world. It was to have been finished years ago, but since the steelwork and foundation stones were put in place the entire building has sunk 13 feet.

Mexico's School of Mines must soon seek new quarters, Maj. Sawders revealed. Its fine old eighteenth century building is another "leaning wonder," he said.

Alaskan City Twice Shaken by Quakes

Victoria, B.C., Observatory Records Disturbance for Three Hours.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—A severe earthquake was recorded today at the Gonzales Observatory, starting at 6:29 a. m. and lasting for three hours. F. Napier Denison, superintendent, estimated the epicenter at 5,900 miles distant, probably in Formosa.

Anchorage, Alaska, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Buildings swayed slightly here today when two earthquakes shook the city. No damage was reported.

A pronounced quake of almost a minute's duration, accompanied by distant rumblings, occurred at 12:40 a. m. This was followed a half-hour later by a less severe tremor.

The Georgetown University observatory yesterday reported an earthquake beginning at 9:36 a. m. and reaching its maximum intensity at 10:08 a. m. The distance was 5,500 miles, but the direction was undetermined.

French Envoy Reaches Moscow.

Moscow, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Francois de Jean, the new French Ambassador to Soviet Russia, arrived today.

POPULAR

ORIENTA has established an altitude record for popularity—

It's Vacuum Sealed

BROWNING & BAINES
Oriental Coffee

Tune in on the Boswell Sisters every Tuesday and Friday, 10:15 A. M., Station WOL, the Orienta Hour.

SPECIAL NOTICES

Window SHADES; Floor Coverings; SCREENS; prompt econ. serv. KLEEBLATT, 11th and H ne.; Linc. 0879.

BOYD and Gregg Shorthand, Touchtyping, Secretarial Practice, Bookkeeping. Class NOW forming. Large Employment Service. School 1333 F st. Nat. 2340.

RELIEF FUND SHARE ASKED BY COUNTIES

Virginia and Maryland Seek Aid for Needy From Sum Raised Here.

A strong claim for designation prorata of funds from the million-dollar unemployment collection from Government workers to communities of nearby Maryland and Virginia in which many of the workers live was made yesterday.

Representatives of a number of organizations in adjoining counties met and put forward their reasons why aid for the needy in their jurisdictions should be forthcoming from the fund here.

Representative Howard Smith, of Virginia, asked that all subscriptions from residents of Arlington and Fairfax County and Alexandria go to counties' boards of public welfare and the Associated Charities, of Alexandria. Representative Lewis, of Maryland, also presented similar arguments for Maryland counties.

Free Lee asked that money be diverted to the Montgomery County Social Service League, and C. P. Close, representing the Prince Georges County Red Cross urged that that group distribute the money for that district unless the donors indicate otherwise. A letter was read from Senator Millard Tydings, of Maryland, asking that communities of donors be considered in disbursing the funds.

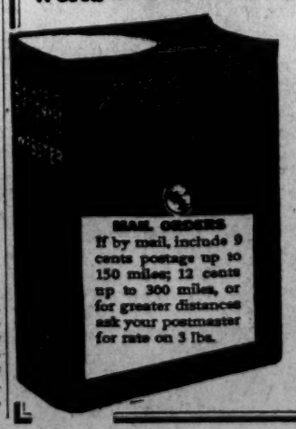
Dr. John O'Grady, representing the Catholic Charities of the Baltimore Diocese, opposed sending the funds in bulk to the communities and advocated a plan by which the giver would designate the institution or groups to which he wished his donation to go.

Indian Held as Slayer Sees Grand Jury Picked

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—MacGolney Seymour, 21-year-old Apache Indian, sat stolidly in Federal District Court today during selection of a grand jury which the Government expects to indict the confessed slayer of Henrietta Schmerler, Columbia University student of Indian lore.

After considerable delay the jury was chosen, but it adjourned until tomorrow without hearing testimony of any of the half dozen witnesses called by the Government. Miss Schmerler was slain last July on the White River Apache Reservation, in northern Arizona, where she had lived alone among the Indians for some weeks.

THE WASHINGTON POST
New World DICTIONARY Based on the Original Webster



COUPON
Clip 3 Coupons
on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 98c

This new high class up-to-date Dictionary is far in advance of any similar volume heretofore distributed by newspapers. Larger page, more words to page, more pages and contains many thousands more words, many new words not published in any other Dictionary. Unquestioned for Scholarship. Durably bound in dark green textile leather, gold stamping.

Special—To get it bound in embossed art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edges and thumb indexed, send $1.00 extra.

MORGANS GUARDED AFTER BOMB NOTES

Wall Street Bristles With Heavily Armed Police and Detectives.

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Threatening letters signed "Communist" moved police to place an almost unprecedented guard over the financial district today.

Around the House of Morgan, the United States Subtreasury and the other buildings crowding the money mart of the world moved heavily armed plain-clothes men, a trebled uniformed force, and police automobiles bristling with shotguns and one-man machine guns.

Besides officials of J. P. Morgan & Co., those who received threatening letters included Harvey D. Gibson, banker and chairman of the city unemployment relief committee; officials of the stock exchange and of the Bankers Trust Co.

Vigorous denial that a Communist had sent the letters came from the headquarters of the Communist Party of America. Israel Amter, district organizer, said that whoever signed them was "a police agent and a stool pigeon" and called the missives "an open provocation by the authorities."

A theory that is was merely a harmless crank's work rather than a terrorist's was not overlooked by police, but they were taking no chances. They remembered the disastrous Wall street explosion of 1920 in which a dynamite-laden wagon, halted near the subtreasury and Morgan's offices, blew up, killed 34 persons and injured 400 others.

One police explanation of today's heavy guard was that it had been requested by the Department of Justice, to which the letters had been turned over. From police headquarters, however, came word that another motive was that one of five men, arrested five days ago with a large quantity of dynamite and charged with a plot to blow up a barge, was quoted as saying it was to have been the "opening gun" in a drive against capitalism.

Grange Would Fix Wholesale Prices

Farm Body Asks Federal Steps to Return to 1928 Level.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The sixty-fifth annual convention of the National Grange closed here today with installation of officers elected for the next biennium. Next year the Grange will meet in North Carolina, the city to be selected by the executive committee. Louis J. Taber, Columbus, Ohio, will again head the Grange, having been reelected national master for the fourth consecutive time.

Charles M. Gardner, Springfield, Mass., presided at installation of officers. At its final session the Grange adopted a resolution urging the Government to restore as nearly as possible the wholesale price average of 1923-28 and stabilization of the price level at that point.

The Grange asked for protection of the farmer in a resolution which stated that "so long as an American protective tariff is maintained we favor rates to insure American markets to the American farmer on products which can be produced advantageously in any part of the country."

DIED

AUFENTHIE—Suddenly, on Wednesday, November 18, 1931, at 6:30 p. m., CHARLES, beloved husband of Augusta Aufenthie (nee Bergman), aged fifty-five years.
Funeral from his late residence, 5240 Colorado avenue northwest, on Saturday, November 21, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Interment at Rock Creek Cemetery.

BOONE—On Friday, November 20, 1931, at his residence, Bryantown, Md., RICHARD A., husband of the late Alice V. Boone.
Funeral at St. Mary's Church, Bryantown, Md., on Saturday, November 21, at 10 a. m.

BRADLEY—On Friday, November 20, 1931, at 12:15 o'clock p. m., WERDNA B., beloved daughter of Rose C. Bradley and the late Guy Bradley, 5719 Sherrier place northwest.
Funeral services at St. David's Episcopal Chapel, Conduit and Chain Bridge roads northwest, on Monday, November 23, at 10 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment at Oak Hill Cemetery.

ENGLE—Suddenly, on Wednesday, November 18, 1931, at 2:30 p. m., at Garfield Hospital, NORRIS H., beloved husband of Gertrude V. Engle (nee Bradt), of 3233 Thirty-eighth street northwest.
Funeral from St. Alban's Episcopal Church, Wisconsin and Massachusetts avenue northwest, on Saturday, November 21, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Interment at Cedar Hill Cemetery.

FLYNN—Suddenly, on Wednesday, November 18, 1931, at Newark, N. J., AIMEE FLYNN (nee Ackman), beloved wife of Harry Flynn.
Funeral from the Wm. H. Sardo & Co. funeral chapel, 412 H street northeast, on Saturday, November 21, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Glenwood Cemetery.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

J. WILLIAM LEE'S SONS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS.
CREMATORIUM
332 PA. AVE. NW NATL. 1384 & 1385.

CHAS. S. ZURHORST
801 EAST CAPITOL ST. LINCOLN 0372.

P. J. SAFFELL
433 5th st. nw. Natl. 0537.

Frank Geier's Sons Co.
413 SEVENTH ST. NW Telephone
Modern Chapel NATIONAL 2473

THOS. S. SERGEON
1011 7TH ST NW Telephone Natl. 1090

JAMES T. RYAN
317 PA. AVE. SE. Atlantic 1700.

WM. H. SARDO & CO.
412 H ST. NE. Phone Lincoln 0524.

ESTABLISHED 1876.
JOHN R. WRIGHT CO.
1337 10th st. nw. Phone North 0047.

AMBULANCES
Best in Town. $4.00
Local Call.....
Call
Chambers Co. Col. 0432

FUNERAL DESIGNS
GEO. C. SHAFFER 900 14TH ST. NW
Expressive Floral Emblems. Phone
Moderate prices. Open eve. & Sun. Nat. 0106

GUDE BROS. CO., Florists
1212 F STREET. National 4276.
APPROPRIATE FUNERAL DESIGNS.

FLORAL TRIBUTES
$3.50 Up
J. H. SMALL & SONS
Phone NORTH 7000 DUPONT CIRCLE

When Washington Was Younger—No. 112

THE above picture depicts a quartet of local bon vivants at the end of a day's shooting at the hunting lodge of Col. E. B. Townsend, a gentleman of old Virginia. The lodge was located at Providence Forge, one of the most historic spots of the Old Dominion.

Built on the shores of the beautiful Crystal Springs Lake and only 15 miles from the church where George Washington was married, the lodge was owned by the late Col. E. B. Townsend, a gentleman who embodied all of the traditions of the old school of courtesy and hospitality. During the hunting season he would gather around him a few congenial spirits and wage war upon rabbits and ducks. The lodge was famed as a gathering place for many eminent men in Washington officialdom, who would doff their mantles of austere dignity for a day with the hounds and an evening before an open fire with a bumper of fine old port at their elbows.

Of the group pictured above only one is living today, Mr. Edgar C. Snyder, now United States marshal, who is shown at the extreme right of the picture. To his right is Col. E. B. Townsend, the gennial host, while sitting above is Andrew B. Graham, a noted Washington printer, and Dr. William Pope Young, one of Washington's most famed and distinguished surgeons. Last, but not least, is "Red," their Negro guide.

However, after the death of Col. Townsend the place passed through several hands and now it is a road house.

TWO VESSELS CRASH IN FOG AT NEW YORK

Liner Collides With Freighter Without Loss of Life; Traffic Paralyzed.

New York, Nov. 20 (U.P.).—Fog that has hung over New York and the Atlantic seaboard for almost a week continued today to demoralize shipping and aviation, and was held responsible for the collision of a steamship and a freighter in Ambrose Channel at the entrance to New York Bay.

Little damage was incurred in the collision, which involved the Eastern Steamship liner Hamilton and the freighter Swift Arrow. The Hamilton rammed the freighter head-on, damaging some of the Swift Arrow's plates.

Thirty passengers were aboard the Hamilton, which proceeded on its voyage to Norfolk. The Swift Arrow returned to her port at Stapleton, Staten Island, for a more thorough check of the damage and for repairs.

Almost a score of vessels, carrying between 1,000 and 1,500 passengers, were at anchor in the harbor at the time of the accident, many of them nearby the collision, waiting for the fog to lift before proceeding to their docks.

The fog lay particularly thick over Manhattan, slowing motor traffic and hindering operation of ferry boats to New Jersey and Staten Island. Fog horns were blowing constantly in the East and North Rivers.

Only one airplane pilot has taken off from Long Island airports for more than short local flights since last Sunday. He was Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who flew an open cockpit plane to Miami in order to inaugurate the flying schedule of the Pan-American Airways ship, the American Clipper, over the Caribbean route.

Patrolman Kills Holdup Man.

Cleveland, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—An unidentified bandit was slain, and a construction company official was wounded here today in a gun battle during a frustrated holdup. The robber was killed when he fled from Patrolman Charles Fox. The wounded man was Charles Ekberg, Chicago, of the Republic Creosoting Co., who was shot in the leg.

DIED

JEWELL—On Friday morning, November 20, 1931, at Walter Reed Hospital, Col. FRANK C. JEWELL, Coast Artillery Corps. He is survived by his wife, Cecil M. Jewell, and two daughters, Mrs. John Burnside and Miss Bobby Jewell.
Funeral services at West Point, N. Y., on Monday, November 23.

LEAVEY—On Thursday, November 19, 1931, at 4823 Kansas avenue northwest, ALBERT, husband of the late Amelia Leavey, aged fifty-four years.
Funeral from the chapel of Bernard Danzansky, 3501 Fourteenth street northwest, on Sunday, November 22, at 10:30 a. m. Interment at Adas Israel Cemetery.

McQUADE—Suddenly, on Thursday, November 19, 1931, EDWARD J. McQUADE.
Funeral services at St. Thomas' Apostle Church, Twenty-seventh street and Woodley road northwest, where mass will be offered on Saturday, November 21, at 10 a. m. Interment private.

PERRY—Suddenly, on Friday, November 20, 1931, at Georgetown University Hospital, SALLY F., the beloved wife of Walter E. Perry.
Funeral from her late residence, Bethesda, Md., Sunday, November 22, at 2 p. m. Interment Monocacy Cemetery, Beallsville, Md.

REESE—On Thursday, November 19, 1931, at Sibley Hospital, CLARENCE L., beloved son of Elizabeth S. and the late Lowery A. Reese, of 615 Ninth street northeast.
Funeral from his late residence on Saturday, November 21, at 3 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

SCHMITT—On Wednesday, November 18, 1931, CHARLES G., beloved husband of Mary R. Schmitt (nee Bartholme).
Funeral from his late residence, 3626 Eighteenth street northeast, on Saturday, November 21, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Interment at St. Mary's Cemetery.

SHEPARD—On Thursday, November 19, 1931, in this city, HERBERT L. SHEPARD, aged eighty-six years.
Services at the funeral parlors of Almus R. Speare, 1623 Connecticut avenue northwest, Saturday, November 21, at 2 p. m. Interment Glenwood Cemetery.

SHEPARD—A special communication of Benjamin B. French Lodge, No. 15, F. A. A. M., is hereby called for Saturday, November 21, 1931, at 1:15 p. m., in lodge room No. 1, New Masonic Temple, for the purpose of conducting Masonic burial services for our late brother, HERBERT L. SHEPARD. By direction of the Worshipful Master.
SIDNEY I. BESSELIEVRE, Secretary.

TAYLOR—On Friday, November 20, 1931, at his residence, 314 East Capitol street, CHRISTIAN A., beloved husband of the late Alice Taylor.
Services will be held at Zurhorst's funeral parlors, 301 East Capitol street, on Monday, November 23, at 10 a. m. Interment, with military honors, in Arlington National Cemetery.

WALTHER—On Friday, November 20, 1931, at her residence, 3200 Twelfth street northeast, LOUISE C., beloved wife of the late Henry W. Walter.
Funeral from the chapel of Frank Geiers Sons Co., 1113 Seventh street northwest, on Monday, November 23, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Prospect Hill Cemetery.

WENNER—On Wednesday, November 18, 1931, at his residence, Potomac, Md., JACOB SYLES WENNER, in the eighty-eighth year of his age.
Remains resting at the funeral home of Warner E. Pumphrey, Rockville, Md. Funeral from his late residence, on Saturday, November 21, at 2 p. m. Interment at Rockville Union Cemetery.

Three Deaths Laid To Poison Liquor

Bodies of Men Are Found Near Thomas With Empty Bottles.

Special to The Washington Post.

Parsons, W. Va., Nov. 20.—Three are dead from having drunk poison liquor. Their bodies were found in an abandoned office building along the Western Maryland Railway, near Thomas, late yesterday. Three empty bottles, which contained bay rum, Sloane's liniment and radiator fluid also were found.

A letter from William P. Grace, Mable, W. Va., addressed to J. E. Smith, at Elkins, was in the possession of one of the men, who appeared to be about 40 years old. His left leg was amputated. Another body was identified as that of Roger Cassidy, 40, although his place of residence is uncertain.

A card in his clothing gave his name, and the address, Wilson boulevard, Twenty-first street, below Pennsylvania avenue, which causes the belief he may have been a resident of Washington. On the third body was found a receipt book of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers International Union of America, made out to Marvin D. Hamer.

CAPITAL RESIDENTS SHARE IN BIG ESTATE

Eight Get Bequests From $200,000 John Murray Marshall Left.

Special to The Washington Post.

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 20.—Eight relatives and friends in Washington, D. C., will share in the $200,000 estate of John Murray Marshall, it was revealed in superior court today, where his will was admitted to probate. The appointment of one of Marshall's nephews, Berkley F. Jones, with whom the 72-year-old man lived in Pasadena, as executor was approved by the court.

Marshall was a classmate of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, and served as United States attorney in Boston from 1891 to 1894.

The Washingtonians remembered in the will are the children of William Rowland, cousin of his first wife, Margaret Marshall, and friends.

The relatives are Hugh Black Rowland, Isabel Rowland, Ernestine Rowland and William Rowland. They are each to receive a share in $46,000 set aside to carry out the wishes of his first wife and in addition several of them are bequeathed family heirlooms, and Isabel an additional share in the $46,000.

The friends and amounts they will receive are: Katherine Bastianelli, Portner Apartments, Washington, $2,000; Betty Curtis, 2250 Twelfth street, $1,000; Kate Cooper, 2208 M street northwest, and Mary McGee, 300 East Capitol street, each $100.

Marshall also established a scholarship at Amherst College, and left the residue, after several other small bequests, to a sister, a brother and two nephews.

Receivers in Bob Case May Sue for Millions

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Federal Judge Alfred C. Coxe today appointed Joseph C. Flannery and Edgar Allen Poe, jr., ancillary receivers for Metal & Mining Shares, Inc., in this district, with authority to sue Charles V. Bob and others for $6,000,000, alleged to be due for diversion of assets of the corporation.

A jury hearing the trial of Bob and Frederick C. Russell, on mail fraud charges growing out of the sale of shares of Metal & Mining Shares, Inc., and other mining stocks, was dismissed this week when it failed to reach an agrement. Flannery and Poe originally were appointed receivers of the concern in Maryland.

Walker Starts West To Fight for Mooney

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Tucking a brief case under one arm, "Lawyer Jimmy" Walker, who New York knows as a frequently tardy mayor, arrived at a railway terminal 30 minutes early tonight and boarded a westbound train for California, where he will plead for the freedom of Tom Mooney.

He will get off his train—the Southwestern Limited of the New York Central—at South Bend, Ind., shortly after noon in time for him to see the Notre Dame-Southern California football game. He will continue westward to appear before Gov. James Rolph, jr., in behalf of a pardon for Mooney immediately after the game.

U. S. AGENTS SEIZE 20 IN BREWERY RAID

300 Cases Alleged Strong Beer Taken in $400,000 Baltimore Plant.

Baltimore, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—A score of employes of the Baltimore Brewing Co. were arrested today by a band of prohibition agents which swooped down on the plant while it was in full operation and took possession.

Included in the number arrested was J. E. Taylor, secretary and treasurer of the company. A warrant for the arrest of James Mills, president of the firm, was sworn out later by prohibition officials. Mills is in a Boston hospital. All were charged with manufacture of illegal beer.

The raid was led by Robert D. Ford, deputy prohibition commissioner for the Maryland district, and a score of agents took part. They descended on the brewery while it was in full operation, and took stations in all parts of the $400,000 plant.

Ford ordered the seizure of 300 cases of alleged high-test beer, which were in the shipping room, ready to be loaded onto trucks. The deputy commissioner said preliminary analysis showed the beer to contain between 3.85 and 4 per cent alcohol.

This alleged content, he declared, was above that allowed by law for beverages. The brewing company has been operating under a Federal permit for the manufacture of cereal beverages and near beer.

The manufacture of high-test beer is necessary to produce near beer, it was pointed out by the company. It is then dealcoholized to make the market product.

Nineteen of those arrested were held under $500 bail for a hearing before United States Commissioner J. Frank Supplee, after they had been arraigned before him following the raid. Taylor's bail was set at $1,500. All were released after collateral was posted.

Ford said he would ask the Federal court to issue a libel against the plant and its confiscation by the Government. He said an employe of the firm was arrested some time ago on a manufacturing charge, but the case was dismissed.

The brewery was under $50,000 bond to the Government for operation.

Baruch Will Confer With Hoover Today

May Discuss Proposed Revival of War Finance Corporation.

(Associated Press.)

Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier, will confer with President Hoover at the White House late today at the Chief Executive's invitation.

There were reports in the Capital yesterday that Baruch, former chairman of the War Industries Board, was coming here to discuss a revival of the War Finance Corporation. Such a step was mentioned as a possible alternative by the President at the time he announced the National Credit Corporation plan.

It was said at the White House, however, that "no subject was set" for the conference between Baruch and the President.

One of Mr. Hoover's secretaries said "the President learned Mr. Baruch would be in Washington for a few hours today on his way South and asked him to come in for a talk."

Bebe Daniels Accuses Prisoner as Annoyer

San Francisco, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Bebe Daniels, screen actress, identified Guy Lawyer, 39, today, as the man "who has been molesting me for several years." He was ordered to a detention hospital.

Lawyer was arrested after he attemped to reach her room in a Nob Hill hotel here last night. Miss Daniels identified Lawyer when the latter appeared before Municipal Judge Frank Dunne. Police declared Lawyer recently broke into the star's Hollywood home, and was sent to a hospital for the insane.

Will Address Georgetown Bible Class.

Page McK. Etchison will address the Men's Bible Class of Georgetown Lutheran Church tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

OPEN A CHARGE ACCOUNT
FINE MEN'S WEAR
EISEMAN'S, 7th & F

FARM BODY DEFENDS MILL WHEAT SALES

1,000-Word Statement Hits Charges Firms Made Profits on Deal.

(Associated Press.)

With an investigation of its operations near, the Farm Board yesterday made public an explanation by the Grain Stabilization Corporation of its wheat sales to flour millers last winter.

A thousand-word statement, directed at Gov. Murray of Oklahoma, reiterated Chairman Stone's justification of the transactions by which flour made from stabilization wheat was sold abroad and asserted no excessive profits were desired by the millers.

Gov. Murray, who charged that one firm made $600,000 by the arrangement, has been invited by the Senate agricultural committee to attend hearings beginning Tuesday, at which the board's activities will be investigated.

Sales to Millers Admitted.

The corporation said it sold 9,056,490 bushels of wheat to millers under a plan announced last January which was intended to give domestic mills a fair chance of retaining their foreign trade. Price stabilization operations had placed the American price 15 to 30 cents higher than world levels, making it impossible for millers to compete.

The millers were allowed to purchase the wheat for cash at current domestic prices with the agreement they might return to the corporation an equal amount from the cheaper-price new crop and receive a refund of the original purchase price. In the Northwest, however, 4,605,326 bushels were sold for export which were not to be returned.

Of the remainder to be replaced, only 1,916,021 bushels were returned. In the other cases refunds were arranged on the difference between the old and new crop prices and then the corporation itself bought the wheat from the new harvest.

Large Profits Charged.

Murray charged that millers were able to reap large profits by replacing with cheaper supplies. The board contends, however, that each miller was forced to hedge his sales to protect himself which many failed to do.

"The Grain Stabilization Corporation," the statement said, "has been unable to find any case in which the mills made more than a normal milling profit."

The corporation claimed profits of $195,000 in elimination of storage charges on wheat thus sold.

Federal Parole Board Weighs Fall's Freedom

(Associated Press.)

The Federal Parole Board is considering the request of Albert B. Fall for parole. The former Secretary of the Interior is serving a year and a day in the New Mexico State prison for accepting a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny, California oil man.

Two of the three board members are present, Irwin B. Tucker, of North Carolina, and Dr. Amy M. Stannard, of California. Arthur D. Wood, chairman, is ill, but is expected soon. Fall became eligible for parole yesterday.

200 Steel Makers Reemployed.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Officials of the Wheeling Steel Corporation today announced that six sheet mills at its Martins Ferry, Ohio, plant, idle six weeks, would resume operations Sunday night. Two hundred men will be affected.

WOODCOCK SCORES DRY AGENT IN DEATH

Suspends Man Accused of Causing Fatality During Colorado Arrest.

(Associated Press.)

The suspension of Henry Dierks, dry agent at Englewood, Colo., for his part in a scuffle which resulted in the death of Milford G. Smith was ordered yesterday by Prohibition Director Woodcock.

The prohibition enforcement director said Dierks had acted "like a stupid and brutal peace officer" and that steps will be taken to bring about his permanent dismissal.

Woodcock had received a report from Dierks which said he saw Smith take a bottle of wine from his hip pocket and place it on a table in a sandwich stand.

Dierks attempted to seize the bottle and arrest Smith, who resisted, kicking the bottle away and striking Dierks. A bystander named Green was said to have joined in the attack on Dierks.

Wants Warning Heeded.

The proprietor of the stand, named Carpenter, was about to do the same when Dierks struck both Green and Smith twice with the side of his pistol, drawing considerable blood.

Woodcock's statement said Smith, Green, and Carpenter were jailed for the night. Smith was moved to the hospital the next morning and died that day.

"I hope every agent who reads this will take solemn warning that we will not tolerate this type of activity," the Justice Department official went on.

Woodcock said he though local authorities were "not without blame" in leaving Smith without medical attention. He added:

"The criminal responsibility of Dierks from this standpoint is slight, if any. Of course, he did not intend to kill Smith and the law gives an officer a right to use necessary force making an arrest.

"If charges are brought against him I trust for the honor of his State that he will have a just and impartial trial.

"I am concerned now with his availability as an agent. I find that he has disregarded all our training and teaching for a year. The offense for which he was endeavoring to arrest Smith was a pitiful, noncommercial one.

"If he had succeeded, Smith would have paid a small fine and that would have been all. He did not attempt to observe. He knows no more now than when he began about the source of the liquor or even whether the proprietor of the little stand was violating the law.

"It is just brute force and no brains. We are paying him and have been training him to be a skillful investigator. Actually he was acting like a stupid and brutal peace officer. I will not have the energies of the bureau dissipated in this way."

Murder Charge Faced.

Denver, Nov. 20 (A.P.). — Henry Dierks, who was suspended today as a Federal prohibition officer, faces murder charges as the result of the death of Milford G. Smith, 20, of Englewood, Colo.

The charges were brought in the district court at Littleton, Colo. At the request of Ralph L. Carr, United States district attorney, the case was transferred to the Federal court in Denver. Carr acted in behalf of Dierks.

Prosecutor Joel E. Stone, of the First Judicial District, has prepared a petition asking that the case be remanded to the district court on the ground that the State should have jurisdiction.

The LEONARD
Electric Refrigerator
An Idea for a Gift This Christmas

The Leonard Electric includes all the essential modern betterments in electrical refrigeration. It is efficient, economical and attractive. It is ready for immediate use. No special installation is necessary. See the Leonard Electric at Mayer & Co. now. The price is temptingly low.

$179.50
Installed 5.15 cu. ft.

No finance charge for deferred payments.

MAYER & CO.
Seventh St. Between D and E

Cool Weather Is Right Around the Corner . . . When It Arrives You Will Be Delighted If You Have One Of

OUR SMART COATS

Along With the Many Thousands of Women and Misses Who Have Already Selected From Our Extraordinary Winter Models . . .

You know our coats are famous . . . and Women wearing them not only feel properly coated, but they look properly coated . . .

We Invite You Today To See The New Assortments Of Coats Which Have Just Arrived On Our Third Floor.

JULIUS GARFINCKEL & Co.
F STREET AT FOURTEENTH

MEN'S CLOTHING . . .
This Is Important Information Regarding the Wonderful Selections
IN OUR MEN'S SHOP . . .

We do not carry a large, miscellaneous line of Men's Clothing, but we have carefully selected a number of choice garments . . . made by tailors whom we consider the best in the world . . . such as BUSINESS SUITS . . . SPORTS SUITS . . . DINNER COATS . . . FULL DRESS COATS . . . CUTAWAYS . . . OVERCOATS, both Sport and Dress . . .

The most fastidious men in the country have bought these garments and have been most enthusiastic over them . . . Men, who have always had their clothing made to special order, have been pleased to find that little or, in many instances, no alterations were necessary, so well-cut and perfectly made are they . .

JULIUS GARFINCKEL & Co.
F STREET AT FOURTEENTH

Diamond
Engagement Rings

THREE essential factors determine the value of a Diamond. (1) "Color" (2) Perfection (3) Carat weight. That is why we insist that every diamond we stock must be absolutely Perfect, of the finest Color and Quality . . . to assure you the best value obtainable.

Diamond Solitaires $50 to $5,000

Diamond Blossom
WEDDING RINGS
12 fine White FULL-CUT Diamonds in Iridium Platinum. Our own exclusive Floral design $55

B. Harris & Co.
F Street at 11th
Jewelers and Diamond Merchants for Over Half a Century

Now Only $2.50 Round Trip
PHILADELPHIA
$2.25 WILMINGTON, $2.50 CHESTER
Sundays, November 8 and 22
Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 26
Good on TWO trains. In coaches only
Leaving Washington (Union Station) . . . 7:15, 10:00 a. m.
Returning, leaving Broad Street Station 7:15 p. m. or West Philadelphia 8:46 p. m.
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

In Sunday's Tabloid Magazine

NEW ENGLANDS GIFT TO AMERICA. No, not the cod, nor yet Boston baked beans. One more guess. Right! Thanksgiving Day. And how many of you know its precise origin and during what periods it has, and has not, been observed in America? David Rankin Barbee tells all about it in this informative article with a touch of humor.

SEVENTH SONS OF SEVENTH SONS. Times of depression are harvest days for the soothsayers, clairvoyants, fortune-tellers and the like. There are many famous ones in Washington and John J. Daly has ferreted them out and written an eye-opening story about it.

GREENER PASTURES. Roark Bradford, famous author of "Green Pastures," contributes this droll account of a further adventure in the fabulous life of that precious roustabout, John Henry. Don't miss it.

THE LAST OF THE WINDJAMMERS. The swan song of a colorful and picturesque era on the high seas is being sung on the West Coast, where some of the most famous of the world's sailing ships are being used as targets in motion picture wars and sent to their last rest in Davy Jones' locker!

STALKING BLACK LIONS IN INDIA. An adventure tale with a thrill in every line. By B. J. Treanor.

THE U. S. NAVY'S FAMILY ALBUM. A profusely illustrated double-page spread dealing with the rare collection of 70,000 photographs and drawings that repose in a little-known room at the Navy Department. They encompass the history of the seven seas and all that floats thereon and have been engrossingly described by Ed Hadley.

All of the other popular page features of The Sunday Post's Tabloid Magazine, of course, appear as usual: H. I. PHILLIPS, famous humorist; PROF. WILLIAM LYON PHELPS, distinguished bookman and critic; MABEL HERBERT URNER and her celebrated HELEN AND WARREN characters; BOOKS, UNCLE SAM AND THE HOMEMAKER. All worth your time and attention.

ORDER YOUR SUNDAY POST NOW AND INSURE YOURSELF A TREAT!

JOHNSON, HERE, HITS POLICIES OF HOOVER

California Senator Plans to Wage Moratorium Fight; Assails Bankers.

(Associated Press.)

Senator Hiram Johnson, around whom are clustering the expectations of many anti-Hoover Republicans, returned from California yesterday unsparingly denouncing the Hoover foreign policies, but saying never a word about the possibility of his seeking the presidency next year.

Vigorous as ever and "feeling fine," Senator Johnson avoided politics and political conferences in his first hours here. His arrival, however, coincided with a new declaration for President Hoover by Senator Moses, of New Hampshire.

On the surface, at least, there were no signs that Senator Johnson's arrival was a signal for an immediate rallying around of his friends. On the contrary, there were obvious signs of activity among the Hoover following.

Mystery Man At Capitol.

Raymond Benjamin, of California, a Hoover friend and mystery man in the Republican organization, was at the Capitol calling upon senators. Senator Moses has always been a close ally of Senator Johnson among the Senate irreconcilables to American ties in international affairs. His State is the first to have a presidential primary next spring. He pledged it to Mr. Hoover.

Waving aside further discussion of his suggestion of Thursday that President Hoover withdraw from the 1932 presidential race, Senator Johnson told the gathering of newspapermen which met him on his return to the Capital that he hoped first attention would be given by Congress and the administration to alleviating unemployment.

"I wish it were possible to make it clear how here in the United States the situation calls for action," he said. "Of course, I assume that we can not touch this problem until we have disposed of the moratorium for Europe and of the World Court, which will take us into Europe."

Hits War Debt Moratorium.

The Californian then lashed out more severely at President Hoover's one-year moratorium on war debts and his proposal for American participation in the World Court, now pending in the Senate. He termed the moratorium a move to stabilize the foreign loans of international bankers and warned that it added $250,000,000 to the burden of American taxpayers.

As for himself, Senator Johnson smiled and said:

"I am going to pursue the same course I have in the past, a bloc of one and doing just exactly as I see fit."

Meanwhile, the prohibition controversy was rising again. Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, one of the Republican regulars, announced he was going to ask the new Congress to vote on a resolution proposing repeal of the eighteenth amendment to be submitted to State conventions.

Leaders Oppose Dry Roll Call.

A prohibition roll call on the eve of the presidential campaign is not regarded favorably by the leaders of either party in Congress, but the issue is looming large as the session nears.

Senator Moses brought the Hoover issue to the immediate foreground with announcement that he was asking the Republican convention which meets in the First New Hampshire District to pledge the Republican nominee for the seat of the late Representative Hale to "thick and thin, copper-riveted support of President Hoover." This action would make the President an issue in that election.

Senator Moses also said he was going to use his influence to see that delegates chosen at the March primary for the Republican national convention "be as robustly for Mr. Hoover in 1932 as they were in 1928."

Johnson Breaks With Borah.

Senator Johnson, in opposing the moratorium, breaks also with Senator Borah, of Idaho, another potential Republican presidential candidate, and some of the Republican independents who have been looking favorably upon him.

"It is much easier," he said, "and safer to yap about disarmament that everybody is for and nobody opposes than it is to ask J. Pierpont Morgan and his subsidiaries and Albert Wiggin and his bank how much foreign paper they hold and what do they stand to gain by foreign debt cancellation, the moratorium and the like. There are gentlemen who have been here and who are apparently mad for the moratorium who might well have gotten these facts."

Manchuria, Senator Johnson said, "teaches us the absolute necessity for having some kind of a Navy, one equal at least to that accorded us in solemn conferences. That, of course, is another American doctrine that is obsolete."

Step Toward Cancellation.

Senator Johnson asserted that the moratorium was the "opening wedge to cancellation" of the war debts owed America. He was joined in this by Representative Rankin (Democrat), of Mississippi, who issued a statement declaring that the moratorium roll call would show whether members are on the side of the American people or that of the international bankers."

Vice President Curtis also stirred some speculation yesterday by dropping behind at the regular Cabinet meeting to have a chat with the President. He denied that his forthcoming statement of his intentions for 1932 was discussed and reminded reporters that when this statement is made "Charlie Curtis will make it."

George F. Harding, of Chicago, was a luncheon guest yesterday of President Hoover.

Mr. Harding, a millionaire armor collector, is a Chicago Republican leader and a strong supporter of Gov. Emmerson.

Two Wet Candidates Embarrass Crusaders

(Associated Press.)

The Crusaders, prohibition repealists, discovered yesterday there are two modificationists instead of one running for Congress in the Fourteenth Texas District. Embarrassed, they announced, "We will make a careful investigation."

Thursday they announced support of Carl Wright Johnson, Democrat. Yesterday they received a protest, listing Richard M. Kleberg, also a Democrat, as opposing prohibition. The message was from Roy Miller, Mayor of Corpus Christi.

Chicago Sees Trade Revival As Commodity Prices Gain

World's Greatest Grain Market Takes Courage, Despite Drawbacks, and Prepares for Better Times at Early Date.

Editor's note—Chicago is a barometer of the Middle West. Raymond Clapper, manager of the United Press Washington Bureau, inquired of business leaders there regarding conditions and the immediate business outlook. The following dispatch, one of a series from important centers, summarizes the results of this inquiry.

By RAYMOND CLAPPER.

(Copyright, 1931, by the United Press.)

Chicago, Nov. 20 (U.P.).—Higher prices out in its agricultural empire have had a bracing effect on Chicago. There is encouragement, restrained but real. As a pace setter for the Mississippi Valley, Chicago refuses to remain discouraged very long.

Some banks have failed. Some bigger ones felt the ice cracking underfoot, but escaped. City funds have been exhausted down to the pay rolls. Small business men have been terrorized by tribute-seeking racketeers. Whole nations have been wrecked by less graft, mismanagement and violence than has occurred here.

But in spite of it Chicago survives as the incarnation of the pioneer American spirit, the eternal faith that things are going to be bigger and better. It prepares for the greatest world's fair in history, in 1933, to celebrate a "century of progress." Edward N. Hurley and his civic committee goes out not to get one national political convention next year, but both of them.

Inquiry indicates reviving confidence here is based on these conditions:

1. Increased prices for wheat and some lines of live stock.

2. Improvement of the local banking situation through heroic bolstering of the weak institutions.

3. A greater feeling of security in the financial community due to President Hoover's bank credit corporation.

4. Hope that the Illinois Legislature now in session will step in to find new revenue to relieve the almost bankrupt condition of the city.

5. Belief among business men that the administration of Mayor Cermak is reducing racketeering and gangster activities, which have sucked blood out of the city and the business community for years.

Exceptionally warm weather has slowed down department store and other retail sales. Revelations of one major bank scandal now going on serve to aggravate fears of many small depositors about all banks resulting in rumors and even runs on entirely sound institutions.

Railroad earnings, which are a large item in this national transportation crossroads, are not encouraging, and the action of the Chicago & Northwestern in omitting dividends this week for the first time in 50 years has had some psychological effect. President Hoover's home mortgage rediscount bank plan has not received the 100 per cent enthusiastic support here that his bank credit plan did because some bankers foresee possible Government competition in real estate financing.

Sentiment among business men was summed up by Col. Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News.

"Immediately following the creation of the National Credit Corporation and the increase in the rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank, a distinct improvement was manifest, and this improvement has steadily become more unmistakable," he said. "The president of one of the largest banks in Chicago declared to me that the entire picture had changed, and that a new psychology was evident, one of hopefulness and optimism.

"Chicago has been particularly affected by the swift increase in the price of grain and other commodities, as Chicago is the greatest grain market in America.

"Personally I am a little fearful of the experience of the Farm Loan Board, where ease in making loans led to a lot of unsound loans which have reduced the value of its bonds and other securities. The danger of inflation and the creeping in of unsound business practice in all such proposals as this is obvious."

CHIEFS SEEK TRUCE IN WAR UPON FESS

Effort to Muzzle Wets on Issue Meets With Only Partial Success.

(Associated Press.)

Republican party leaders yesterday sought a truce in attacks on their national chairman. They informed antiprohibitionists that Chairman Fess, of the Republican national committee, would not quit under fire. They told at least one House member that the best way to get the Ohioan out of the leadership was to "cease firing for the time being."

The efforts met with partial success. But Representative LaGuardia, of New York, who prides himself upon voting as he sees fit regardless of the party, said he would be "no party to an agreement to lay off Fess" since "that is no way to work for a cause."

LaGuardia went further. He used "subterfuge" to describe a statement by F. Scott McBride, of the Anti-saloon League, that so far as he knew Fess never was or never had been a director of the organization. To this, LaGuardia replied:

"On page 214 of the official Anti-Saloon League yearbook for 1929, it shows that Bishop James Cannon, jr., and Senator Simeon D. Fess are advisory members of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, directly affiliated with the Anti-Saloon League."

LaGuardia added that the board "actually is the governing body for all prohibition organizations, and as such runs the Anti-Saloon League."

Representative Schafer, of Wisconsin, another antiprohibition Republican, met the truce suggestion with the answer that "if the national chairman continues to act as he has in the past, I will go after him hammer and tongs."

The Ohio senator intends to quit before the next election anyhow. He has agreed to stay until conventions, but his opponents think he should resign before the national committee meeting in December.

Tsitsihar Seat of Largest Of 3 Manchurian Provinces

Walled City of 35,000 Inhabitants Was Built in 1692 and Has Aspect of Fortress; Owes Activity and Wealth to Railroads.

"Tsitsihar, around which Chinese and Japanese forces are skirmishing in Manchuria, is the capital of Heilung Kiang, largest of the three provinces of Manchuria, and the principal city in a vast, only partially-developed area of rich farming and grazing land," says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"Military activity will be no new sensation to the 35,000 inhabitants of this brown-walled city in the fertile valley of the Nonni River. Tsitsihar was built in 1692 to overawe marauding tribes of Mongols and Cossacks.

"Later China sent many bandits into exile into Manchuria. The medley of native population groups in the vicinity of Tsitsihar forced the construction of huge barracks there and the detail of military units to the town, so that it has long had the aspect of a fortress.

"Like every other important Manchurian city, Tsitsihar owes its present wealth and activity to railroads. When the Chinese Eastern Railway was built as a short cut between Chita and Vladivostok, Tsitsihar was a slovenly settlement of ramshackle buildings back of its crenelated walls. Builders of the Chinese Eastern missed the town by laying the line eighteen miles to the south. Later, however, a narrow-gauge spur was built, connecting with the Chinese Eastern at a stop known only as Tsitsihar Station.

"Tsitsihar has come into the present 'misunderstanding,' however, through a new and extremely busy railroad line, constructed during the last decade northward from Taonanfu, through Anganchi, and crossing over the Chinese Eastern main line on a bridge at Tsitsihar Station, the junction point of the narrow gauge line. This new line is Chinese-operated and Japanese-owned from Taonanfu to Anganchi, and entirely Chinese owned and operated from Anganchi to the city of Tsitsihar.

"The new line does not end at Tsitsihar, but continues in a northeast direction for 79 miles to Taianchen. Eventually it will reach the Siberian border, and will connect with a branch of the Transsiberian Railway at Blagoveschensk.

"Few travelers visited isolated Tsitsihar before the railroad came. For a time those who did passed by coffins strewn outside the town walls—coffins of natives whose families were unable to pay burial expenses. Inside the walls the travelers saw a dingy panorama of dirty shacks lining unpaved and unlighted streets. Railroads have changed all that. Today Tsitsihar is a busy town, greatly changed and improved by modern development. While it is neither as large nor as modernized as the other two Manchurian provincial capitals, Mukden and Kirin, Tsitsihar has several wide, paved streets, electric lights, telegraph and telephone services. Tile-roofed houses, with coats of bright paint, are rising where old shacks once stood.

"Since the new north-south railroad has been added to the spur from the Chinese Eastern Railway, Tsitsihar is on the way to becoming one of the chief industrial centers of Manchuria. Mills are grinding out meal as fast as soy beans can be brought from Manchurian fields. Its shops and stores throng with customers, and its railroad yards are scenes of constant movements of trains. The new line to Taianchen broke all records for traffic in Manchuria early this year.

"Manchus, Mongols, Koreans, Russians, Yakuts, Chinese, Japanese and a few Europeans may be seen on the streets of the city, which is fast assuming the cosmopolitan air of other Chinese trading towns. During the horse and cattle fairs Mongol cattle traders flock to Tsitsihar, nearly doubling the population.

"Manchurian horses come mostly from the grass-covered plains in the vicinity of Tsitsihar. The region is the native home of the pony which helped to build up the near-world empire of the great Kublai Khan. Shaggy and stubborn, the Tsitsihar mount has endurance and is dependable on long marches over cold, irregular terrain. Heilung Kiang Province leads in the production of barley in Manchuria; is second in soy beans and wheat. Of its 20,500,000 cultivable acres only a third have so far been put into use.

"While Tsitsihar is in about the same latitude as Seattle, Wash., it suffers from extremes of heat and cold."

CHINESE DELEGATE REJECTS PLAN OF MANCHURIA INQUIRY

Continued from Page 1.

that both China and Japan had accepted a proposal to create an international commission to investigate the whole Manchurian problem, and that meanwhile hostilities would cease.

The Chinese delegation received a telegram from Nanking tonight saying the Japanese army at Tsitsihar, Manchuria, was organizing a military advance into inner Mongolia.

Dr. Sze said he had not and could not accept, even in principle, any proposal for a commission of inquiry without provision for Japanese evacuation.

Dr. Sze Has New Plan.

Under his instructions from Nanking, the Chinese delegate said, he is quite unable to take any such step. He explained he was working on a plan of his own which he hoped to present to the council tomorrow.

Officials of the league secretariat told newspapermen after today's secret council session that the Chinese delegate had agreed, in principle, to the council's scheme of procedure.

Tonight's announcement from Dr. Sze placed him in apparent contradiction to secretariat officials.

It was explained in authoritative quarters that the misunderstanding arose through the misinterpretation by some members of the secretariat of the Chinese attitude.

China has a plan which includes both armistice and a commission of inquiry, but does not assent to continued occupation. Japan has a plan, to which twelve members of the council agreed in principle, which apparently makes no reference to evacuation and it is understood the Japanese have no intention of evacuating under present circumstances.

The vagueness of this scheme and the fact that it has not been put in writing were advanced as reasons for the misunderstanding and it was explained that officials were anxious to announce an agreement, even if it were of the most general and most undefined character.

The secret nature of all negotiations also was cited as providing opportunity for misunderstanding and confusion. Secretariat officials themselves often have been in the dark as to the actual state of affairs.

Earlier in the day it was said that the terms of armistice and the conditions under which the investigating commission would carry on its work were to be considered at tomorrow's open meeting of the council. This information came from secretariat officials.

Called Japanese Victory.

The armistice decision, as they reported it, was regarded in some circles as a victory for Japan. In other quarters there was a tendency to look upon it as a far-sighted move from which tremendous good for the whole world might issue if the inquiry succeeded in restoring good feeling between the two Far Eastern peoples.

The proposal does not obligate the Japanese to withdraw their Manchurian army, while the inquiry is going on, but it was understood that the Japanese representative intimated that his country's troops might be retired if conditions in Manchuria improved and evacuation seemed safe for the lives and property of Japanese nationals.

Thus Japan has maintained her original position and the League Council, which requested last month that Japanese troops be withdrawn into the railway zone in Manchuria, has reconsidered the stand it took when it first began consideration of the Manchurian problem.

In broad lines, and with the details entirely undefined as yet, the proposed plan calls for acceptance of a military armistice, to be indefinite in duration, and the creation of the investigating commission as quickly as possible to examine the Manchurian dispute in all its aspects.

Already there has been much speculation regarding the personnel of the commission which, some authorities suggested, should consist of six members—two political, two legal and two military experts—headed by an American. It was believed that the commission would have almost unlimited powers to investigate the Far Eastern problem and to report recommendations.

Ambassador Charles G. Dawes was suggested as chairman as soon as it was stated that the council had agreed in principle to form the commission.

The names of Gen. Pershing, Thomas W. Lamont, Silas Strawn, Roland Morris and Marshal Petain, of France, also were brought forward, and it was agreed that the commission must be composed of the most distinguished men available.

The part which Gen. Dawes played in bringing about the proposal was the subject of much speculation. It was known that leaders of the council had discussed the proposal with him, and the supposed decision came a few hours after the ambassador talked with Aristide Briand, president of the council. Before that meeting the ambassador issued a statement clarifying the attitude of his Government toward the league's effort to restore peace.

United States' Attitude.

As a signatory to the pact of Paris and the nine-power treaty, he said, the United States is interested in seeing that the "lofty purpose" of those treaties is fulfilled, and Gen. Dawes was sent to Paris in the hope that he might contribute to bringing about the solution of the Manchurian troubles in accordance with the principles of those treaties.

"The United States is, of course, not a member of the League of Nations," the ambassador said, "and therefore it can not take part in discussions bearing upon the application of the machinery of the league covenant.

"Since, in the present crisis, it may be possible that such a discussion may arise, it is obvious that my presence at the meetings of the council would not only be inappropriate but might even embarrass the efforts of the council itself."

He added that the United States must "preserve its full freedom of judgment as to its course."

Mukden, Manchuria, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Activities on the bleak Manchurian front were masked by a breakdown of communications today as the first Japanese casualties of the capture of Tsitsihar came back in an atmosphere of mourning.

Gen. Honjo's headquarters revealed that the field radio station which accompanied his troops on their victorious assault into the north was out of commission. Telegraph wires between Taonan and the Nonni River Bridge have been cut by the Chinese and ordinary communications have been disrupted.

The bodies of 19 soldiers and 80 wounded came by train and were met at the station by a crowd of weeping women and a military guard. It was believed this contingent represented less than half the casualties, for latest reports listed the dead at 49 and the wounded at 155.

Martial Law in Tientsin.

Peiping, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The civil administrator of Harbin, Chang Ching-Hui, has taken over control of Tsitsihar by arrangement with the Japanese and has declared the independence of Heilungiang Province, Japanese dispatches from Mukden said today.

Tientsin, China, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—A new outbreak of firing by rioters within and without the native city today led authorities again to declare martial law.

The maneuver was successful and normal activity was resumed two hours after pressure was applied. The gunmen disappeared and quiet was restored. Officials of the Japanese concession charged that three bullets landed in their territory last night.

Moscow, Nov. 20 (U.P.).—The Russian and Japanese governments exchanged diplomatic notes today which, despite their peaceful tenor, contained a warning note regarding further Japanese operations in Manchuria.

M. M. Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, handed Ambassador Kohki Hirota a communication expressing his government's "satisfaction" that Japan had avoided damaging the Chinese Eastern Railroad in its recent advance.

At the same time, the note took occasion to call Japan's attention to the fact that despite previous assurances, her military operations have "far exceeded the limits of the original zone, and can not fail to cause the Soviet government serious anxiety."

Wagner Program For Idle Detailed

New York Senator Includes Legalized Beer and Wine as Relief Step.

(Associated Press.)

A four-point program for unemployment relief, including legalized sale of beer and wine, was proposed last night by Senator Wagner (Democrat), of New York.

Speaking over a nation-wide radio network, Wagner proposed a large public building program; creation of unemployment reserves; and legislation to provide a national employment exchange system.

He said that in addition to providing employment for hundreds of thousands of men, the manufacture and sale of beer would provide at least a quarter of $1,000,000 of additional revenue in taxation.

DEMOCRATIC CHIEFS DRAFT TAX PROGRAM

Continued from Page 1.

but there was general unanimity of opinion on some questions. A final decision on policies is being deferred until the return of Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, party leader in the Senate.

A number of questions in addition to taxation were considered Thursday night, including unemployment, railroad legislation, the tariff, and appropriations. Present, in addition to Mr. Walsh, were Senators Wagner, of New York; Hull, of Tennessee, and Harrison, and Representative Garner, of Texas, probable Speaker of the House.

Senator Wagner explained his views on unemployment, advocating a large Federal construction program and encouragement to industry, to set aside unemployment reserves and provision for a national system of unemployment agencies.

Several of those who attended the conference expressed confidence the party would present a definite unemployment relief program at the coming session, though they said its details would depend upon further conferences.

CAPITAL GREATLY CONCERNED BY CHINA'S ACTION AT PARIS

Continued from Page 1.

was in touch with the developments although not present at the meeting of the league council. In the afternoon the Secretary remained at his home in Woodley in close touch with his office and in constant receipt of dispatches from Tokyo, Harbin, Paris, Geneva and Nanking.

Developments at the session of the league council yesterday were not encouraging enough to justify any comment from the Secretary of State. This pessimism was confirmed when later in the evening the report was received that the Chinese government would not approve any league inquiry commission, even in principle.

Tendency of the council has been to invoke the league covenant or a league committee, which is a proposal that would be sure to encounter serious criticism and perhaps violent opposition in the Senate from Senators Borah, Norris, La Follette and the other members of the antileague group. Against the league influence Ambassador Dawes has been endeavoring to bring about the invocation of the American-born nine-power treaty.

This treaty expressly meets the present situation in Manchuria, as it provides for the respect of the "territorial integrity of China," which the presence of Japanese troops in Mukden, Tsitsihar and Anganchi would definitely indicate had been violated.

Ambassador Dawes brought forth the existence of the nine-power treaty at the conversations which he has had with M. Briand, but it was learned from authoritative sources that his suggestions had not met the full and complete approval he had expected. The tendency of M. Briand is toward the guarantees already existing in the league, in the form of economic sanctions, or even better in the provisions of his and former Secretary Kellogg's brain child, the pact of Paris, or the pact to outlaw war.

The American position in the proposed league council of inquiry was definitely indicated when Ambassador Dawes declared in Paris yesterday:

"I have been directed to come to Paris for the purpose of discussing with the representatives of the different nations assembled here the crisis which is taking place in Manchuria. As a signatory of the pact of Paris and of the so-called nine-power treaty, the United States is deeply interested, with its fellow signatories, in seeing that the lofty purpose of those treaties is fulfilled.

"It has been the hope of my Government that a settlement in accordance with the principles of those treaties would be arrived at through discussion and conciliation during the conferences in Paris, and that the presence here of a representative of the United States would contribute to bring about a solution through this method.

"The United States is, of course, not a member of the League of Nations, and it therefore can not take part in the discussions bearing upon the application of the machinery of the league covenant. Since in the present crisis it may be possible that such discussions may arise, it is obvious that my presence at the meetings of the council would not only be inappropriate, but might even embarrass the efforts of the council itself.

"But the position thus necessarily assumed by the United States in no way indicates that the United States is not wholly sympathetic with the efforts being made by the league to support the objective of peace in Manchuria. The United States must, however, preserve its full freedom of judgment as to its course."

IMPORTANT Announcement

We wish to announce that Bond & Sons, Washington's Newest Store . . . has no affiliation with any other store in Washington. Bond & Sons is headed and personally managed by the original Charles A. Bond.

BOND & SONS CLOTHES

511 14th Street N. W.

Opposite Willard Hotel—Between F St. and Penna. Ave.

Be Sure to Visit Our Opening Today

The PALAIS ROYAL

G Street at Eleventh Telephone Dis. 4400

Santa Claus Is HERE!

The long-awaited announcement—Toyland is ready in all its glory. And today—you'll see Santa Claus in this new, big thrilling Toyland!

Doll, Trunk, Wardrobe
All for
$1.95

What fun! Three changes of clothes, strong trunk with plenty of room for dolly and clothes.

Beautiful Baby Doll
$2.59

27-inch size! Big, lifelike baby doll, with sleeping eyes! Crisp organdy dress.

Lionel Electric Train Outfit
$5.95

Locomotive with headlight; pullman car and observation car. Eight pieces of curved track.

Girl Dolls
$1.00

Unusually attractive; has movable head and closing eyes. Clothed in a party dress. Shoes and stockings.

Buddy L Dump Truck
$2.49

Hydraulic type—a slight touch of the lever opens and dumps. An unusually low price.

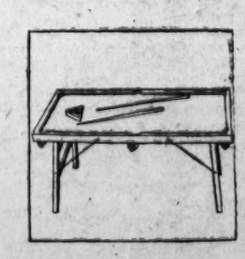
Baby Doll Carriages
$1.98

Fiber body, bound with metal. Wire wheels, rubber tires. Durable tan enamel.

Desk and Stool
$2.49

Complete outfit, nicely finished, top-opening desk. Well constructed.

Palais Royal—Fifth Floor



Pool Tables
$2.95

Complete with colored and numbered balls; rack and 2 cues. Folding type table.

Palais Royal—Fifth Floor

CHURCHMEN DONATE TO DEFEND CANNON

Treasurer Declines to Tell How Much Has Been Given for Bishop.

(Associated Press.)

Southern Methodist ministers and laymen are contributing funds for the defense of Bishop James Cannon, jr., on charges of violating the corrupt practices law in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Charles W. Warden, a Presbyterian and investment broker of this city, has been designated treasurer by friends of the bishop who sponsored the campaign.

Five of these sent a letter from Lynchburg, Va., on October 31 to ministers of the Southern Methodist conference and some of the laymen. This letter was addressed "Dear Fellow Worker" and signed by George P. Adams, Blackstone; Lucius Gregory, Chase City; A. C. Garnett, jr., Buckingham; Bennett T. Taylor, Prospect, and George G. Wilkinson, Cumberland, Va.

Warden yesterday, after first communicating with the clergymen, declined to say how much has been collected. No sum has been fixed as an objective of the campaign.

"The response from those answering has been very cordial," Warden said. Contributions from ministers have been more numerous than those from laymen, but the laymen have given larger amounts."

Text of Funds Appeal.

The letter requesting donations asked for money "to help defray the expenses necessary to employ competent counsel and to meet court charges in the trial * * * and to assist in meeting similar attacks upon him (Bishop Cannon) to destroy his influence as a prohibition worker."

Bishop Cannon has demurred to the indictment and argument of this demurrer has been set for November 30.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Southern Methodists of the Alabama Conference today heard a call from Bishop W. N. Ainsworth for a statement of position on prohibition by Southern political leaders.

At the same time, it was learned, ministers and lay leaders of the church are being asked to contribute funds to defend Bishop James Cannon, jr., against charges of violating the corrupt practices act in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Bishop Warns of Politics.

Last Monday Bishop Warren A. Candler warned preachers of the South Carolina Conference to "stick to their jobs and leave politics alone."

Bishop Ainsworth told the Alabama Conference unity of Southern leadership could "save the Nation for sobriety." He said the church was not concerned with party politics but added it did not mean to surrender the ground gained in prohibition.

"We want a statesmanship in the South," he said, "that will not truckle before the lash of any leader whose purpose in politics is to relieve the country of what he is pleased to call 'the damnable affliction of prohibition.'"

Man Sails to Face British Fraud Case

District Charge of Bribe Attempt Is Dropped on A. J. Klein.

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Assistant United States Attorney Jacob J. Rosenblum today withdrew the application of the Government for the removal of Arthur J. Klein to Washington under an attempted bribery indictment. That cleared the way for Klein's removal under extradition to England where he and others are alleged to have taken between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 from investors by means of fraudulent representations concerning worthless stock.

Klein will sail for England in custody on the Britannic, leaving at midnight.

While Klein was detained awaiting the outcome of the extradition proceedings, he was indicted by the grand jury of the District of Columbia on a charge of attempting to bribe a United States officer in connection with removal of his fingerprint card and records from the Bureau of Identification in Washington.

Man Files $10,000 Suit For Foot Cut in Bathing

Joseph Kocsis, 2047 Rosemont street northwest, yesterday brought suit against Herald Harbor, Inc., with offices in the Southern Building, for $10,000 damages, claiming that he severely cut his foot when he stepped on a piece of glass while swimming within a roped-off area at Herald Harbor, Md.

Attorneys John Paul Jones and Dante G. Galotta, appearing for Kocsis, contended that the company should have kept such substances from the bottom of the space that was roped off for swimmers. The accident happened August 9, 1930.

FLETCHER IS SLATED AS GENEVA DELEGATE

Continued from Page 1.

him to Cuba as second secretary to the American Legation in 1902.

He is likely to prove a steadying influence if diplomatic tempers wear thin under the pressure of work and disagreement.

Few have seen Henry Fletcher excited. He turned a Mexican crowd's jeers into cheers once by a smiling quip and he is given credit for clearing away much partisan antatgonism on the Tariff Commission. His sense of humor rarely deserts him.

He wanted to go to Princeton after finishing public school in Greencastle, but his pocketbook would not permit it. He studied law and was admitted to the bar at 21.

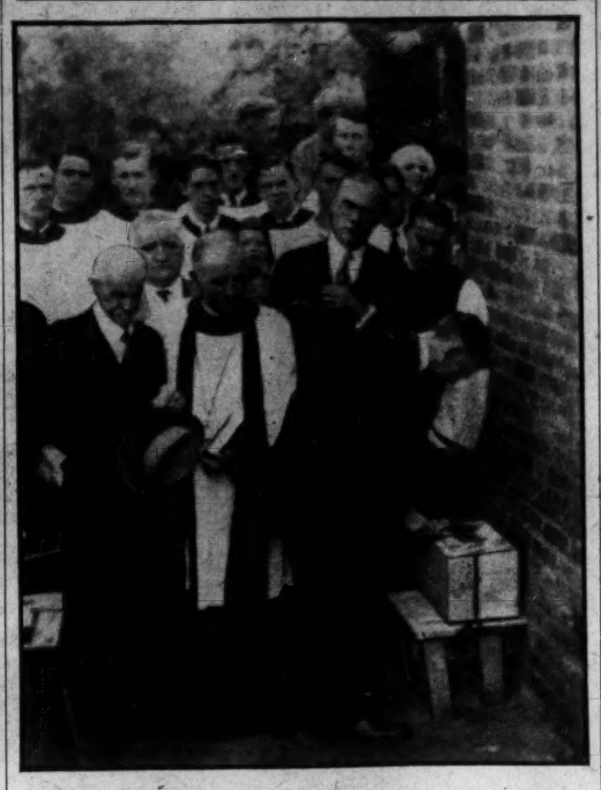
The Spanish-American War was responsible for his entry into diplomacy. He served with Roosevelt's Rough Riders, and the strenuous Teddy liked his fighting style and his good humor off the field.

His appearance goes with his disposition. Ruddy faced, gray haired and medium height, he is an immaculate dresser. Like President Hoover, he favors a double-breasted blue suit, and with it he generally wears a fawn-colored waistcoat.

Callers at his office, strangers or acquaintances, have little difficulty in getting in unless the pressure of his work is unusual.

He likes to talk golf and his game is good. Just now he is interested in replacing 35 trees on his Greencastle estate, which were killed by the drought last year.

RITES HELD AT OLD POHICK



Post Staff Photo.

George Washington drew up plans for a vestry house at Pohick Church in 1772. Yesterday—159 years later—the cornerstone was put in place with ceremonies by the Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons. Charles H. Callahan, past grand master of Virginia, is shown spreading the mortar with the Rev. C. A. Langston, pastor of Pohick Church, at the left.

CORNER STONE SET FOR POHICK VESTRY

Plans Made by Washington Delayed 152 Years; Radio-Phone Hook-Up Fails.

Quite a while ago—152 years, to be specific—the vestrymen of old Pohick Church, down in Pohick, Va., decided they ought to have a vestry house and George Washington was designated to draw up a set of plans.

Yesterday the vestrymen—a different group from the individuals who made the original decision—finally got around to laying the corner stone of their new vestry building down on the Washington-Richmond highway at Pohick, next door to the old church, which still is in active service, despite the fact that a large percentage of the visitors who have attended services there during the past 100 years apparently first carved their initials in the sandstone lintels and then chipped off pieces for souvenirs.

The curious old zigzag pews were packed to capacity, and there was standing room only within the church as the dedication service was conducted by the Rev. C. A. Langston, D. D., pastor of the church, and the Rev. F. D. Goodwin, Bishop of Virginia. In addition, there were between 50 and 100 other persons who, unable to gain admission to the edifice, hung around the churchyard hoping to catch an occasional word or two of what was going on.

Radio Listeners Disappointed.

The millions of radio listeners who had dialed their receiving sets to hear the ceremonies broadcast through Station WJSV, at Mount Vernon Hills, were entirely luckless, because the broadcast went completely "haywire," through no fault of the station, which substituted some of its staff entertainers when a telephone relay which was to have carried the church broadcast over the 6 miles to the transmitter failed to relay.

The telephone company had promised to disconnect all telephones on the same line with a restaurant across the road from the church in order to bring the program through to the station without any interference. Just as the station operator finished testing out the line and had his hand on the switch to cut the microphone in on the air, a totally unannounced voice came through.

"Hello," it said, "is this the Pohick restaurant?" Whereupon the whole telephone line went dead, and the operating staff at Mount Vernon Hills thereafter was completely out of contact with the mobile staff which had set up its microphones at the church.

Laying of Corner Stone.

Following the services within the church, the actual laying of the corner stone was conducted under the Masonic ritual, Washington having been an active member of the Alexandria-Washington lodge of the order which conducted yesterday's ceremonies.

Charles H. Callahan, of Alexandria, past grand master of the Masonic order in Virginia, performed the rite, using the same trowel that Washington used when he laid the corner stone for the Capitol. Following the ceremony Mr. Callahan presented to the church the gavel with which he had conducted the service, the gavel being made of wood taken from Washington's home at Mount Vernon.

In a brief address Mr. Callahan reviewed the history of the church, and the part it has played in the lives of Washington and of George Mason, who also had been a member of its congregation.

Virginia Group to Back Sunday Amusement Bill

Richmond, Va., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The Lord's Day Alliance, of Virginia, is planning to sponsor the presentation of a bill to the next general assembly designed "to clarify and strengthen" the Sunday law of Virginia by prohibiting freewill offerings at Sunday amusements, it was learned today.

The Rev. Dr. John B. Gordon, one of the vice presidents of the alliance, said the purpose of this bill is to take the profit out of Sunday amusements. These sporting events, he said, started as purely amateur affairs, but now have developed into fairly lucrative commercial enterprises.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL SITE COSTS $294,874

Condemnation Jury Reports on Tract Wanted for Jefferson Building.

The District government will have to pay almost $300,000 for a site for the proposed Jefferson Junior High School on the square bounded by Ninth and Tenth and D and E streets southwest, a jury reported in the District Supreme Court yesterday.

Nineteen lots comprise the square and the average price for them figures at slightly less than $4 a foot. The property is being bought by the District to replace the outgrown building now occupied by the Jefferson Junior High School.

Johnson & Wimsatt, lumber dealers, now own the block that is to be taken over. Part of the high cost of the land was attributed to the fact that the particular site has many advantages of a commercial property, and is valuable for that reason.

The members of the jury that fixed the price were Judson Kingman, Joseph Goldney, William J. Hooker, James F. Meegan and Charles H. Kindle. The exact price of the purchase is $294,874.88.

Jewish Congregations Assemble in Cincinnati

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The semiannual meeting of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations opened here tonight with Sabbath eve services and the formal reception of 50 rabbis attending. There were 150 delegates in addition from widely scattered points.

The first of four convention meetings will be held tomorrow, and tomorrow night, Mlazeh, or "after the close of Sabbath," will be observed.

MURRAY TAKES HAND AT DEPUTIES' TRIAL

Governor Orders Attorney Made Chief in Gomez Murder Prosecution.

Ardmore, Okla., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Trial of William E. Guess and Cecil Crosby, former deputy sheriffs, on murder charges resulting from the killing of two Mexican students, last June, moved rapidly today after Gov. W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray settled a dispute among attorneys at the prosecution table.

A jury was completed at noon, and the State rested late in the day after calling eight witnesses, including Salvador Cortes Rubio, who saw his two fellow students, Manuel Garcia Gomez and Emilio Cortes Rubio, shot to death after they had stopped their car on an Ardmore street, late at night.

Gov. Murray's entrance into the case came in an order directing Judge Asa E. Walden to designate F. M. Dudley, Assistant Attorney General, or J. M. Springer, the governor's own attorney, chief of the State's counsel.

A motion that Mr. Dudley be declared leader of the prosecution was presented by Mr. Springer. While arguments were heard on the motion, which was accompanied by the governor's order, veniremen were excluded from the courtroom.

Judge Walden granted Springer's motion over the protests of Marvin Shilling, Carter County attorney, who contended he should direct the State's case.

At Oklahoma City Gov. Murray said he took such action because of international aspects of the trial.

The State proceeded with its case after completion of a jury from an extra panel of 100 veniremen. The eight witnesses repeated evidence given at Guess' trial last summer in connection with Cortes Rubio's death. Guess was acquitted.

A Pre-Thanksgiving Event!

Modes for the Miss and Matron, in Felts, Velvets, Soleils, Satins.

Will Close Out

150

Smart Hats

$5.00

Taken From Regular Stock
Formerly $7.75 to $15.00

A most remarkable collection of creations and values to turn every smart head at Erlebacher's today . . . From the aristocratic Tiny Turbans and ever-popular Florentine Berets to the more audacious brim effects. The answer to every woman's longing for that something "different" and yet so "inexpensive."

First Floor

Erlebacher

TWELVE-TEN TWELVE-TWELVE F STREET

IT is easy to find what you want when you want it—in the POST'S NEW CLASSIFIED AD SECTION

Pure food, pure milk, pure water—in all the things you eat or drink, you want absolute purity.

Purity counts in cigarettes, too

Making cigarettes as pure as they can be made is our business. And it's your business, too—because you smoke them.

All the materials that go into the making of CHESTERFIELD cigarettes are tested again and again by expert research chemists to see that they are absolutely clean and pure. Just like the things you eat or drink.

The tobacco is pure. The right kind—mild, sweet and ripe! Handled throughout by the most modern machinery.

The paper is pure. Clean. White. The best cigarette paper that money can buy.

There is cleanliness in every step of CHESTERFIELD'S manufacture. Old-fashioned methods have been discarded, and CHESTERFIELDS are made and packed in modern sanitary factories where even the air is washed, and changed every four-and-one-half minutes.

Every day more men and women are changing to CHESTERFIELD. And changing for good! Four big reasons clinch the choice: Milder—Taste Better—Pure—Satisfy.

© 1931, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

The Washington Post.

THE WASHINGTON POST CO.
Washington, D. C.
EDWARD B. McLEAN,
President and Publisher.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The Washington Post is a member of the Associated Press, receiving the complete service of the world's greatest news-gathering organization.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Delivered by Carrier in Washington.

Daily, Sunday included, one year	$8.40
Daily, Sunday excepted, one year	6.00
Sunday, only, one year	2.60
Daily, Sunday included, one month	.70
Daily, Sunday excepted, one month	.50
Sunday only, one month (with four Sundays)	.20
Sunday only, one month (with five Sundays)	.25

BY MAIL, PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.
Maryland and Virginia.

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One year...$10.00	One year...$4.00	One year...$7.00
Six months 5.00	Six months 2.00	Six months 3.50
One month.. .85	One month .40	One month. .60

ALL OTHER STATES.
(Mexico and Canada, Incl.)

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only.	Daily Only.
One year..$12.00	One year..$5.00	One year..$8.00
Six months 6.00	Six months 2.50	Six months 4.00
One month 1.00	One month .50	One month .75

All Subscriptions by Mail Payable in Advance.

New subscriptions for The Post or renewals will not be accepted unless payment accompanies the order. Remittance should be made by drafts, checks, postoffice orders, registered letters or express orders, payable to The Washington Post Co.

Entered at the Postoffice, Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

National Advertising Representative—PAUL BLOCK and Associates. Park-Lexington Building, New York; Palmolive Building, Chicago; Little Building, Boston; General Motors Building, Detroit; Guarantee Trust Building, Philadelphia; Russ Building, San Francisco.

Saturday, November 21, 1931.

DAWES STANDS FIRM.

The council of the League of Nations is evidently exerting pressure upon China to agree to a perfidious armistice which would enable Japan to retain its grip upon the territory it has overrun in Manchuria while an international commission is engaged in investigating the situation. It was announced yesterday that the plan had been accepted in principle by Japan and China.

Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese delegate to the League of Nations, issues a denial that China has agreed to this plan. He is instructed to oppose the creation of a commission unless provision is made for the evacuation of Japanese troops from invaded territory.

The maneuvers in Paris indicate very strongly that the league council is now trying to save its face by bringing about an arrangement that will resemble peace, but which will be in fact a deadly blow at the Chinese republic. The council is also feverishly endeavoring to involve the United States in the scheme.

Japan's proposal for an international commission to inquire into Manchurian conditions carries the condition that the commission shall also inquire into conditions in China proper, and that the Japanese forces shall remain in possession of occupied territory while the commission is at work. China can not accept such conditions and retain the territorial and administrative independence which is guaranteed to it by the nine-power treaty, to which Japan itself is a party. The United States can not agree to this arrangement without violating the nine-power treaty.

Ambassador Dawes' statement clarifies the American position. The United States is interested in maintaining the integrity of the nine-power treaty, and of course it hopes all parties to the Kellogg pact will observe their pledge to adjust their disputes by pacific means. While not bound to cooperate with the other powers in any action taken by virtue of the covenant of the League of Nations, the United States is naturally in sympathy with the expressed desire of the league council to bring about honorable peace in Manchuria. When the council puts forth its plan, however, the rights of all nations, including China, must be safeguarded or the United States will refuse to cooperate. Hence it is inconceivable that the Japanese plan favored by the council will be supported by the United States.

The rights of China and the rights of the United States coincide in the nine-power treaty. It may be that some of the European powers have concluded that Japanese expansion at the expense of China would serve their interests. There are indications that Soviet Russia and Japan have a secret understanding which permits Japan to go forward. But the United States can not and will not make the nine-power treaty a scrap of paper, nor permit others to do so. America has great interests in China, but none that encroach upon the rights of China. Those interests would be imperiled if the nine-power treaty should be scrapped. The independence of China and its territorial integrity are necessary for the preservation of American interests and American rights throughout the Far East.

By standing firmly upon the nine-power treaty the United States can force the powers to do justice to China. They dare not violate that treaty over America's protest. At Paris stands a valiant American, who knows American rights and who dares to maintain them. By no chicanery in the council of the League of Nations can Japan overcome China and overreach the United States so long as Ambassador Dawes is left free to express the true will of the American people.

THE BONUS MUST WAIT.

It seems incredible under present conditions that serious-minded members of Congress should be considering payment of the remaining 50 per cent of the veteran bonus at the coming session. Yet both senators and representatives have announced that they intend to introduce and push measures for that purpose at an early date. In view of the ample provision that has been made to care for every class of sick and disabled soldiers, any attempt to provide a special class subsidy at this time is indefensible.

No obligation rests upon the Government to pay the balance of the adjusted compensation now. It was not intended as a cash bonus originally, and there is no valid excuse for singling out veterans for special favors when such extraordinary demands are being made upon the people to care for those who are really needy and out of work.

Every intelligent person knows that the Federal Treasury is not in a position to pay the remainder of the bonus or any part of it next year. To do so would require a bond issue of at least $2,000,000,000. The Treasury is already faced with the necessity of floating refunding issues to take up current short-time bills. The addition of a bond issue for the bonus would not only force higher rates on all Government loans, but would take from the investment funds of the Nation capital that is needed to revive business development.

In view of existing conditions in the United States payment of the bonus now could be looked upon only as a class dole. The entire Nation appreciates the good work American soldiers did in the World War and has amply demonstrated its consideration for those who met with special misfortune in the service, but when several million men are unemployed and requiring aid Congress could not extend this special favor to veterans without serious consequences.

The American Legion in national convention recognized this plain fact. Members of Congress who, in spite of opposition from the veterans themselves and in disregard of conditions in the Treasury, attempt to make political capital by again demanding a bonus payment are not representing the needs and interests of either their constituents or the Nation as a whole.

THE RADIO CRISIS.

Conferences in connection with the anti-trust suit brought several months ago by the Government against the principal manufacturers of radio equipment have not resulted in agreement out of court, and the negotiations appear to have reached a critical stage. The controversy involves the Radio Corporation of America and its cross-licensing contracts, particularly with the General Electric and Westinghouse companies.

In order to terminate what is considered the restrictive nature of Radio's arrangements with these great manufacturing companies and many smaller ones, the Government proposes to replace them with a national patent pool in which the owners of all radio patents might participate. It is not the extent of the investment made by the Radio Corporation and the electric companies that the Government objects to, but rather the system of cross-licensing. Radio began collecting patents in 1919 and controls approximately 2,000. Agreements were made by which General Electric was to manufacture 60 per cent of the apparatus sold by Radio, and Westinghouse 40 per cent.

With the inauguration of broadcasting in 1920 the great business of manufacturing receiving sets began and with it was developed the vast, interwoven system of cross-licensing. The result was a multitude of infringement suits between patent owners and manufacturers. This reached such a stage that the Department of Justice determined to test the validity of the agreements and cross-licensing upon which the Radio Corporation had been built up.

The expansion of the Radio Corporation finally has embraced talking films, phonographs and numerous allied lines. That company now does its own manufacturing in addition to turning out large quantities of equipment for General Electric and Westinghouse. The electric companies provide plant facilities and skilled workmen in return for extensive stock interests in Radio.

The Government in its action to straighten out this tangle has been most lenient, endeavoring to solve difficulties by negotiation rather than through rigid prosecution. An actual verdict of guilt under the antitrust laws and the White act might deprive the Radio Corporation and its manifold associates of their wave lengths and thus suspend broadcasting. It is to be hoped that radio interests will meet the Government's patient endeavors half way and avoid any such unfortunate contingency.

PLAYER-CONTROL FOOTBALL.

The new player-control system of football introduced by Boston University is expected by its advocates to revolutionize the sport. The important feature of the new method is that, instead of the coach directing the contest from the side lines, the entire responsibility rests with the team. After the game starts the players or their captains choose all substitutes, plan their strategy and solve their problems, even during the rest periods and between halves. The players must assume new responsibilities, exercise leadership and ingenuity and cooperate among themselves without the assistance of a professional to guide each move.

Critics assert that a team captain is incapable of choosing substitutes wisely and is prone to favoritism in this regard, and that players tend to disobey his instructions. The coach, it is believed, is best able to protect the health of the players, especially in the event of injury. Statistics show, however, that captains now suggest more of the substitutes than do the coaches, in many cases. As a rule they are more fair than coaches in selecting players. There is no evidence of disobedience or lack of loyalty to captains under the player-control system.

This arrangement charges the coach with responsibility for the player's health. A team physician is given power to remove a player at any time. The coach has the same authority, but he can not affect the strategy by sending signals in, modifying the line-up or choosing substitutes. As a result his concern is strictly the physical welfare of the team and he can not be blamed for defeat if he removes the star player.

Sport writers in discussing the experiment note that Boston's giant tackle, Jim Truden, was violently opposed to the system. He was, however, put in charge of the team and, according to the Boston Post, "did a beautiful job, injected pepper into a heretofore lethargic outfit, made the substitutions and on one occasion took himself out of the game."

The system of player control does much to take the sport out of the class of a struggle between coaches intent upon fame and high salaries, and to place it once more in the realm of amateur athletics. Advocates of the old method fear the financial loss which might be entailed in revising the system. It remains to be seen whether the forces of conservatism and financial interest will prevent general adoption of this new idea which places foremost the sportsmanship of the game.

LAWLESS DRY AGENTS.

In suspending Henry Dierks, prohibition agent at Inglewood, Colo., who is charged with slaying a young truck driver in a fight over a small bottle of wine, Director Woodcock takes upon his own organization responsibility for the death. In a detailed public statement on the event he admits that Dierks "has disregarded all our training and teachings for a year." In spite of that fact he was retained as a member of the force in active service until the tragedy occurred.

The offense which led to the slaying was a petty one that might have involved a fine of a few dollars. Yet it cost the life of a citizen. Now that the damage has been done, Mr. Woodcock expresses "deep personal regret" to the dead man's family and pronounces the agent who is charged with his murder a "stupid and brutal peace officer." In fact, Director Woodcock is so disgusted with Dierks' conduct that he is taking steps to dismiss the agent from the force.

Why was not this man dismissed during the year when he was disregarding instructions? Must a citizen be killed before a dangerous bully on the prohibition force can be disciplined or discharged? Mr. Woodcock has revealed an indefensible weakness in his organization.

This incident is held up to all agents as "solemn warning that we will not tolerate this type of activity." In other words, agents are told that they can't kill citizens for a pint of wine and get away with it. But they have the example of an officer who was "stupid and brutal" for a year without being dismissed. This same officer might have continued his depredations upon the public indefinitely if one of his raids had not resulted in a death.

Mr. Woodcock's warning holds little promise that lawless agents will be eliminated from the force. Unless steps are taken to discharge those agents who will not abide by the regulations other tragedies of this kind may be expected.

A corner is where two sides converge, so naturally prosperity can't turn it until the Democrats and Republicans get together.

The League proposes to name a commission to handle the Manchurian problem. We propose George Wickersham for chairman.

SKILL HUNGER

From the New York Times.

Bodily hunger has driven man to find ways of getting food. He has pushed back the shadows of forests and planted fields and gardens. He has drained marshes and irrigated arid regions. He has invented hoes and plows and harvesters to take the place of naked hands in gathering sustenance for himself and his family. There is no more impelling motive to effort in all the range of human existence than hunger—except the sight of a starving child for whose nourishment one has a responsibility.

Prof. Jacks has called attention to another kind of hunger which is general in mankind—an urge to something even beyond what one has achieved, a craving for skill. It is the repeated satisfaction of this hunger, ever renewed, that results in mental growth and the highest sort of happiness. It is often questioned whether education has increased happiness in the individual. It may be that the mere addition of information does not contribute to the making of a happier human being. But the continuing struggle for higher skill in some worthy field of human effort—"creative activity" is the phrase most often used to describe it—not only brings nourishment of spirit and happiness but adds to the wealth of the world in terms of human intellectual values. The greatest skills of the greatest number may determine the greatest good of the greatest number. Certainly it would if the choice of skills were wise—and that does not mean if the skills merely produced materially valuable things.

Plutarch remarks, in his essay on Pericles, that he who busies himself in mean occupations produces, in the very pains he takes about things of little or no use, an evidence against himself of his negligence and indisposition to do what is really good. But the something which one does with infinite pains may be of good in the development of the individual who does it, even if the product is not of valuable substance. Ismenias could not have been a "wretched being," for he was an "excellent" piper. Alexander the Great need not have been ashamed, as his practical father, Philip, of Macedon, thought he should have been, for playing a piece of music so charmingly and skillfully. Leisure "hobbies" are for increasing numbers who can not find in the narrow range of their vocations their salvation.

The mind's desire for excellence in something is a mystery, but it does after all suggest the course which our education must take in the development not only of the child but also of the man and woman to the end of their lives. And with this sort of training should be given, as Dr. Jacks suggests in his three "reforms," a larger place to physical education and the appreciation of beauty.

Enjoying Himself.

(Copyright, 1931.)

POST HASTE.

Japan is digging-in in Manchuria and will be well prepared to play freeze-out with an investigating committee.

If you have any bets to lay on McDuffie as Democratic floor leader, place them now.

Announce your tax plan now if you want any publicity. Uncle Andy is going to settle things soon.

The World Bank will investigate Germany's capacity to pay. It may set a momentous precedent.

The Spanish exile decree lets Alfonso know how our Mr. Pitts feels when he gets a one-year sentence while serving a fourteen-year term.

We trust it was explained to Signor Grandi that New York policemen who turned their backs to him were under orders to face his belligerent compatriots.

The economists can write volumes, but it will come back to this: With a two-year supply of cotton on hand the crying need of the South is to find another crop for half its cotton acreage.

The best joke in the news yesterday was the report that the A. P. found Hiram Johnson reluctant to talk politics.

"Japanese troops will now advance to Chinchow." They must be hungry after that cold northern march.

Mayor Walker finds an excuse to go to California and break up an unusually long sojourn in New York.

Since Ambassador Dawes can't sit in the league meetings he is finding diplomacy harder on the feet than ever. PAUL HUDSON.

Joe Keeps Still.

Atlanta Constitution.

About the most backward statesman of the season is Uncle Joe Grundy. If he has anything to say he is keeping it to himself.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

AN UNUSUAL VISITOR.

He dropped into my office with a grin upon his face.
He talked about the weather and the college football race.
He asked about the family and told the latest joke,
But never mentioned any one who'd suddenly gone broke.

He talked of books and pictures and the play he'd been to see.
A clever quip his boy had made he passed along to me.
He praised the suit of clothes I wore and asked me what it cost,
But he never said a word about the money he had lost.

He was with me twenty minutes,
chuckling gayly while he stayed
O'er the memory of some silly little blunder he had made.
He reminded me that tulips must be planted in the fall,
But calamity and tragedy he mentioned not at all.

I thought it rather curious when he had come and gone.
He must have had some tales of woe
but didn't pass them on.
For nowadays it seems to me that every man I meet
Has something new in misery and moaning to repeat.

And so I write these lines for him who had his share of woe
But still could talk of other things and let his troubles go.
I was happier for his visit—in a world that's sick with doubt.
'Twas good to meet a man who wasn't spreading gloom about.

(Copyright, 1931.)

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad to His Flapper Daughter.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

MY Dear Louise: Yesterday I heard you say that some remark made by one of your classmates nearly tickled you to death.

The remark, as you reported it, was only slightly amusing. It may have caused you to laugh, since you are young and laughter requires little inspiration when mere living is a joyous adventure, but I'm quite sure you were not tickled to the point of death.

I don't blame you for the expression. You didn't coin it. You absorbed it, quite unintentionally, from your associates. But the blame will be yours, if you continue to give the thing brainroom, and you will bear the punishment.

Believe me, my dear, the punishment is real. It causes your brain to get rusty in spots for want of use.

Your mind is much like your self.

It never chooses a hard way if it knows an easier one.

When it discovers that a few stock phrases can be used on all occasions, it never again troubles itself to think up original and intelligent comment.

Listen carefully and you will discover that those of your acquaintances who depend on stock phrases to express their meaning, if any, invariably are the ones who show the least evidence of intelligence in other particulars. And you will discover, also, that you are most inclined to use such phrases when embarrassment has addled your wits and left your tongue to shift for itself.

Stock phrases are a blessing to the stupid. They enable the dullest to do part of the talking. But since they are the tools of the stupid, people of normal wit can't cultivate their use without descending to the level of stupidity.

If you adopt other habits of people who never wash, you may expect those habits eventually to convince you that washing is unnecessary.

If you develop the habit of using "Oh, yeah," "perfectly darling," "You tell 'em," and similar substitutes for intelligent speech, your mind will adjust itself to match the dullness of those who can talk in no other way.

It isn't funny to imitate a cripple; and if you do too much of it, you will eventually need a crutch. Love, DAD.

(Copyright, 1931.)

PRO AND CON

Press Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great American Show, "Politics."

A Sample of Government.

Chicago Tribune.

A statement from the White House explaining the Navy budget which will be submitted to Congress said: "It does not propose to abandon any of the navy yards at present." When Secretary Adams, of the Navy Department, submitted his plan of economy cuts, at the President's orders, the abandonment or curtailing of certain land activities of the Navy, in shipyards, &c., was included. As soon as it was known that such cuts were being considered the political influence of the congressional districts enjoying perquisites from naval expenditures in the shipyard regions was exerted.

Whatever advantage economy might work in these regions, it was apparent that it would be all political disadvantage, and it was also apparent that such economies would not be insisted upon. There was nothing unexpectable and unnatural in this. It was political action proceeding by its usual channels. It is the rule of governmental action, but its application is broader than departmental. It is not only that it affects the Navy, as in this case. It will affect every undertaking of government in any field. If government goes into business this is the fashion in which it will and must go.

Always Fly in Ointment.

Milwaukee Journal.

If the Democrats control the House of Representatives, as now seems likely, they will get better committee assignments, but they will not have nearly so much fun.

Huh! It Furnished Al!

Macon Telegraph.

Chicago is said to be growing cheaty over the conviction of Al Capone, although it is not easy to see why. What did Chicago have to do with it?

The Same Old Faces.

Daily Record.

The forces lining up behind the equalization fee, which is to encounter a rebirth of effort at the next session of Congress, contain many a familiar face. In the ranks of the equalizationists still are found a few who sincerely believe in the measure. But still present, too, are the pseudo farm leaders, the politicians, the theorists and the job hungry. Seldom is the voice of a real farmer heard, for few, indeed, are the farmers who have any faith in legislative relief.

It is more amusing than pathetic, this presumption of a self-appointed spokesman of agriculture. It is without parallel in other businesses, professions or trades, for the banker, the merchant and laborer all choose their own leadership and brook no interference from selfish or misguided outsiders. It is unfortunate that this situation exists, for some practical agricultural program might be devised if the every-day farmer, rather than the swivel-chair farmer and the farmer-politician, would give thought to it. With all his shortcomings, the farmer is a pretty hard-headed individual, who would probably be far more sane in his demands than the present self-appointed crop of spokesmen.

That Senseless Suggestion.

Detroit Free Press.

The proposal by the Federal board that cows on the dairy farms be decimated is about as sensible as a proposal that every man throw away one dollar in ten would be.

They Despise Team Work.

Toledo Blade.

Senators Borah and Johnson would never do as a presidential ticket. No matter which way they were hitched the cart would be before the horse.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Advises Republicans Against Proposing Resubmission of the Eighteenth Amendment in the Coming Party Platform.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Republicans who have the welfare of their party at heart would do well to go slow before advocating resubmission of the eighteenth admendment as a plank in the coming party platform. To do this will take all the "bolt" out of South, Southwest and West. Without this bolting enthusiasm, the Republican party can never win.

I have before me a letter from a well-known Democratic woman, of Virginia. She says: "I was visiting friends here Thursday night, Republicans, and the man of the house said that he felt certan Herbert Hoover would be reelected and 'sweep the country' if he remained dry, and had no wet running mate for Vice President. I want to tell you as a Democratic woman, of Virginia, that none of these wet Democratic candidates; like Ritchie, Smith, Baker or Roosevelt, can ever get my vote, nor the votes of the women I know around here."

From a leading Democratic woman of Missouri, comes: "I want you to know that nothing has happened to give me hope of the Democratic party for 1932. Therefore, I am still a 'Hoover Democrat' and am convinced that the dry Democrats will not support any one of the Democrats mentioned as possible candidates for 1932."

But would these people, bolting Democrats, talk as they do should resubmission be put in the Republican party platform? They certainly would not. Resubmission would please the wet Republicans in some States, but would alienate the vast middle class throughout the country on whom Mr. Hoover must depend if he is to win.

Republican papers in the East that advocate a resubmission plank in the platform are either ignorant of the country at large, or are so immersed in the wet issue that they can not see the situation as a whole.

M. F. MACLEAN.

Watertown, Mass.

Describes How the Eskimos Are Doing Their Bit to Relieve the Depression—Others Should Do Likewise.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It is hard to believe that the Eskimo is the most prosperous and most extravagant person at the present time. He is generally pictured as living in an igloo and subsisting on blubber. The Eskimo has gone in for commerce on a large scale. His particular line of business is the fur trade. A few of the successful fur traders make as much as $5,000 to $40,000 a year. Do they hoard their money? No, they spend all they make. As soon as an Eskimo becomes rich, his first thought is to get to some large city, where he can purchase a white man's outfit.

Often they make this trip to some city or other by plane. After obtaining the desired outfit, the rest of the money is spent for speedy motorboats, expensive hunting equipment, fishing tackle and often for a radio if the purchaser does not already possess one.

What the world needs today is a few more people with the spending characteristics of the Eskimo.

JOHN CARTER.

Offers Primary Election for Presidential Nominations as Substitute for the Nominating Convention.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Now is the time to abolish the antiquated and obnoxious method of nominating a President by convention. This method should be relegated to the melting pot.

Today a few Republican and Democratic leaders name the Presidential candidates that 72,000,000 voters have to vote for—"Hobson's choice" with them. I know we have delegates to the conventions, but they are all politically hand-picked and are expected to vote as their leaders dictate.

My idea is to abolish all presidential conventions. Let the national committee of each party name ten candidates for the Presidency; these names to be put on the ballot and voted for in a special election in each State in the month of June, preceding a presidential election. This would do away with promises which are usually made during the campaign with the party leaders.

This would mean government by the people and not by the politicians. Let voters rise en masse and assert their rights.

Robert G. Ingersoll once said: "One man in the right often becomes a majority." H. E. FORD.

Reduction in Living Expenses Has Been Advocated, but Nothing Has Been Done About Reduction in Rents.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Much has been said and written about reductions in living expenses, but very little about a reduction in rents, which constitute an important part of these expenses. It has always been stated by writers on economics and budget makers that no family should pay out for shelter more than 25 per cent of its income, but it is almost impossible for a family with a salary of $200 a month (and there are thousands getting less than that) to find a six-room house in a decent locality at a rental of $50 a month, notwithstanding the fact that back in 1916 the identical house rented for $30.

Some effort should be made by those who are engaged in alleviating the effects of unemployment to give the people relief from the burden of high rents. G. W. F.

No, They Just Yawn.

Detroit Free Press.

We suppose Mr. Borah gets away with it in the Senate because his fellow members are entertained.

TEXAS OIL CONTROL CALLED CONSPIRACY

Gov. Sterling Named With Others in Charge of Injunction Suit.

Sherman, Tex., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The Brock-Lee Oil Co. charged today that a conspiracy exists between Gov. R. S. Sterling, Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, the Humble Oil & Refining Co., the Texas Co., and others to curtail oil production in the East Texas field as a price-fixing measure in unlawful restraint of trade.

The accusation was made in an amended injunction petition filed with Federal Judge Randolph Briant, attacking the military proration orders of Gov. Sterling in East Texas. The company seeks to prevent interference with its wells in the field.

"I do not care to comment on that matter," Gov. Sterling said at Houston when informed of the petition.

Heretofore, he has repeatedly said the matter of price was not a consideration in his use of the military to regulate oil production. It has been the executive's contention his action was necessary as a measure of conservancy.

Sterling's Authority Attacked.

The petition charged that Gov. Sterling exceeded his authority in declaring martial law. It set forth that Sterling formerly was a stockholder and director in the Humble Oil & Refining Co.; that his brother now is an executive vice president of the company, and that the governor owes the Humble Oil Company between $400,000 and $1,000,000.

The charge was made that Gen. Wolters, in command of the situation in eastern Texas under Sterling's martial law orders, was a regularly employed attorney of the Texas company.

For this reason, the petition alleges, the relations of Gov. Sterling and Gen. Walters to these two companies are so close and intimate as to disqualify them from action and judgment in matters relating to oil field administration.

Conspiracy Is Charged.

It was alleged that an agreement, combination and conspiracy was entered into to restrict oil production in the East Texas field, as it would lessen the market demand, and that this was a violation of the antitrust laws of Texas and the United States.

The defendants named in the amended petition, besides Gov. Sterling and Gen. Wolters, were Adjutant General W. W. Sterling, Attorney General James V. Allred, V. McDavid, of Henderson, county attorney of Rusk County, and three members of the Texas Railroad Commission, Lon A. Smith, C. V. Terrell and Pat M. Neff.

Allred recently filed suit to oust from Texas fifteen oil companies, including the Texas and Humble companies, alleging they were engaged in a conspiracy to fix prices of gasoline and oil products and drive independent retailers out of business.

The Weather

TODAY'S SUN AND TIDE TABLE

	A.M.	P.M.
Sun rises.... 6:56 | High tide..	5:06	5:33
Sun sets..... 4:51 | Low tide..	11:44

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agri., Weather Bureau.

Washington, Friday, Nov. 20—8 p. m.

Forecast—For the District of Columbia, mostly cloudy, probably occasional showers Saturday and Sunday; cooler Sunday; moderate south and southwest winds.

For Maryland and Virginia, mostly cloudy, probably occasional showers Saturday and Sunday; cooler in the interior Sunday; moderate to fresh south and southwest winds.

The northwestern disturbance has moved east-southeastward and merged with the southwestern disturbance, which has moved northeastward from the southern Plains to Minnesota with considerably increased intensity, Minneapolis, Minn., 29.12 inches, and pressure is low and falling from California eastward to the southern Rocky Mountain region, Pueblo, Colo., 29.56 inches. These disturbances have been attended by general rains in the Lake region, the great central valleys, the Gulf States, and portions of the Plains States, the Pacific States, and by snow in the Plateau and northern Rocky Mountain regions and the western Canadian Provinces. Pressure remains abnormally low over western Alaska, Dutch Harbor, 28.68 inches, and also over the Greenland-Iceland area. An extensive area of high pressure is advancing southeastward over western Canada, Montana, and Wyoming, Edmonton, Alberta, 30.64 inches, and pressure remains high from Newfoundland and Quebec southward over the Atlantic States and the western Atlantic Ocean, Cape Race, N. F., 30.64 inches. The temperature has risen from the Lake region and the upper Ohio Valley eastward to the Atlantic Coast, but decidedly colder weather has overspread the northern Rocky Mountain region and the western portions of the Dakotas. The weather is still unseasonably warm almost generally over the eastern half of the United States, several stations equaling or exceeding previous high-temperature records for so late in the season.

Forecast for Saturday and Sunday—General forecast for the Atlantic States, the lower Lake region, the Ohio Valley and Tennessee: Showers are probable over practically all sections, except the Florida Peninsula within the next 36 to 48 hours, and the rain will likely change to snow flurris Sunday in the lower Lake region. Continued mild temperature Saturday will be followed by much colder weather Sunday in the Ohio Valley, western Tennessee, and the lower Lake region, and the temperature will begin to fall Sunday or Sunday night in the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic States.

Local Weather Report.

Temperature—Midnight, 59; 2 a. m., 59; 4 a. m., 59; 6 a. m., 59; 8 a. m., 60; 10 a. m., 68; 12 noon, 74; 2 p. m., 74; 4 p. m., 73; 6 p. m., 70; 8 p. m., 67; 10 p. m., 63. Highest, 75. Lowest, 59.

Relative humidity—8 a. m., 96; 2 p. m., 55; 8 p. m., 73. Rainfall (8 p. m. to 8 p. m.), 0. Hours of sunshine, 6.0. Per cent of possible sunshine, 60.

DEPARTURES FROM NORMAL.

Accumulated excess of temperature since January 1, 1931, 857 degrees.

Excess of temperature since November 1, 1931, 155 degrees.

Accumulated deficiency of precipitation since January 1, 1931, 7.15 inches.

Deficiency of precipitation since November 1, 1931, 1.15 inches.

Temperatures and Precipitation.

Temperatures and precipitation in other cities for 24 hours ended Friday, 8 p. m.

	Highest Fri.	Thurs. night.	Lowest Fri. 8 p. m.	Rainfall.
Washington, D. C.	75	59	67	....
Asheville, N. C.	64	60	64	0.04
Atlanta, Ga.	74	62	66	....
Atlantic City, N. J.	64	56	58	....
Baltimore, Md.	72	56	66	....
Birmingham, Ala.	76	66	62	0.16
Bismarck, N. Dak.	36	24	24	....
Boston, Mass.	50	44	48	0.04
Buffalo, N. Y.	68	46	66	0.24
Chicago, Ill.	64	54	60	0.52
Cincinnati, Ohio	74	62	66	0.82
Cheyenne, Wyo.	38	18	16	....
Cleveland, Ohio	74	54	68	0.82
Davenport, Iowa	62	52	50	0.88
Denver, Colo.	50	24	40	....
Des Moines, Iowa	58	52	48	0.12
Detroit, Mich.	70	48	66	0.59
Duluth, Minn.	44	40	42	0.64
El Paso, Tex.	60	32	56	....
Galveston, Tex.	66	52	64	0.48
Helena, Mont.	16	14	8	0.04
Indianapolis, Ind.	70	60	62	0.21
Jacksonville, Fla.	78	68	70	0.01
Kansas City, Mo.	68	52	50	0.01
Little Rock, Ark.	64	62	54	2.22
Los Angeles, Calif.	68	52	62	....
Louisville, Ky.	74	64	66	0.66
Marquette, Mich.	50	44	50	0.51
Memphis, Tenn.	62	60	58	1.52
Miami, Fla.	78	72	74	0.20
Mobile, Ala.	76	70	64	0.24
New Orleans, La.	76	70	66	1.02
New York, N. Y.	58	50	56	0.02
Omaha, Nebr.	58	50	46	0.34
Philadelphia, Pa.	66	54	64	0.01
Phoenix, Ariz.	62	38	58	....
Pittsburgh, Pa.	76	62	66	....
Portland, Me.	46	40	46	0.02
Salt Lake City, Utah	36	28	26	0.02
St. Louis, Mo.	62	....	58	1.32
St. Paul, Minn.	54	46	52	0.48
San Antonio, Tex.	74	52	68	....
San Diego, Calif.	66	50	60	....
San Francisco, Calif.	58	52	54	....
Santa Fe, N. Mex.	40	20	34	....
Savannah, Ga.	78	64	70	....
Seattle, Wash.	44	38	40	....
Springfield, Ill.	62	58	56	1.26
Tampa, Fla.	82	64	74	....
Toledo, Ohio	70	52	56	0.52
Vicksburg, Miss.	60	60	56	1.44

River Bulletin.

Harpers Ferry, W. Va., Nov. 20.—Potomac and Shenandoah rivers clear.

Bean Lottery as Panacea For Depression Rejected

Another neatly worked-out proposal to erase the national deficit was killed yesterday when Corporation Counsel William W. Bride advised District Commissioners that the plan would violate the District law governing games of chance.

The proposal was submitted first to the Secretary of State by a Californian, one Oscar O. Ayres, of Los Angeles. Perhaps because the State Department would not recognize that there is a deficit or perhaps because it considered the District government more seriously in need of addition funds, the letter was forwarded to District Commissioners.

Briefly, the plan was to engage the entire population of some 120,000,000 in a gigantic guessing contest on how many beans can be kept in a quart jar.

Funds for promoting the lottery would be provided thus: Retail merchants would all raise their prices 5 per cent, thus yielding an estimated $2,500,000,000 within a year. One-fifth of this money would be required to print the guessing tickets and pay prizes. The other four-fifths would be distributed among cities participating, minus a generous income tax, which would go to the Treasury Department.

And thus would prosperity return on the wings of a bean jar, so to speak, and everybody would have a good time while paying off the national debt.

"The advertising and pleasure feature the public would get out of the 1 per cent is worth all it would cost," Ayres predicted. "In time the income tax would pay off the veterans' bonus bonds."

The philanthropic originator of the idea would charge the Government nothing, but he would be glad to come to Washington and explain the plan in detail "if transportation is furnished me there and back."

Citing the District law which provides that no person shall promise a gift "for and in consideration of the purchase by any person of any article or thing," Mr. Bride said, "I am of the opinion that the proposed enterprise is in violation of the laws."

MOVEMENT OF STEAMSHIPS

New York, Nov. 20.

ARRIVED FRIDAY.

De Grosse, from Havre.
President Harding, from Hamburg.

SAIL SATURDAY.

Rotterdam, for Rotterdam.
Clan MacNeil, for Cape Town.
Bergensfjord, for Oslo

REPORTED BY RADIO.

Albert Ballin, from Hamburg; due at pier 86, North River, Saturday.
Stuttgart, from Bremen; due at pier 42, North River, Sunday.
Leviathan, from Southampton; due at pier 86, North River, Monday.
American Merchant, from London; due at pier 39, North River, Monday.
Marques de Comillas, from Barcelona; due at pier 8, East River, Monday.
Olympic, from Southampton; due at pier 59, North River, Tuesday.
Paris, from Havre; due at pier 57, North River, Tuesday.
Augustus, from Genoa; due at pier 97, North River, Tuesday.
Andania, from Liverpool; due at pier 56, North River, Tuesday.
President Monroe, from world cruise; due at Twelfth street, Jersey City, Tuesday.

Stolen Capital Car Held in Minnesota

Adopted Son of Former U. S. Treasurer Is Accused With District Man.

Richard White, 28 years old, said to be an adopted son of Frank White, former Treasurer of the United States, was arrested in Minneapolis, Minn., yesterday on a charge of removing a stolen automobile from one State to another, Washington police were informed.

White was arrested with a companion and the allegedly stolen car was recovered, according to the message. Washington police said the car in question was taken on September 22, 1931, and is the property of Bryant K. O'Dwyer, of 1101 Monroe street northwest, an assistant manager for the Peoples Drug Co.

The other man arrested in Minneapolis gave his name as James Buttolth, of Washington, police said. Washington police said the case had been turned over to the Department of Justice for prosecution under the Dyer act.

Three Hurt in Arkansas Tornado.

El Dorado, Ark., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Following almost the same path as the storm which wrecked the town in 1927, a tornado struck near Strong, Ark., early today, causing consierable property damage and injuring three persons slightly.

Sydney B. Wight Dies.

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Sydney B. Wight, special representative of the President of the New York Central lines, died today, aged 75.

Mrs. Gann Makes Plea For Hoover's Reelection

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann, sister of Vice President Charles Curtis, today called upon Ohio Republicans to return President Hoover to the White House in 1932.

Mrs. Gann, speaking at a luncheon given in her honor by the Women's Republican Club of Ohio, lauded the work of President Hoover, claiming he was the only man who as yet had offered suggestions which would, if carried out, "help business, alleviate depression, lighten taxes and tend to restore peace and political stability in every country of the world."

Senator Smoot Seeks Method to Aid Silver

(Associated Press.)

Reiterating that an international silver question is "out of the question," Senator Smoot said yesterday other relief plans were under discussion. "Everything will be done to assist silver that is humanly possible," he said. "I still hope something will be worked out." Mr. Smoot added that though he had never suggested bimetallism, he hoped silver could be made a part of the world's monetary system.

Will Rogers Is on Way To Japan to Cover War

Portland, Oreg., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Will Rogers, who described himself as "more of a danged tourist than anything else," left today for Seattle, en route to Japan. The humorist hopes to reach Manchuria before the Sino-Japanese difficulty is settled, he said, that he may become a war correspondent. Rogers will sail from Seattle tomorrow.

"Japan is going to hear the awfullest compliments, as I hear they don't stand for any wisecracks," he continued, "also, I don't speak their language and am having lots of trouble with my own."

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
The Christmas Store

Add a

Metal Blouse

for a total of afternoon chic

For luncheon and afternoon, wear one of these metal blouses with a handsome suit or skirt. Distinctive styles of distinctive cloths—those sheer, crushable metal cloths with the dull gleam of rich gold and silver threads.

$13.75

For those who prefer a satin blouse we offer a collection of smart styles of which this one is typical with its chic shortness, its draped neckline, and dull Persian gold color.

$10.75

BLOUSES, THIRD FLOOR

For the Sunday Lunch at the Country Club

Smart women who spend much time in the country—either playing golf, lunching at the club or actually living in the country—make much of the distinctive chic that country clothes afford. Women of fashion like the smart, straight-forward cut and style of these sports fashions, with a definite look of the country. Chanel inspires such fashions as this model with daring stripes—made for the woman of great chic.

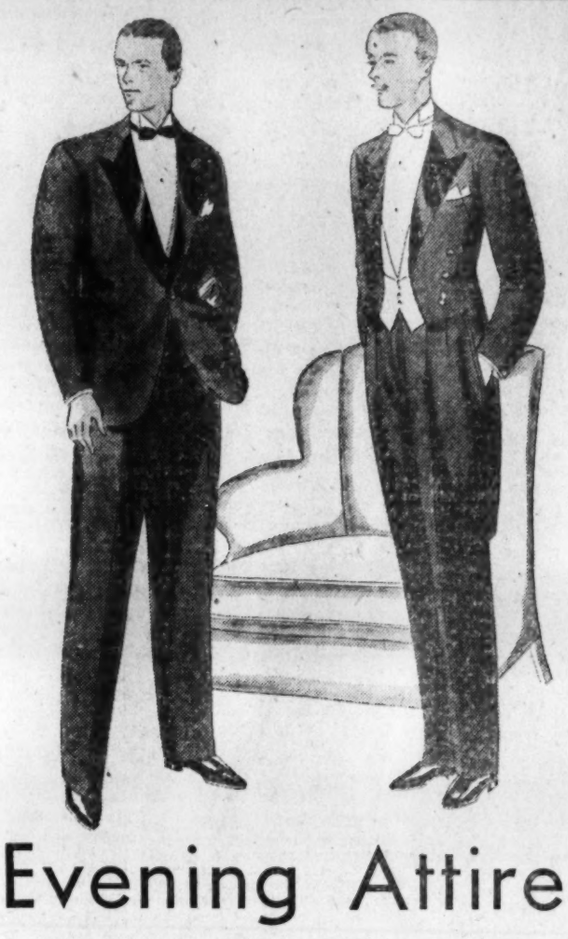
$35

Others, $29.50 to $59.50

SPORTSWEAR
THIRD FLOOR

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
The Christmas Store

Uncle Sam Says Buy Now—Mail Early



Evening Attire

of Distinctive Character for Holiday Social Affairs

Every well-dressed man in this "on-the-go" world needs evening clothes. He owes it to his wardrobe—to his hosts—to himself—to own evening clothes that are traditionally correct. While convention does not permit many varieties in clothes of this character, there are different types, and differences in tailoring. Here you will find evening attire of a smartness and distinction that can only be achieved by expert tailoring and irreproachably correct designing.

The Tailcoat for formal wear
$60

The Tailcoat is the most correct and formal type of evening dress. Coat and trousers, hand-tailored from imported black unfinished worsted, are perfectly finished to the smallest detail. Others, $45.
Imported White Pique and Madras Vests, $10. Others, $8.50.

The Tuxedo
for younger men
$31.50

These low-priced tuxedos meet the requirements of best-dressed young men, for comfort and enduring good looks. Excellent quality black worsted, half lined with silk, and with charvet silk lapel facing. Others, $45 and $65.
Black Brocaded Vests, $6. Others, $8.50 and $10.

GENUINE FRENCH SEDAN MONTAGNAC OVERCOATS—the correct overcoat for any formal occasion—are lined with fine Skinner's satin, and finished with cord edge..... $100

White Gloves . . . of close-fitting, soft kid . . . with wrist button..... $3

Black Silk Hats . . . the correct block..... $12

Silk Dress Scarfs . . . with silk fringe ends..... $10

Pique Dress Shirts . . . two Stud style . . . with starched single cuffs, and plain or pique bosoms... $3.50

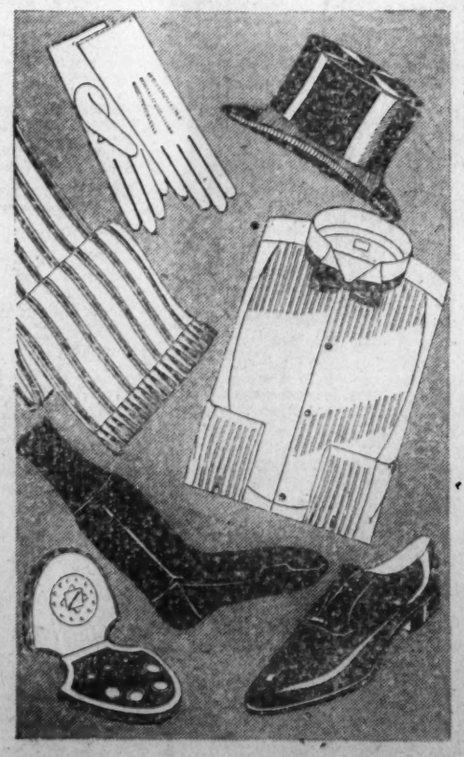
Black Silk Ties . . . for tuxedo wear . . . always worn outside the collar points..... $1.50

The Haig Collar . . . cut with wide opening at the front..... 35c

Black Silk Socks . . . with black or white clocks, $1.50

Studs . . . smoked or white pearl or black or white enamel..... $4.50

Dress Oxfords . . . black patent leather or dull finish calf . . . plain toes.. $8



THE MEN'S STORE
SECOND FLOOR

Woodward & Lothrop

Candles

For Your Holiday Entertaining

Nothing is more in keeping with the spirit of holiday festivities than the use of candle light. For formal and informal dining, buffet suppers, receptions, teas, and every form of entertaining, candle light is used correctly . . . and Waxels are the smart hostesses' first choice. A smooth, satiny finish, even burning, no smoking, and an improved lighting are a few of the excellent reasons Waxels are preferred. Here in these two distinctive shapes and a wide range of colors.

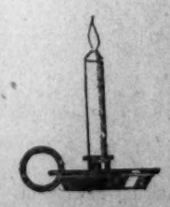
Princess Waxels

Size	Number	Price
24-inch	4	90c
18-inch	4	75c

Vassar Waxels

Size	Number	Price
24-inch	2	80c
16-inch	4	$1
12-inch	4	80c
10-inch	6	80c

CANDLES
SEVENTH FLOOR



POST WANT ADS PAY

SOCIETY

Secretary and Mrs. Adams Entertain at Dinner for Navy Chiefs; Luncheon for Miss Gall on December 1.

THE Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Charles Francis Adams entertained at dinner last evening at their residence in R street. They had as their guests, the Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Ernest Lee Jahncke; the Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral William V. Pratt, and Mrs. Pratt; the Maj. Gen. Commandant of the Marine Corps and Mrs. Ben H. Fuller; Rear Admiral and Mrs. John V. Chase, Rear Admiral and Mrs. William A. Moffett, Rear Admiral and Mrs. David Kindleberger, Rear Admiral Joseph Cheatham, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Thomas T. Craven, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Orin G. Murfin; Rear Admiral and Mrs. Walter R. Gherardi and Miss Nannie Macomb.
sorr-

The French Ambassador and Mme. Claudel will entertain at a luncheon on Tuesday, December 1, for Miss Yvonne Gall, who will be one of the artists at Mrs. Townsend's first morning musicale, December 2, at the Mayflower. Miss Gall formerly sang with the Paris Grand Opera and the Opera Comique. The other artist on the program will be Mr. Edward Johnsen of the Metropolitan Opera. Mr. Johnson is a Canadian who recently donated a large fund to his native town, Guelph, Ontario, for the musical education of the children of that town.

Additional boxholders for Mrs. Townsend's musicales are Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, wife of the Secretary of War; Mrs. William DeWitt Mitchell, wife of the Attorney General; Mrs. Horace Washington and Mrs. John Breckinridge.

Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Henry D. Todd, jr., and their daughter, Miss Harriet Todd, have taken an apartment at the Woodley, 1851 Columbia road, for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls At Republican Meeting.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Mr. David Sinton Ingalls, who has been in Ohio for some days, was joined in Columbus yesterday by Mrs. Ingalls to attend the meeting of the Republican Women of Ohio, at which Mrs. Gann, sister of Vice President Curtis, and Mr. Ingalls will both be speakers. Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls will spend the week-end in their home at Cleveland and return here Monday. They will leave here on Wednesday for New York to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Ingalls' mother, Mrs. W. L. Harkness, at Glen Cove, Long Island.

The First Secretary of the Egyptian Legation left yesterday with Col. Robert M. Guggenheim to motor to Cuirituck County, N. C., to spend a week hunting.

The commandant and officers of the U. S. navy yard and naval station at Washington have cards out for their series of informal dances, the first one last night, the others, also Friday nights, December 4, 29, February 5 and April 1, in the sail loft at the navy yard. Dancing begins at 9:30.

Among those entertaining at dinners last night preceding the dance were Commander and Mrs. Olaf Hustvedt, Commander and Mrs. Richard Field, Capt. and Mrs. Neal Farwell, Commander and Mrs. F. B. Stevenson, Capt. and Mrs. William A. Anquin, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Parsons, Lieut. A. W. Barnes and Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. William Granat.

Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson was among those who entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Carlton.

Miss Norwell Munford and Mlle. Alice Gade, her house guest, will go to Annapolis Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with the former's brother-in-law and sister, Commander and Mrs. Augustin Toutant Beauregard.

Miss Munford entertained at dinner at the Chevy Chase Club Thursday evening for her guest, who will return to her home in Paris in a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sheridan, of Washington, have returned to Paris from Switzerland, where they made a series of visits, and are at the Continental.

Mrs. H. Herbert Smith entertained at luncheon at the Kenwood Country Club when her guests were Mrs. Taylor Chewning, Mrs. Edward Helmuth, Mrs. Joseph Harris, Mrs. Ellsworth Gilbert, Mrs. MacLeod Maurice, Mrs. Paul Cromelin and Mrs. George O. Bass.

Mrs. Toussaint Du Bois will be obliged to postpone her tea and wild turkey hunt for the Woman's National Press Club and their guests, which she was to give tomorrow at her home, 4916 Forty-fourth street, because of the illness of her young daughter, Toussaint Adelia. She plans to give the party early in December.

Miss Frances Mathews Bows to Society.

Mrs. Jerry A. Mathews introduced her daughter, Miss Frances Mathews, to society at a tea in their home on Macomb street yesterday. Assisting Mrs. Mathews were her aunt, Mrs. James E. Watson, wife of the senator from Indiana; her niece, Mrs. Evelyn Watson; Mrs. Mathews' mother, Mrs. W. W. Husband; Mrs. Richard Elliott, of Indiana; Mrs. Albert Vestal, of Indiana; Mrs. George C. Thorpe, Mrs. John Mock, Mrs. C. L. Watson and Mrs. Maurice Browder.

Receiving with Miss Mathews were Miss Jane Thorpe, Miss Charlotte Mayo, Miss Mary Preston Gibson, Miss Isabel Perry, Miss Lucille Elliott, Miss Olga Craven, Miss Helen Peeples, Miss Evelyn Walker and Miss Katharyn Watson. Miss Mathews wore a period gown of white net, trimmed with ruchings of the net and a gold metal cloth jacket. She carried yellow tea roses. Mrs. Mathews' gown was black lace and she wore a corsage of gardenias.

Mr. David Vinson Auld entertained at his bachelor dinner in the Empire room at the Shoreham last night. Mr. Auld and Miss Saranell Wilson, daughter of Representative and Mrs. Riley Joseph Wilson, from Louisiana, will be married this evening at the home of the bride, 3109 Garfield street.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Meyer will entertain at dinner on Friday evening, December 18, at their home on Crescent place.

Mr. and Mrs. Manville Kendrick have leased an apartment at the St. Nicholas for December, after which they will return to their home in Sheridan, Wyo. Their new son will be named John B. Kendrick for his grandfather, Senator Kendrick, of Wyoming.

A swimming party at the Shoreham Pool was given Thursday by Mrs. Helen Ray Hagner. Among the girls who enjoyed the swim were Miss Annie Wyant, Miss Jane Thorpe, Miss Marbury Beall, Miss Pansy Bloomer, Miss Fanella Castaneco, Miss Olga Craven, Miss Dorothy Gould Fowler, Miss Marion Dunlop, Miss Mary Preston Gibson, Miss Frances Mathews, Miss Rose Page, Miss Eleanor Peirce, Miss Isabel Perry, Miss Jeanne Richards, Miss Mary Stuart, Miss Sidney Thompson, Miss Atlee Wayne Wirgman, Miss Mary Stuart Birdsall, Miss Mary Ingraham Henry and Miss Betty Richards. After the swim tea was served in the patio of the pool.

Mr. and Mrs. John Law Harris entertained a party of young people at the supper dance at the Club Chanteler last evening.

Mrs. Lucy Wilder Morris will entertain at a tea tomorrow afternoon.

Girl Scouts Committee Meeting in New York.

Mrs. Stuart McGuire, of Richmond, Va., chairman of Region III, Girl Scouts, Inc., with her committee is meeting in the National Girl Scouts "Little House," 1750 New York avenue today.

Region III covers Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Among other business that is being taken up is the planning of the regional conference to be held in Baltimore in May, and to discuss the leaders training camps for next year.

Mrs. J. S. Hoy was hostess to a party of five at luncheon yesterday at the Carlton.

A beautifully appointed lingerie shower was given by Mrs. Clarence E. Purcell at her home, 5308 Thirteenth street northwest, last evening in compliment to Mrs. Mary Alene Graham, of Chevy Chase, who is to be married on November 25 to Mr. James B. Stouffer, also of Washington, and a brother of the hostess.

The colors of the autumn season were combined with the bridal decorations and yellow and white roses and chrysanthemums with autumn leaves gave the dining room a festive appearance, the same color scheme being carreid out in the dainty buffet lunch served by the hostess. Miniature heart-shaped wedding cakes were used as favors.

The bride-to-be is the young daughter of Mrs. Albert Kahlert, 3612 Albermarle street, Chevy Chase, D. C. Guests were present from Washington, California and Alexandria and were over 50 in number.

Lieut. and Mrs. Roy W. Byrnes entertained at the dinner dance at the Shoreham last night. Their guests were Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Earl C. Carr, Maj. and Mrs. Leland S. Hobbs, Capt. and Mrs. Berrell, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lester Baker, Mrs. W. Leas, Miss Alice Franklin and Mr. Gray.

Mrs. Mathilde M. Leisenring and Mr. Garnet Jex will be the joint hosts at the Arts Club tea tomorrow afternoon, when their paintings will open the club's exhibition for the next fortnight.

Mrs. Leisenring, who is a member of the Society of Washington Artists, and whose work is nationally known, will place on view drawings and water colors. Oil paintings will represent Mr. Jex, who has recently been honored by receiving the first degree of doctor of fine arts from George Washington University.

Mr. Douglas Jenkins, American Consul General at Hongkong, and Mrs. Jenkins arrived on the President Harding yesterday. They will spend two months in the United States before returning to China.

One of the gayest dances of the season will be that of the Tau Beta Phi Sorority which will be held in the grand ballroom of the Willard tonight.

Mrs. Amee-Shepard, of 740 Newton place, Washington, with her small son and daughter, arrived in Baltimore yesterday with other passengers from Europe. Mrs. Shepard has been on a three months' visit to her parents in Paris.

Card Party to Help Buy Houdon Replica.

The project for which the benefit card party of the Columbian Women this afternoon has been arranged is a particularly appealing one at this time. Proceeds are to be used to assist the George Washington University in the purchase of a replica of the Houdon statue of George Washington, the original of which is in the statehouse at Richmond.

Miss Janet McWilliam is chairman of arrangements. She has been assisted by Mrs. Russell McNitt, Miss Elizabeth Peet, Mrs. Virgil B. Jackson, Mrs. Edward Eckhart, Miss Louise Moore, and Mrs. Edwin Behrend. The party will be given at the Kennedy-Warren.

Guests will be received by Mrs. William J. Mallory, president of Columbian Women, assisted by members of the reception commitee, including Mrs. Earl W. Barnhart, chairman; Mrs. D. K. Shute, Mrs. Howard Lincoln Hodkins, Mrs. John Paul Earnest, Miss Elizabeth Peet, Miss Elizabeth Cullen, Miss Harriet Garrels and Miss Margaret Pepper.

Bishop and Mrs. Philip M. Rhinelander have received news of the birth of a grandson at Oxford, England, where their son, Frederic, and his wife, who was Constance Templeton, of Hinsdale, Ill., are living this winter, in order that Mr. Rhinelander may finish his post-graduate course of study. The young people expect to return to this country next summer.

In Capital From Wyoming

Clinedinst.

MRS. MANVILLE KENDRICK, of Sheridan, Wyo., who has been visiting her parents, Surgeon General and Mrs. Hugh S. Cumming, will take possession of an apartment at the St. Nicholas for December.

Midnight Shows Will Open Tonight

Second Series of Pictures for Benefit of Needy to Be Shown.

Tonight at 11:15 o'clock the second series of special midnight shows in motion picture theaters in the city will take place in the Rialto, RKO-Keith's, Metropolitan and Columbia Theaters.

Receipts from these special performances will be added to those already received through a series of special showings in all of the theaters in the city in the past week. The entire fund will be turned over to President Hoover's unemployment relief fund. The attraction at Warner's Metropolitan Theater will be "Sherlock Holmes' Fatal Hour."

At RKO-Keith's Seth Parker will be the star in the radio picture, "Way Back Home." The Columbia Theater will offer Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in "The Guardsman." The Rialto will present Universal's production of "Frankenstein." Tickets are now on sale at each of the abovementioned theaters and at the local office of the unemployment relief fund.

Former Representative to Speak.

Stuart F. Reed, former representative from West Virginia, will be the speaker tomorrow night at 7:45 o'clock in the chapel of the Central Union Mission, at 613 C street northwest. Special music will be furnished by Mrs. Roy W. Prince.

Northeast Group Asks Playground

Delegation of 80 Members Calls on Director of Public Parks.

Needs of Northeast Washington for a centrally located playground yesterday were brought to the attention of Col. U. S. Grant 3d by a delegation of 80 members of the Northeast playground committee, representing a score of civic organizations in the community, which called at his office.

Col. Grant listened to spokesmen for the committee and advised its members that their petition would receive every consideration. He asked the group to appoint a committee of three to confer with him on the matter.

In the delegation were Miss Sybil Baker, supervisor of municipal playgrounds; A. H. Gregory, president of the Staunton Park Citizens Association; Claude Schwartz, principal of Stuart Junior High School; President Tucker, of the Northeast Citizens Association, and Mrs. Victor Gauzza, president of the Stuart Home and School Association. The group will meet next week to select the committee of three.

Heart Song Service Popular in Petworth

One of the most familiar of the old hymns, "Nearer My God to Thee," will be featured in the special service at Petworth Methodist Church tomorrow evening. It will be given a dramatic presentation, with pantomime and special lighting effects, to be followed by a brief sermon by the minister, the Rev. Robert Louis Wood.

This special "heart warming song service," as it is called, is said to be attracting visitors from every part of the city, and last Sunday evening it filled the church to the doors.

St. Cecelia Club Organized.

The St. Cecelia Club, a society devoted to the drama, pageantry and music, has been organized, under the direction of Percy Van Ness, among the boys and girls of St. Margaret's Episcopal Parish and will function in cooperation with the Sunday school.

Home Prize Won By Unionville Girl

4-H Club Member Gets $25 for Unique Idea of Decoration.

Special to The Washington Post.

Orange, Va., Nov. 20.—Miss Mary C. Stewart, 4-H Club girl, of Unionville, is the winner of the second prize in the personal achievement division of the American Farm Bureau Federation's nation-wide farm home improvement contest, according to announcement by R. E. Gray, director of the home modernization department.

More than 14,000 persons, representing every section of the country, competed. Miss Stewart will receive a prize of $25 from the federation.

While attending the summer short course in 1930 Miss Stewart conceived the idea of furnishing her room with articles made from feed sacks and on her return to her home she began making draperies, bed coverings, pillows and scarfs. The entire cost of her furnishings was 23 cents, which was spent for dye in carrying out a color scheme of pink and ivory.

Today's Happenings

Dinner and card party, Phi Delta Sigma Sorority, Mayflower Hotel, 7:30 p. m.

Dance—"C" Club of Columbus University, Mayflower Hotel, 9 p. m.

Dinner—Arlington Hall School, Mayflower Hotel, 7 p. m.

Meeting—P. E. O., Kennesaw Apartments, Sixteenth and Irving streets northwest, 8 p. m.

Lecture—"The Epics," by Sir Edward Denison Ross, Freer Art Gallery, 4:45 p. m.

Dinner—Aztec Club, Willard Hotel, 8 p. m.

Dance—Tau Beta Phi Sorority, Willard Hotel, 10 p. m.

Joint dinner—Alumni of California and Stanford Universities, 8 p. m.

Benefit—Pierce Hall Players, for the Washington League for the Hard of Hearing, Arts Club, 8 p. m.

Meeting—Political Study Club, Washington Club, 2:30 p. m.

Dance—Lambda Chi Sorority, Carlton Hotel, 10 p. m.

Address—Matthews Dawson, League for the Larger Life, 1400 New Hampshire avenue northwest, 8:15 p. m.

District Educators to Lunch.

The District Education Association will hold a luncheon at the Roosevelt Hotel at 12:30 o'clock today with Dr. J. Orin Powers, presiding. Guest speakers will be the delegates to the Los Angeles Convention.

Jews to Observe K'Vuras Shermos

Ancient Ritual Will Be Held by Adas Israel Congregation.

The ancient ritual of K'vuras Shermos, at which old sacred books and religious articles will be buried, will be conducted by the Adas Israel Congregation at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for the first time in the 63 years existence of the synagogue.

The ceremony will begin at the synagogue where Cantor L. Novick will render the Yizker prayers and Rabbi Metz will speak on the significance of the occasion. From the synagogue the sacred books and parchments will be taken to Adas Israel Cemetery where, placed in earthen vessels, they will be lowered in a deep grave to the accompaniment of softly chanted psalms and the recitation of the liturgy of the traditional funeral service.

The event is intended to bring back the memory of the history of the Jewish pioneers of the District and their struggle for the building up of the religious life of the Jewish community which centered largely around the Adas Israel Congregation, the oldest synagogue in Washington. Many of the sacred books bear the names of the early settlers.

The ceremony will be conducted under the auspices of the Hevrah Kadisha of the Adas Israel Congregation. Nathan Plotnick has been invited to act as chairman of the arrangement committee which consists of Solomon Metz, Cantor Novick, Oliver Atlas, the Rev. Moses Becker, May Cayton, Jacob Flax, Abraham Mendelson, Hermon Robbin, Meyer Rosenberg, Herman Schrot, William Weinberg, Max Wakoff and Max Zweig.

Ambassador to Cuba Gives Views to Hoover

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover was given some insight into political affairs in Cuba yesterday by Harry F. Guggenheim, American Ambassador to the Island Republic, who visited the White House to pay his farewell respects before returning to Havana.

Mr. Guggenheim said he had not discussed any of the latest political happenings, since he had been in this country for some weeks, but had talked only of general affairs in Cuba.

Lenox

1/3 REDUCTION

only ten more days to avail yourself of this opportunity . . . . . .

ORDERS delivered in two weeks . . . samples of these patterns on display for your selection . . . Trent . Greenwich . Tremont . Peking . Festival . Maryland . Coronado . Orchard . Florida . Pasadena.

OUR STOCK PATTERNS
(Permanently Reduced)
Autumn :: Colonial :: Mandarin
M 8 :: J 19 K :: M 139 :: R 4 :: J 19

An Opportunity to Buy for Christmas

DULIN & MARTIN
Connecticut Ave. and L
PARKING SERVICE—Connecticut Avenue Entrance.

PURPLE IRIS TEA HOUSE
Rittenhouse at 32nd
Luncheons—Teas Dinners
Cleveland 1135

. . . At Our New Shop—
$15 PERMANENT WAVES
$6.50

The latest Croquingnole Styles with Marcel Top and Ringlet Ends—
Wall Plate Facials. Steamer Treatment for Hair and Scalp Disorders.

50c Beauty Service

Come Early and Save 15% off on all work done between 8:30 and 10 a. m.

METROPOLITAN BEAUTY SHOP
527 10th St. N.W. NAtional 9281

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
The Christmas Store

Make Yourself Healthy= with The Vig-Row
$11.85

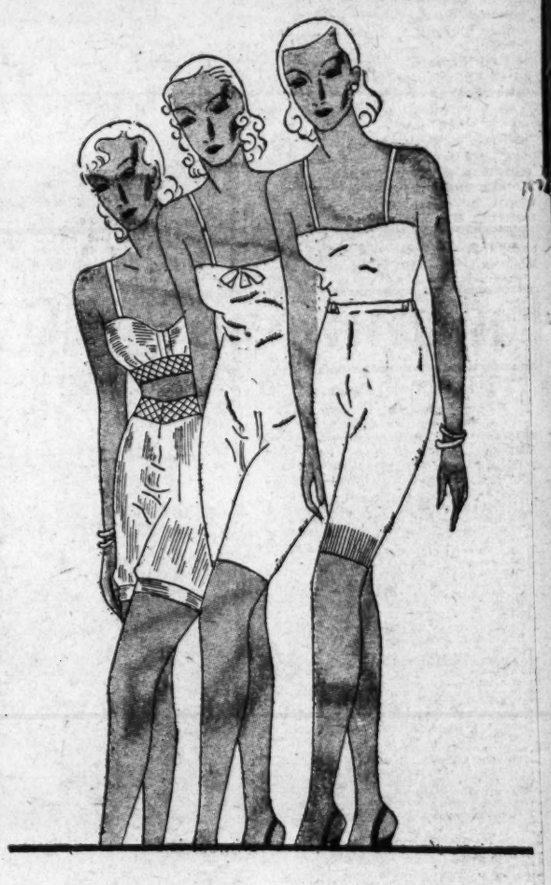
Now—at this very low price for such a machine—we offer The Vig-Row Rowing Machine, offering all the health and body building exercises of a higher priced machine. A few minutes a day using this splendid exerciser will keep you fit and let you enjoy every minute of a healthful life.

See it Demonstrated Here

SPORTING GOODS, FOURTH FLOOR

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
The Christmas Store

Uncle Sam Says Buy Now—Mail Early



New Ways of Being Smart Underneath

Vanity Fair introduces "Cee Wee"—clever new bemberg underthings with crocheted elastic bands.

Panties, $1.75 and $2
Bandeaux, $1

Kayser's new way to keep warm and smart is the "Bunny Snug"—of the softest angora and silk—so light they feel like nothing at all.

Combinations, $6.95
Tights, $5.50

KNIT UNDERWEAR, THIRD FLOOR

POST CLASSIFIED ADS
Bring
"Today's Results Today"

When COLDS begin

Take the safe, proven remedy. You can soothe the discomforts of colds in various ways, but the only sensible thing to do is to drive the infection out of the system—and quickly.

Bromo Quinine treats the cause—not merely the effect.

Take a few tablets when sneezing or headaches begin.

FOREVER FRESH IN CELLOPHANE

LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE
LOOK FOR THIS SIGNATURE E. W. Grove

No Better Dessert for Sunday or Thanksgiving than Stohlman's Inc.
Pure—Rich—Delicious
ICE CREAM
Many Delightful Flavors
$1.00 the quart
Individual Molds
Turkeys, Footballs, Pumpkins, etc.
$3.50 Dozen
Freshly Baked Crisp and Delicious Pumpkin and Mince Pies
Stohlman's Inc.
1254 Wisconsin Ave.
West 0063
Prompt Delivery

The Dodge Hotel
N. Capitol and E Sts.
Let Us Arrange Now for Your
Thanksgiving Dinner
Hours: 12 to 8 P. M.
Frances Gutelius Trio
1 to 3—6 to 8
Watch for Our Menu!
TWO DOLLARS
"No Tipping"
National 5460
AMPLE PARKING SPACE

Rose Sale
1 Doz. Beautiful Columbia Roses $1
2 Doz. Roses, $1.50
Blackistone
National 4905
1407 H Street
3 Doors West of 14th St.

DIAL FLASHES

By ROBERT D. HEINL

COMING to the classical period in his six-concert survey of the history of music, Leopold Stokowski will conduct the Philadelphia Orchestra in a program of Gluck, Haydn, Mozart and Beethoven in the second broadcast this season tonight.

In the first of these full-length concerts direct from the Philadelphia Academy of Music, Stokowski dealt with a group of composers which he designated "preclassical." Tonight's concert will present representative works by the first great German operatist; the father of the symphony, and the two composers whose names stand out as having developed the classical forms to the highest pitch of perfection.

Following is the program in detail:

Overture to "Alceste," Gluck (1714-87).

Symphony No. 13, in G, Haydn (1732-1809)—Adagio, Largo, Menuetto, Allegro con Spirito.

Concerto for Harp and Flute, Mozart (1756-91).

Overture to "Don Giovanni," Mozart.

Symphony No. 5, in C Minor, Beethoven (1770-1827)—Allegro con Brio, Andante con Moto, Allegro Scherzo and Allegro Presto.

Station WMAL will be a part of the Columbia Broadcasting System for this program, 8:15 to 10 p. m.

Second in musical importance today is the concert by the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestrar, which Ernest Schelling will conduct when he gives the first in a series designed for young people (WMAL, 11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.). How the musical form known as the overture came into being will be explained—with such overtures as those to "Figaro," "Fidelio," "Rosamunde," "Tannhauser" and "1812," as examples.

"WHATEVER may be the shortcomings of other radio officials," a New York critic remarked, "the right man in the right place is surely J. de Jara Almonte, night manager of the NBC Studios, in New York City. Mr. Almonte appears to be equal to any occasion and always a gentleman in the true sense of the word."

The battles of great football teams will be broadcast this afternoon. Harvard, only unbeaten Eastern team, will meet Yale in Soldiers' Field, Cambridge, where Bill Munday will describe the proceedings (WRC, 1:45 p. m.).

Notre Dame, undefeated since 1928, will clash with Southern California, the last team to which it bowed, at 2:15 o'clock. Ted Husing will describe the battle over WMAL, and Graham McNamee will do the honors for NBC over WJZ network.

NOWHERE is the universal appeals of radio disclosed more convincingly than it is in the various types of people it attracts to the studios.

Lanny Ross, tenor, is one of the many radio performers, who were schooled for different careers. Although both of his parents were vaudeville singers and Lanny inherited his voice, in his youth he had no ambition to become a professional entertainer.

As a graduate of Yale, he could have chosen from a wide range of business opportunities. He was a star track performer, and might have become a coach or director of some athletic club. He paints well, and he might have elected to develop this talent. His tenor voice, however, soon made him a member of the glee club and later he became its leader. Ross sang on NBC programs while a senior at Yale as a member of the Jeddo Highlanders. He is now on the Maxwell House program each Thursday night and frequently appears on other hours.

Rudolf Schramm will start the Washington Gas Light program off right tonight by opening with "The Washington Post March." Selections from "Firefly," a Cuban dance, and "Quand L'Amour Meurt" are included.

The National Advisory Council on Radio in Education will present William F. Gephart, talking about "Business Depressions and Business Profits" and Arnold Gesell, speaking on "The Growth of the Infant Mind" (WRC, 8:30 p. m.).

For the fifteen-minute program in which Marguerite Cromwell sings tonight, she has chosen "Someday I'll Find You," "To Be Worthy of You" and "Blue Skies." Harold Veo's Orchestra will accompany her.

Another news scribbler will become audible this morning when Austin T. Rogers, of the editorial staff of The Washington Post, confronts the mike interviewing Mrs. E. R. Grant for the first of a series of Saturday morning broadcasts in behalf of the 1931 Christmas seal campaign of the Washington Tuberculosis Association.

PAUL ALTHOUSE, tenor, and Ive Pacetti, soprano, making her radio debut, will be heard in two of the outstanding arias from Verdi's "Aida" during the Chicago Civic Opera broadcast tonight (WJZ network, 9 p. m.) • • • Ed J. Irvine will dedicate a poem to "Jack" Gray, the aviatrix, in his "Miscellaneous Moods" program tonight (WOL, 8 p. m.) • • • Russ Columbo will go commercial on December 7. He has been signed for WEAF network, 5:45 p. m., Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays, WJZ, 10 p. m., alternate days • • • Virginia Gardiner, dramatic actress, has rejected an offer to appear in a George Gershwin musical satire. She prefers radio • • • Musicians around the NBC New York studios, while away idle minutes by trying to imitate the imitations of "Hack" Wilson, mimicking engineer. • • • A friend of Amos 'n' Andy says "The most interesting thing about them is that they are funny to themselves. Often when Amos chuckles on the air it is because of some wisecrack Andy has made just before they entered the studio." • • • Andy Sannella's Orchestra will alternate with Henry Busse's Orchestra (WRC, 10 p. m.) tonight.

The plan under which all Government employes in the District of Columbia will be requested to help the Community Chest will be discussed by Thomas E. Campbell, president of the United States Civil Service Commission, and chairman of the President's committee for assisting in the emergency unemployment in the District (WRC, 6:45 p. m.).

The plans of Columbia for erection of a "booster" station here were discouraged yesterday when the Federal Radio Commission, by a 3-to-2 vote, denied the application. WMAL will continue as the Columbia outlet for the present, thereby preventing NBC's acquisition of WMAL as an outlet of WJZ programs.

HERE'S one for Cheerio. Owners of a new gift shop in Washington offered a prize for the best name. There were numerous contestants, but the award was won by Miss Bertha J. Howard, of 1026 Fifteenth street, who suggested naming it "The Cheerio Shop."

RADIO PROGRAMS

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21.

WRC—National Broadcasting Co. (316 Meters, 950 Kilocycles.)

8:45 a. m.—Health Exercises.
9:00 a. m.—Gene and Glenn.
9:15 a. m.—Morning Devotions.
9:30 a. m.—Cheerio.
9:00 a. m.—Le Trio Charmant.
9:15 a. m.—Tom Waring's Troubadours.
9:45 a. m.—A. & P. Food Program.
10:00 a. m.—Mrs. Blake's Radio Column.
10:15 a. m.—Breen and De Rose.
10:30 a. m.—Hawaiian Serenaders.
11:00 a. m.—Two Seats in the Balcony.
11:30 a. m.—Keys of Happiness.
12:00 (noon)—Black and Gold Orchestra.
12:30 p. m.—National Farm and Home Hour.
1:30 p. m.—Palais d'Or Orchestra.
1:45 p. m.—Yale-Harvard Football Game. Broadcast from Soldiers' Field, Cambridge.
4:30 p. m.—Spitalny's Tea Dansante.
5:00 p. m.—Lady Next Door.
5:30 p. m.—Cameo Trio.
5:45 p. m.—N. B. C. Program.
6:01 p. m.—Empire Room Orchestra.
6:15 p. m.—Washington Gas Light Co. Orchestra, Rudolph Schramm, conducting.
6:45 p. m.—"Government Employes' Contribution to Unemployment Relief," by Thomas E. Campbell, President, United States Civil Service Commission and Chairman, President's Committee for Assisting in the Emergency Resulting from Unemployment in the District of Columbia.
6:55 p. m.—Football Scores.
7:00 p. m.—Amos 'n' Andy.
7:15 p. m.—Jesters.
7:30 p. m.—Prince Albert Quarter-Hour.
7:45 p. m.—Wilkins Coffee Quarter-Hour.

WILKINS COFFEE
QUARTER-HOUR
FEATURING
MARGUERITE CROMWELL
And the Wilkins Coffee Orchestra
Directed by Harold Veo.
-just wonderful!

8:00 p. m.—Civic Concert Program.
8:30 p. m.—Program Auspices National Advisory Council on Radio in Education. Speakers, William F. Gephart and Arnold Gesell.
9:00 p. m.—Goodyear Program. Arthur Pryor and His Orchestra, with Male Quartet.
9:30 p. m.—Club Valspar.
10:00 p. m.—Andy Sanella's Orchestra.
11:00 p. m.—Last-Minute News.
11:02 p. m.—Marion Harris, crooner.
11:16 p. m.—Jesse Crawford.
11:30 p. m.—Coon-Sanders Orchestra.
12:00 (midnight)—Rudy Vallee Orchestra.
12:30-1:00 a. m.—Vincent Lopez Orchestra.

WMAL—Columbia Broadcasting System. (475.9 Meters, 630 Kilocycles.)

8:00 a. m.—Morning Devotions.
8:15 a. m.—Something for Every One.
9:00 a. m.—Commuters.
9:30 a. m.—Tony's Scrap Book.
9:45 a. m.—Washington's 1932 Plan for Tubercular Children.
9:55 a. m.—Morning Minstrels.
10:00 a. m.—Jewish Art Program.
10:30 a. m.—Adventures of Helen and Mary.
11:00 a. m.—New York Philharmonic Symphony Children and Young People's Concerts, Ernest Schelling, conductor.
12:30 p. m.—Don Bigelow Orchestra.
12:45 p. m.—Dr. E. Leroy Mercer, Dean of Physical Education, and Elmer D. Mitchell.
1:00 p. m.—Taft Orchestra.
1:30 p. m.—Ritz Carlton Orchestra.
2:00 p. m.—Songs of Southern California and Notre Dame.
2:15 p. m.—Southern California-Notre Dame Football Game.
5:30 p. m.—Herr Louie.
5:46 p. m.—News Flashes.
6:02 p. m.—Sunday School Lesson, "Paul in Rome."
6:15 p. m.—Dave Abrams' Orchestra.
6:30 p. m.—Civic Talk.
6:50 p. m.—Lelia Endicott, blues singer.
7:00 p. m.—"The Political Situation in Washington Tonight," by Frederic William Wile.
7:15 p. m.—Bing Crosby.
7:30 p. m.—Chevrolet Musical Chronicles by Frank Black.
8:00 p. m.—Mills Brothers.
8:15 p. m.—Leopold Stokowski and Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.
10:00 p. m.—Hank Simmons' Show Boat.
11:00 p. m.—Wardman Park Orchestra.
11:30 p. m.—Leon Belasco Orchestra.
11:45 p. m.—Nocturne, Ann Leaf.

WOL—American Broadcasting Co. (229 Meters, 1,310 Kilocycles.)

7:00 a. m.—Musical Clock.
8:00 a. m.—Birthdays.
8:05 a. m.—Musical Clock.
10:00 a. m.—Red Cross Speaker.
10:15 a. m.—Musical Interlude.
10:30 a. m.—Dr. Viola Russell Anderson.
10:45 a. m.—Requests.
11:15 a. m.—Walter Reed Requests.
11:45 a. m.—Luncheon Music.
12:15 p. m.—Alvin Thaden.
12:30 p. m.—Dance Music.
3:00 p. m.—Variety Hour.
4:00 p. m.—Dance Tunes.
4:45 p. m.—March Time.
5:00 p. m.—Old-Time Favorites.
5:15 p. m.—Melody Moments.
5:30 p. m.—Opportunities.
6:00 p. m.—Walter T. Holt Program.
6:15 p. m.—Nordica Mandolin and Guitar Orchestra.

NORDICA CLUBS
Station WOL
TONITE
6:00 to 6:45
Mandolin, Guitar and Banjo
ALL STRING MUSIC
Under Direction
WALTER T. HOLT
Studios 1801 Columbia Rd.

6:45 p. m.—Marvin Gardner, bass-baritone.
7:00 p. m.—Dinner Music.
7:15 p. m.—Red Cross Roll Call Speaker.
7:20 p. m.—Globe Trotter.
7:30 p. m.—Sterrie Wellman, marimba solos.
7:45 p. m.—Bringing Up Father.
8:00 p. m.—Miscellaneous Moods.
8:15 p. m.—Eddie Leger, banjo melodies.
8:30 p. m.—Southern Crooner and His Musical Saw.
8:45 p. m.—Bobby Bond, tenor.

WJSV—Independent Publishing Co. (205 Meters, 1,460 Kilocycles.)

9:00 a. m.—Treasure Chest.
10:00 a. m.—Hints to Housewives, Peggy Clarke.
10:15 a. m.—Organ Melodies.
11:00 a. m.—Sacred Hour.
11:30 a. m.—Gospel Choir.
12:00 (noon)—Luncheon Music.
12:30 p. m.—Venus Orchestra.
1:00 p. m.—Madrillon Orchestra.
1:30 p. m.—Dance Music.
2:00 p. m.—Shoreham Concert.
2:30 p. m.—Ballad Hour.
3:00 p. m.—Lillian Spriggs, blues singer.
3:30 p. m.—Dance Program.
4:00 p. m.—Children's Hour.
5:45 p. m.—Foot Warmers.
6:00 p. m.—Jimmy Nichols.
6:15 p. m.—Three Ambassadors.
6:45 p. m.—Mrs. Sandman.
7:00 p. m.—Earl Mentzer.
7:15 p. m.—Aboard With the Lockharts.
7:37 p. m.—Dorothy Reddish, lyric soprano.
8:00 p. m.—Ramblers.
8:45 p. m.—Roland Wheeler, tenor.
9:00 p. m.—Old Virginia Hoe Down.
10:00 p. m.—Edw. Taber.
10:15 p. m.—Don Thomas, barytone.
10:30 p. m.—Venus Orchestra.
11:00 p. m.—Shoreham Dance Orchestra.
11:30—Howard Theater Broadcast.

Philadelphia Orchestra Concert on Air Tonight.

11 a. m. (WMAL)—New York Philharmonic Series for Children.

6:15 p. m. (WRC)—Schramm's Gas Light Orchestra.

6:15 p. m. (WOL)—Nordica Mandolin and Guitar Orchestra.

7 p. m. (WMAL)—Frederic William Wile.

7:45 p. m. (WRC)—Wilkins Coffee Quarter Hour.

8:15 p. m. (WMAL)—Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, Leopold Stokowski.

8:30 p. m. (WRC)—National Advisory Council Radio in Education Series.

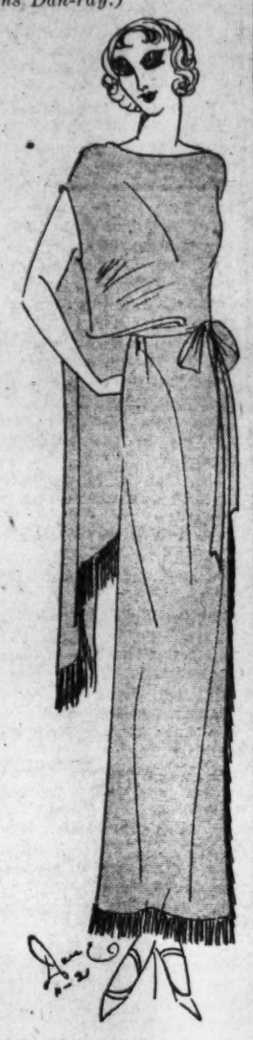
9 p. m. (WRC)—Arthur Pryor's Orchestra.

11:16 p. m. (WRC)—Jesse Crawford, organist.

11:30 p. m. (WJSV)—Howard Theater Program.

Dare Interprets the Mode

The loveliest negligee I've seen for many a moon is made without being cut at all! (Explains Dah-ray.)



New York, November 20.

NEGLIGEES are the right of every lovely lady. And they should be a habit with lovely ladies—not, of course, to the point of being worn all hours of the day, neither to the point of not being worn at all because you think you haven't time to indulge in anything so frivolous.

And then, if you think that you can't afford to wear negligees, or to buy them, rather, to wear—just look at today's illustration to see how wrong you are. For there is a graceful negligee that any one can make herself, even if she has never sewn a stitch! Because it is made all in one piece—Greek in inspiration if not in technique.

So-o-o-o, negligees in their time and place, and made your very own self, that's today's fashion hint!

• • • •

Of course, you can send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare department of The Post if you would like to have the illustrated leaflet which tells you how to make the negligee illustrated for you today. It takes 2¼ yards of material; there is hardly any cutting on it, and absolutely no fitting—just draping and finishing. It is one of those negligees that all of your friends will ask you if they can copy, one that you will always wear and never get tired of, and one that will make a lovely Christmas present. Well, as la chic secretaire says, all this doesn't sound half as interesting as it really is. So there is nothing to it but to send for a leaflet and see for yourself.

• • • •

What a whale of a difference 5 pounds make! Oh, you don't think 5 pounds are so very much. • • • Well, they are not so very much the way they sneak up on you, but they make such a difference in what you wear, such a difference in your appearance and such a difference in your morale.

So the modern woman never allows herself to get 5 pounds heavier and then 5 pounds heavier than that, but fights the first 5 pounds and thus keeps her girlish contours.

• • • •

Hints From a Happy Housewife.

Sister Dionne writes: "I just about cut relining the family coats in half. First of all, I discovered the lining of mine to be a thing of rags and tatters, and I was going to have mine alone relined when I had a happy thought—I examined the coats of the rest of La Famille and found them shocking, too. So-o-o-o, finding that pieces left from my lining could be used for large portions of L'le Lovebugs, and pieces from hers for the rest of the family's, I had four coats lined complete for the price of material enough for just two! I chose a rather neutral colored material, and then had the seams bound with braid in different colors—so we didn't look the least bit like a bargain shipment.

Au revoir!

(Copyright, 1931.)

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"SCORPIO"

IF November 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m., from 5 p. m. to 6:15 p. m. and from 10:30 p. m. to 11:45 p. m. The danger periods are from 8:50 a. m. to 10 a. m. and from 9 p. m. to 10 p. m.

The planetary aspects for November 21 will bring about a change of existing plans. A distinct improvement in your worldly standing or prestige is shown. All goes well in friendships and love affairs. The day will end with a general feeling of well being.

The child born on this November 21 will be active in body and fond of physical exercise and sports. It will have a kindly, good-humored disposition and will readily make friends. The planetary aspects at time of its birth decidedly favor mechanical ability, and success is promised in life in this direction.

You have very critical and discriminating tendencies, if born on a November 21. You have extravagant tastes and are only satisfied with the best of everything. Your ambitions will not remain mere dreams, for you are a worker, a scheme and a sacrifice. You are too ambitious to permit sentiment to play much part in your life, and you are rather ruthless when fighting for your own interests or for those who are dear to you. Your affections are centered upon your family and a very few friends; to the rest of the world, you are coldly indifferent. You often have to pay the price of being a poor mixer, for your unfriendly attitude often turns a would-be benefactor into an enemy.

Contentment will never be one of life's blessings to you. It is the fight of achieving, not the achieved, which makes the appeal. If the time ever comes when you cannot be in the thick of things, you will be unhappy and restless. You love power, you do not love things. You are fitted for occupations where good judgment is required, for your judgment is usually unbiased and carefully weighed. The legal profession would be a splendid field for you to enter.

Your paternal or maternal instincts are not pronounced, and children will not appeal to you until you have some of your own. As a parent, you will be domineering and protective, and you will try to keep your offspring tied to your apron strings.

Successful people born November 21:
Emperor Frederick of Germany.
Hetty Green, financier.
Pope Benedict XV.
William Henry Murray (Alfalfa Bill), governor.
Mary Johnston, novelist.

(Copyright, 1931.)

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

FIFTY YEARS AGO AND TODAY.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE runs a column devoted to the more or less distant past of the city. The items of information are taken from the files of the paper. One section of this column bears the heading, "50 Years Ago Today."

One item, which appeared October 18, is of interest in that it gives reason for Thanksgiving. The information contained in this item makes it possible to understand how much healthier we have become in fifty years, for what was said of Chicago holds true of people in all sections of the country.

The item said: "There were 240 deaths in Chicago last week, against 239 in the previous week. Of those who died, 101 were under 5 years of age. There were 15 deaths from diphtheria, 31 from typhoid fever, 17 from consumption, 7 from pneumonia, and 35 from smallpox."

This was not far from being a typical week, in a typical year, in a typical population in that period. In 1881 the estimated population of Chicago was 540,000, and the total number of deaths in the year was 14,101. The death rate was 26.11 per 1,000 population. The present population is over three million, the total number of deaths per year is around 35,000, and the annual death rate is less than eleven. The death rate is considerably less than one-half that of the earlier period.

There were 35 deaths from smallpox in the one week. Somewhere around fifteen years is now required to accumulate as many deaths from smallpox as that one week produced. There were 15 deaths from diphtheria in that one week. The total number for the year was 753; the rate was 13.43 per 100,000. In 1930 the total number of deaths from the disease in the city nearly six times as large was 411, and the rate was 12.1 per 100,000.

There were 31 deaths from typhoid fever in one week and 462 for the year. At the present time in this city nearly three years is required for the number of deaths from this disease to equal the record for one week fifty years ago.

The number of deaths from consumption in that week was 17, and that for the year was 1,055, the yearly rate having been 18.81. The number of deaths from this disease in 1930 was 2,235, the rate 65.9 per 100,000 for tuberculosis of all kinds. The improvement in the consumption rate is great even though not as great as that of some other diseases.

In that week in 1881, 101 children under five years of age died, or 42 per cent of the total mortality. The total deaths in the group that year was 6,555. In 1930 it was 4,331 in the city of over five times the size, and the percentage of the total deaths was twelve.

The average span of life is several years longer than it was then, and the proportion of the population who are of working age is much greater. The number who are disabled because of being chronically sick and thereby unable to work is small.

We have reason to be thankful for the improvements in health that the last half century has witnessed.

PAIN IN THE EYEBALL.

H. E. S. writes: What are the symptoms of glaucoma?

REPLY.

Among the most frequent symptoms is pain in the eyeball. A sense of fullness is present. A peculiar limitation of the field of vision is characteristic. Diminishing vision is another symptom. Careful examination shows increased tension of the eyeball. (Copyright, 1931.)

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

By ELY CULBERTSON

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

138

LOOK OUT FOR SQUALLS.

PROBABLY the most fruitful source of partnership disharmoney at the Contract table is the nonfitting hand—the hand in which one player is very long and very strong in one suit and his partner is equally long and possibly equally strong in another.

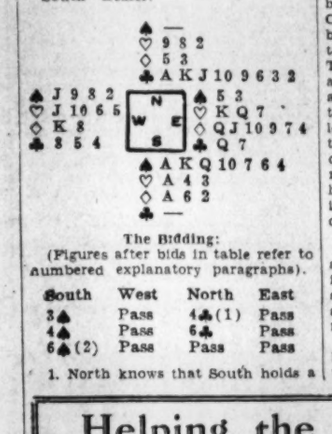
The difficulties of such holdings are greatly accentuated when tremendous length and honor stretch in either hand is combined with a void in the suit which forms the backbone of the partner's holding. In such cases someone has to yield. Too often the yielding comes so late that only the opponents benefit, but there is a reasonably safe rule to follow with such holdings and that rule is as follows:

When a player knows that his partner can make use of his cards, but knows that he can not make use of his partner's cards, then he should subordinate his holding, however rich in honors, to the common interests of the partnership.

The player who can do this is entitled to the medal which I have often thought belonged to the perfect partner.

Today's hand is one on which perfect partnership obtained maximum results, while the player who insisted only in looking at his own hand suffered a disastrous defeat. It was played in Duplicate.

North-South vulnerable.
South—Dealer.



The Bidding:
(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs).

South	West	North	East
3♠	Pass	4♣(1)	Pass
4♠	Pass	6♣	Pass
6♠(2)	Pass	Pass	Pass

1. North knows that South holds a very strong spade suit with at least 5 certain tricks in that suit if spades are trump and in addition not less than 1½ honor-tricks is hearts and diamonds. He could safely have bid even more clubs, but perhaps he knew his partner.

2. Utterly refusing to listen to his partner's message of great club strength and probably no strength outside. South should have known his hand could be valuable to his partner. He could not help knowing that his partner's hand was valueless to him if it contained no entry outside the club suit.

Played at spades, South not only lost a trump trick but 2 tricks in hearts and 2 tricks in diamonds as well, thus being thrown for a penalty loss of 700 points. The 100 points he scored for honors proved but slight amelioration of the hurts suffered by the partnership.

At another table the bidding was the same, except for the final bid of six spades. South was permitted to play the contract at six clubs, and as an added reward for accurate partnership bidding they made an extra trick.

Like the fairy tale which always has a happy ending, North did not even sacrifice the honor count as South's honor holding in clubs balanced his in spades.

TODAY'S POINTER.

Question: Having two biddable suits, which should be bid first?

Answer: With suits of equal length bid the higher ranking first.

(Copyright, 1931.)

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Mr. Culbertson will be glad to answer questions on bidding and play of hands sent in by readers. Address him in care of The Washington Post, inclosing a 2-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Indoor—Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES.

PLEASE tell me when to cut back a pink-flowering hydrangea.

MABEL H. P. L.

The hydrangea should never be pruned. If you cut off the terminal buds, you will destroy the flowers. Of course, if you wish to prune the bush because of size, you will have to go without flowers the next year. This variety hardly ever reaches exaggerated size. If the terminal buds are winter-killed, these plants fail to flower. It is therefore wise, if you leave your plants in the open, to give them some protection such as straw or burlap. It is because growers realize that they are not reliably hardy that they now advocate growing them in lawn tubs, which can be carried indoors before frost.

I have some ferns which, while apparently healthy, are covered with insects and unsightly. I have tried spraying with soapy water and have also used nicotine, but the insects remain. MRS. GEORGE T.

If the ferns are old plants and too badly infested, it may be advisable to repot them, dividing the roots. If you notice insects on the roots, wash them in soapy water before potting them.

Can plants of agave which are covered with small plants about the roots be separated? I want to pass some of these young plants along to my garden club friends, if it can be done without injuring the parent plant. MRS. CARL R.

It can be done without the slightest injury to the older plant.

I want to try raising narcissus bulbs in water. Must I leave them in the dark until they have developed roots? About how long does this take? JANET G. P.

Place the bulbs in a dish which has been two-thirds filled with pebbles. The bulbs must be buried one-half their depth and you must have water enough to reach the base of the bulbs. As soon as roots develop, place in a warm, well-ventilated, sunny window. They will immediately begin to show signs of growth and should be in bloom in six weeks.

We have three evergreens which are attacked by red spider. What do you suggest doing to get rid of these insects? MARION D. T.

Spray your plants with a soap or miscible oil solution.

I want to get two plants for my vestibule, which is quite light, but where the temperature does not go above 50 degrees during the night. Are there any plants that will live in such an environment? HELEN D. S.

Pot-grown plants of boxwood or euonymus should live and even grow in your vestibule; in fact, any of the conifers are suitable for such a location.

I have some ferns which were bought about a poinsettia at Christmas. Don't you think it is best to separate these plants, as the poinsettias require sun and the ferns do best in a northern window? MRS. HARRY G. T.

Yes.

(Copyright, 1931.)

All readers' questions on growing and care of indoor and outdoor flowers and floral decorations for social functions will be answered by Miss Kift, directly in this column if addressed in care of The Washington Post, or directly to readers if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is supplied.

Helping the Homemaker

By LOUISE BENNETT WEAVER.

THANKSGIVING DINNER.

The Menu

Cream of Celery Soup
Roast Chicken Mashed Potatoes
Giblet Gravy
Cranberry Jelly Spiced Pears
Bread Butter
Vegetable Salad Salad Dressing
Baked Apples Cream Coffee

Cranberry Jelly.

4 cups berries
2 cups water
2 cups sugar

Thoroughly wash berries and remove stems and soft berries. Add water. Cover and cook slowly until all berries have burst skins. Mash through coarse strainer. Add sugar. Boil quickly 4 minutes. Stir constantly. Pour into glass mold which has been rinsed out in cold water. Set in a cold place to stiffen.

Vegetable Salad.

(Made day before serving)

1 package lemon flavored gelatin mixture
1¾ cups boiling water
3 tablespoons vinegar
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped cabbage
½ cup chopped celery
1 cup cooked peas
2 tablespoons chopped onions
2 tablespoons chopped pimentos

Pour water over gelatin mixture. Stir until dissolved. Add vinegar, sugar and salt. Mix well and cool. Add rest of ingredients. Pour into individual molds which have been rinsed out in cold water. Set in cold place to stiffen. Unmold on lettuce and top with salad dressing.

Baking Apples.

8 large apples
1 cup light brown sugar
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup raisins
½ cup nuts
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups water

Wash and core apples. Fit into deep baking dish. Stuff with raisins and nuts. Mix sugars and spices. Pour over and around apples. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Add water and dot with butter. Bake 40 minutes in moderately slow oven. Baste frequently during the baking. Serve warm or cold.

Black and White
The Long Evening Wrap

In a season full of color, black with white still remains first choice for evening wraps . . . chiefly because it makes such a stunning background for all the brilliant jewel tones . . . the ice-pastels of the evening gowns. We have sketched an ankle length wrap of black velvet, a Lelong copy, with a cape collar of stitched lapin (coney) that looks like ermine.

For a Miss
$59.50

Other wraps from $39.50 to $145

COAT SHOP—THIRD FLOOR

THE NEW Jelleff's

Dr. Ottawa Saunders To Head Liberian Board

Dr. Ottawa Saunders, Howard University graduate, now engaged in practice of oral surgery at the Carry V. Dyer Memorial Hospital, Monrovia, Liberia, has accepted appointment as head of the Liberian commission of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, it was learned yesterday. He is a member of the Kool tribe of African natives, with rank of chief.

Aside from his work at the missionary hospital, Dr. Saunders is professor of English and psychology at the College of West Africa. His wife is a nurse in Boston City Hospital, while his mother resides here at 1837 Vermont avenue, where he was formerly engaged in the practice of dentistry.

French Pass Shoe Duty Bill.

Paris, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The Chamber of Deputies today passed by a vote of 549 to 16 a bill establishing an import duty of 25 per cent ad valorem on shoes.

Band Concert

U. S. SOLDIERS' HOME BAND ORCHESTRA.

Stanley Hall, 5:20 o'clock.

March, "Arms of America".....Pryor
Overture, "The Spirit of Youth"...Sordillo
Entr'acte—
(a) "Reve apres le bal" (Dream after ball).....Boustet
(b) "Polish National Dance No. 1".....Scharwenka
Excerpts from musical comedy "The Band Wagon".....Schwartz
Fox trot, "It's the Girl".....Baer
Waltz suite, "Spring, Beautiful Spring".....Lincke
Finale, "The Rnager's Song" (from "Rio Rita").....Tierney
"The Star-Spangled Banner."

RESIDENTIAL PROPERTIES advertised in the Real Estate Section of the SUNDAY POST

are the types of homes that discriminating purchasers are seeking . . . covering completely the field of better class real estate available in preferred sections.

Subscribe to

The Washington Post

The Capital's Greatest NEWSpaper

ENVOYS TO ATTEND THANKSGIVING MASS

Archbishop to Pontificate at St. Patrick's Church on Thursday.

Archbishop Curley will pontificate at the pan-American mass at St. Patrick's Church at 10 o'clock Thanksgiving morning.

The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Fulton J. Sheen, of the Catholic University.

The Very Rev. John B. Tennelly, president of the Sulpician Seminary, will be assistant to the archbishop. The Rev. John Fannon, pastor of the Church of the Nativity, and the Rev. Francis X. Cavanagh, pastor of the Church of the Assumption, will be deacons of honor.

The Rev. Henry F. Grabenstein, of St. Cyprian's Church, will be the deacon of the mass and the Rev. Joseph Stricker, of St. Matthew's, subdeacon.

Ambassadors and ministers will be present at the mass. A special musical program will be given.

Catholic Radio Hour.

Dr. John I. Barrett, superintendent of archdiocesan schools, will deliver his second and concluding discourse on the Washington Catholic Radio Hour tomorrow. His subject is "Catholic Education."

The Rev. Francis J. Hurney, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, from which the weekly broadcast services come over WOL, will preside at the service, which will begin at 5 o'clock.

Father Hurney will be assisted at the blessing of the sick by the Rev. J. Kelly Reese and the Rev. Stanley Czyz. These Lourdes devotions, which take place exactly as at the original shrine at Lourdes, are carried out at the replica of the Grotto of Lourdes in the church.

Miss Florence Yocum will be vocal soloist, and Miss Ann Arlen violin soloist. The music is under the direction of Prof. Harry Wheaton Howard, organist and director of the Immaculate Conception Choir. The Boys' Sanctuary Choir, under the direction of the Rev. Brother Lewis, will be heard.

Adhering to its policy of presenting the most distinguished preachers in the archdiocese, the hour will follow with the Rev. Matthew J. Helmig, of the Fathers of the Precious Blood, who is coming from Cartegena, Ohio, to preach the novena in honor of the Immaculate Conception, for which extensive preparations are being made. Father Helmig will deliver two discourses on this hour. Dr. John Keating Cartwright will preach in January.

Sodality Union Demonstration.

The semiannual demonstration of the Sodality Union of Washington in honor of the Blessed Mother will be held in the Church of the Holy Comforter tomorrow at 7:30 o'clock.

It is an annual custom for the Sodality Union to hold a service of this kind at this time of the year, and it is expected that every sodality will be represented by large delegations.

The Rev. J. Maurice King, assistant pastor of St. Cyprian's Church, will preach. The celebrant at Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will be the Rev. Joseph V. Buckley, pastor of St. Francis Xavier's Church, while the Rev. Thomas F. Sweeney, assistant pastor of St. Anthony's Church, will be the deacon, and the Rev. W. H. Ahern, assistant pastor of the Shrine of the Most Blessed Sacrament, subdeacon. The Rev. J. P. Begley will be master of ceremonies.

In the sanctuary will be the Rev. James E. Connell, pastor of the Church of the Holy Comforter, and other members of the clergy.

A musical program under the direction of Miss Margaret Walsh has been arranged, including "Holy Mary, Mother Mild" and "Mother Dear, Oh Pray for Me." Before solemn benediction, Miss Ida May Madigan will sing Gounod's "Ave Maria." Miss Margaret Breen will be the organist.

Testimonial Dinner.

The Rev. Francis X. Cavanagh, pastor of the Church of the Assumption, Congress Heights, will be the guest of honor at a testimonial dinner Monday evening at the Continental Hotel, when members of the Curley Club will celebrate the completion of his fifth term as spiritual director of the organization.

The dinner this year will also voice the club's appreciation of Father Cavanagh's recent elevation to the pastorate of the Church of the Assumption, succeeding the late Rev. William J. Carroll, who died last month.

World's Prayer Book Subject of Sermons

Dr. Andrew Reid Bird, minister of the Church of the Pilgrims, is preaching a series of Sunday evening sermons on the general theme: "The World's Prayer Book in the Light of the Gospel."

These sermons are interpretations of the Book of Psalms in the teachings of the New Testament writings. On tomorrow evening, Dr. Bird will have under consideration the eighth Psalm, said to be one of the most beautiful in Holy Writ.

Christian Church to Give Drama of "Jerusalem"

Laurence Houseman's drama, "Jerusalem," which was given last December at Luther Place Church, will be presented Sunday afternoon, December 6, at the National City Christian Church.

Miss Bess Davis Schreiner is heading the large committee, which is giving the presentation, which will be under the auspices of the Washington Federation of Churches.

Harvest Service Planned By Metropolitan Church

A harvest home service will be held tomorrow evening at the Metropolitan Baptist Church.

The pulpit platform will be decorated with products of the farm and under the direction of the Senior B. Y. P. U. Donations will be received of canned goods, groceries, fruits and other things, to be sent to the Baptist Home for Aged Ladies.

Rev. Schermerhorn Returns to Capital

The Rev. L. V. Schermerhorn has recently returned from a trip to his boyhood home in the Hudson river valley, where for six weeks he supplied the pulpit of a church in the Albany Presbytery.

This church gave him a call, which he had to decline on account of the rigor of the winter weather.

Churches of Washington Will Observe Thanksgiving

Appropriate Services Will Be Held on Thursday, Some Congregations Uniting; Several Will Observe Feast Today; Collections in All.

Washington City churches will generally observe Thanksgiving Day with appropriate religious services. In some sections union services will be held. This is true of the churches in Georgetown, in Chevy Chase, in the Eckington community, in the Northeast, in Petworth, and in the western section of the city between the White House and Georgetown.

In all of the large downtown churches the day will be celebrated in the customary fashion, with the ministers preaching and with special music.

At every service a special collection will be taken. In some churches these collections are given to the homes for the aged, of which there are several in Washington. In others the collections will go to the gospel missions.

A number of churches—not a large number, however—will hold a Thanksgiving service tomorrow. This service is in the nature of a real harvest home festival, and will be featured with donations of food and clothes and money for charitable institutions.

As a cross-section of how the day will be observed, The Post presents the following interesting record:

Washington Cathedral — Bishop Freeman will preach on Thanksgiving Day at 11 a. m. This service will be given a Nation-wide broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting System. Morning prayer will be read by Bishop Freeman, assisted by the members of the cathedral staff of clergy, and the bishop will preach on the spiritual significance of Thanksgiving.

The program for the hymns and anthems for the national Thanksgiving service will be as follows: Processional hymn, "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come;" hymn before sermon, "God of Our Fathers, Whose Almighty Hand;" hymn after sermon, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee;" anthem, "The Eternal God Is Thy Refuge" (John E. West); recessional hymn, "Praise to God, Immortal Praise."

The other services in Washington Cathedral on Thanksgiving Day will include celebration of the Holy Communion in Bethlehem Chapel at 7:30 a. m., and in the Chapel of the Resurrection at 9:30 a. m. Evening prayer will be read in Bethlehem Chapel at 4 p. m.

Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church—A special service has been arranged for 11 o'clock. Dr. W. A. Shelton, the pastor, has announced as his subject for the Thanksgiving sermon, "The Basis of National Security."

Sixth Presbyterian Church—The service will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Albright Evangelical Church—Observance of the day will be held tomorrow instead of Thursday, and the pastor, the Rev. George E. Schnabel, will preach a special sermon.

Concordia Lutheran Church—The service will be at 10:30 o'clock. An offering will be received for the poor of the church. Gifts in the shape of canned goods for distribution among needy families will be welcomed.

St. Columba's Episcopal Church—Communion will be celebrated at 8 a. m., and a special musical program of hymns and chants will be given with the morning prayer at 10:30 a. m.

Eckington Presbyterian Church—Union service at 10:30 o'clock, participated in by Bethany Baptist Church, Lincoln Road Methodist Church, Rhode Island Avenue Methodist Church, United Brethren Church and Eckington Presbyterian Church. Dr. B. Y. Nicholson will preach. He will be assisted by the Revs. Walter Atkinson, S. M. Daugherty, Hugh Stevenson and Henry B. Wooding.

Congress Street Methodist Church—Will observe the day tomorrow morning with a sermon by the pastor, Dr. Hirl A. Kester. In the evening the young people of Cherrydale Methodist Protestant Church will give a pageant, "James of Galilee."

Takoma Park Presbyterian Church—Union services of the church in Takoma Park at 10:30 a. m., at which the Rev. William E. LaRue, pastor of the Baptist Church, will preach.

Grace Reformed Church—Service at 11 a. m. Special music by the choir, and a sermon by the pastor, Dr. Henry H. Ranck. An offering will be taken for the relief of the needy of the church.

Metropolitan Baptist Church—On Thanksgiving morning the twenty-fourth annual sunrise Thanksgiving praise service will be held. The Boy Scouts will lead in the salutation of the American Flag, and the World-Wide Guild of the Worth While Girls will conduct the exercises with regard to the Christian Flag. John Knapp will be the song leader, and Mrs. T. Elmore Austin will preside at the piano. Pastor John Compton Ball will have charge of the service, and the last half hour will be given over to thanksgiving testimonies by the audience, no one person to occupy more than 30 seconds.

New York Avenue Presbyterian Church—Following the usual custom, services will be held at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. A special offering will be taken and will be set aside for the poor and unemployed. The usual mid-week prayer service will be omitted.

All Souls' Unitarian Church—The Church School will celebrate the day tomorrow morning in Pierce Hall, at 9:45 o'clock. The Rev. Edwin Fairley, associate director of the department of religious education, American Unitarian Association, will be present and will speak. He will also be guest at a tea at the church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Universalist National Memorial Church—For the sixth successive year the churches in the Columbia Heights section will unite in a service, which will be held at this church this year. The cooperating churches are: All Souls' Unitarian, Columbia Heights Christian, Francis Asbury Methodist, Mount Pleasant Congregational and Universalist National Memorial. The Rev. Russell J. Clinchy, pastor of Mount Pleasant Congregational, will preach the sermon. His subject: "Thanksgiving Which Crusades." The National Capital Choir will give the music.

National City Christian Church—A special service will be held Thursday morning. The regular church night supper and the midweek prayer service will be omitted.

Centennial Baptist Church—The Daughters of America, relatives and friends, will have their annual Thanksgiving service at this church tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by the pastor, the Rev. E. Hez Swem.

Georgetown Presbyterian Church—Eleven churches in Georgetown, following custom, will hold a union service in this church this year, at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The offering is for the Aged Woman's Home on Wisconsin avenue. The Thursday evening prayer service will be omitted.

First Congregational Church—Services will be held in the main auditorium at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, the minister, will preach. His subject will be: "Thankful, For What?" The church night supper and midweek prayer service will be omitted.

The Full Gospel Tabernacle—An all-day service will be held tomorrow. At 11 a. m. the pastor, the Rev. Harry L. Collier, will preach a thanksgiving sermon entitled "National Remembrance of God" and the public is cordially invited to this service. At 3 p. m. there will be a service in honor of the tabernacle missionaries when Evangelist Helen Wedding will speak on the topic "Remembering the Regions Beyond." At this service announcements of the home-coming of Miss Hilda Meyrick, from the missionary field, will be given. At 7:30 p. m. there will be an evangelistic rally of the church, Sunday school and Young Crusader's Society, when the pastor will preach on "Remembering the Cross." Special musical features have been arranged for the entire day.

The Church of the Pilgrims—A service will be held at 11 o'clock at which the minister, Dr. Andrew Reid Bird, will preach on a theme appropriate to the day. The junior choir, which sings only in the evening, will have a share in the special musical program which has been arranged.

The Covenant-First Presbyterian Church—Services will be held at 10:30 o'clock. Dr. McCartney, the minister, will preach on the subject: "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" Pews will not be reserved after 10:20 a. m.

Calvary Methodist Church—Services will be held at 10:30 o'clock. There will be special music and Dr. Mark Depp, the pastor, will preach.

Church of the Brethren—Dr. F. F. Holsopple, the minister, will conduct Thanksgiving services in his church tomorrow morning.

Metropolitan Presbyterian Church—Union services of the churches in the Southeast will be held in this church Thursday morning at 10:30. Dr. Dan Ennis, pastor of Epworth Methodist Church, will preach the sermon.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church—Services will be held at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning, and Dr. Henry W. Snyder, the minister, will preach. This is the first Thanksgiving service held in the new church, and because of that fact, St. Paul's is not cooperating in the union services of the Chevy Chase churches.

Gunton Temple Presbyterian Church—On Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock there will be a special Thanksgiving service with a sermon by Dr. Charles Wood, former pastor of the Church of the Covenant. At this service Dr. Wood will also administer the Sacrament of Baptism to the infant son of Dr. and Mrs. Braskamp. The midweek evening prayer meeting will be merged with the Thanksgiving service.

Western Presbyterian Church—Union Methodist Church will cooperate with Western Presbyterian Church in a special service to be held at the latter church at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. Dr. James H. Dunham, minister of Western Presbyterian, will preach the sermon. He will be assisted by the Rev. Herman McKay, pastor of Union Methodist.

St. Margaret's Episcopal Church—Holy Communion will be observed at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning, and morning prayer with a sermon by the rector, Dr. Herbert Scott Smith, at 11 o'clock.

Georgetown Lutheran Church.—The Woman's Missionary Society will have charge of a special service to be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Dr. H. Dennington Hayes will speak, and Mrs. L. H. Waring will lead the devotional exercises. This church will cooperate with the other Georgetown churches in the union service Thursday.

Grace Lutheran Church—Services Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. The pastor, the Rev. Gerhard E. Lenski, will preach on "Our Greatest Ground for National Gratitude."

Brightwood Park Methodist Church—Services at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The pastor, the Rev. S. Carroll Coale, will preach on "The Soul of Gratitude."

Fifth Baptist Church—Thanksgiving services will be held tomorrow evening. Thanksgiving Scriptures will be read and Thanksgiving songs will be sung and the pastor, Dr. John E. Briggs, will preach a Thanksgiving sermon on the subject: "Why Be Thankful?"

Hamline Methodist Church—Services will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The pastor, Dr. H. W. Burgan, will preach from the subject "Some Things for Which America May Be Thankful in a Time Like This." The chorus choir will sing. The collection will be given to the Methodist Home for the Aged.

Wallace Memorial Presbyterian Church—Three of the churches in the Petworth section—Petworth Baptist, Petworth Methodist and Wallace Memorial—will unite in a service to be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Wallace Memorial Church. The Rev. Dr. Smith, pastor of the Baptist Church, will preach, and he will be assisted by the Rev. Robert Louis Wood and the Rev. Mr. Hawthorne.

Councilor Memorial Service December 2

Special plans are going forward by a committee under the direction of W. W. Everett, general manager of Woodward & Lothrop, for a general city-wide memorial service for the late Dr. Homer J. Councilor. Definite plans for a fitting program will be announced later and invitations are going out to all fraternal, civic and religious organizations in the city.

Dr. Councilor was one of the best known men in the City of Washington and well loved for his service to mankind throughout the city. The service will be held Wednesday, December 2, at Calvary Baptist Church.

Senator Fess to Speak At Calvary Methodist

Dr. John Edwards, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will preach at Calvary Methodist Church next Sunday morning, and in the evening Senator Simeon E. Fess, of Ohio, will speak.

At Hamline Methodist Church.

The evening service at Hamline Methodist Church will begin at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow with a fifteen-minute organ recital, after which the pastor, Dr. H. W. Burgan, will preach.

CHURCH TEAMS PLAN MEMBERSHIP VISITS

60 Groups Will Carry Work Into Homes and Supper Will Be Held.

Tomorrow afternoon more than 60 teams are going out from Luther Place Memorial Church to carry to the entire membership of the congregation a message of enthusiasm for the work that lies ahead. Never in the history of the Luther Place has there been so large a group of workers for the Every Member Visitation. There is a seriousness and an earnestness mingled with a joyousness in these teams that surpasses anything known at Luther Place in the past.

After the visitation there will be a 5:30 supper to the workers and a 6:45 report meeting. Last year's report meeting for workers was so largely attended and the occasion of so much enthusiasm that its influence has continued through the year. One of the workers of the congregation said yesterday that about the only kind of depression they have at Luther Place is a regret that there are not more hours in a day and more days in a week to improve the constant flow of opportunities for high service to the Master in Washington.

The assistant pastor, the Rev. Frank H. Clutz, has organized a new Bible class made up of boys and young men under 24. The class has found for itself new quarters in the basement of the chapel building and have painted and furnished them until they feel that they have the best classroom at Luther Place. Alden Towberman, the president, and his brother, George, entertained the class at their home in Cherrydale last night.

The Sunday School is now functioning under its new form of organization which is new in the District of Columbia, but which Dr. Rasmussen, the pastor, employed with unusual success in his previous pastorates.

Church of Epiphany Will Hear Lectures

Tomorrow evening, at the 8 o'clock service in the Church of the Epiphany, the Rev. Dr. Phillips will begin a series of lecture-sermons, continuing for several months, on the general theme, "The Development of the Doctrine of God and Immortality as Revealed in the Great Religions of the World."

Owing to the many and insistent questions arising in the present day in regard to a belief in God and immortality, it has been deemed wise to establish first the historical background for such belief, and second, in view of the remarkable progress in comparatively recent years of modern science, to give some reasons for the faith that is in us. Hence, this course of lecture-sermons is designed to "strengthen the stakes and lengthen the cords" of faith not only in God but man's eternal destiny in a world of confusion.

The subject tomorrow night will be in the nature of an introduction to the general theme. The services will close promptly at 9 o'clock.

Dr. Freeman, Budlong Consecration Preacher

Bishop James E. Freeman has accepted the invitation to deliver the sermon at the consecration of the Rev. Frederick G. Budlong, as Bishop Coadjutor of Connecticut, on December 16. The service, which is expected to attract leaders of the Episcopal Church throughout the Eastern half of the country, will be held in Christ Church, Greenwich, Conn., of which Dr. Budlong is rector. Complete arrangements for the consecration are being made by the Right Rev. James DeWolf Perry, presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, and honorary member of Washington Cathedral Chapter.

Presbyterian Ministers To Hear Dr. W. A. Reid

Dr. William A. Reid, trade adviser of the Pan-American Union, will address the Presbyterian Ministers Association at their meeting on Monday morning at 11 o'clock in New York Avenue Church.

His subject will be: "The Organization and Activities of the Pan-American Union." Ministers of the city regardless of denominational affiliation, are invited to be present.

Missionary Society Plans Praise Service

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Georgetown Presbyterian Church will observe its annual praise service tomorrow morning. Wilbur La Roe jr., a member of the Board of National Missions and a prominent Presbyterian layman of this city, will deliver an address on "The Background of Missions."

The Rev. Frank S. Niles will be in charge of the service.

Concordia Church Plans For Annual Memorial

Following a long established custom, Concordia Lutheran Church will observe tomorrow as Memorial Sunday. There will be a service in German at 10 o'clock and another at 11:15 in English, at which the members and friends of the church who have died during the past year will be remembered.

The pastor, the Rev. Charles Enders, will preach a sermon appropriate.

Mt. Vernon Church Plans For Revival Services

Plans are going forward for a series of revival services at Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church, to begin with the morning service on November 29. Preliminary to the beginning of the revival services there will be a whirlwind visitation of the entire church membership by a pastor's visiting committee, supplemented by approximately 200 volunteer workers.

W. W. Everett to Speak In Takoma Park Church

W. W. Everett, moderator of the Columbia Association of Baptist Churches and one of the leading Baptist laymen in Washington, will deliver an address from the pulpit of Takoma Park Baptist Church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

New York Minister at Howard.

The Rev. William Lloyd Imes, minister of the St. James Presbyterian Church, New York City, will speak at the Howard University Religious services at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in Andrew Rankin Chapel.

Some Striking Sunday Sermons

Dr. Andrew Reid Bird—"A Guide Post on the Footpath to Peace."

Dr. Albert Joseph McCartney—"The Lost Chord in Modern Christianity."

Dr. Ulysses G. B. Pierce—"Give Thanks—Nevertheless."

Dr. Robert Johnston—"Nullification of Marriage."

Dr. Allen A. Stockdale—"A Child Closet-Prisoner."

Dr. Andrew M. Brodie—"The Faculty That Finds God."

Dr. Frederick W. Perkins—"A True Home."

The Rev. Russell J. Clinchy—"Far-reaching Resources."

Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen—"God's Unfinished Work."

Dr. W. A. Shelton—"What Is Truth?"

The Rev. Godfrey Chobot—"Not Ashamed That Wait on Me."

The Rev. George E. Schnabel—"Our Thanksgiving Heritage."

The Rev. Charles Enders—"Comfort in the Shadows of Death."

The Rev. E. A. Le Moine—"Things a Churchman Should Know."

The Rev. Henry B. Wooding—"The Spirit of Thanksgiving."

Dr. H. H. Harmon—"Salvaging a Life."

The Rev. E. Hez Swem—"Jesus' Sayings."

Dr. Florian Vurpillot—"L'homme et le Sabbat."

The Rev. Harry L. Collier—"Remembering the Cross."

Dr. Mark Depp—"When Jesus Repels."

Dr. F. F. Holsopple—"Why Give Thanks in These Depressing Days?"

Dr. Lowell C. McPherson—"Self-Respect."

The Rev. Walter M. Michael—"The Uncompromising Christ."

Dr. Henry W. Snyder—"Our Talents for Christ."

The Rev. Herman McKay—"At the Center of the Universe."

Dr. Harver Baker Smith—"The Gospel Between the White House and the Capitol."

The Rev. Harold E. Beatty—"The Lamps of God Almighty."

The Rev. Gerhard E. Lenski—"His Brother's Keeper."

The Rev. S. Carroll Coale—"Heart Ventures."

Lieut. Col. Frank H. Wise—"Hidden Blessings."

The Rev. Edward O. Clark—"Why Be Thankful?"

Dr. J. H. Hollister—"These Strange Things."

Dr. Hirl A. Kester—"The Cry of a Father for His Son."

The Rev. William E. LaRue—"Marriage and Divorce."

Dr. Bernard Braskamp—"The Christian of Today."

Dr. Henry H. Ranck—"Lessons From Our Organ."

Dr. John Compton Ball—"Present Day Reasons for Thanksgiving."

The Rev. Robert Louis Wood—"The Religion That Offers Rest."

Dr. Francis Yarnall—"Why We Make Such a Mess of Life."

Dr. John E. Briggs—"Our Task."

Dr. H. W. Burgan—"Writing on the Ground."

COLORED.

Dr. James L. Pinn—"The Great Urge in Personality."

The Rev. J. L. S. Holloman—"Abiding in God."

The Rev. R. W. Brooks—"Why Should I Be Thankful?"

Dr. Stockdale to Preach On Little Riley Girl

Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, minister of the First Congregational Church, will preach tomorrow evening on the child closet prisoner, an incident which recently stirred this community to its depths.

In the morning the finances of the church will be brought before the congregation in a dramatic form. A picturesque altar setting has been arranged, and after the sermon by the minister the people will come forward with their pledges for 1932, while the large choir sings a stirring anthem.

Dr. Sizoo at Princeton University.

Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, minister of New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, will preach tomorrow morning at Princeton University and will return in time for the evening service at his church, when he will continue the discussion of last Sunday evening on France.

L. B. Keen to Address Class.

Luther B. Keen, a member of the class, will address the Harrison Bible Class of Congress Street Methodist Church tomorrow morning on: "Paul in Rome." J. C. Pipkins will teach the class.

LUTHERAN.

LUTHER PLACE MEMORIAL CHURCH
The Gothic Gem At Thomas Circle
Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, Pastor
Rev. Frank H. Clutz, Assistant Pastor

11 A.M.—
"God's Unfinished Work"

8 P.M.—
"I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me"

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m.
Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p. m.

You are heartily invited to join this happy fellowship in its worship tomorrow.

Pontifical Degree Will Be Conferred

Catholic Students Mission Crusade to Be Held at University.

The local conference of the Catholic students mission crusade is planning a pontifical military benediction to be held at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception at the Catholic University on December 13 at 3 o'clock. The purpose of this ceremony is to confer the paladin degrees on the students of the local Catholic high schools and colleges, who have done outstanding work for the crusade during the past year.

Brother John, of the Catholic University and clerical conference, is in charge of the arrangements. He will be assisted by the following committees:

General executive—George Benz, of Georgetown University, chairman; Mary Keehan, of St. Rose's, recording secretary; Clare O'Boyle, of Immaculate Conception, corresponding secretary.

Transportation—Nellie McCormick, of the Vaeth unit, chairman; publicity, Ulrica Donahue, of Immaculata Seminary, chairman; traffic, Eileen Collins, of Immaculata Seminary, chairman; music, Marita Houlihan, of Holy Cross Academy, chairman, and paladin degree, Evangeline Rice, of Sacred Heart Academy, chairman.

Church Plans Member Canvass.

An every-member canvass will be conducted by the membership of St. Paul's Lutheran Church next week, beginning Tuesday and continuing through December 9. Final instructions to the visitors will be given Tuesday evening at a dinner meeting at the church by the pastor, Dr. Henry W. Snyder.

CONGREGATIONAL.

MT. PLEASANT TOMORROW
9:30 a. m.—Church School.
10:00 a. m.—Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, "An Economist's Impressions of Russia."
11:00 a. m.—Rev. Russell J. Clinchy, "Far-Reaching Resources."
6:00 p. m.—Young People's Groups.
Columbia rd. at 14th. Phone Col. 3720.

First Congregational Church
10th and G Streets N.W.
Allen A. Stockdale, D. D., Minister.
Dr. Stockdale speaks 11 a. m.—"Heart Gifts," and 8 p. m., "A Child Closet-Prisoner." Thanksgiving Day service, 11 a. m. Thursday. No church night supper or mid-week meeting Thursday.
Every One Invited.

UNIVERSALIST.

Universalist National Memorial Church
16th and S Sts. N.W.
Rev. Frederic W. Perkins, D. D.
10:15—Church School.
11:00—Service of Worship
"A TRUE HOME"
National Capital Choir Under the Direction of Albert W. Harned, Mus. Doc.

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST.

National City Christian Church
THOMAS CIRCLE
H. H. Harmon, Acting Minister.
Earle Wilfley, Minister Emeritus.
9:45 a. m.—Church School Assembly, New Church Auditorium.
11:00 a. m.—"Meeting a Divine Need." Dr. H. H. Harmon.
6:45 p. m.—Young People's Meetings.
8:00 p. m.—"Salvaging a Life."—Dr. H. H. Harmon.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL SOUTH.

MOUNT VERNON PLACE
Southern Methodism's Representative Church
Mass. Ave. at Ninth St. N.W.
W. A. SHELTON, D. D., Pastor.
REV. H. R. DEAL, Asst. Pastor.
9:30 a. m.—Sunday School.
11:00 a. m.—"What Is Truth?" Dr. Shelton.
8:00 p. m.—"Lazarus," Dr. Shelton.
Visitors Cordially Invited.

UNITARIAN.

All Souls' Church
Sixteenth and Harvard Streets
Minister
Ulysses G. B. Pierce, D. D.
9:45 A. M.—Church School.
11:00 A. M.—Morning Worship. Sermon by the Minister.
"Giving Thanks—Nevertheless"
5:00 p. m.—Program of Karg-Elert Music. Lewis Atwater, organist, assisted by George Myers, tenor.
5:30 p. m.—Book Chat, Rev. Edwin Fairley.
6:30 p. m.—Fireside Circle for young people.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Christian Science
Churches of Christ, Scientist, Branches of The Mother Church
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
First Church of Christ, Scientist, Columbia rd. and Euclid st.
Second Church of Christ, Scientist, 111 C st. ne.
Third Church of Christ, Scientist, 13th and L sts. nw.
Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist, 16th and Meridian sts. nw.
SUBJECT:
"Soul and Body"
SERVICES:
SUNDAY, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.
SUNDAY SCHOOL, 11 a. m.
WEDNESDAY EVENING MEETINGS, 8 O'CLOCK
THANKSGIVING SERVICE 11 A. M.
Subject:
"Thanksgiving"
READING ROOMS:
FIRST CHURCH, 730 17th st. nw. Hours, 9 to 9 (except Wednesdays, 9 to 7, and Sundays and holidays, 2:30 to 5:30).
SECOND CHURCH, 111 C st. ne. Hours, 1:30 to 5:30 week days; closed Sundays and holidays.
THIRD CHURCH, Colorado Bldg., 14th and G sts. Hours, 9:30 to 9 (except Wednesdays, 9:30 to 7:30, Sundays and holidays, 2:30 to 5:30).
FOURTH CHURCH, Tivoli Bldg., 3313 14th st. Hours, 9:30 to 9, week days (except Wednesdays, 9:30 to 7:30, Sundays and holidays, 2:30 to 5 p. m.)
All are welcome to attend our church services and use our reading rooms.

Men's Bible Class To Hear Jeffords

Address on "Conquest of Rome by Christianity" Will Be Presented.

"The Conquest of Rome by Christianity" will be the subject of an address delivered by Attorney Tracy L. Jeffords to the Men's Bible Class of Francis Asbury M. E. C. S., Sixteenth and Lamont, tomorrow, at 9:45 a. m.

Special music will be rendered by a male chorus under the direction of E. E. Munsey.

At its annual business meeting last Friday, the class elected the following officers: President, T. S. Settle; vice president, W. T. Roberts; secretary, Harry N. Watts; treasurer, John B. Cross. J. W. Gulledge was appointed chairman of the religious committee and R. Frederick Hatcher was appointed chairman of the social committee.

NATIONAL EVANGELISTIC CENTER.

All Day Program Tomorrow!!
Special Thanksgiving Services
9:30—Dept. Sunday School.
11:00 — Public Thanksgiving Service. Pastor preaches.
3:00—In Honor of Our Missionaries. Evangelist Helen Wedding.
7:30—Great Evangelistic Rally of Church, S. S. and Y. P. Societies. Pastor preaches.

The Tabernacle
North Capitol and K Sts.
REV. HARRY L. COLLIER
Radio Service Wednesday, 11 a. m., over WJSV.
The Revival Church. Special music.
Visitors welcome.

Episcopal

Epiphany
1317 G Street.
Rev. Z. B. Phillips, D.D., LL.D.
Rev. Alvin Lamar Wills, M. A.
8:00 A. M.—Holy Communion.
9:30 A. M.—Church School.
11:00 a. m.—Morning Prayer and Sermon by the Rector.
6:15 p. m.—Young People's Society.
8:00 p. m.—Evening Service.
Lecture—Sermon by the Rector. General theme, "The Development of the Doctrine of God and Immortality as Revealed in the Great Religions of the World."

CONGRESS HEIGHTS
ESTHER MEMORIAL
Nichols ave. and Esther place.
Rev. H. NALDO MANLEY, Rector.
Sunday Services, 8 A.M., 11 A.M., 8 P.M.
Thanksgiving Day services, 7 a. m., 9 a. m. Friday, November 27, Evening Prayer and Confirmation Service, 8 p. m.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH
Lafayette Square.
SERVICES.
8:00 a. m.—Holy Communion.
11:00 a. m.—Morning Prayer and Sermon.
7:45 p. m.—Evensong.
8:10 p. m.—Lecture, "Nullification of Marriage." Dr. Johnston will preach.

SERVICES FRANCAIS
St. John's Church, Lafayette Square
Tous les dimanches a 4 heures par le Dr. Florian Vurpillot, pasteur.

Washington Cathedral
Wisconsin Ave. N.W. near Woodley Rd.
Sunday, November 22
Holy Communion ..... 7:30 a. m.
Morning Prayer and Litany..10:00 a. m.
Holy Communion and Sermon, Preacher, Canon Stokes..11:00 a. m.
People's Evensong and Sermon, Preacher, the Bishop of Washington ..... 4:00 p. m.
Thanksgiving Day, November 26.
Holy Communion....7:30 and 9:30 a. m.
Festival Service and Sermon, Preacher, the Bishop of Washington .....11:00 a. m.
Evening Prayer ..... 4:00 p. m.
Take Wisconsin Avenue Cars or Woodley Road Bus Line.

ST. AGNES' CHURCH
46 Que Street Northwest
(Fla. Ave. or N. Capitol St. Cars)
Sunday services, 7 and 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday School, 9:30 a. m. Daily mass, 7 a. m. Evensong and intercession, Friday, 8 p. m.

ST. JOHN'S ORPHANAGE
1922 F Street N.W.
Open House and Donation Day
Tuesday, November 24th,
11:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M.
Tea 4:00 to 6:00.

St. Andrew's Episcopal Church
V and N. H. Ave.
Holy Communion at 8 a. m., celebrant, the Rev. Leon A. Shearer. Morning prayer and sermon at 11 a. m., preacher, the Rev. A. J. Wilder. Sunday School, 9:30 a. m.

Presbyterian

Church of the Pilgrims
On the Parkway
At 22d and P Sts. N.W.
Rev. Andrew Reid Bird
Minister
Divine Worship at 11 A. M. and 7:45 P. M.
Conducted by the Minister
Organ Recital 7:30 P. M.
Thanksgiving Day Service at 11:00 A. M.
A Cordial Welcome to All

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN
Organized 1868.
Southern General Assembly.
Intersection of 15th and 16th and Irving sts. nw.
Rev. JAMES H. TAYLOR, D. D. Pastor
9:30 a. m.—Sunday School.
11:00 a. m.—Morning Worship. Sermon by Rev. G. Wilbur Shipley.
5:00 p. m.—Westminster League.
6:15 p. m.—Fireside Hour for Young People.
7:00 p. m.—Christian Endeavor.
8:00 p. m.—Evening worship. Sermon by Rev. G. Wilbur Shipley.
Take 14th st. car or Mt. Pleasant car or 16th st. bus to Irving st.

New York Avenue Church
13th & H & N. Y. Ave. N.W.
Ministers
Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo
Dr. Andrew M. Brodie
11:00 A. M.—"THE FACULTY THAT FINDS GOD" (Dr. Brodie).
8:00 P. M.—FRANCE (Dr. Sizoo).
(The Thanksgiving Day Service Will Be Observed November 26 at 11:00 A. M.)

GEORGETOWN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
(Organized 1780)
P Street near 31st Street N.W.
Rev. Frank Sergeant Niles, Minister.
9:45 A.M.—Church School.
11:00 a. m.—Morning Worship and Sermon by Mr. Wilbur La Roe, jr.,
"The Background of Missions."
7 p. m.—Christian Endeavor.
"Echoes From San Francisco"

COVENANT-FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Connecticut Ave. at 18th and N Sts.
Albert Joseph McCartney, D. D., Minister
Rev. J. Woodman Babbitt, Assistant Minister
Morning worship at 11 A. M.
Subject: "The Lost Chord in Modern Christianity."
Dr. McCartney Preaching.
9:45 A. M. Sunday—Church school for Bible Study. Graded instruction from the Nursery Age to Adult Classes. Young Women, Miss Thurston; All Comers' Class for Men, Judge Tate; Mixed Adults' Class, Dr. Chas. Thom.
5:30 and 6:30 Sunday evening—Young People's meetings Church house, 1229 Conn. Ave. Program and supper at 6:30.
THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICE AT 10:30 A. M.
Subject: "Am I my brother's keeper?"
Dr. McCartney preaching
PEWS WILL NOT BE RESERVED AFTER 10:20 A. M.

Coming
Thursday, Dec. 3
ORCELLA REXFORD
Bachelor of Science
University of California
World Noted Lecturer and Food Scientist
WHO BRINGS YOU
HEALTH

Are you tired of being sick, experimenting, blundering, changing climates and still have your ailment?
Come and let Miss Rexford give you her great scientific way of living that is helping people everywhere to banish disease, sickness and regain their Energy and Youth.
8—Free Health Lectures—8
MASONIC AUDITORIUM
Dec. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9—8 P. M.
AUSPICES DEFENSIVE DIET LEAGUE OF AMERICA

THE SATURDAY FOOD AND HOME ECONOMICS PAGE

Appearing Each Week in The Washington Post

FOOD PAGE IS SEEN EXCHANGE FOR IDEAS

In It Housewives Pass On to One Another Recipes and Homemaking Points.

More and more according to the letters received by the Saturday Food Page editor, this page is becoming of use to the home makers who read it each Saturday eager to find in it hints and ways and means in home making.

The assistance of these readers in sending in recipes containing the names of ingredients advertised on this page is very helpful and much appreciated by the editor.

In other words this page has now become a household exchange, as it were, where housewives pass on the recipes and other secrets of homemaking they have learned to other women.

The spirit behind this cooperative feeling is shown in this letter from Mrs. M. L. Turner of Berwyn, Md., constant contributor to the Saturday Food Page. Mrs. Turner writes:

"Dear Food Page Editor: I have been away on account of illness in the family and have just returned and have been informed that I have won another book, for which I am very grateful to you. I am looking forward to getting it and am very anxious to know just what kind of a book it is. I love the other one you gave me, and I have loaned it to a number of my country women friends to read.

"I did not know you were going to print my letter to you and was surprised when my friends have all been coming and saying, 'Oh, did you see your letter and recipe in The Post; it was fine.'

"Now that the season is here for pumpkin pies I will inclose a delicious receipt that I have used ever since I have kept house. I have tried many others, but always go back to this one. Thank you."

Here are the winning recipes for book prizes and honorable mentions:

PINEAPPLE SALAD.
(Awarded Book Prize.)

Dressing—2 eggs, yolks only
1 teaspoon flour (Wilkins & Rogers)
¼ teaspoon each mustard and salt
2 teaspoons sugar
5 teaspoons vinegar

Mix flour, mustard, salt, sugar; add well beaten egg yolks, then vinegar, beating continuously in small aluminum pan; place pan in boiling water (may use double boiler), cook until thick, stirring rapidly; cool and thin with two tablespoons pineapple juice or cream. Whip this into one cup of double cream which has first been whipped. Place on ice.

Salad—1 cup Diamond walnuts and pecans broken and mixed
1 cup Plantation pineapple, sliced and diced with scissors
¼ pound Campfire marshmallows, cubed with scissors dipped in flour
Chill all.

About one hour before serving, mix thoroughly in the dressing with silver fork, lifting over and over, not stirring; add dash of salt to the whole. Serve very cold on heart leaves of fancy head lettuce.

*All above-named ingredients may be purchased from the Sanitary Grocery Co. as advertised on Food Page of The Washington Post of October 31, 1931. Try it, then decide.

MRS. ERASTUS MICKEL FINCH.
8 Boyd avenue, Takoma Park, Md.

CREAM PUFFS.
(Awarded Book Prize).

1 cup hot water
½ cup butter and lard boiled together and while boiling stir in 1 cup sifted Washington flour.

Take from stove and stir to a paste. After this cools stir in 3 eggs (not beaten). Beat all together 5 minutes. Drop in pan with a tablespoon so as not to touch and bake in a quick oven.

Cream for Puffs.

1 cup milk
½ cup sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons corn starch
Flavor with vanilla

When puffs are cool open and fill. Sprinkle with pulverized sugar.

MRS. ESTELLE N. NORMAN.
3033 Sixteenth street northwest.

MOCHA PUDDING.
(Honorable Mention.)

1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup cold coffee
1 cup dried chopped apricots
1 cup flour (Wilkins-Rogers Milling Co.)
2-3 cup prepared suet
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt.

Mix suet and flour, add other ingredients. Steam three hours. Serve with hard sauce.

Hard sauce:
Juice of 1 lemon
½ cup butter (Land o' Lakes)
½ cup powdered sugar.

Cream butter and sugar together, add lemon juice and allow to get cold and firm before serving.

MRS. J. L. O'CONNELL.
934 Eye street northwest.

CRANBERRY MUFFINS.
(Honorable Mention.)

1 tablespoon Land o' Lakes butter
4 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
2 cups Washington Self-Rising flour
1 cup milk
1 cup Eatmore Cranberries.

Materials bought from Sanitary-Piggly Wiggly.

Cream the butter with the sugar, add the beaten yolks, stir and add the sifted flour alternately with the milk, add the berries, washed, dried and sprinkled with 2 tablespoons sugar. Lastly fold in the stiffly beaten egg white. Bake in buttered muffin tins in a moderate oven from 20 to 30 minutes.

These muffins have a delicious, tart flavor and are nice to serve hot at any meal, especially with meat.

EULALIE MORAN.
2416 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

CORN FLAKE MACAROONS.
(Honorable Mention.)

2 egg whites, beaten
1 cup brown sugar, Sanitary
2 cups Kellogg's Corn Flakes, Sanitary Grocery
½ cup nut meats, chopped, M. B. Frazier
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat the egg whites until stiff and add a pinch of salt, then add the sugar gradually; then the vanilla, corn flakes and nut meats.

MRS. J. K. CHRISTMAS.
3700 R street northwest.

PUMPKIN PIE.
(Honorable Mention.)

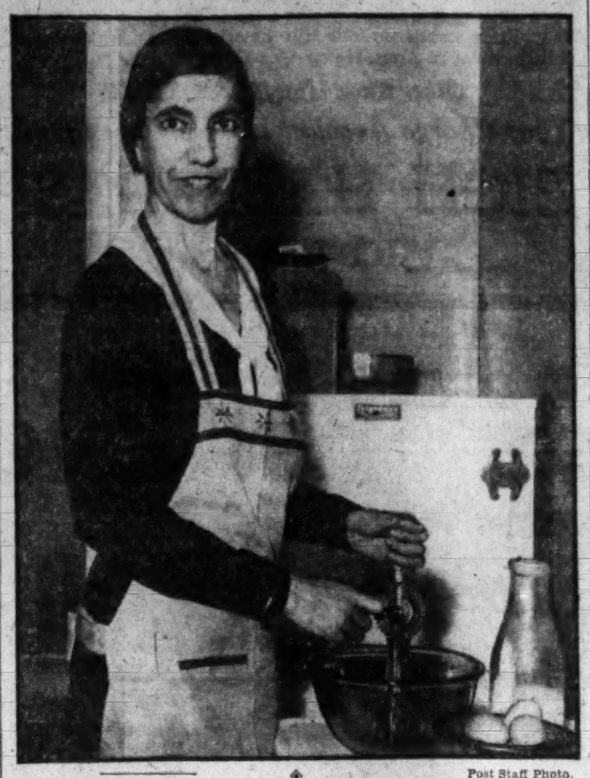
1 cup of sifted pumpkin
½ teaspoon of salt
1 salt spoon of mace
½ teaspoon of cinnamon
2-3 cup of sugar, Sanitary
1 egg, Sanitary
½ cup of scalded milk
½ cup of scalded cream, top of milk

Line a deep pie plate with plain paste made of Washington flour, combine the first four ingredients, beat the egg and mix with the sugar. Pour the scalded milk and cream into this slowly, combine with the pumpkin mixture and pour into pie. Bake about 30 minutes or until done.

Squash may be substituted for pumpkin. For sweet potato pie boil the potatoes and sift as for pumpkin.

Any of the above pies are delicious for Thanksgiving dinner and are not expensive. MRS. M. L. TURNER.
Berwyn, Md.

Maple Walnut Parfait Wins Mrs. Getchell Post Award



Post Staff Photo.

MRS. MYRON W. GETCHELL, apartment 802, 1631 S street northwest, whose recipe for "maple walnut parfait" wins The Post's weekly award of $5.

Delicacy Will Finish Off Multiple Course Dinner Nicely.

"Maple walnut parfait," something new in table delicacies, receives The Post award this week for the outstanding contribution in its weekly recipe contest.

To Mrs. Myron W. Getchell, apartment 802, 1631 S street northwest, who submitted the prize-winning recipe, goes the food page editor's award of $5.

This is just the dish you have been looking for to finish off that multiple-course dinner you have been planning for tomorrow for the week-end guests from out of town.

Mrs. Getchell gives you the choice of using whipped cream in preparing your dessert, or evaporated milk, which, you may not have known, whips to perfection when directions are carefully followed.

The recipe follows:

MAPLE WALNUT PARFAIT.
(Awarded $5.)

½ cup maple sirup.
2 egg yolks.
¼ teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon gelatin.
2 tablespoons cold water.
1 teaspoon vanilla extract.
1 cup whipping cream (or evaporated milk).
½ cup walnut meats (coarsely chopped).

Beat egg yolks slightly; add the salt and maple sirup and cook in a double boiler until the mixture coats the spoon. Add the gelatin, which has been soaked in the cold water for 5 minutes. Cool. Fold in the whipped cream (or whipped evaporated milk), vanilla and walnut meats. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze without stirring. When served, this may be garnished with chopped walnut meats. Serves six.

Note: To prepare evaporated milk for whipping, scald in top of double boiler for 10 minutes. Chill very thoroughly. When whipping, surround with ice.

Ingredients purchased at Sanitary Grocery Store.

MRS. MYRON W. GETCHELL.
Apt. 802, 1631 S st. nw.

This "accepted" seal denotes that Self-Rising Washington Flour (and advertisements for it) are acceptable to the committee on Food of the American Medical Association.

If you want to know how simple it is to have success in your baking use

Self-Rising Washington FLOUR

In the making of biscuits, waffles, shortcakes, muffins, doughnuts, pastries, etc., you will save a lot of time and worry by using Self-Rising Washington Flour, which comes ready mixed with the exactly correct proportions of the purest leavening phosphates so that no baking powder is required.

You have never used a flour so completely adapted to the facilities of your kitchen and so responsive to your personal recipes as self-rising Washington Flour.

For sale by grocers and delicatessens in all sizes from 2-lb. sacks up. Every sack of Self-Rising Washington Flour is guaranteed to give satisfaction or the purchase price will be refunded.

Wilkins-Rogers Milling Co.
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Nothing "peps" a real PARTY like LIVELY Pale Dry or Golden Ginger ALE

24-OZ. SIZE
4 Full Glasses
10c

TRY-ME Bottling Co.
1345 Florida Ave. N.E.

TURKEY COST LOWER FOR THANKSGIVING

Prices Will Be Average of 40 Cents Per Pound, Say Dealers.

The cost of Washington's Thanksgiving turkey should be between 38 and 45 cents per pound, according to local dealers in poultry. With the holiday less than a week away, some dealers predict that the price will not exceed 40 cents per pound, while others expect to put the Thanksgiving birds on the market for 38 cents. The very best turkey to be found should not cost more than 45 cents per pound.

"Depends on the weather," was the answer several poultrymen gave when asked their views on turkey prices. Shipments of turkeys into Washington have not been as plentiful this week as one might expect at this season, for the Indian summer temperatures of the early days of the week were not favorable to the shippers. Cooler, snappier weather before Thanksgiving should increase shipping and enlarge the local supply.

The best of Long Island ducks are to be available for the Thanksgiving dinner for 40 cents per pound. Chickens for roasting will cost not more than 40 cents per pound; frying chickens, 40 cents, and chickens for fricasseeing, 35 cens.

Fresh oysters for turkey dressing probably will cost from 60 to 70 cents per quart. Italian chestnuts for stuffing are priced at 15 cents for a pound. Cranberries retail for 20 cents per quart.

The cost of the turkey and its accompaniments is estimated to be slightly less than in 1930.

Doughnuts.

1 cup sugar
2 eggs
4 tablespoons Star lard
1 teaspoon mace
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup buttermilk or sour milk
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
About 4½ cups sifted flour

Cream Star lard, add sugar and eggs and beat well. Sift and mix the dry ingredients, add alternately with the milk. Mix well. Mixture should be just stiff enough to handle. Toss on floured board, roll ¼-inch thick. Let stand five minutes, then fry in deep hot Star lard at 370 degrees Fahrenheit (broad test—60 seconds). Yield: Three dozen doughnuts.

Chocolate doughnuts — Substitute ½ cup cacoa for ½ cup flour and 1 teaspoon vanilla for ½ teaspoon mace.

Lemon doughnuts—Omit mace and substitute grated rind of 1 lemon and 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Jelly filled doughnuts—Cut dough with biscuit cutter, moisten edges, place ½ to 1 teaspoon jelly in center of one round, cover with second round, pinch edges together securely, let stand on floured board 5 to 6 minutes before frying.

Chocolate Macaroons.

1½ cups rolled oats
¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons melted butter
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 ounces chocolate

Cream the sugar and butter. Add the eggs, salt and chocolate, which has been melted over hot water. Stir in the oats and baking powder, and when well mixed add the vanilla. Drop on a greased cookie pan, about 3 inches apart. Bake 15 minutes.

—SPECIAL—
BLACK WALNUT MEATS
Delivered 60c Pound.
M. B. Frazier
5626 Georgia ave. Georgia 4543.
Quality Nut Products.

39¢ SWING'S MESCO Coffee CUP TESTED
1013 E ST.

MARKET MEANDERINGS

MILDRED REED BUNDY.

Yellow pears with scarlet touches of ripeness are ready for Washington's Thanksgiving fruit basket, as are yellow apples, red apples, and the tiny, toylike lady apples, even if they do cost 50 cents for a dozen. Persian limes should show their clear green among the gorgeous apples, that is, Persian limes should be in the fruit basket if the cocktail mixers have spared them for decorative purposes only; kumquats, newly arrived, 25 cents per basket, should be included; also tangerines, deeply orange, and pomegranates, still more deeply orange-red, the ancient fruit used for so many hundreds of years before Thanksgiving Day came to be; and with grapes, red, purple and black grapes and the new, gracefully clustered long, slender, green grapes known as Lady Fingers, the fruit basket should be full and running over.

Fruit cake, made rich with honey, spices and nuts, has arrived in Washington from Nurnberg, Germany, in attractive gift packages. Incidentally, the cake is made by players from the Passion Play, who turn from dramatics to cakemaking for part of each year, it seems. There is room for wonder as to what effect one part of the players' year's work has on the other part. Perhaps one might be more devoutly thankful for his blessings if he eats cake made by such religious bakers.

Imported cranberries for the Thanksgiving table would be interesting in place of the domestic ones. From the Hartz Mountains of Germany come the foreign cranberries, costly because of their rarity, preserved in jars at 50 cents for a pound.

The search of the high quality markets of Washington does not reveal the probable source of the President's Thanksgiving piece de resistance. Then it behooves one to remember that when one is President, gifts—not purchases—of turkeys are all in the Thanksgiving presidential expectations and that it is not probable that any poultry dealer has the President's order until he knows whether or not his friends' admiration will take the form of turkeys. Anyway, all this wondering what the President is to have for Thanksgiving helped to unearth the fact that probably the largest turkey ever sold on the retail market weighed 27 pounds and was used at a dinner given by a Washingtonian in honor of Gen. Pershing.

Plummy mince meat, not only smelling of brandy but containing it, sells for 30 cents per pound at one market. Last year the same mincemeat is said to have sold for 40 cents per pound.

The services of a former salad chef of a leading New York hotel are available for the Washington housewife who would go marketing. He is now in charge of a high quality shop in a downtown market and is glad to give advice on the preparation of salad, salad dressings, canapes, relishes and other appealing dishes. He prepares salad dressings from his own recipes. High grade caviar, anchovy pastes, Parmesan cheese, West India gherkins, large black olives, stuffed oranges, fruits in brandy and other exotic foods are on his shelves. One recent order he filled for pate de fois gras amounted to $17.50. His shop is among those visited each week by home economics experts from the U. S. Department of Agriculture as they gather information for their radio broadcasting.

Thanksgiving is not such a dull period at the fish market as one might suppose in a week when the poultry business is booming. For oysters are fast sellers for holiday feasts. Then there are fish courses in the larger dinners and often choice fish is sold for the main course. Salmon steak is sometimes ordered for Thanksgiving, one dealer said.

Persian melons, looking like overgrown sisters of the cantaloupe, but superior in taste, sell for 75 cents this week on the local market.

Sturdy, heavily staved barrels containing peffernusse, or German peppernut cookies, have arrived in Washington for the holiday trade. On the lid of the quaint barrels is stamped a scene from the town where the cookies are made. A baker who has served the Washington market for 35 years is handling the German goodies, as well as gingerbread boys—and girls—and fat, spicy Kris Kringles—and fruit cake, rich and heavy, 50 cents per pound. The fruit cake is much like that usually sold for $1 per pound.

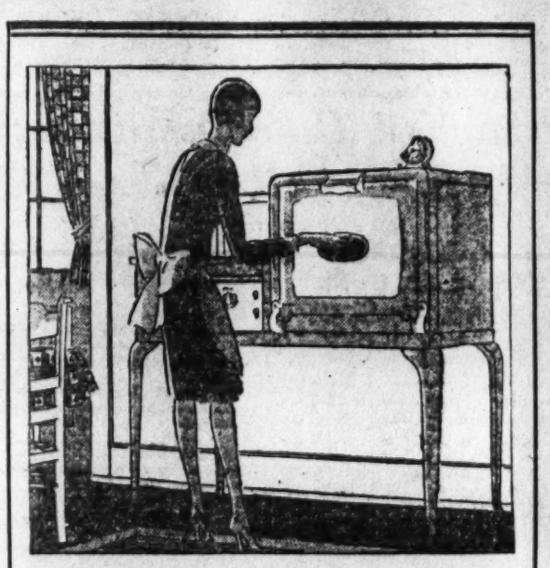
Mushrooms in the market places now have a cheerful little tag marked "35 cents per pound."

Help for the overworked housewife who does not have time to bake Thanksgiving pies is ready in the professionally baked pumpkin and mince pies at one downtown market for 20 cents or 40 cents, depending upon the size.

A Cold Dessert.

Pineapple Graham Charlotte—Beat two cups cream and add one-third cup confectioner's sugar. Add eight crushed graham crackers, the contents of a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple, slightly drained, and one-half cup crushed strawberries, canned or fresh. Pile lightly in tall glasses and chill for at least one hour.

Honestly Good
Sunbeam Whole Wheat Bread
SLICED
SCHNEIDER'S
Purina
WHOLE WHEAT BREAD
Charles Schneider Baking Co.



Electric Cookery Is Not Costly!

YOU use an electric vacuum cleaner costing fifty times the price of an old-fashioned broom.

You use an electric washer costing twenty-five times the price of an old-fashioned wash tub.

Long ago you cast aside coal oil lamps, sad irons and coffee pots.

Why continue being a slave to kitchen drudgery when you can cook electrically the modern way for merely a few pennies a day?

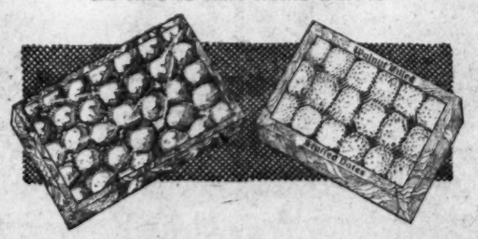
Let your electrical dealer tell you what it would cost you to cook electrically in your home. There will be no obligation whatever.

POTOMAC ELECTRIC POWER CO.
"Matchless Service"

CANDY TREAT

A pound box of Mammy Lou Butter Creams and a pound box of Mammy Lou Walnut Stuffed Dates.....both for 69c

"Be sure to take home a treat"



A Pound Box of Mammy Lou Butter Creams
Tempting mellow butter creams made of pure creamy butter and dipped in mild, smooth bittersweet chocolate.

And a Pound Box of Walnut Meat Stuffed Dates
Large, fresh dates stuffed with tempting, tasty walnut meat kernels. A wholesome and delectable confection for the whole family.

Both for 69c

Two Pounds of Pure Fresh Candies at This Special Price

Just for Today

All Over Town PEOPLES DRUG STORES The Better to Serve You

LOW PRICE LEADERS — SANITARY GROCERY CO. (INC.) — WHERE QUALITY COUNTS
ALSO OWNING AND OPERATING
PIGGLY WIGGLY
These Prices Prevail in Washington and Vicinity — These Prices Prevail in Washington and Vicinity

12,000 Jumbo Fruit Cake Samples at 15c Each This Week-End!

Just to introduce this cake to our patrons we make this sales promotion offering.

Each of these samples weighs approximately one-half pound . . . we believe if you try a sample you'll be back for one or more cakes for Thanksgiving.

Jumbo Fruit Cakes weigh two (2) pounds and sell for 69c.

SILVER SLICE	GRAPE FRUIT	2 cans	23c
	SANICO GRAPE JUICE	qt.	25c
SILVER FLOSS	SAUER KRAUT	Large Cans 3 cans	25c
	TRIPOLI CHICKEN AND NOODLE DINNER	2 jars	65c
	SANICO PEKOE & ORANGE PEKOE TEA	¼ lb. tin	16c
	LUX TOILET SOAP	3 cakes	20c
	LIFE BUOY SOAP	4 cakes	25c
	LUX	3 Small Pkgs. 25c	Large Package 23c
	RINSO	3 Small Pkgs. 25c	Large Pkg. 20c
	TODDY		Half Pound Can 19c
	SCHLITZ BREW	6 bottles	48c
Fruits and Vegetables	TOMATOES	2 lb.	25c
	LETTUCE	2 heads	19c
	DAHO POTATOES	10 lbs.	27c
	15 ORANGES AT THE PRICE OF A DOZEN
	LAND O'LAKES SWEET CREAM BUTTER	lb.	43c
	SANITARY BUTTER	lb.	39c

Try—Pound Country Style Roll

JUMBO BUTTER
. . . Fancy Fresh Creamery . . .
Pound Roll 37c 2 for 73c

OUR FAMOUS	GREEN BAG COFFEE	lb.	25c
	SANITARY SPECIAL COFFEE	lb.	17c
IN OUR MEAT MARKETS	LEG OF LAMB	lb.	21c
	FRESH KILLED FRYING CHICKENS	lb.	29c
	FRESH HAMS	lb.	15c
	MELROSE BACON	½ lb. pkg.	13c
	MOTT'S CIDER Bottled in useful water bottle patented cap	½ gal.	29c
	SANICO ALL PURPOSE FLOUR	12 lb. bag	35c

PETER'S MILK CHOCOLATE ½ lb. bar 17c 2 for 33c

SCHINDLER'S SALTED PEANUTS lb. pkg. 23c 2 for 45c

SEALECT MILK	4 cans	25c
BRIDGE COOKIES	pkg.	10c
JUMBO BREAD	pound loaf	5c
SANICO SHOE PEG CORN	NOW!	10c
TOP NOTCH TINY PEAS	can	19c
POST TOASTIES	3 pkgs.	20c
HUNT'S SUPREME ROYAL ANNE CHERRIES	large can	25c

DEATH OF M'QUADE FOUND ACCIDENTAL

Funeral of Banker Will Be Held at St. Thomas Apostle Today.

A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday in the death of Edward J. McQuade, president of the Liberty National Bank, by Coroner James M. Fenton, of Baltimore. Mr. McQuade lost his life in a 37-story fall from the Baltimore Trust Co. Building Thursday afternoon.

The funeral will be held at St. Thomas' Apostle Church, Twenty-seventh street and Woodley road, at 10 o'clock this morning.

The active pallbearers will be Thomas P. Brown, Isaac E. Shoemaker, George O. Vass, Lanier P. McLachlen, Wilmer J. Waller and Christopher H. Pope.

The honorary pallbearers will be Robert V. Fleming, John Poole, Corcoran Thom, William D. Hoover, George W. White, Victor B. Deyber, James O'Donnell, Paul E. Johnson, Francis G. Addison, jr., Joshua Evans, jr., Clyde B. Asher, Lennard H. Mitchell, Albert S. Gatley, Brig. Gen. C. W. Kutz, Maurice Otterback, John M. Riordon, Harry H. McKee, Frank J. Stryker, Claude H. Woodward, John B. Cochran, Edward L. Hillyer, George L. Starkey, Harry G. Meems, Elwood W. McIntire and Frederick D. McKenney.

Officials of the bank yesterday issued the following statement:

"The Liberty National Bank has suffered a great loss through the death of its president, Edward J. McQuade. He had been associated with the bank for 15 years serving as cashier, vice president and president. During those years he served the institution with untiring fidelity and was largely responsible for its growth and the position in the banking fraternity which it now occupies. The strength and security of the Liberty National Bank were always his first thought. He leaves it in an enviable position and has set the highest standard of integrity for his successors.

"In behalf of the directors and myself I wish to express our appreciation of the many messages of sympathy which have been received."

The following members of the District of Columbia Bar Association have been named a committee to represent the association at the funeral of Mr. McQuade:

Frederic B. McKinney, Thomas P. Littlepage, Sidney F. Taliaferro, Glenn Willett, Hayden Johnson, Raymond B. Dickey, Tracy L. Jeffords, E. S. Brashears and Herbert S. Ward.

Edward J. Morton Burial Tomorrow

Retired Treasury Worker Is Survived by Widow and Two Sons.

Edward J. Morton, colored, who died yesterday at his residence, 1023 Irving street northwest, will be buried tomorrow from the Nineteenth Street Baptist Church at 1 o'clock, the Rev. Walter H. Brooks officiating. He was born in Macon, Miss., in 1858 and taught school there before coming to Washington in 1890 as a clerk in the Postoffice Department.

A few years ago he was transferred to the Treasury Department, where he retired because of illness in August, 1928. He was for many years the most prominent layman of the Nineteenth Street Baptist congregation, serving as chairman of the church trustee board, superintendent of the Sunday school and head of the board of deacons.

He was also interested in development of the Twelfth Street Branch, Young Men's Christian Association, serving as president of the organization which broke ground for erection of the present building when President Roosevelt made the principal address.

He is survived by his widow, Mattie Shelton Morton; a son, Ferdinand Q. Morton, New York civil service commissioner and head of the Negro unit of Tammany Hall, and Fred R. Morton, attached to the State Board of Health of Virginia.

Rev. J. M. Waldron Succumbs at Home

Retired Capital Pastor to Be Buried Monday; Was Ill Long Time.

The Rev. J. Milton Waldron, who retired as pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church, Ninth and P streets northwest, two years ago, following 22 years' services there, died yesterday at his residence, 1344 V street northwest, following a long illness. He was a native of Lynchburg, Va.

He was ordained into the Baptist ministry at the Berean Baptist Church, Eleventh and V streets northwest, where he served as pastor two years, going thence to Jacksonville, Fla. From there he came to the Shiloh Baptist Church, later purchasing the Ninth street church.

He was prominent in organization and development here of the Alley Improvement Association and the Home Improvement Association, and the Samuel G. Miller Bible College, which later developed into Freilinghuysen University. He is survived by his widow, Martha M. Waldron; his father, Isaac Waldron, and several brothers and sisters. Funeral services will be held at the Shiloh Baptist Church at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, the Rev. E. L. Harrison officiating.

Railway Gives Warning Of Counterfeit Checks

Warning of the possible appearance here of bogus Southern Railway checks was given to local merchants last night in a telegram from the headquarters of the railroad at Atlanta after a cleverly copied facsimile of the company's check was passed on a Knoxville (Tenn.) merchant.

The Knoxville affair has led Southern Railway detectives to believe that a wholesale attempt may be made to pass the checks. Photographic copies of the counterfeit check have been made available to merchants' associations in a number of cities, with notations indicating the careful printing, countersigning and numbering in the imitation of bona fide checks of the company.

Montgomery Club Leader Succumbs

Mrs. W. E. Perry, Member of School Board, Dies in Operation.

Funeral services for Mrs. Walter Early Perry, of Bethesda, member of the Montgomery County Board of Education and prominent clubwoman, will be tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence on Old Georgetown road near Edgemoor, Md. Burial will be in Monocacy Cemetery, Beallsville. Mrs. Perry died early yesterday at Georgetown Hospital following an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Perry was the wife of Walter Early Perry, Bethesda merchant and real estate dealer. Prior to her marriage she was Miss Sallie Fontaine, of the Eastern Shore, and came from one of the oldest families of the State. She numbered among her ancestors one of the colonial governors of Maryland. She was 50 years old.

Mrs. Perry was a member of the board of education eight years, an active worker in the Presbyterian Church at Bethesda, member of the Bethesda Woman's Club, the Newcomb Club of Bethesda and the Democratic Women's Club. Surviving are her husband, two brothers and three sisters and niece, who lived with her. Dr. Benjamin C. Perry, former president of the Montgomery County commissioners, and Thomas W. Perry, merchant, are brothers of her husband.

3 DIE AND 10 HURT IN BLAST ON TANKER

Explosions Occur as Gasoline Hose Line Breaks at Dock in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Three men were killed, ten were injured and one is missing as the result of two explosions on the Standard Oil Co. of California's tanker Charlie Watson at the company's docks here today. The explosions and the fire that followed wrecked the ship.

The dead: B. C. Rippy, chief mate, Richmond, Calif., a native of Liberty, S. C.; J. Cannon, third mate, Point Richmond, Calif., and H. Jorgenson, pumpman, San Francisco.

Missing: J. L. Clark, first assistant engineer, Oakland, Calif.

The explosions occurred shortly before noon. Most of the 30 members of the crew were in the dining salon. The ship had picked up gasoline at Richmond, Calif.

A metal hose was delivering gasoline to tanks ashore. Suddenly Capt. Oscar Landdahl, who was talking to a civilian at the rear of the boat, and Rippy, noticed that the hose line had broken. The captain and mate shouted and started to run. There was a terrific explosion. Many of the crew jumped overboard, either onto the wharf or into the water.

As men in the dining salon rushed for exits, a second explosion started a fire. It had not been determined what caused the explosions, but firemen believed that a spark or friction may have been the cause. The central part of the vessel was burned or torn away.

A few of the less seriously injured were treated at the scene. Others, including the captain, were treated at emergency hospitals.

Because of the excitement, first reports had some of the injured listed among the dead and had some men trapped in the engine room. Police and firemen discovered, however, there were no men trapped.

The Charlie Watson has a net tonnage of 1,769. It is 250 feet long, 37 feet of beam and 21 feet deep. It was built in 1920 by the Union Construction Co., of Oakland, Calif. San Francisco is its home port.

Herbert Shepard Rites Set Today

Retired Treasury Employe Will Be Buried in Glenwood.

Funeral services will be held today at 2 o'clock for Herbert L. Shepard, 86 years old, retired employe of the Treasury Department. Masonic rites will be in charge of members of Benjamin B. French Lodge, No. 15, F. A. A. M. Mr. Shepard had been a member of the lodge since 1890. The services will be held from the parlors of Almus R. Speare, 1623 Connecticut avenue northwest, and interment will be in Glenwood Cemtery.

Mr. Shepard was a veteran of the Civil War, having enlisted from his native State of Massachusetts in the First Massachusetts Cavalry at the age of 16. He served throughout the conflict and was severely wounded at the battle of Albie. He was appointed to the War Department in Washington after the end of hostilities.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice W. Shepard; three sons, Herbert Schuyler and Edward W. Shepard, Washington patent attorneys, and Ralph A. Shepard, and a daughter, Harriett L. Shepard, also of Washington.

RITES FOR JOHN F. HEINSOHN

Naval Aviator Given Military Honors at Burial in Arlington.

Funeral service was held at Arlington Chapel yesterday for John F. Heinsohn, naval aviator and World War veteran. Chaplain Evans, of the Navy, officiated. Interment was in the National Cemetery, with full military honors.

Former associates of Heinsohn at the Naval Air Station at Hampton Roads, Va., acted as passbearers. They included B. C. Sherrill, M. B. Sullivan, M. F. Walsh, P. J. Rosch, G. L. Barkley, and B. E. Barnes.

Power Official to Build Virginia Country Estate

Winchester, Va., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—George Melville Moore, treasurer of a New York electric light and power company, has acquired a tract of 160 acres of land in the Blue Ridge Mountains near Castleman's Ferry, Clarke County, where he will erect a large country residence, it was announced here today.

The property was purchased from H. C. Getzendanneru, of Charles Town, W. Va. The house will be erected on one of the highest bluffs of the Blue Ridge range and will overlook the Shenandoah Valley and River. Mr. Moore is a son of the late Col. Lewis T. Moore, Winchester lawyer and Confederate officer.

MEMPHIS IS CHOSEN FOR U. D. C. SESSION

Virginia Women Awarded Prizes for Esays on War Subjects.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Selection of Memphis as the 1932 convention city and reading of reports occupied today's entire session of the thirty-eighth annual gathering of the United Daughters of the Confederacy here.

One of the high lights of today's meeting was the voluntary subscription by States of several thousand dollars to a benevolent fund to be distributed among aged women of the confederacy for whom there has been no other financial provision. Twenty-three States participated in raising this fund.

A dance at the Yacht Club tonight, honoring pages of the convention, was one of the brilliant social functions of the season. Banners, prizes and medals were awarded at the convention today.

The Thomas D. Osborne Cup, offered by Mrs. John L. Woodbury, for the best poem founded on some incident of the War Between the States, was won by Phronsie Irene Marsh, Lynchburg, Va.

The Hyde-Campbell Cup for the best essay on the "pre-war Statesmanship of Jefferson Davis," was won by Mrs. William Cabell Flournoy, Lexington, Va.

The Martha Washington house medal, for the best essay on "Alexander Stephens," vice president of the Confederacy, was won by Miss Louise Gills, Appomattox, Va.

The Anna Robinson Andrews medal, for the best essay on Southern Newspapers During the War Between the States," was won by Mrs. William Cabell Flournoy, Lexington, Va.

Col. Jewell Dies At Army Hospital

Coast Artillery Officer at Walter Reed for More Than Year.

Col. Frank C. Jewell, United States Coast Artillery, died yesterday at Walter Reed Hospital after a lingering illness. He had been a patient of the hospital for more than a year, being sent to Washington from Fort McPherson, Ga., his last post. Col. Jewell had formerly served in Washington in his 32 years as an Army officer.

The officer was a native of Chicago. He was graduated from West Point in 1899 and served in the Spanish-American and World Wars. In the World War he commanded the railway artillery reserve of the First Army in the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

Col. Jewell is survived by his wife, who was at his bedside at his death. Funeral services have not been announced.

Mt. Pleasant Forum To Hear About Russia

Economic conditions in Russia will be described by Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, an economist on the staff of the Federal Farm Board, at the session of the Adult Forum of the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

In his address Dr. Ezekiel will refer particularly to the reasons for the adoption of the Soviet Republic's Five Year Plan, the probability of its success or failure, the results expected to be accomplished, and its effect on the commerce and trade of other countries.

Healing Service Tuesday.

The next service of the St. Stephen Healing Mission will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Church of St. Stephen and the Incarnation, Sixteenth and Newton streets northwest.

RULING ON TAXICAB PARKING DEFERRED

Commissioners See Court Delay as Obstacle to New Law.

Because of the indefinite postponement yesterday of the taxicab concession case by Judge Ralph Given in Police Court, District officials expressed the fear that the issue might not be determined in time to permit the introduction of new legislation if the contention of the District Commissioners is not upheld.

Upon instruction of the Commissioners, Corporation Counsel William W. Bride several weeks ago brought action against the Black & White Taxicab Co. and the Mayflower Taxicab Co. for failure to operate with hackers' license tags while serving the Willard and Washington Hotels and the Mayflower Hotel, respectively.

The Commissioners have previously tried to prevent taxicab companies from parking on the streets adjacent to the hotels where no hacking stands have been established, but they have lost the issue in court. Recent appellate court decisions, however, have encouraged them in the belief that the practice now can be stopped.

At one time contracts with the taxicab companies netted the hotels a large revenue, but this has been considerably reduced by the drop in taxicab rates of fare.

Client of Wheeler Set Fee by Court

Services of Senator in Lawrence Strike Case Not Needed.

Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—United States Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, stood in Lawrence district court today prepared to champion what he described as the "civil liberties of the people," but his services were not required.

Judge Frederic N. Chandler, acting upon police recommendations, dismissed charges of intimidation and loitering against David M. Miles, of Boston, Wheeler's friend and client.

Before leaving Lawrence to visit his birthplace in Hudson, Mass., the senator expressed satisfaction over the outcome of the case.

"I am pleased that they admitted that they were wrong," he said, "for, as you know, a request for dismissal is an admission that they were wrong."

Virginia Farmers' Plea Goes to Hyde

Seed Loan Director Is to Submit Relief Plan of Legislators.

(Associated Press.)

Further conferences will be held regarding the plight of the Virginia tobacco farmer and how the Government can aid him by delaying collection of seed loans.

G. L. Hoffman, director of the seed loan office, told Senator Swanson and Representative Burch yesterday that he would discuss with Secretary Hyde on Monday their proposal that a general policy be adopted for collecting loans.

Informing Director Hoffman that low tobacco prices have caused the Virginia farmers acute distress, the Virginia senator and representative asked that a general rule be laid down whereby a specified percentage of the farmers' returns would be applied toward the loans. Mr. Burch suggested that not more than half of the total amount received by farmers from their tobacco be required by the Government on the loans.

Planes Will Be Fumigated To Keep Yellow Fever Out

Air Transport Companies Agree to Take Precaution When Public Health Service Proves Tropical Mosquitoes Can "Steal Rides" to States.

(Associated Press.)

Air transport companies have given assurance of willingness to fumigate planes from tropical ports to obviate what the Public Health Service last night called "a recognized potential danger" of infection-bearing mosquitoes being flown to these shores.

The Federal health agency disclosed in an official report that it has proved the species of pest that transmit yellow fever can be, and sometimes are, brought from the tropics by airplane. There need be no danger of a yellow fever invasion through mosquitoes, however, the report continued, because airplanes can easily be fumigated at points of departure and arrival to kill all insects. Cooperation to keep the pests from being transported has been promised.

Twenty-nine mosquitoes were captured on airplanes arriving in the United States between July 23 and September 12 by Public Health Service officers, it was stated. Forty mosquitoes, marked with yellow stain, were put aboard a plane at San Juan, Porto Rico, and thirteen still were aboard when the plane reached Miami, Fla.

The danger of importing the disease by air is greatly minimized, however, by the fact that no yellow fever is known to exist farther north than South America.

Proposed regulations drawn up by the International Office of Public Hygiene, which regulates public health matters of international interest, provide an additional safeguard against yellow fever reaching the United States by air. These provide that all airports of airplane companies operating from one country to another must be surrounded by a mosquito-free zone.

The report says:

"With the relatively small number of mosquitoes carried by aircraft and the facility with which airplanes may be freed from mosquitoes at ports of departure, it may safely be concluded that, while there is a recognized potential danger, there is no obstacle to the efficient treatment of airplanes so as to destroy mosquitoes and avoid retardation of air traffic progress."

SALTZ BROTHERS
Fine Apparel for Gentlemen
1341 F STREET, N.W.

The 3 Hats illustrated and described in the P. A. Ad may be selected from our large and varied stocks at $5 $7 $10

SHOPS AT UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA AND UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Raleigh Haberdasher Places on Sale Today

FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE BEFORE THE WORLD WAR

KNOX HATS $5

NOW all those who appreciate the significance of the KNOX label may now wear this famous hat . . . Familiarity with Knox standards tells why 23 of the Presidents of our Republic have worn Knox Hats. Get Yours Today.

Other Knox Hats, $7, $10, $20, $40

Use Your Charge Account Here or Open One Today

RALEIGH HABERDASHER
1310 F Street

3 Hats That Everyone with P.A. (PERSONAL APPEARANCE) Will Wear This Fall and Winter

HAVE at least 3 hats this Fall and Winter and be smartly dressed for every occasion. Wear the snap brim for motoring and the least informal of business occasions. Wear the welt edge for more important events. Wear the Derby for evening and as contrast with the other two during the day. You'll be surprised how economical this "3 hat" plan is. Try it!

Read the Men's Apparel Advertisements in

The Washington Post
The Capital's Greatest NEWSpaper

P.A. Registered Trade Mark—Entire Contents Copyrighted

MEANS IS RELEASED AS WIFE GIVES BOND

Investigator Faces Charge of Assaulting Officer at Family Quarrel.

Gaston B. Means, former Department of Justice operative, yesterday was released on $600 cash collateral from the Bethesda Substation of the Montgomery County Police, where he was taken Thursday night on charges of assaulting an officer and disorderly conduct. The collateral was produced by his wife yesterday after he had spent the night in the cell room.

County Policemen Webb Hersperger and Thomas DeNell went to the Means home, on Leland street, in Chevy Chase, Md., about 10 o'clock Thursday night in response to a telephone call that said that Means was beating his wife and had threatened to kill her. They found the couple in the midst of a quarrel, police said, and the two policemen attempted to pacify Means. The former agent struck his wife while the policemen were there, they said, and when Hersperger remonstrated, struck the policeman, knocking him down.

Following the assault on the policeman, Means was taken to the substation and charged in warrants sworn out before Justice of the Peace Van Court, who set the date for trial in Rockville police court for Saturday.

Means has had a checkered career as an investigator, his name having appeared in several investigations which attracted Nation-wide attention. He served terms in the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law and for alleged mail fraud in the Craeger Glass Casket Co. case. He is understood to have been engaged in private investigation work recently.

Bethesda police say that they have been called to the Means home on a number of occasions to quiet him, the complaint usually coming from nearby residents. Ordinarily, they have quieted the quarrel and made no arrest, but in this case an officer had been assaulted, and it was not deemed good precedent to permit it to pass unchallenged.

Parent-Teacher Group Fills Two Vacant Jobs

Henry Clay Parent-Teacher Association, meeting at the school in Lyon Park last night, elected Mrs. Davis vice president and chairman of the executive committee to fill a vacancy caused by resignation of Mrs. W. W. Frances. Mrs. Norman Sims was named secretary to succeed Mrs. William C. Dunkel.

Arrangements were discussed for a luncheon party to be given in Washington, December 15, to raise funds for the association's treasury. Mrs. E. E. Carver, vice president of the Virginia State Parent-Teacher Association, addressed the meeting.

Billboard Tax Row Looms in Assembly

Arlington Delegate Will Push Measure for Cutting Deficit.

A spirited fight is expected in the next General Assembly when Delegate Hugh Reid, of Arlington County, seeks the imposition of a substantial tax on billboards as a way to overcome the present shortage of revenue.

Reid stated yesterday that State officials are studying a plan to gain a new source of taxation to meet the present deficit and he believes the time is opportune to improve sufficient taxes on billboards to eliminate the smaller ones and turn the larger ones into substantial sources of revenue.

The State is building roads and thereby supplying display space for the billboards, Reid declared, and he sees no reason why they should not pay for the privilege. The billboard interests, it was pointed out, had strong support in the House of Delegates at its last session and it is expected that considerable support will be found at the coming session. Reid, however, will have the support of a large number of civic organizations that are striving to eliminate the billboards altogether.

TaylorNamed Head Of McLean League

School and Civic Group Has Annual Election of Its Officers.

Kirby W. Taylor was elected president of the McLean School and Civic League at a recent meeting. J. H. Beattie was elected first vice president, J. Hunter Mack, second vice president; R. C. Cline, recording secretary; John Payne, treasurer; Mrs. L. V. Faidley, corresponding secretary, and R. R. Sherman, custodian of school property.

The landscaping plans for the school grounds, as prepared by Furman L. Mulford, of the United States Department of Agriculture, were approved by the members and John Payne, chairman of the landscape committee, was authorized to have the work started immediately.

The league voted to have six street lights installed, four along Chain Bridge Highway, one on Ingleside road and one in froht of the Baptist Church, in the town.

School Apple Fund Now $425.

Capt. T. M. Hamilton, in charge of the campaign to raise funds for the purchase of apples to be distributed at the lunch hour in the Alexandria public schools, has announced that the amount has reached $425, and the campaign will close on December 1. The apples now are being distributed.

Constable-Witness Leaves Court for Wedding License

Silver Spring Officer Keeps His Secret as Assault Case of Washington Man He Captured Is Tried at Rockville.

While brother officers in Circuit Court upstairs were telling how he caught an alleged holdup man, Constable Lee W. Jones, of Silver Spring quietly slipped downstairs and obtained a wedding license yesterday from William Wiley, license clerk at the Rockville Md., courthouse. The bride-to-be is Miss Etta Lucille Tucker, 1001 Monroe street northwest.

Constable Jones had testified in the trial of Alfred Aquilino, 17, of Washington, who was charged with assault with intent to murder and with assault to rob and simple assault, in Circuit Court. He captured the youth after an extended chase through Northwest Washington in the course of which the youth is alleged to have intimidated two taxi drivers into carrying him.

Aquilino is alleged to have entered a sanitarium of Dr. Nathan Springer near Forest Glen, Md., and to have attempted to force the doctor to refund $100 paid for treatment by the youth's father who had not stayed out the course. He is alleged to have fired a pistol at Wallace Wright, of Washington, dinner guest at the sanitarium, who attempted to head him off.

Aquilino did not take the stand, but his attorneys, Peter & Simpson, of Rockville, cited to Judge Robert B. Peter and Arthur D. Willard several cases in which it had been held that a man recovering a debt with force of arms could not be charged with assault to rob, and contended that the shot fired at Wright was in self-defense.

The judges withheld decision. They intimated it would not be made known for several weeks.

Constable Jones kept secret the fact of his wedding license, not even telling his brother, Sergt. Guy L. Jones, commander of the Silver Spring substation, who also testified at the trial. The bride to be last night confided to a reporter of The Post that the wedding is to be staged tonight before a Methodist minister, but declined to say where. Miss Tucker, an employe of Kann's Department Store, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Tucker, of Colfax, N. C. The couple will reside in Silver Spring.

CAROLINA FUGITIVES CAUGHT IN FAIRFAX

Posse Surprises 3 Garage Owners, Alleged Kidnapers and Robbers.

Three men, said to be wanted in North Carolina on serious charges, were arrested in Fairfax County yesterday. The three were arrested by Sheriff E. P. Kirby, Deputy Sheriffs Henry Magarity and Vernon Cockrell, of Fairfax County, and Sheriff L. E. Brown and Deputies Love Gudger and Cecil Buckner, of Asheville, in a garage at Colvin Run, Va., after an all-night surveillance.

The men were Tom Emory, Will Emory and Melvin Kagle, said to be escaped convicts from the North Carolina chain-gangs, who embarked on an extensive life of outlawry in North Carolina and other sections of the South and East.

The three men came to Fairfax County about six months ago and opened a garage, which, police say, was used as headquarters for the gang. The men were traced by a license number noted in the course of a robbery in North Carolina, which was traced to the three men operating the garage.

The men were wanted in North Carolina on charges of kidnaping an 8-year-old girl and a 9-year-old boy. The girl was released when they feared pursuit and the boy was locked in a barn, where he was not found for several days.

The policemen waited outside of the garage almost all night until early yesterday morning waiting a chance to catch the men off guard. They finally found the trio in a position where they could not get to weapons and closed in on them with drawn guns.

The three men waived extradition and were returned to North Carolina immediately.

They are alleged to have escaped from the chain gang about four years ago. Posses searching for the men found evidence that the men had lived in caves for several months after their escape.

11 Masonic Lodges Hold Joint Session

Special Meeting of Virginia Groups Is Conducted in Alexandria.

A special Masonic meeting was held on Thursday night in the Alexandria Elks' Lodge room, on the date of the regular communication of Andrew Jackson Lodge No. 120, and was presided over by the master of that lodge, Riley W. Nixon, assisted by Alexandria-Washington Lodge No. 22, and Henry Knox Field Lodge No. 349.

Harry K. Green, Deputy Grand Master in Virginia, was a speaker at the session, also Earl D. Sanders, District Deputy Grand Master of District No. 54; and Macon Ware, District Deputy Grand Master of district No. 1.

Eleven lodges were represented as follows: Alexandria-Washington, No. 22; Andrew Jackson, No. 120; Henry Knox Field, No 349, all of Alexandria; Kemper No. 64, Falls Church; Occoquan No. 310; John A. Lejeune, No. 354, Quantico; Cherrydale No. 42; Henry No. 57, Fairfax; Columbia No. 285, Clarendon; Sharon No. 327, McLean; and Concord No.307, Vienna.

Old Dominion Commandery, Knights Templar, No. 11, conferred the Order of Red Cross last night at the regular conclave, presided over by Commander R. Samuel Luckett.

Garroted Girl's Husband Given Freedom byPolice

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Dudley Doyle, arrested Monday in connection with the garroting of his wife, Marie, 17, was released by police today on his own recognizance.

Police failed to connect him with the killing and the time limit for detaining him expired yesterday. Parents of the slain girl conferred with police today, but aside from the fact that she left her home in Bellaire, Ohio, last Friday, ostensibly to keep an appointment with her estranged husband they gave little information of value.

SCHOOLS PUBLISH PAPERS IN FAIRFAX

Broadcast Issued by Pupils of Herndon; Emily Day Is Editor in Chief.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST,
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Fairfax 166.

The students of the high schools in Fairfax County are issuing a monthly school paper. The first issues have appeared recently and the editorial staffs in charge of the school news are as follows:

The Broadcast, issued by the pupils of the high school at Herndon are: Emily Day, editor in chief; Bettie Brown, assistant editor; Culver Gates, business manager; Mary Peck and Hazel Miller, assistant business managers; Sara Jane Hutchison, news editor; Katherine Groome, Isabel Bates and Joseph Linkins, assistant news editors; Roy Tate, sports, with Mabel McLaren, assistant; Virginia Thompson, society, with Sara Ellen Dawson, assistant; Emilie Robb, cartoonist, with Mary McCarty, assistant; Nellie Kidwell, circulation manager, with Ruth McGuire and Mildred Arnold as assistants.

The "Hilltop News," issued by the pupils of the high school at Clifton, are Lola Wells, editor in chief; Helen Buckley, assistant editor; Virginia Buckley, literary editor; Edith Skinner, news editor; Lucille Johnson, Louise Koonts, Thomas Mahoney and Winter Hampton, art editors; Harry Buckley, joke editor; Louise Koontz and William Van Dornes, sports; Winter Hampton, cartoonist; James Mahoney, business manager; Edith skinner, corresponding editor, and Catherine Maley, advertising. Class reporters are Ralph Taylor, seniors; Helen Buckley, juniors; Bernice Godfrey, sophomores; Ruth Chesley, freshmen; Marie Brack, seventh grade; Thomas Kincheloe, sixth grade; May Wells, fifth grade; Nellie Mathers, fourth grade; Joseph Robrecht, third grade.

Donkey Tales, the paper of the Lee-Jackson High School, has Betty Lynch, editor in chief; Virginia Dean, assistant editor; Marian Daniels, literary editor; Barbara Smith, Mary Reid, Patricia Corson, art editors; Irene Much and William Adkins, sports; Florence Carter, Emma O'Neil, Elizabeth Ballinger and Madeleine Clarke, news editors. Florine Carter, exchange editor; Beatrice Wise and Harry Carrico, wit editors; Hobert Sublett, business manager; Dudley Webb, advertising; James Bladen and Audrey Dean, circulation. The class reporters, Frances Reid, seniors; William Lewis, juniors; Clara Ernest, sophomores; Vivian Dean, freshmen, and Frances Norton and Marian Saum, grades.

Oak Leaves, the high school paper at Oakton, has Irene Manvell and Frances Myers, editors in chief; Frances Davis and Stella Fox, literary editors; Jena Ritchie, art editor; Lucy Waple and Alice Poole, news editors; Thelma Pearson and Charles Thompson, sports; Mayo Stuntz, joke editor; Marcel Pfalzgraf, business manager, with Bruce McClure as assistant. Stanley Dove and Charles Thompson, printers.

Hyattsville Charities Plan "Get-Together"

A "get-together" tea was held yesterday by members of the Associated Charities of Hyattsville, to discuss informally plans for relief work during the coming winter.

The tea was held in a store on Rhode Island avenue whose use was given to the body by George B. Furman. The tea committee was headed by Judge Retta D. Morris, who is president of the group.

Washington-Lee Picks School Group Delegate

The executive committee of the Parent-Teacher Association of Washington-Lee High School has appointed Mrs. Clarence E. Simmons a delegate to the Arlington County Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations.

J. E. Rice was appointed chairman of the finance and budget committee, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Millicent Maxey. Mrs. Edith Rogers was appointed chairman of the publicity committee.

Physical Training Need Described to P.-T. A.

W. A. Richardson, physical training director in the Arlington County public schools, spoke on the necessity of proper training for boys and girls, at the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Stonewall Jackson School last night.

The association authorized the purchase of first aid equipment, music books and additional furnishing for the kitchen.

Ballston Fire Auxiliary Meets.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Ballston Volunteer Fire Department, at its monthly meeting held at the firemen's hall yesterday, voted to conduct an extensive membership campaign. The December meeting has been changed to the third Thursday.

HOME NEEDS URGED FOR CLERKS' FUNDS

Arlington, Fairfax Groups Vote to Apply Donations to Own Jobless.

ARLINGTON COUNTY,
BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 809. Clarendon, Va.

Representative citizens of Arlington and Fairfax Counties, meeting in the rooms of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce last night with Harry A. Fellows, who has been appointed county chairman of unemployment by Gov. John G. Pollard's State committee, voted that the funds derived from the contributions of Federal employes over a period of three months be turned over to the superintendents of public welfare of the two counties for distribution.

In support of this action a determined effort was inaugurated by the group to have the contributions of Arlington and Fairfax Counties, and also of the City of Alexandria, by Federal employes for unemployment, diverted to the section in which the employe resides.

Mrs. Eleanor Aud, superintendent of public welfare of Fairfax County, and Mrs. Mae E. Jacobs, superintendent of public welfare in Arlington County, attended the meeting.

The secretary, Hugh McGrath, was instructed to communicate the action taken to Thomas E. Campbell, chairman of President Hoover's committee for assisting in the emergency resulting from unemployment.

Dr. Smithey to Begin Teachers' Course Today

Dr. William R. Smithey, professor of secondary education at the University of Virginia, will open an extension class on problems of teaching at the Washington Lee High School today, according to an announcement made yesterday by the principal, S. P. Vanderslice.

The course will consist of fifteen lectures. Up to yesterday 62 teachers had enrolled to which number Mr. Vanderslice expected many additions.

$250,000 Death Claims Based on Horse's Kick

Special to The Washington Post.

Frederick, Md. Nov. 20.—Two suits, each for $125,000 damages, have been filed in the circuit court here against the Southern Maryland Agricultural Association, owner of the Bowie Race Track, and H. L. Brann, of New York, and R. D. Castle, Walkersville, copartners, trading as the Brann-Castle Farms, near Walkersville.

One suit is by Mrs. Lillian Ahern, widow of James Ahern, who was kicked by a race horse at the Bowie track resulting in his death, and the other suit for $125,000 is by Thomas J. Skane, administrator of the estate of Ahern.

Editor to Conduct Service.

Services tomorrow morning at the Clarendon Methodist Church will be conducted by the Rev. Nolan B. Harmon, jr., editor of the Baltimore Southern Methodist. The evening services will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. John H. Pearson.

SHERIFF TO GOVERN JAIL IN HYATTSVILLE

Judge Mattingly Said to Hold Commitment to Police Chief Illegal.

A deputy sheriff will be placed in charge of the Hyattsville jail to cure the allegedly illegal practice of committing prisoners to the chief of police of Prince Georges County, according to directions understood to have been issued by Circuit Court Judge Joseph C. Mattingly yesterday.

Judge Mattingly acted after a grand jury had called commitments made out to the chief illegal, and after an attempt had been made to free a prisoner held by the chief of police through a habeas corpus proceeding. The instructions to the chief and the sheriff were issued yesterday after this habeas corpus plea had been dismissed.

William Hicks, held on a charge of robbery on a commitment made out to the chief, filed a plea for a writ of habeas corpus through Attorney J. Frank Lillard. Hicks at this time was being held in the Hyattsville Jail, which is administered by the police chief. In the plea it was alleged that Hicks was being detained unlawfully. Before the time set for the hearing, however, Hicks was sent to the Marlboro Jail and turned over to the sheriff. For this reason, the plea was dismissed, Judge Mattingly holding that he was now being held legally.

It is understood that Judge Mattingly also issued orders that all justices of the peace be instructed to make out commitments only to the sheriff, there being no provision for any other person in the Maryland law.

Falls Church Pastors Named on Relief Body

Pastors of the various churches of Falls Church were named last night as members of the town's committee on unemployment and charity relief by Mayor L. P. Daniels. The committee is authorized to receive contributions, including assessments of three days' pay from Federal employes.

Members of the committee are the Rev. C. H. Cannon, the Rev. U. S. Knox, the Rev. Alton B. Altfather, the Rev. R. A. Castleman, the Rev. E. B. Wilcox and the Rev. James Walsh.

Holy Name to Convene At West Falls Church

The semiannual convention of the northern section of the Holy Name Society of Virginia will be held tomorrow afternoon at the St. James Catholic Church at West Falls Church.

Delegates from Clarendon, Alexandria, Mount Ida, Manassas, Leesburg, Fairfax, Quantico, Fort Humphreys and Falls Church will attend in large numbers. Martin J. Cook, president, will preside.

FIRE RECORD.

12:45 a. m.—Third and K streets northwest automobile.
5:46 p. m.—First and E streets northeast; automobile.
9:41 p. m.—930 Shepherd street northwest; automobile.

Jail Terms in Lieu of Fines Held Unlawful in Maryland

Prince Georges County prisoners who are serving jail sentences in lieu of fines are being illegally detained, according to a decision handed down yesterday by Circuit Court Justice Joseph C. Mattingly.

Justice Mattingly granted a writ of habeas corpus which was sought in the case of William Jordan, serving two months for liquor law violation. He was sentenced to jail when unable to pay a fine. In the prayer for the writ, filed by Attorney J. Frank Lillard, it was stated that there was no provision in the Marvland law for "alternate" sentences which are given when a convicted person is unable to pay his fine. The District code has a specific provision for this, it was said.

Granting of the writ automatically freed Jordan, and provided a loophole through which, it is said, scores of other persons might obtain their freedom.

LANSBURGH'S

7th, 8th and E Sts.—NAtional 9800

No Connection With Any Other Washington Store

Dress Up Overcoats

$25

Fine fleeces and kersey overcoats that set well on the shoulders, and look every inch like custom tailored garments! 35 to 44.

Special Silk Lined Tuxedos

Including the Vest

$25

There are a lot more doors open to you when you own the correct formal clothes. Tailored in the latest style, lined with silk, and satin faced lapels! Sizes 35 to 44.

MEN'S CLOTHING—STREET FLOOR

Charge Purchases Made Now Not Payable Until January First

LANSBURGH'S

7th, 8th and E Sts.—NAtional 9800

No Connection With Any Other Washington Store

Dyed Blue Fox Smartly Adorns Fine Coats

$59.50

Wear dyed blue fox and be in the first ranks of smart women. Lei collars, big fur cuffs, pouch and swirl collars, distinguished details but they never for one minute obscure the gorgeous beauty of the dyed blue fox! Boucle woolens, warmly interlined, slim waisted—expensive looking! 14 to 20; 13 to 17.

COATS—SECOND FLOOR

Velvet Accents Flat Crepe In Twilight Frocks

$9.95

For the bewitching twilight hour—young fashionables don these charming frocks! Flat crepe seems to be a reigning favorite—with lovely velvet bows and whatnots! Persian green, Cavalier blue, tile, brown and black are most in favor. Sizes 11 to 17. (A delightful collection of daytime frocks, too!)

JUNIOR MISSES' SHOP—SECOND FLOOR

Last Day! Last Opportunity!

Pre-Christmas Sale Of

Silk Lingerie

In the end you'll probably give scads of underwear, and this is the last day to share in special selling way under the regular price! Be economical in buying and more generous in giving!

$2.95

Gowns, chemises, dance sets, panties and slips—gorgeous bias cut and silhouette styles of twin weave French crepe and pure dye satin! Flesh, tea rose, blue, navy, tan and black.

$3.95

Exquisite pajamas, gowns, chemises, stepins and dance sets—French crepe and satin. All the new bias styles beautifully trimmed with lovely laces or applique work. Pastel colors!

Mail and 'Phone Orders Filled by Jane Stuart—NAtional 9800

UNDERWEAR—THIRD FLOOR

Sale of Billy B. Van's

Pine Tree Soap

Surpassing Highest Standards of the U. S. Government for the Purest Vegetable Oil Soap.

8 Cakes for 45c

Soap with all the fresh, clean scent of the pines—tingling and stimulating the skin to a glowing healthfulness.

Mail and 'Phone Orders Filled by Jane Stuart—NAtional 9800.

TOILET GOODS—STREET FLOOR

CAR MAKERS PLAN LIBERAL GUARANTEE

National Chamber of Commerce Approves Uniform Warranty Policy.

By WILLIAM ULLMAN.

New York, Nov. 20.—American motor car manufacturers are preparing to back their products with a more liberal guarantee. This is the significance behind the fact, learned here today, that members of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce have been asked to adopt a new uniform warranty policy which already has the approval of the organization's directors. The industry's ratification of the suggestion is looked upon as a mere matter of routine.

Under the new policy the car owner will get:

Free replacement of all parts of the car, except tires, which prove defective during the first three months, or the first 4,000 miles of service, whichever comes first.

Free labor in making replacements.

Free inspection and adjustment of new cars at the end of the first 500 miles of service.

Free Inspection.

Free inspections throughout the entire life of the car. These will be given every 30 days, or every 1,000 miles, by an authorized service station. The only limitation is that such tests and diagnoses shall require no dismantling of parts.

These are the outstanding features of the new warranty and owners service policy. An interesting point is that the car maker himself will assume full responsibility for the perfection of every feature of the car except tires. This means that owners no longer will be forced to turn to various parts specialists for their guarantees of such items as speedometers, batteries, horns, starters and similar items of the car's equipment.

The long controversial issue between the industry and its patrons as to who shall pay the labor costs involved in making replacements of defective parts now will be settled by the industry taking over this responsibility.

Any Dealer to Inspect.

Another feature of the proposed policy that is expected to contribute to a higher standard of car maintenance is that which authorizes the buyer to obtain a free monthly inspection of his automobile from any authorized dealer. This is counted upon to remove the restraint which many car owners have felt with regard to regular periodic inspection, the most essential factor in maintaining the car in a safe, efficient operating condition.

Under the last standard warranty given by the industry—one that has been considerably modified by individual companies during the past year—manufacturers agreed only "to make good within 90 days" any defective part. It was this ambiguous phrasing which raised the question of who was to pay the labor charge for the replacement.

In submitting the new warranty and owners service policy to the individual car makers for approval, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce points out that the agreements specify a maximum amount of free service. The manufacturers are asked not to exceed this amount. At the same time, any company is given the privilege of offering less than that permitted in the new agreements. It is regarded as unlikely, however, that any will take advantage of this qualification.

World Cotton Move Urged Upon Board

Southerners Ask Session if States Find Plan to Cut Acreage.

(Associated Press.)

An international cotton acreage reduction conference was proposed to the Farm Board yesterday by three Southern Democratic representatives.

Calling on Carl Williams, board cotton member, Representatives Sandlin and Wilson, of Louisiana, and Patman, of Texas, asked the board's assistance in convening such a meeting provided Southern Legislatures agree upon a uniform law.

An Egyptian suggestion for a world conference was rejected last summer by the State Department on the advice of the board. Representatives of Southern State Legislatures will meet at Jackson, Miss., Monday to seek an agreement among all States upon a single law to slash next year's acreage as a means of removing the present surplus and increasing prices.

Army Lieutenant Found Dead in Hawaii Barracks

(Associated Press.)

The War Department was notified yesterday that Second Lieut. Harry D. Clapper, a native of Toledo, Ohio, was found dead at Schofield Barracks, near Honolulu yesterday. The message said a board of officers has been appointed to investigate the death.

The report gave no indication of how he met his death. Clapper, 29, and unmarried, was a son of Nathaniel J. Clapper, of Mt. Gilead, Ohio.

Wilkins' Nautilus Sunk Off Norway.

Bergen, Norway, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The polar submarine Nautilus, in which the expedition of Sir Hubert Wilkins proceeded to the Arctic last summer, was sunk off the coast here today. An attempt to sink the craft two weeks ago failed.

FILM TIME TABLES

Feature pictures are presented on the following schedules at the theaters named:

Fox—"Over the Hill," at 10:28 a. m., 12:48, 3:08, 5:28, 8:06 and 10:28 p. m. Stage shows at 12:05, 2:25, 4:45, 7:23 and 9:43 p. m.

Rialto—"Frankenstein," at 12:02, 2:13, 4:07, 6:01, 7:56 and 9:52 p. m.

Earle—"Local Boy Makes Good," at 11:15 a. m., 1:30, 4:20, 7:20 and 10 p. m. Stage shows at 12:35, 3:30, 6:20 and 9:05 p. m.

Palace—"Flying High," at 11:40 a. m., 2, 4:35, 7:10 and 9:45 p. m. Stage shows at 1:20, 3:55, 6:30 and 9:05 p. m.

Metropolitan—"Sherlock Holmes' Fatal Hour," at 11:05 a. m., 12:47, 2:31, 4:15, 5:58, 7:41 and 9:25 p. m.

RKO-Keith's—"Way Back Home," at 11:23 a. m., 1:25, 3:27, 5:29, 7:31 and 9:33 p. m.

Columbia—"The Guardsman," at 11:10 a. m., 1:15, 3:20, 5:25, 7:30 and 9:39 p. m.

Tivoli—"The Beloved Bachelor" at 2, 4, 6:05, 7:50 and 9:35 p. m.

Ambassador—"The Cisco Kid," at 2, 4:10, 6:15, 8:05 and 9:50 p. m.

THE NEW CINEMA OFFERINGS

FOX

"OVER THE HILL." Fox picturization of a screen play by the late Tom Barry and Jules Furthman, based on the poem by Will Carleton, featuring Mae Marsh, James Dunn, Sally Eilers and James Kirkwood, supported by Joan Peers, Olin Howland, Eula Guy and Edward Crandall. Directed by Henry King. Reviewed Friday afternoon.

By NELSON B. BELL.

The extensive modernization which this lachrymose recital of the woeful incidents in the life of a patient and long-suffering mother has undergone has not served to lift it from the catalogue of the screen's more doleful dramas. During the pictured lifespan of kindly and self-effacing "Ma" Shelby, it is less from her joys than from her sorrows that the play draws its substance. Hers was a life of sacrificial service, disappointments and bitter heartaches, no less poignant merely because all came right in the end.

There is no reason to suppose that "Over the Hill" in its present audible form will fall anything short of the tremendous popular appeal of the silent version in which Mary Carr and Johnny Walker played the roles now quite as effectively portrayed by Mae Marsh and James Dunn. These two characters—mother and favorite son—by their very inherent virtues are wholly and unequivocally actor-proof. They represent the composite of what we like to believe all mothers and all dutiful sons should be.

Miss Marsh, returning to the silver sheet after an absence of a dozen years or so, reveals a mature and versatile emotional power and the same mobile play of features that characterized her work in "The Birth of a Nation." She is infinitely expressive at times by the mere quiver of a lip or the anguish in her eyes; again by the thin quaver of a treble and infinitely appealing voice. Her characterization is rounded, spendidly sustained and marked by a gradual assumption of years as perfectly simulated as could possibly be accomplished by one of her years.

The other members of a long cast contribute a gallery of diversified types to the ageless story of a mother's devotion to her husband and children and their frequent indifference to her. James Kirkwood, as "Pa" Shelby, who tired of waiting for a Government job and so took up bootlegging; James Dunn and Sally Eilers, the son and daughter-in-law who finally rescued "Ma" Shelby from the County Poor Farm, where she had been relegated by Isaac, her Scripture-quoting, psalm-singing hypocrite of a son, whom Johnny finally whipped within an inch of his life; Joan Peers, Eula Guy, Edward Crandall, Claire Maynard—all deserve credit for tasks of importance intelligently and painstakingly executed.

Olin Howland, it seemed to me, rated a grudging word of commendation for an uncommonly realistic and thoroughly distasteful performance in the thankless role of Isaac, who turned out, rather, to be the Judas of the family.

"Over the Hill," it should be understood, is not without its occasional lighter moments and intervals of simple and wholesome humor, but in the large view it is a drama distinctly dedicated to Niobe and all of her weeping sisters.

Quite another note, however is struck by Les Stevens the new master of ceremonies and "The Diplomats" the three clever singers and instrumentalists who accompany him. Working first on the stage around one of those miniature three-octave pianos, they move soon to the orchestra pit where they assist in a medley overture during which each sings a song in deft and delightful manner. The boys all have excellent voices and are very swell indeed on guitars pianos and saxophones. You'll be hearing a lot of them from now on.

Fanchon & Marco's "Limehouse Nights" Idea is an atmospherically staged revue notable for the Wing Wah Troupe of Chinese gymnasts and contortionists; Armando and Lita, dancers; Don Carroll, tenor, and an energetic mixed ensemble. Warren and Inman, billed as a comedy team, neglected to be funny at the performance I attended.

A short issue of the Fox Movietone News completes an abundant holiday bill.

RIALTO

"FRANKENSTEIN." Universal picturization of a screen play by Garrett Fort and Francis Faragoh, based on the famous novel by Mary W. Shelley, featuring Colin Clive and Mae Clarke, supported by John Boles, Edward Van Sloan, Frederick Kerr and Boris Karloff. Directed by James Whale. Reviewed Friday afternoon.

By NELSON B. BELL.

Those morbid sensation seekers who revel in the gruesome spectacles of rapine, murder and other terrifying forms of violent death will find both food and drink in this remarkably realistic visualization of the hideous details of a grotesque but world-famous fiction.

The story of Henry Frankenstein, eminent young scientist, who finally sets himself the task of molding a synthetic human figure and creating life by imbuing it with the power of motion through a perfected theory of electric galvanism, is inaugurated by a ghoulish bit of grave robbing by Frankenstein and his deformed and half-witted assistant, Fritz, whose next assignment is the theft of a human brain from a preserving jar in a medical laboratory. Fritz, through his own fear and bungling, drops the normal brain and, to cover his inefficiency, purloins the diseased brain of a dangerous criminal. Thus it is that Frankenstein's creation is endowed with the power of movement, the brain of a killer and no soul.

Once brought to life, the monster spreads havoc along his path, killing innocent little children, throttling Dr. Waldman, dean of the college of medicine; strangling Frankenstein's bride-to-be on their wedding day, hurling Frankenstein off the top of the watch tower, built high on a hill, where the experiment of his own creation was conducted, and finally himself perishing on this blazing pyre when the frenzied villagers set torch to the structure to rid the community of so grave a menace.

Such is the gossamer stuff woven into the warp and woof of this fantastic, harrowing, and yet, somehow, fascinating narrative, more sinister and more bluntly and brutally homicidal than a dozen "Draculas" and utterly devoid of that fabulous play's subtle and more thoughtful implications.

The most remarkable performance by far in "Frankenstein" is that of the giant fiend himself by Boris Karloff. Affecting an augmented stature and blood-curdling makeup that even a Lon Chaney would find it difficult to surpass in horrifying abnormality, Mr. Karloff throughout his periods of the picture gives an unwavering impression of ominous strength and a total absence of every human attribute, save only the power of such mechanical movements as might be expected of a cleverly animated robot. It is a skillful but unsavory bit of imaginative and grotesque portraiture that the delicately constituted will dream about through many haunted nights.

The role of Frankenstein is played by Colin Clive, who conveys considerable conviction as the young scientist who sought to usurp the power of the Creator. His performance is high-strung, tense and as convincing as such a thing can be. Mae Clarke and John Boles have little opportunity to do more than pose as an harassed fiancee and an old friend of the family, respectively. Edward Van Sloan is the Dr. Waldman; Dwight Frye, the dwarf, and Frederick Kerr, the Baron Frankenstein from whom we'll the only brief comedy touches in the play.

The supporting bill is extensive. Graham McNamee explains the news events caught by Universal's cameramen; Borrah Minevitch and His Rascals exercise their unique talents as a harmonica band in a comedy skit entitled "Finn and Caddie," the scene being a golf club; Ray Cook, supported by Franklin Pangborn and a considerable cast, romps through one of Sewell Ford's "Torchy" stories, "Torchy Passes the Buck;" Eddie Cantor makes a plea for support of the unemployment midnight benefits and altogether a pleasantly exciting time is had by all—but not if your nerves are out of kilter!

PALACE

"FLYING HIGH." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picturization of the George White musical show, adapted to the screen by A. P. Younger, starring Bert Lahr, supported by Charlotte Greenwood, Pat O'Brien and Kathryn Crawford. Directed by Charles F. Reisner. Reviewed Friday night by Don B. Reed.

Swaying violently on that delicate line between comedy and contamination, but never leaning too far toward the soiled side, "Flying High," the vehicle chosen to introduce Bert Lahr to the motion picture public, is a howling success. And when the word howling is used, it is used without reservation, for first-nighters at the Palace howled almost continuously at the antics of Mr. Lahr and his coworker, Charlotte Greenwood.

Regardless of the fact that some of the lines, jokes, and situations are of a decidedly burlesque type, they are genuinely funny; and if a good laugh is what the doctor ordered, "Flying High" will fill the prescription while you wait.

Lahr is a crackerjack slapstick comedian—let there be no mistake about that. He enters into the business of being funny with an enthusiasm hard to resist. He makes the most of his opportunities to pull laugh after laugh, and Metro has done well by him in the choice of Miss Greenwood as his partner in comedy. Charlotte is no slouch when it comes to the rough-and-tumble sort of fun; so that, between the two, Palace patrons are assured a most hysterical hour.

Like most musicals, "Flying High" has little plot. Lahr is "Rusty" Krouse, inventor of the aerocopter, which, incidentally, has never flown. He and "Sport," a promoter, sell stock in the invention, so they may seek the altitude record. When "Sport" is arrested for selling the stock without a license, "Rusty" marries "Pansy" (Charlotte Greenwood) to get $500 she has offered for a husband to get his friend out of jail.

Then "Rusty" takes the aerocopter up at the national air races, after a series of thrilling adventures on the ground, going to 53,000 feet, where "Pansy" leaves in a parachute. By winning the prize, all the business troubles of the pair are solved, but before that the Lahr-Greenwood team in the air solves the problems of everyone in seeing distance.

Added to the hilarious comedy of the piece, Director Reisner has devised some excellent chorus shots, photographed from unique angles, while a couple of songs, such as "Happy Landings" and "First Time for Me" will linger in your memory. Pat O'Brien as "Sport," the partner of "Rusty," and Kathryn Crawford furnish the love interest. Charles Winninger and Hedda Hopper have good roles, while beautiful girls adorn the film from beginning to end.

On the stage is the "Going Places" revue, headed by Hal Yates, who tickles a mean set of ivories. The hit of the stage portion of the bill is the offering of the Rio Brothers, singers, dancers and imitators, who do all three well. Larry Adler and his harmonica are "discovered" for the third or fourth time and Maddox and Mack, two girls, have a fairly funny number. Two chorus routines, with special lighting, were excellently done.

Auxiliary screen features include an issue of Walter Futter's "Curiosities;" a screen song, "By the Light of the Silvery Moon," and an issue of Hearst Metrotone News.

COLUMBIA

"THE GUARDSMAN." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picturization of the play by Ferenc Molnar, adapted to the screen by Ernest Vajda, costarring Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne supported by Roland Young, ZaSu Pitts, Maude Eburne and Herman Bing. Directed by Sidney Franklin. Reviewed (second week) by W. A. Whitney.

Any time there appears upon the silver sheet a play originally from the pen of the great Hungarian dramatist, Ferenc (or Franz) Molnar, and acted by such an incomparable pair as Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, then there is a picture! Fully living up to every anticipation, made in advance merely from the names associated with it, "The Guardsman" unreels a smooth, sparkling comedy, with just enough seriousness thrown in so that neither the stinging satire of the author nor the histrionic capabilities of the stars are lessened by screen translation.

As the actor assuming the role of a guardsman to test his wife's fidelity, Mr. Lunt is excellent, but no more so than Miss Fontanne, the wife, who, perceiving the military man's identity, continues to play to his every advance. In the supporting cast there is Roland Young, the level-headed family friend, who takes a particular delight in watching the outcome of Mr. Lunt's unfounded fears; ZaSu Pitts, in a characteristic, almost-lachrymose maid role; Maude Eburne, as "mama," Miss Fontanne's wardrobe mistress, and Herman Bing, a bill collector.

Throughout this display of the Lunts' artistry, and the picture for the most part is composed of their dialogue, there is the thread of satire that so characterizes the writings of Ferenc Molnar.

Supporting the feature are Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy in a howling marital comedy, "Come Clean;" a stirring "big game" fishing reel, "Sharks and Swordfish," and a release of the Paramount Sound News.

RKO-KEITH'S

"WAY BACK HOME." RKO-Radio picturization of an original story by Jane Murfin, starring Phillips H. Lord, supported by Effie L. Palmer, Bette Davis, Frank Albertson and Frankie Darro. Directed by William Seiter. Reviewed (third week, pro parte) by W. A. Whitney.

Into a third week (at least, until Tuesday night) goes Seth Parker and his Jonesport neighbors. At this late date little can be added to the approbative notices that have already appeared, nor can anything be said that has not already been said.

To the many who know or appreciate the keen, homely humor of New England, unostentatiously displayed, this picture will be a welcome relief, and they will here find that which will bring back memories of an earlier day which evoke, at times, tears and, at times, gales of laughter.

"Way Back Home" has utilized every trick of the theater—the screen and the stage, collectively—combining every possible sort of situation from slapstick comedy to the opprobrious business of tear-jerking. In story, too, the producers have plumbed literary resources, ranging from the crude—in composition and presentation—comedy to unadulterated melodrama.

But withal its obviously composite nature, whose real appreciation and enjoyment is in direct proportion to the auditor's acquaintance with the types shown, Mr. Lord's debut into the ranks of cinema's character actors is a thing of moment which can not be disregarded.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

IT HAS remained for Mark Barron, demon theatrical observer for the Associated Press, upon whom this department frequently leans heavily for authentic information concerning matters of the stage and its people, to point out that the call of Broadway has often proved stronger than the call of the Southland for celebrities in the world of the playhouse who hail from Dixie. Sure enough, it seems to be so.

When Tallulah Bankhead left her childhood homes in Huntsville and Montgomery, Ala., to seek a stage career, it was another Alabaman, Arch Selwyn, the Birmingham producer, who gave her her first big opportunity. Mr. Selwyn gave her one of her first parts and then advised her to go to London and make a name for herself—and did she not!

Texas Guinan, once of Waco, Tex., became the first queen of New York's night life and it was largely due to the activities of another Wacoan—if that is what they are—that her reign waned, if it did not actually end. The unrestrained merrymaking of stay-up-lates in Miss Guinan's clubs continually had her at odds with the law. Most of her cases were prosecuted by Joab Banton, who began his legal career in Waco.

Paul Green, professor at the University of North Carolina, encountered his playwrighting destiny running parallel with that of Lynn Riggs, of Claremore, Okla. Barrett Clark, a dramatic critic, uncovered them both and battled for several years to get them hearings on Broadway. And now look at them—"In Abraham's Bosom," "Green Grow the Lilacs," "The House of Connelly" and the like.

Dubose Heyward and his wife, in Charleston, S. C., and Roark Bradford—there is a story by him in tomorrow's tabloid magazine of The Sunday Post, by the way—down New Orleans way, came to fame with "Porgy" and "The Green Pastures," respectively.

As for Georgia's chief representative on Broadway, and in Hollywood, b'onde Miriam Hopkins, who has that stunning picture in the last issue of Jimmie Quirk's Photoplay Magazine, it was entirely due to her uncle from Atlanta that she became a stage and screen actress, according to Mr. Barron. Uncle Dixie Hines was a Broadway press agent, and he sent for Miriam to come up from Savannah. She wanted to be a dancer, but Uncle Dixie persuaded her that she would enjoy a greater success as a dramatic actress.

Uncle Dixie knew something!

Pretty clever quartet, comprised by Les Stevens, new master of ceremonies, and "The Diplomatists," new fixtures at the Fox, beginning yesterday. I told you so a day or two ago after having met them at the preview of "Over the Hill" last Tuesday midnight; having heard them again yesterday afternoon before an audience, I reiterate it, multiplied by as many as you like!

In the medley overture, after they have come down off the stage into the orchestra pit and Les has picked up the beaten, George Bersch, pianist, vocalist and arranger, leads off with "Sweet and Lovely," remembered as one of Estelle Taylor's best numbers; Johnny Ferrara, basso, does "When Yuba Plays the Rhumba on His Tuba Down in Cuba;" Andy Hamilton, lyric tenor, a lilting ballad, and Les Stevens himself, "Minnie the Moocher."

In the meantime, they have been instrumentalizing like nobody's business, and in other effective ways genially engaged in vigorously wowing the public.

Neat dressers and all, too, the boys are—hair all slicked back, and everything!

The financial straits in which Fox, RKO, Warner Brothers and many others of the foremost producing companies that have suffered severe loses during the period of depression, temporarily find themselves have caused several of the best informed writers in the country to express the conviction that Wall Street bit off more than it could conveniently masticate when it attempted to dictate to the picture people how their business should be run.

When Wall Street gold began to flow to the West Coast it was freely predicted that precisely what has happened would happen. The Street now is slowly becoming aware that it takes more than percentage tables and a mahogany board room to conduct the creative industry of picture-making.

Or do you still insist that it is an art?

And that indefatigable punster, Mr. Reilly, it was who remarked the other night that he knew "Over the Hill" was a sad picture, because when he entered the balcony the seats already were in tiers!

Obsequies to be announced!

"BIG TEN" ALUMNI TO RELIVE OLD DAYS

Reunion Tonight at Hotel Shoreham Will Attract Many "Old Grads."

With the selection of George S. Ward, local attorney, and graduate of the University of Illinois, for master of ceremonies, the Big Ten Association committee has completed its plans for what promises to be the most colorful reunion of local Western Conference alumni and former students in recent years. The affair is to be held in the new west ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel tonight, which commemorates the completion of the regular football season among Big Ten universities.

A brisk ticket sale indicates that the old "grads" are looking forward to the party with the same keen expectation that marked their enthusiasm for campus parties and "proms" in former years. The committee, consequently, has determined that they shall not be disappointed, and has arranged an interesting program, which includes a buffet supper and several rounds of songs and cheers for all schools participating. There will also be dancing and cards.

The Attorney General and Mrs. William D. Mitchell, for the University of Michigan, and Hon. Simeon D. Fess, who will bear the colors of Chicago University, head a list of distinguished patrons and patronesses. Other sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Bland, for Indiana; Commissioner and Mrs. Ezra Brainerd, jr., for Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. John J. Esch, for Wisconsin; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Foster, for Ohio State; Dr. and Mrs. Elwood Mead, for Purdue; Dr. George E. MacLean, for Iowa; William Hard, for Northwestern, and Frank White, for Illinois.

Harlan Mine Death Trial Nearing End

Arguments Start in Case of Man Accused of Killing Deputy.

Mount Sterling, Ky., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The question of whether William Burnett, Harlan County coal miner, precipitated the first fatal clash of the long-drawn-out labor and wage controversy there last April, or fired in self-defense against deputy sheriffs, neared a jury's decision late today.

After testimony was completed today, Circuit Judge Henry R. Prewitt ruled that the jury could consider any one of three verdicts—willful murder with a life sentence or death in the electric chair, as the jury saw fit; voluntary manslaughter with a 2 to 21 year sentence, or not guilty.

Closing arguments then were begun with an agreement that each side would have an hour this afternoon and an hour and a quarter tomorrow morning.

Mexican Athletes Cheer Revolution

25,000 Mark Anniversary With Parade Before President Rubio.

Mexico City, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Twenty-five thousand athletes marched through the streets of Mexico City today to the Zocalo, the great central plaza, where they sang the national anthem and gave a thunderous yell for President Ortiz Rubio and the revolution.

The revolution they were cheering started 21 years ago today, and in celebration of it the athletes passed in review before the President, War Minister Plutarco Elias Calles and other members of the cabinet.

From a balcony of the national palace President Ortiz Rubio saluted the athletes in the name of the Mexican people and told them they represented the future of the nation.

STANDARDS BUREAU UNION BACKS A. F. L.

Continued from Page 1.

Local No. 249, composed of clerks, pressmen's helpers, and laborers and others in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

The fight over the matter in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing has been intense. Members of the Plate Printers Union, of the Union of Printing Pressmen and Assistants and of the International Association of Machinists have made plain their displeasure and some are said to have warned the women workers of the Federation of Federal Employes that "we will wreck you in two years if you dare to withdraw."

However, the women are expected to vote to withdraw, following the leadership of Miss Bell Trouland and Miss Gertrude McNally, leaders of the fight for recognition and better working conditions for the women workers in the bureau.

Considering the question under the shadow of the gigantic Federation of Labor, which has assumed the stage as the mouthpiece of labor, local unions of the Federation of Federal Employes, are finding themselves confronted with arguments from all of the affiliated A. F. of L. unions through which the Government employes can be reached.

Fight Growing Intense.

Urged by President William Green, whose active lieutenant is Frank Coleman, editor of the Plate Printer and secretary of the District Central Labor Union, A. F. of L. executives and workers are seeking to defeat the proposal of the leaders of the employes and to keep the federation a part of the A. F. of L. The loss of 60,000 members and the income from such an affiliation is too important to permit without a struggle and the fight is daily becoming more intense, not only in Washington, where moves are obvious, but throughout the country through solicitation of individuals and locals.

Despite this effort of the A. F. of L., the outcome of the balloting is expected to support the proposal to withdraw affiliation from the organization, which repudiated the Government employes' proposal that the Government service should be reorganized. Nearly twoscore local unions have reported. Of these all but two, including the Bureau of Standards, have voted to withdraw.

Georgia Forest Fires Controlled.

Waycross, Ga., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Organized efforts have practically brought under control forest fires which have raged for several weeks in southeast Georgia and the smoke pall appears largely to have been dissipated.

SITES OF NEW PARKS APPROVED BY BOARD

Planning Commission Finds 2 Rail Crossings Enough in Station Area.

Purchases of land to be used for expansion of Washington's system of parks, playgrounds and recreation centers occupied the attention of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission yesterday during the second session of its monthly three-day meeting.

It is understood that acquisition of several new sites was approved, although the commission stated that it is not yet in position to reveal their location publicly.

After listening to a lengthy report by William J. Heiser, New York consulting engineer, who has been making a survey of railroad crossings in the District, the commission came to the conclusion that two crossings over the Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad tracks will be sufficient.

The "Union Station Act" passed by Congress when provision was made for erection of Union Station calls for three crossings in what is known as the Union Station area, so the commission either will have to have that act revised or make its two crossings outside the jurisdiction of the law.

A large delegation representing the Northeast Citizens Association appeared before the commission to request establishment of a playground for children in the Northeast section, and was told to appoint a committee of three to confer further with the commission on the subject.

Today the commission will be taken on an exploration tour through the Sligo district in Maryland by the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission which wants to show the national body the region where the proposed Sligo park is to be laid out. It was felt that inasmuch as the national commission is to pay a third of the cost of the work it ought to see where its money is going.

ROADS TO BE HEARD ON CREDIT PROPOSAL

Continued from Page 1.

new rates, and 30 days more for their collection. Finally, the plan provides a 40-day accounting period, for each road to report its emergency collections to the Railroad Credit Corporation.

At best, therefore, cash relief for the hard-pressed lines is not in sight before March 1. Should the Interstate Commerce Commission launch into an extended debate over the details of the plan, actual relief might be put off another month or longer.

Wage Cut Rejected.

Meanwhile, the prospect for quick action on the rail executives' plan for Nation-wide wage reductions was promised by developments yesterday in the New York conference between the railroad presidents and the transporation unions.

In accordance with their instructions from the rank and file, the labor spokesmen have unequivocally rejected the rail managers' plea for a temporary voluntary reduction. Convinced, however, that this formal answer does not represent the unanimous opinion of the transportation organizations, the railroads are moving ahead with their plan for general wage adjustments on the individual roads. Under this program, the reduction notices will appear gradually in scattered crafts and in various sections of the country. The resultant negotiations will be by direct conferences betwen the system officials, without any organized or unified resistance on a national scale.

The labor proposal for a billion-dollar Federal bond issue to stimulate railroad expansion and the elimination of grade crossings received little serious consideration in the New York conference, principally for the reason that approval of such a project by a Congress facing a two-billion dollar tax increase appeared remote.

Labor Ranks Divided.

With the wage reduction program will come some readjustment of working schedules, designed to spread available work among as many employes as possible. The labor proposal on this point urged a six-hour day, but some of the train brotherhoods, whose members are getting in lucrative overtime despite the reduced traffic, are resisting the shorter work day.

The labor union delegation at New York is headed by D. B. Robertson, president of the Association of Railroad Labor Executives. Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio system, heads the rail executive group.

WASHINGTON FAMILY HEIRLOOMS STOLEN

Continued from Page 1.

represent only part of her Washington collection. Before leaving for Europe she took the precaution to deposit a number of silver pieces, more valuable than those now missing, at a local bank.

Police who examined the Lee residence found no evidence that the house had been entered. Mrs. Lee said there was only one key to the home in town and that was in the office of her lawyer. The theft was discovered by a woman friend of Mrs. Lee who entered the house with the aid of this key. Mrs. Lee declined to disclose her name.

Col. Lee, who died in 1922, was the grandson of "Lee of Virginia," who married Mary Randolph Custis, only daughter of George Washington Parke Custis, who built the mansion at Arlington. Custis was the grandson of Martha Washington. Thus it was that the antiques, part of the household equipage of Mount Vernon, passed into the hands of Mrs. Lee.

Col. Lee, who never saw military service, received his title of colonel while a member of the staff of Gov. Andrew J. Montague of Virginia, now representative from the Third Virginia District.

Several years ago several antiques of great value in the Lee collection in the Alexandria home of the family were stolen when the Alexandria home was burned, Mrs. Lee recalled last night. A number of the items later were recovered from antique shops in various sections of the East, where they had been marketed.

Mrs. Lee said she considers $8,000 a fair estimate of the value of stolen goods, although they may have a historic worth in excess of that figure. The heirlooms were partially covered by insurance.

AMUSEMENTS

PHOTOPLAYS.

WARNER BROS. THEATRES

EARLE

TODAY

The Clown Prince of Fun Running Wild on a Laff Spree

JOE E. BROWN

In First National Vitaphone's "LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD"

—On the Stage—

LITTLE JACK LITTLE

Radio Star in Person

JANE & KATHERINE LEE

And Other Acts

Remember November for Superlative Entertainment

25c TO 1 P.M.

METROPOLITAN

MIDNITE SHOW, 11:15 BENEFIT UNEMPLOYED

TODAY

The Master Mind Solves the Most Baffling Case of His Career

SHERLOCK HOLMES

FATAL HOUR

Again Clashes With His Arch-Enemy Moriarity

Also

SELECTED SHORTS

FREE TO KIDDIES

Sherlock Holmes Caps, Pipe and Badge to First 500 Attending!

Coffee Served to All

25c TO 1 P.M.

RKO KEITH'S

15th AND G STREETS

ENGAGEMENT EXTENDED

Thru Tuesday, Nov. 24th

SETH PARKER

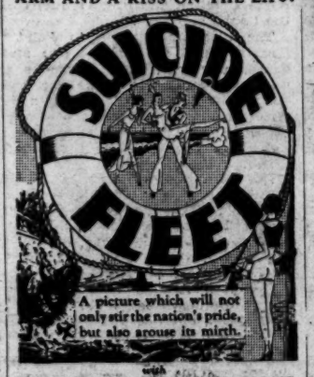
and his Jonesport neighbors in

Way Back Home

Floyd Gibbons Pathe News

Starting Wed., Nov. 25th at 11:00 A.M.

THE ONLY LIFE-PRESERVER THEY WANTED WAS A DAME ON THE ARM AND A KISS ON THE LIPS!



A picture which will not only stir the nation's pride, but also arouse its mirth.

with

BILL BOYD · ROBERT ARMSTRONG

JAMES GLEASON · GINGER ROGERS

And thousands of fighting gobs supplied through the courtesy of the United States Navy

RKO PATHE PICTURE CHAS. R. ROGERS PRODUCTION

—Coming—

"ARE THESE OUR CHILDREN"

FRANKENSTEIN

with

COLIN CLIVE-JOHN BOLES

MAE CLARKE-BORIS KARLOFF

A FRIENDLY WARNING

If you have a weak heart and cannot stand excitement or even shock, we advise you NOT to see this production. If, on the contrary, you like an unusual thrill, you will find it in

"FRANKENSTEIN"

RIALTO

Loew's PALACE

NOW PLAYING

GEORGE WHITE'S COMEDY HIT

"FLYING HIGH"

with

BERT LAHR

CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD

On the Stage HAL YATES

IN A CAPITOL THEATRE NEW YORK REVUE

Loew's COLUMBIA

2nd WEEK!

Alfred LUNT Lynn FONTANNE

in "THE GUARDSMAN"

Complete Talking Vaudeville Revue

WALLACE BEERY JACKIE COOPER "Our Gang"

$2.00 ASTOR THEATRE N.Y. ATTRACTION...AT NO ADVANCE IN PRICE!

BURLESQUE.

GAYETY-BURLESK

"SLIDING" BILLY WATSON

OPENS SUNDAY MATINEE

AMUSEMENTS

PHOTOPLAYS.

FOX NOW

OVER The HILL

JAMES DUNN · SALLY EILERS

MAE MARSH

LES STEVENS

NEW MASTER OF CEREMONIES

BIG STAGE SHOW

5 Complete Shows Today

Doors Open 10 A. M.

PLAYS.

NATIONAL

MAT. TODAY 50c to $2.50 TONITE, $1 to $3

JOHN GOLDEN PRESENTS · RACHEL CROTHERS SMARTEST COMEDY

AS HUSBANDS GO

BURTON HOLMES

Tomorrow Aft. at 3 P. M.

GLORIOUSLY PICTURED SCREEN JOURNEY

ALL OVER ITALY

From the Alps to Sicily

UNUSUAL MOTION PICTURES

Seats Selling, 50c to $1.50

ONE WEEK ONLY BEG. MON. NOV. 30

NO PHONE OR MAIL ORDERS

BOX OFFICE SALE OPENS MON., NOV. 23, AT 9 A. M.

ZIEGFELD FOLLIES

Glorifying the American Girl

NIGHTS—$1.00 to $4.00; WED. MAT., $1.00 to $2.50; SAT. MAT., $1.00 to $3.00.

Tonight at 8:30 $1 to $3.50

SHUBERT BELASCO

At 2:30 Today $1 to $2.50

The World's Greatest Entertainer

AL JOLSON in WONDER BAR

NEXT MON. MAIL ORDERS SEATS NOW

MAE WEST

In Her Own Sparkling Story of Passion

"The CONSTANT SINNER"

Nights 50c to $2.50, Thur. & Sat. Mats. 50c to $2

CLUBS.

Washington's Only Night Club

Club Michel

No. 1 Thomas Circle

North 3720

See and Hear "SKIN" YOUNG

Unusual entertainer as Master of Ceremonies, formerly with Paul Whiteman.

Enters and Borgia

Dancers Direct from 10 months on Broadway

Ethel West

Washington's Own Radio Artist

In an Intimate Revue

Dine and Dance to JOHN SLAUGHTER And His Club Michel Orchestra

Dinner every night in the week, 6:30 to 8:30, $1.50.

Dancing 8:30 'til 2 a.m.

Sunday Tea Dancing, 4 to 7:30. Sunday Supper Dancing, 10 to 1.

CONCERTS.

TONIGHT—8:30

CONSTITUTION HALL

"The Singing Horsemen of the Steppes"

DON COSSACK

RUSSIAN MALE CHORUS OF 36

SERGE JAROFF, Conductor

Seats on sale, Mrs. Greene's Bureau, Droop's, 1300 G st., Dist. 6493, and at box office, hall, after 7:30 p. m., Met. 2661.

FRITZ KREISLER

Constitution Hall, Tues. Aft., Dec. 1, 4:15

Seats, Mrs. Greene's Concert Bureau, Droop's, 1300 G St., Dist. 6493.

JOHN McCORMACK

TENOR

Constitution Hall, Sat. Eve., Nov. 28, 8:15

Seats, Mrs. Greene's Concert Bureau, Droop's, 1300 G St., Dist. 6493.

USED CAMERAS

Bought, Sold and Exchanged

Fuller & d'Albert, Inc.

815 10th St. N.W.

FOR YOUR HEALTH'S SAKE

SWIM

Men & Women Daily

50¢

AMBASSADOR HOTEL POOL

Read The Post's New Classified Ads

The Washington Post.

SATURDAY NOVEMBER 21, 1931 SPORTS

G. W. ELEVEN WINS FROM BUTLER IN NIGHT GAME, 32-7; NOTRE DAME AND HARVARD REIGN AS FAVORITES TODAY

This Morning with Shirley L. Povich

IF the depression is to be shooed away by the melting of frozen assets hoarded in one-way pockets, then Gus H. Fan and all the fanettes are showing the way nobly with their response to the sporting attractions in this neck of the Nation.

Football attendance in Washington this season has rocketed to new heights despite the division of interest occasioned by the fact that four local varsity teams are now sharing the attendance which Georgetown University alone commanded not so many years ago.

The Capital's other great fall sport, probably its greatest, horse racing, is enjoying its most successful season. The recent 23-day meeting at Laurel set new records for attendance and play in the mutuel machines. Pimlico, which is not too far away to attract Washington patronage, ran far ahead of the 1930 figures. Bowie is in the midst of a record-breaking meet from the viewpoint of attendance and mutuel play. Maybe prosperity is around the corner.

The most illuminating example of the depression's effect on sports was encountered two years ago at Pimlico, three days after the stock market crash had reached its depth, on the occasion of the running of the Futurity. Hardly 10,000 persons turned out for the race which annually jammed the stands, capable of holding 40,000.

Willie Nertney, the riding sensation of the Maryland season, is convelescing in a Baltimore hospital with a wheel chair as his mount as a result of his nearly fatal spill last Saturday on the last day of the Pimlico meeting when he was astride Blue Damsel. Nertney's host of admirers who lined their pockets with the coin of the realm in following his mounts at Laurel are beset by the fear that the nasty spill might mark the turning point in the meteoric career of the youthful jockey. That his accident might result in the loss of his boldness and daring which earned him so many victories and inculcate in him a timidity that has affected other star riders after spills, is the greatest apprehension.

The cases of jockeys who never regained their effectiveness as a result of harrowing experiences in which they barely escaped death are numerous in the records of the turf. But Nertney's well-wishers can point to the continued success of such talented riders as Sonny Workman, Laverne Fator and Earl Sande, himself, all of whom came back to the races in fine fashion after accidents had threatened to end their riding days.

The race track is famed in song, story and the movies for its romance. But it holds a notable place, too, in life's tragedies. Charles "Horses" Ayres recounts the true story of death riding a horse over the finish line to victory.

Belmont Park was the scene on June 4, 1928. Jockey F. Hayes, riding a sterling finish on Sweet Kiss, a famous steeplechaser, was stricken with heart failure as he charged into the stretch in the lead. To the spectators it appeared as if Hayes, with victory assured, was hand-riding his mount in the closing stages, slumped as he was over the horse's neck. Sweet Kiss had hardly crossed the finish line, however, when Hayes toppled from the saddle. All rules were waived by the Jockey Club in this instance, the result being declared official without the customary formality of weighing in.

Szabo and Kirilenko In Next Mat Feature

Sandor Szabo and Matros Kirilenko will meet in the feature rassle match on Joe Turner's next Thursday night's mat card at the auditorium. Four more bouts will be added during the week.

Turner's matching of Szabo and Kirilenko was regarded as a surprise last night by mat fans, who believed that Rudy Dusek and Ray Steele would return to the local mat to settle their 2-hour draw of Thursday night.

Marines to Play In Atlantic City

Meet Davis and Elkins in Battle of High-Scoring Grid Machines.

Special to The Washington Post.

Quantico, Va., Nov. 20.—Tomorrow will see the two high-scoring teams in the country fight it out when the Quantico Marines and Davis and Elkins clash in their annual gridiron classic at the Atlantic City Auditorium at Atlantic City.

Both teams have an unusually good defensive play. The Marines were undefeated until Armistice Day, when they went up against an all-star American Legion team at Philadelphia with the Legionnaires winning, 14 to 0, on two long forward passes.

The Leathernecks left Quantico this morning. Thirty-three players composed the Leatherneck aggregation. Coach Lieut. George W. McHenry spent most of this week drilling the squad in forward pass defense, its weak spot heretofore.

These teams have met on two previous occasions, the Marines winning the first game, the Elkins footballers winning the second.

The game last year was called off on account of a heavy snow that fell on the night before the game. The Leathernecks lost three of their first string players in the American Legion game: Lieuts. Moret and Pressly and Private William Shew. Despite this handicap, the Marines are confident of winning.

Irish Coaches Fearful of Snow

Hope for Fast Field Against Southern California Today.

Both Teams to Have Regulars in Action From Start.

SEASON'S RECORDS.
South. California		Notre Dame
7 St. Mary's	13	25 Indiana	0
30 Oregon State	0	0 Northwestern	0
38 Wash. State	6	63 Drake	0
53 Oregon	0	25 Pittsburgh	12
6 California	0	19 Carnegie Tech	0
19 Stanford	0	49 Pennsylvania	0
69 Montana	0	20 Navy	0
222	19	201	12

By PAUL MICKELSON.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Notre Dame's undefeated football players and the storming Trojans from Southern California turned anxious eyes toward the weather charts tonight as the zero hour of their famous struggle of the gridiron approached.

Rain fell steadily throughout the day in South Bend as the Hoosiers polished up their touchdown machine while the weather man made a prediction of possible snow for the battle tomorrow.

The Westerners took a part of their final workout at Stagg Field in Chicago.

Recalling his team's inability to get anywhere against Northwestern on a muddy field, Coach Heartly Anderson was worried, although his personal weather man, Prof. Hull, of Notre Dame, told him any snow would be limited to occasional flurries. The official weather man was not optimistic, predicting that a snowstorm from Medicine Hat might strike Notre Dame Stadium at game time. The threat of snow or rain halted ticket sales at the 48,000 mark.

Rivals to Start Regulars.

Both teams were confident and ready to throw in their first string line-ups at the start, except for George Melinkovich, regular Noter Dame full back, who may not get into the skirmish unless his successors, Steve Banas and Jimmy Leonard, are injured. The big Notre Dame full back suffered a shoulder injury in the Navy game last week and he had not engaged in practice all week. Notre Dame rules the favorite.

A wet field might be an advantage to the Trojans as it would handicap the Notre Dame passing attack which has been unusually successful against the Trojans, who have gained most of their ground this season by a strong running attack. Coach Jones, however, insisted he was anxious to have a dry field for his back field.

South Bend Jammed On Eve of Game.

South Bend was jammed tonight on the eve of the game. Hotels were crowded to capacity by celebrities from all fields, including movie stars from Hollywood. Two national broadcasting chains, National and Columbia, were ready to broadcast the game which starts at 1:30 p. m. Central standard time.

It is far from a secret that Notre Dame has turned loose one of the greatest gridiron powerhouses of modern times. The answer to just how great it is depends on what the fighting Irish accomplish against a Trojan array that has come more than half way across the country to seek revenge for the 27-0 walloping at Los Angeles last year.

The odds are distinctly in favor of Notre Dame. It has a brilliant attack led by All-America "Marchie" Schwartz, a great line and, equally as vital, at least two reserve elevens capable of maintaining the sensational tempo of team performance.

Southern California, with an All-American blocker in Erny Pinckert and an all-star candidate in Orville Mohler, flashy carrier, seems equipped to put the Hoosiers to their most severe test. The Trojans have strengthened the flanks by putting Johnny Baker at one end. If this helps bottle up the Notre Dame running attack, the game may turn into an aerial circus.

The probable line-ups:

Notre Dame.	Position.	Sou. California.
Koaky	L. E.	Baker
Culver	L. T.	Brown
Harris	L. G.	Rosenberg
Yarr (C.)	Center	(C.) Williamson
Hoffman	R. G.	Smith
Kurth	R. T.	Erskine
Devore	R. E.	Arbelbide
Jaskwich	Q. B.	Shaver
Schwartz	L. H.	Mallory
Sheketski	R. H.	Pinckert
Banas	F. B.	Musick

Referee—Birch (Earlham). Umpire—Gillette (Oregon). Head linesman—Jay Wyatt (Chicago). Field judge—Baker (Chicago).

France Cuts in Half 1932 Olympic Funds

Paris, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—A proposed appropriation by France to send its Olympic team to Los Angeles next year has been cut more than half by the finance committee of the chamber of deputies, from $1,220,000 to $600,000.

RETAINS TITLE

TONY CANZONERI.

Kid Chocolate Beaten by Canzoneri

Italian Retains Title as Boos and Cheers Greet Decision.

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Nov. 20.—Tony Canzoneri and Kid Chocolate burned the book this evening in a fifteen-round fight that made the customers forget all the historic battles between little men. They fought like crazy men, with Canzoneri's lightweight championship at stake, and Tony won on a two-to-one decision of the judges and the referee. At the conclusion the shiny little black man from Havana was courteous to Tony, but turned away as his handlers cut the gloves from his hands and slumped down on his chair to cry.

A wild crowd of about 19,000, pretty well divided on the point score, cheered and booed in equal parts, and someone in one of the upper decks, lacking anything more effective to throw, shied an unemployed apple into the ring, where it splashed on Tony's bathrobe. One of Canzoneri's seconds, going slightly collegiate, walked over to the Kid's corner and tried to claim his gloves as trophies of the victory as the football captains do when their teams win out. The Kid's bottle-holder refused to acknowledge a college tradition in a prize fight ring, however, and kept the gloves as mementoes of one of the greatest bouts ever fought. In the course of years they might acquire a sentimental value of as much as $5, sentiment being very cheap by the ton in the fight business.

Fighters Linger In Ring.

Both boys then lingered on, Canzoneri bowing and smirking at the roaring mob and the bony little Cuban sniffling in disappointment, as the patrons by their enthusiasm virtually closed the articles for a repetition of the show and a great profit to all financially concerned. They were as good as rematched when at last, having sweated the situation to the utmost, they decided to go down to their quarters and dress.

Canzoneri's left eye was slightly scuffed and swollen from a wounding punch landed in the seventh round, but there were no visible marks on Chocolate, whose complexion, however, naturally neutralizes the spectacular effect of black eyes.

Canzoneri won by his body attack, which had Chocolate arching his back like a tomcat most of the way, but the astonishing strength and offensive courage of the little Negro made the fight and sent the pugilistic G. A. R.'s clear back to a bout between Leach Cross and Willie Ritchie, nearly twenty years ago, for a comparison.

Chocolate went down, swung off his balance by his own efforts and assisted to the floor by some miscellaneous small shots at his head, as they brawled through the fourth round. He took no count, however, and went tearing back into the trouble as though trouble were ice cream to him.

The Kid's best round was the second when, weathering a hard body attack and apparently badly hurt, he backed Canzoneri onto the ropes and started trading furious punches of both hands on the jaw. For 30 seconds Tony met him on even terms, but he suddenly wilted and leaped into a desperate clinch, apparently almost knocked out. Willie Lewis, the referee, broke them apart and Chocolate was just resuming his work when the champion grappled again, hanging on this time until his head cleared. But Tony went back to the mid-section again just as the round was closing and again Chocolate was trying to pull himself away by shrinking his middle, though his feet were game and refused to retreat.

Booth-Wood In Renewal Of Feud

Harvard Bidding for Eastern Crown by Downing Yale.

Game Marks Fiftieth Meeting of Ancient Big Three Rivals.

SEASON'S RECORDS.
Harvard		Yale
28 Bates	0	19 Maine	0
39 New Hamp.	0	7 Georgia	26
14 Army	13	27 Chicago	0
38 Texas	7	6 Army	6
18 Virginia	0	33 Dartmouth	33
7 Dartmouth	6	52 St. John's	0
7 Holy Cross	0
149	26	144	65

By WILL KING.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The golden jubilee of intercollegiate football's outstanding rivalry will be fittingly observed in the stadium tomorrow when Harvard's undefeated eleven attempts to round out its first perfect season since 1913 by smearing the great Albie Booth and his Yale cohorts for the fourth successive year.

Harvard, unbeaten, can just about clinch the Eastern football championship by beating the Elis for the fourth time in a row. The Crimson is favored, but the odds are not convincing in a rivalry that packs so many possibilities and so much intensity. Harvard, as the under dog, came through under Wood's leadership to win the last two games. On that basis Yale and Booth may be due to break the Crimson spell.

Both teams are in prime shape for this gridiron epic. Yale, with a three-week respite from rugged competition, comes up to its objective with only one important casualty, Vic Malin, center, who was injured in the sensational 33-33 deadlock with Dartmouth. Harvard, forced to grind against powerful opposition since early in October, is at full strength.

Crimson Squad At Peak.

The Crimson had its share of injuries this campaign, but Eddie Casey, new head coach, has handled his players with such rare skill that every member of his powerful squad is at his peak.

It is likely that Harvard will open a slight favorite since its line, especially at the tackles, is considered to be much stronger than that of the Elis. Harvard's line replacements are also rated higher than Yale's.

The back field strength is evenly divided. Harvard has ten first-class ball carriers, with Capt. Barry Wood, Jack Crickard, Jack Schereschewsky outstanding, and Yale has almost as many, including Capt. Booth, Joe Crowley, Walt Levering and cool-headed Bob Harker, who will probably open at quarter back.

Farewell Battle for Wood, Booth.

One of the outstanding sidelights to this fiftieth renewal of a 56-year rivalry will be the farewell gridiron clash of the rival leaders Wood and Booth.

The Crimson retired to the Belmont Spring Country Club this afternoon to escape Cambridge's pre-game excitement. Coach Mal Stevens and his Yale squad arrived early and tested out the stadium turf and winds during a short signal drill.

The probable line-up:

Harvard.	Position.	Yale.
Nazro	L. E.	Flygare
Hardy	L. T.	Wilbur
Ginman	L. G.	Nichols
Hallowell	Center	Beiner
Myerson	R. G.	Rotan
Kopanas	R. T.	Hall
Haseman	R. E.	Barres
Wood (C.)	Q. B.	Parker
Crickard	L. H.	(C.) Booth
Schereschewsky	R. H.	Crowley
White	F. B.	Levering

Referee—W. O. Crowell (Swarthmore). Umpire—C. J. McCarthy (Philadelphia). Linesman—H. A. Fisher (Columbia). Field judge—E. E. Miller (Penn State).

Randolph-Macon Foe of American

Eagles Face Difficult Task at Ashland; Parke Ready to Play.

Nursing hopes of finishing its campaign with a victory, the American University eleven stacks up against Randolph-Macon today at Ashland, Va. The "dope" does not favor the Eagles, however, for their opponents generally are considered as the strongest small-college team in the South Atlantic section.

For the final game, American, however, will possess its best back, Ed Parke. This lanky youth is the backbone of the offense and defense and is an asset, too, on account of his long-distance kicking. Parke has been on the sidelines with an injured side for three weeks.

Navy Primed to Repulse Air Attack of Methodists

Special to The Washington Post.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 20.—The stage is all set for the big home football game of the season for the Navy eleven tomorrow afternoon when the Midshipmen stack up against the eleven of Southern Methodist University of Dallas, Tex., at 2:30 o'clock.

The contest is to be played for charity, proceeds going to the national unemployment relief fund. Doubt was felt tonight whether the banner attendance of 25,000 expected by officials of the Navy Athletic Association, would be reached. Unsettled weather conditions of the week, for it has been rainy and murky, probably retarded the advance sale of tickets. The prospect is for fair and cooler weather tomorrow.

The Southern Methodist squad, famed for its forward passing attack, reached town at 3 o'clock this afternoon and the players lost no time in shifting into togs and having a final workout on Thompson Field. Kicking, passing, signals, and formations and in general feeling out the conditions of turf and testing the air cur-

Continued on Page 17, Column 6.

The Post's All-High Team

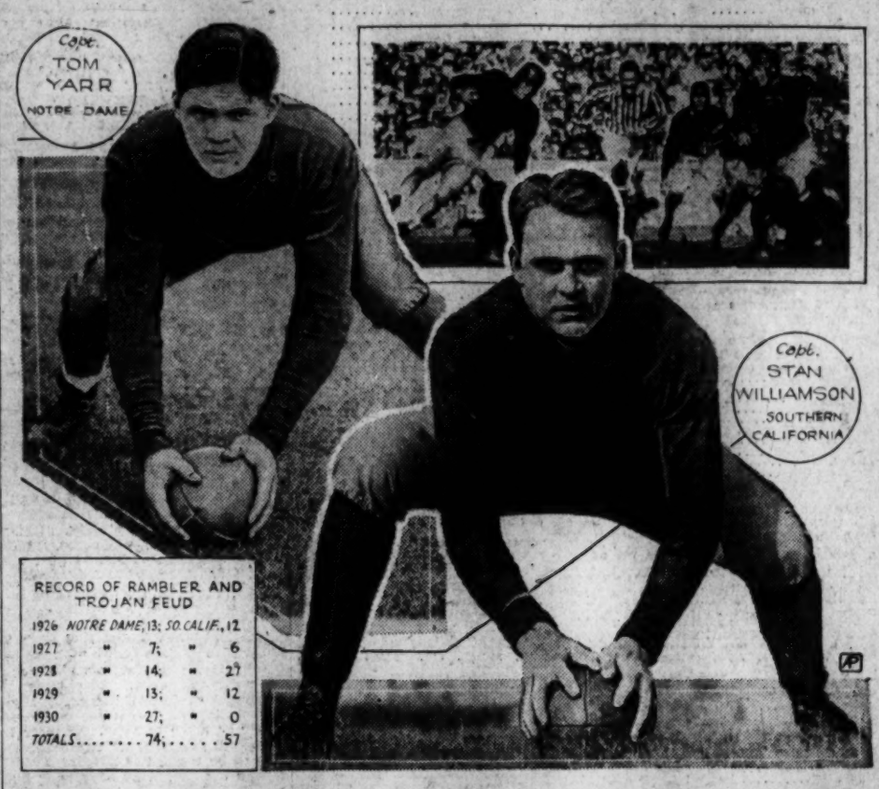
The final chapter of the District of Columbia's high school football series will be written tomorrow morning with the publication of The Washington Post's All-High Eleven for 1931.

The Sunday edition of The Post will present the lineup of players who by their consistently brilliant performances stamped themselves the best at their positions. The Post will name a first and a second All-High Team as has been the custom for more than a decade.

Washington Post reporters have been on the scene at every series game, closely following the individual performances of the players with a view to making the All-High selections at the end of the season.

Individual photographs of the selected players will accompany a comprehensive article detailing the basis of their selection.

Centers Lead Notre Dame and Trojans Into Battle



RECORD OF RAMBLER AND TROJAN FEUD
1926	NOTRE DAME, 13;	SO. CALIF.,	12
1927	" 7;	"	6
1928	" 14;	"	27
1929	" 13;	"	12
1930	" 27;	"	0
TOTALS	74;		57

Captaincies of the Notre Dame and Southern California teams will be vested in the two centers today when the two elevens take the field in the sixth game of their annual series, which started in 1926. Southern California, beaten in two of the games by one point and victorious only in 1928, aims to mar the unbeaten records of the Ramblers this season.

W. & L. GAME IS TEST FOR MARYLAND

Return of Wood Bolsters Old Liners for Annual Battle.

SEASON'S RECORDS.
Washington-Lee.		Maryland
32 Ham.-Sidney	0	13 Wash. College	0
0 Davidson	7	7 Virginia	6
0 Kentucky	45	6 Navy	0
0 West Virginia	19	6 Kentucky	6
18 Virginia	0	41 V. M. I.	20
0 W. and M.	0	20 V. P. I.	0
6 V. P. I.	0	12 Vanderbilt	39
6 Princeton	0
62	71	108	71

OLD grads and plain fans who gather at College Park this afternoon for Maryland University's annual home-coming clash with Washington and Lee are expected to witness one of the most exciting struggles of the gridiron season hereabouts, for the occasion means much to both teams, offering opportunities for glory that few other contests on their schedules hold out.

To each team the game means a chance to garner the championship of the northern division of the Southern Conference, of which both are members. Neither has met defeat from the "big four" of Virginia and goes into this contest with records unsullied as far as the title is concerned. Maryland has beaten V. P. I., Virginia and V. M. I., while Washington and Lee has downed Virginia and V. P. I. As a matter of policy, Washington and Lee does not meet V. M. I. in any sport.

Maryland Trailing In Series.

In addition, Maryland has a chance to creep up on its rival in their series begun in 1924. Thus far the Old Line has been defeated four times in six games, all of the losses having been sustained prior to 1928, when Maryland scored its first triumph. Last year Maryland won the game by 41 to 7, the largest score either has compiled during the series.

Maryland will start with its strongest line-up, having regained the services of Al Woods, clever quarter back, who was injured in the Kentucky game on October 17. Woods' presence adds much defensive strength to the Old Liners. In the back field with him will be Shorty Chambers, passer extraordinary; Bozie Berger, fleet runner and pass receiver, and Ray Popelman, plunging full back.

Generals Show Improvement.

Washington and Lee is at the peak of its form and expects to furnish all the opposition the home clan cares to encounter. After a poor start, the Generals, under the direction of Coach Jimmy DeHart, who returned to W. and L. this season after six years at Duke inaugurated a winning streak that has remained unbroken through the past month. A 6-to-0 defeat of Princeton last Saturday is

Continued on Page 17, Column 2.

TODAY'S FOOTBALL GAMES

(With scores when same teams met last year.)

LOCAL TEAMS.

Maryland (41) vs Washington and Lee (7) at College Park, 2:30 p. m.

Catholic U. vs Providence at Brookland, 2:30 p. m.

Gallaudet (13) vs Shepherd (0) at Kendall Green, 2:30 p. m.

Georgetown (0) vs Villanova (13) at Villanova, Pa.

American vs Randolph-Macon at Ashland, Va.

EAST.

Quantico Marines vs Davis-Elkins.

Boston U. (7) vs Boston College (47).

Brown (0) vs New Hampshire (7).

Fordham (12) vs Bucknell (0).

Geneva (7) vs Westminster (0).

Grove City (13) vs Thiel (0).

Harvard (13) vs Yale (0).

Haverford (7) vs Delaware (14).

Holy Cross (32) vs Loyola (0).

Juniata (12) vs Waynesboro (14).

Lehigh (6) vs Lafayette (16).

Massachusetts Aggies (6) vs Tufts (42).

Muhlenberg (7) vs Dickinson (0).

St. John's vs Lynchburg.

St. Joseph's vs Washington College.

Springfield (82) vs Vermont (0).

Army (18) vs Ursinus (0).

Navy (7) vs Southern Methodist (20).

Western Maryland (33) vs Mount St. Mary's (0).

West Virginia Wesleyan vs Allegheny.

West Virginia vs Penn State.

SOUTH.

Duke (0) vs. North Carolina (0).

Georgia (39) vs. Auburn (7).

Georgia Tech (7) vs. Florida (55).

Roanoke (0) vs. Emory-Henry (13).

South Carolina (19) vs. North Carolina State (0).

Tulane vs. Sewanee.

CENTRAL.

Chicago (0) vs. Wisconsin (34).

Detroit (0) vs. Michigan State (0).

Drake (20) vs. Grinnell (0).

Indiana (7) vs. Purdue (6).

Iowa vs. Northwestern.

Kansas (32) vs. Missouri (0).

Kansas Aggies vs. North Dakota Aggies.

Marquette (19) vs. Creighton (7).

Michigan (7) vs. Minnesota (0).

Nebraska (14) vs. Iowa State (12).

Notre Dame (27) vs. Southern California (0).

Ohio State (12) vs. Illinois (9).

Wabash (6) vs. De Pauw (7).

Western Reserve (14) vs. Ohio Wesleyan (41).

SOUTHWEST.

Arizona vs. De Paul.

Baylor (32) vs. Texas Christian (14).

Oklahoma Aggies (12) vs. Wichita (0).

Oklahoma City vs. Nebraska Wesleyan.

Rice (6) vs. Arkansas (7).

Texas Aggies (0) vs. Texas (26).

WEST.

Colorado (14) vs. Colorado College (13).

Colorado Aggies (26) vs. Greeley Tech (0).

Denver vs. Temple.

Gonzaga (0) vs. Washington State (24).

Stanford (41) vs. California (0).

Santa Clara vs. Wyoming.

PROVIDENCE THREAT TO C. U. TEAM

Six-Game Winning Streaks to Clash Here Today.

SEASON'S RECORDS.
Providence		Catholic
0 Rutgers	19	7 Boston Col.	26
6 Holy Cross	26	53 C. C. N. Y.	18
27 Vermont	13	91 Gallaudet	0
6 Clarkson	0	12 N. C. State	7
24 Norwich	0	20 Duquesne	12
19 Lowell Textile	6	19 Manhattan	6
13 Niagara	6	21 St. Francis	6
33 St. John (Br.)	12
128	82	223	75

HIGH-GEARED ELEVENS will be out to protect winning streaks of six games each today when Catholic University's Football Team takes issue with the Providence College's Friars at Brookland. When the opening signal is given at 2:30 o'clock, two powerful contingents will be set for the hardest sort of competition.

Resuming football relations with the Brooklanders after an eight-year lapse, Providence will be out to duplicate its 1923 triumph. Opposed to an outstanding Catholic University representative that season, the Friars smashed through to a spectacular 7-to-0 upset.

That today's contest may resolve itself into a spectacular duel of the air was the prospect late yesterday. Informed of Catholic's weakness against the overhead game, Providence's athletes have concentrated particularly upon this system of offense.

Alternating in operating the tossing end of the C. U. aerial attack will be Quarter Back Charley McVean and Johnny Oliver. Although McVean gets the starting call, Oliver unquestionably will be called upon to get away some of his long distance specialties as play moves on.

Visitors Have Star Backs

Stopping a highly versatile and powerful back field looms as a mighty assignment for the Cardinals. In Brady, Capt. Foster, Galligan and O'Keefe, Catholic must check the ad-

Continued on Page 17, Column 3.

Phillies Release Two To St. Paul in Deal

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The Philadelphia National League Club announced today it had sent Pitcher Harold Ellisott and outfielder Fred Koster to the St. Paul Club of the American Association. This completes the deal, it was announced, whereby George Davis, outfielder, comes to the Phillies from the St. Paul Club in exchange for cash and two players.

BABY STRIBLING WINS.

Bluefield, W. Va., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Herbert (Baby) Stribling, 143, of Macon, Ga., a brother of W. L. (Young) Stribling, won in ten rounds over Billy Burkett, 145, New York, here tonight. Young Altis, 139, Roanoke, Va., defeated Johnny Cattaline, 131, Charleston, in eight.

ColonialsRun Wild From Start

Carlin Goes 48 Yards for Touchdown Near Start.

Butler Averts Shutout by Scoring in Final Period.

By JACK ESPEY.

AFTER failures against Tulsa and Iowa, George Washington emerged victorious from battle with a Western foe last night at Griffith Stadium when, with its full strength in harness the Buff and Blue subdued the Bull Dogs from Butler University, 32 to 7.

George Washington took an early lead, scoring in the first three minutes, and never was in danger thereafter, although forced to yield to a Butler onslaught led by the Indianapolis hero, Kenneth Booz, in the fourth period. Booz, one of the outstanding backs to appear in the stadium this year, contributed a 30-yard run and a pass to Wayne Hughes in the end zone to produce the lone Butler touchdown.

Joe Carter, recently promoted to first-string half back, led the George Washington offensive that clicked on all cylinders for three periods and came through with numerous bits of shining defensive work to help the Colonial cause. Carter scored two of the five touchdowns credited to his team and made one of the two longest runs of the game—a dash of 43 yards—for the last touchdown in the fourth period. On this occasion he exhibited brilliant open-field stepping when he eluded every man in the Butler defense without a single hand touching him.

Carlin Scores on 48-Yard Dash.

The other long run was inserted by Lee Carlin, right half back, for the first touchdown, Carlin galloping 48 yards on a cut-back play through tackle. The other touchdowns were made by Johnny Fenlon, quarter back, and Fred Mulvey, left end.

On the whole, it was the best game George Washington has shown a home-town crowd this year. For the first three periods Coach Pixlee's pupils did just about everything in perfect fashion. However, in the fourth quarter they appeared to lose their determination with the result that their tackling was weak and their blocking not worthy of the name.

This let-down, however, had nothing to do with the run of Booz nor with the pass which Hughes snagged in the end zone for Butler's six pointer. These were cleverly executed plays, particularly the dash of Booz during which the big Bull Dog leader side-stepped, dodged, danced and stiff-armed his way to the Colonial 13-yard line. He would have continued across the goal line but for a flying tackle from behind by Finis Parrish, G. W. full back.

After an exchange of punts George Washington got the ball on its 40-yard line and had a touchdown three plays later. Carlin made a small gain off tackle and then passed to Carter for 4 yards. On the next play Carlin bolted through a hole at tackle, reversed his field, and dashed on to the goal line unimpeded.

A 27-yard return of a punt by Fenlon led to the second Colonial touchdown shortly before the second quarter. Fenlon placing the ball on his 42-yard line. Carlin passed to Chambers for 9 yards, Carter ran 16 yards off tackle, and with a few more short gains the Colonials were on the 15-yard stripe. Here Carlin faded out on end and passed to Mulvey, who caught the ball over his shoulder in the end zone.

A recovery of a Butler fumble by Mulvey gave George Washington possession of the ball early in the second quarter to inaugurate its third scoring drive, covering 24 yards. Carter was the spearhead of the attack this time and planted the leather on the 2-yard line, from where Fenlon sliced off tackle to score.

Colonials Roll Up Score.

Still in high gear, the Colonials rushed down field 58 yards to a touchdown in the first two minutes of the second half. Carter again featured the attack with runs of 21 and 18 yards, and finally escorted the ball over the goal line on a mad charge from the 6-yard mark. Parrish added an extra point on this touchdown with a placement kick. The only other successful point attempt was made by Chambers on the first touchdown.

With Booz and Hughes tossing the

Continued on Page 17, Column 4.

COLLEGE SCORES

George Washington, 32; Butler, 7.
Salem, 18; Fairmont Teachers, 0.
Ohio Northern, 51; Capital, 12.
Glenville Teachers, 14; Morris Harvey, 6.
Rose Poly, 10; McKendree, 7.
Texas Tech, 32; New Mexico U., 6.
Wofford, 13; Erskine, 12.
Kansas Wesleyan, 14; Rockhurst College, 12.
St. Ambrose, 7; Penn (Oskaloosa, Iowa), 6.
Luther, 20; Buena Vista, 0.
Southern Normal, 19; Dakota Wesleyan, 0.
Westminster, 13; Central, 0.
Northwestern Teachers, 7; Southwestern Teachers, 7.

AUTOMOBILES AT WESCHLER'S
Auto Auction
323 H St. N.W.
TODAY
Sat., Nov. 21st, 10 A.M.

U. S. G. A. Adopts New Ball Of Same Size But Heavier

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The final chapter in the ill-fated career of the "balloon" golf ball was written today by the executive committee of the United States Golf Association.

On January 1, 1932, the overgrown and underweight sphere that has had the Nation's linksmen running a fever for the last year will vanish officially from the fairways.

Replacing it will be a new creation that the golfing fathers fondly believe is everything a golf ball should be, combining as it does the best features of the old pellet and the "balooner," the weight of the old and the size of the new.

The committee's announcement, issued by President H. H. Ramsay after yesterday's lengthy conclave, follows:

"Effective for play January 1, 1932, the size of the golf ball shall be not less than 1.68 inches in diameter, and the weight shall be not greater than 1.62 ounces avoirdupois.

"The foregoing specifications retain the size of the present ball and change the weight specification back to that of the old ball."

For several months a subcommittee,

Continued on Page 17, Column 1.

THAIS, 7 TO 1, CAPTURES BOWIE FILLY FEATURE BY A HEAD

Stretch Duel Is Won by Outsider

Blind Lane Is Second to Whitney Filly Despite Rush.

Syriac Wins in Sixth Race, Paying $42 in Mutuels.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.
Special to The Washington Post.

BOWIE RACE TRACK, Md., Nov. 20.—H. F. Kraft's Hibala, 3-year-old colt by High Noon, easily accounted for the Bay Shore, the feature of the card here today, leading all the way. Coming strong in the stretch and catching Misstep tiring, J. E. Widener's Pari-Mutuel, outsider in the betting, finished second. J. F. Adams' Annimessic was third.

H. F. Kraft's Hibala, 3-year-old colt by High Noon, easily accounted for the Bay Shore, the feature of the card here today, leading all the way. Coming strong in the stretch and catching Misstep tiring, J. E. Widener's Pari-Mutuel, outsider in the betting, finished second. J. F. Adams' Annimessic was third.

J. Long, who rode Thais in the previous race to victory, again displayed rare horsemanship on Hibala. Stepping to the front before first turn, Hibala's fate never appeared in doubt, but for an instant at the far turn, when Misstep, always feared, came close. But with a shaking-up, Hibala moved away and Pari-Mutuel was two lengths behind him at the finish, and a half length back came Annimessic, so little thought about that he paid $23.70 to show, the winner returning $8.60 for a $2 ticket. The time was 1:47 1-5, a mile and a sixteenth.

Crowd of 18,000
On Hand.

A hot sun beat down on the slow track all afternoon, improving it greatly. About 18,000 basked in the summer-like weather, and altogether it was a big day for Bowie, leading every day the receipts of last year on corresponding days, and the parimutuels being fed much more bountifully than last year.

Breckinridge Long, whose Tinita set the season's record when Tinita won the other day at 106 to 1, furnished the winner of the first race here today for maiden 2-year-olds with Broompatch, a filly ridden by D. Meade, and which held a length and a half over the favorite, Move Along, which was second, and Jane Ellen was third. The time was 1:08, 5½ furlongs.

Night Vintage
In Victory.

Mrs. E. Jackson's Night Vintage, due largely to a strong finish by Jockey Gilbert, won the second race for 2-year-olds by a neck from Stuart, the favorite, and paid $13.40. Wise Seller was third, three lengths away and a length in front of the fourth horse, Phantom Rock. The time was 1:13 4-5. Stuart was heavily backed and led all the way to the sixteenth, but it seemed Hooper made a weak finish.

The closest finish among three horses came in the third race, when Solace, Phillip and Smear finished under a pocket handkerchief, Solace having a nose the best of it, with Phillip second, a short head in front of Smear. Solace led from the barrier, wavered leaving the far turn under the determined challenge of Phillip, and in the last jump Smear got deep into the battle and it seemed a hard task for the judges to separate the trio. Legere is entitled to praise for his good ride on the Seagram Stable's Solace, which ran 6 furlongs on a heavy track in 1:12 4-5.

C. V. Whitney's Thais, eased off the pace in the early running came strong at the finish under J. Long's urging, to win the fourth race, named in honor of Mayor Edward W. Jackson, a guest of the management for this afternoon of racing. Fillies and mares, all aged, started at 1 mile and 70 yards. Thais got a head decision over the Goodstone Stable's Blind Lane, while the Glen Riddle Stable's Problematic was third, four lengths back. Dark Seeker was the contender, but J. Renick failed to find the shortest path home, and fell out of contention. Thais, a 3-year-old filly by Sun Briar, has raced little this fall, and was overlooked, paying $15.90. The time was 1:46 2-5.

Frank Hayes' Syriac got a nose decision in the sixth race, and paid $42.80. Tarnish was second, two and a half lengths in front of Flying Max, third. Eager Play and Live One fell. They went down after passing the far turn before the field had turned for the stretch. Eager Play trailed to the back stretch, but had moved up to fourth position. He was ridden by A. Prain and J. Gilbert was on Live One. Meridian Queen was close up at the time of the jam. The time was 1:49, a mile and a sixteenth.

J. C. C. and "Y" Mat Teams Clash Nov. 30

The Jewish Community Center wrestling team will open its season Monday, November 30, opposing the Y. M. C. A. team at the Center. The two teams finished in a deadlock for the District championship last season.

Coach McNamara has the following men available for the match: Herman Iskow, 115 pounds; Jack Kosowsky, 125 pounds, District champion; Max Bassin, 135 pounds; Harry Goldman, 145 pounds, District champion; Steve Sills, 155 pounds; Jimmy Devers, 165 pounds; Al Cohn, 175 pounds, and either Sid Kolker or Babe Silverman, unlimited.

Bassin, a product of the University of Nebraska, and Goldman, rated one of the cleverest amateur mat artists in the city, are being especially counted upon to produce good work.

Maryland U. Freshmen Harriers Win, 23-32

Maryland University's well trained freshman cross-country team, sending home three of its men in the win place and show positions, annexed a 23-to-32 victory over the Varsity B squad in and about the ravines of College Park yesterday afternoon.

Ramsburg and Firman, the first two runners to finish, negotiated the approximately 3-mile course in 16:37.

The remaining men to finish were, in the order of finish, Ashton, Fresh; Auld, Jones and Duncan, B squad; Litsinger, Fresh; Thomas and Crotty, B squad, and McQuinn, Fresh. Brown, Fresh, and Cogdenow, B squad, also ran.

Mate Choice in $25,000 Stake

Bowie, Md., Nov. 20.—A. C. Bostwick's Mate is early favorite for the $25,000 added Southern Maryland Handicap. Details of the week-end feature are:

P.P.	Horse.	Weight	Jockey	Owner.	Approx. Odds.
1	*White Clover II	107	L. Pichon	Foxcatcher Farms	6-1
2	Pittsburgher	115	J. Bejshak	Shady Brook Farm Stable	10-1
3	†Blenheim	106	T. Malley	Wheatley Stable	10-1
4	Sidney Grant	109	M. Lewis	A. Bartelstein	20-1
5	‡Mr. Sponge	121	M. Garner	Joseph E. Widener	3-1
6	†Ormesby	103	D. Meade	Belair Stud	10-1
7	Inception	104	F. Stevens	Rigan McKinney	20-1
8	*Frigate Bird	104	J. Renick	Foxcatcher Farm	6-1
9	Waterway	106	C. Kurtsinger	Frank Grossman	10-1
10	*Tambour	113	F. Coltiletti	Preston M. Burch	6-1
11	Marine	114	L. Schaefer	Mount Ro l Stable	6-1
12	Repentance	104	G. Fields	Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer	15-1
13	Flagstone	108	C. Quattlebaum	Linton Farms	15-1
14	Tred Avon	108	P. Remillard	S. W. Labrot	8-1
15	‡Curate	110	D. McAuliffe	Joseph E. Widener	3-1
16	*Happy Scot	103	S. Renick	Cary T. Grayson	6-1
17	§Risque	112	E. Steffen	Mrs. J. D. Hertz	12-1
18	Dr. Freeland	116	A. Robertson	Walter J. Salmon	4-1
19	Mate	127	G. Ellis	A. C. Bostwick	2-1
20	§Valenciennes	109	J. Long	Mrs. J. D. Hertz	12-1

*C. T. Grayson, Foxcatcher Farm and P. M. Burch entry. †Wheatley Stable and Belair Stud entry. ‡J. E. Widener entry. §Mrs. J. D. Hertz entry.

Bowie Race Charts

Special to The Washington Post.

November 20, 1931.
WEATHER, CLEAR. TRACK, FAST.

FIRST RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For maiden 2-year-old fillies. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post 2-year-old fillies. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 1:01. Off at 1:02½. Winner, Breck. Long's ch. bk. br. or blk. f. (2), by Scotch Broom—Cross Patch. Trained by M. Smart. Value to winner, $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 3-5, 0:49 2-5, 1:06.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
BROOMPATCH	111	5	4	2h	3½	2²	1¹	Meade	†$13.80
MOVE ALONG	111	3	1	1²	1¹	1½	2h	Robertson	1.35
JANE ELLEN	106	9	2	4³	2½	3½	3¹	Prain	14.85
CHLOEDAIR	111	4	3	3nk	4³	4⁵	4⁴	Accardy	7.15
FACCHINA	112	8	9	11h	8³	7⁴	5½	Schaefer	7.40
LINTON NELL	116	12	5	7⁵	5½	5³	6h	Quattlebaum	8.00
GLENBURNIE	111	11	7	6h	6³	6³	7½	J. Renick	61.05
LADY BRIGHT	111	10	12	9½	7¾	8³	8nk	Marinelli	†
BOKIE B	106	1	10	12	10²	9³	9⁴	Arthur	*122.00
BRILLIANCY	106	7	8	5h	9¹	10⁴	10⁵	Gilbert	179.55
JUSTA MAID	115	6	11	10½	11	11	11	Casanova	*
TOUGH GIRL	111	2	6	8⁴	Broke down			Stevens	7.25

*Field. †A. Barklee-B. Long entry.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—BROOMPATCH (A. Barklee entry), $29.60, $7.30, $5.70; MOVE ALONG, $3.20, $2.80; JANE ELLEN, $6.90.

BROOMPATCH, in closest pursuit of MOVE ALONG from the start, came through a wide opening on the inside of the pacemaker when straightened into the home stretch, and outfinished MOVE ALONG when it came to a drive. MOVE ALONG, quick to get going raced under slight pressure early, lost ground when entering the home stretch and tired fast in the closing furlong. JANE ELLEN was unable to improve her position when the final test came. CHLOEDAIR was in the deeper footing the entire journey. FACCHINA lacked early speed after breaking well.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 2-year-olds. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 1:32. Off at 1:33½. Winner, Mrs. E. Jackson's b. c. (2), by Nightwing—Vint Daphne. Trained by R. Jackson. Value to winner, $950; second, $300; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:48 2-5, 1:13 4-5.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
NIGHT VINTAGE	109	5	3	3h	3²	3³	1h	Gilbert	$5.70
STUART	114	7	4	2h	1h	1h	2²	Hooper	4.35
WISE SELLER	114	12	1	1¹	2½	2½	3½	Steffen	15.05
PHANTOM ROCK	109	2	7	5¹	5½	5⁴	4½	DeCamillas	4.45
INCESSANT	114	3	5	4³	4½	4½	5⁴	Cleverley	30.25
THE BOURBONIAN	114	10	10	7½	6½	6²	6³	Remillard	*38.75
PICTOVER	109	4	9	9⁵	9⁴	7³	7¹	Lewis	7.55
SUNNY WORLD	114	6	8	6h	8½	8³	8¹	M. Garner	4.55
POPCORN	114	11	2	11⁴	11³	9⁵	9⁴	Thurber	75.30
STIMOON	114	9	12	12	12	10h	10½	Richards	250.80
TONAWANDA	109	1	6	10¹	10⁴	11⁴	11³	Marinelli	*
ESTABROOK	114	8	11	8h	7h	12	12	Coltiletti	†

*Field. †Estabrook Stable-B. S. Michell entry.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—NIGHT VINTAGE, $13.40, $6.50, $4.10; STUART, $4.80, $3.40; WISE SELLER (Estabrook Stable entry), $3.80.

NIGHT VINTAGE, racing in the thick of contention from the beginning, came to the outside for the final drive and, finishing in determined fashion, wore STUART down in the sixteenth mile. STUART raced WISE SELLER into submission to take command approaching the home stretch, was placed to punishment and held on gamely. WISE SELLER, hard ridden from the start, continued gamely after being displaced. PHANTOM ROCK improved his position slowly, but was unable to threaten the leaders. INCESSANT, in the first flight throughout, was held safe.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 2:01. Off at 2:05. Winner, Sagamore Stable's ch. h. (6), by Trojan—Bellsolar. Trained by W. H. Bungloe. Value to winner, $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:48, 1:12 4-5.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
SOLACE	116	6	1	2¹	1h	1h	1nk	Legere	$3.25
PHILLIP	116	1	4	1h	2¹	2¹	2h	Malley	10.95
SMEAR	114	3	6	5½	5¹	3h	3¹	Robertson	2.70
AVALON	114	4	9	6nk	4h	4h	4²	Walls	3.60
FAIR JACK	116	5	5	3h	3h	5⁴	5³	Remillard	4.20
AYMOND	116	8	2	4½	6¹	6½	6¹⁵	S. Renick	78.70
KYBO	116	9	8	8¹	8½	7³	7⁶	Ambrose	60.75
GRANDMA LAPP	111	7	3	7¹	7h	8½	8⁷	V. Smith	41.35
SURTEES	116	2	7	9	9	9	9	Greco	146.85

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SOLACE, $8.50, $4.30, $3.30; PHILLIP, $9.80, $6.20; SMEAR, $2.90.

SOLACE, well handled and sent into contention at once, took a slight lead while racing on the inside of PHILLIP, responded to severe urging and, withstanding a stout drive, just lasted long enough. PHILLIP, favored by the footing and going in his best form, was carried out entering the home stretch, but held on resolutely until the finish. SMEAR worked his way up on the inside, finished fast and was wearing the first two down steadily nearing the finish. AVALON, shuffled back early, was taken to the outside and closed stoutly. FAIR JACK was rushed hard early.

FOURTH RACE—Mile and seventy yards. Purse, $1,500; allowances. The Howard W Jackson. For fillies and mares, all ages. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 2:36. Off at 2:37½. Winner, C. V. Whitney's b. f. (3), by Sun Briar—Afternoon. Trained by F. Hopkins. Value to winner, $1,050; second, $250; third, $150; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24, 0:48 3-5, 1:14, 1:41 2-5, 1:46 2-5.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
THAIS	103	4	4	1¹	1½	1¹	2½	Long	$6.95
BLIND LANE	109	1	1	5h	2h	1²	2⁴	Fields	2.85
PROBLEMATICAL	108½	3	3	2h	5	5	4³	Remillard	7.40
ROBIN'S EGG	109	2	2	4²	4¹	3¹	3³	Riley	2.25
DARK SEEKER	100	5	5	3²	2h	4¹	5	J. Renick	3.05

Two-dollar mutuels paid—THAIS, $15.90, $7.00, $4.30; BLIND LANE, $4.20, $3.70; PROBLEMATICAL, $5.30.

THAIS outran her field to the first turn, was rated under steadying restraint, shook off PROBLEMATICAL and DARK SEEKER, lost a great deal of ground when entering the home stretch, came again under punishment in the final furlong after being displaced and was up in the final fifty yards. BLIND LANE reached the leaders when leaving the back stretch, secured command when saving a lot of ground at the stretch turn, but faltered badly under punishment in the final sixteenth mile. PROBLEMATICAL, close up early, continued gamely after dropping back and took third place when ROBIN'S EGG was eased approaching the finish.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,400; allowances. The Bay Ridge. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won ridden out; place, driving. Went to post at 4:08. Off at 4:12. Winner, F. E. Kraft's ch. c. (3), by High Noon—Fantam Bala. Trained by owner. Value to winner $1,000; second, $225; third, $125; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 3-5, 0:48 2-5, 1:13 3-5, 1:40 2-5, 1:47 1-5.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
HIBALA	110	8	4	11	11	1¹	1¹	Long	$3.20
PARI-MUTUEL	110½	7	6	5nk	5½	3²	2²	M. Garner	18.70
ANNIMESSIC	103	3	2	8	7¹	4³	3½	Meade	110.45
MISSTEP	117	4	3	3½	2¹	2³	4³	Robertson	1.90
ALLEZ VITE	100	5	6	4h	6³	6³	5h	J. Renick	11.20
INCEPTION	114	6	5	5½	4²	4½	5h	Walls	7.85
TOTE	110	1	8	2h	3½	3h	7½	Kelsay	4.90
IRONSIDES	107	2	1	7³	7h	8	8	Lewis	16.85

Two-dollar mutuels paid—HIBALA, $8.60, $5.20, $4.00; PARI MUTUEL, $11.30, $7.30; ANNIMESSIC, $23.70.

HIBALA, rushed to the front, was rated along down the back stretch, was taken out into the firmer footing through the final half mile, was shaken up during the stretch run and had enough in reserve to withstand PARI MUTUEL. Latter worked his way up while taking a wide course, responded to punishment and was closing willingly approaching the finish. ANNIMESSIC, a trailer in the early stages, finished with good speed in the final five furlongs.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:40. Off at 3:41. Winner, P. Hayes' br. g. (4), by Flying Ebony—Lexicon. Trained by P. E. Fitzgerald. Value to winner, $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24, 0:49 2-5, 1:14 3-5, 1:42 2-5, 1:49.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
SYRIAC	107	5	6	9¹	9¹	6¹	3½	1nk	Kenwood	$20.40
TARNISH	107	2	8	8½	10	8	4½	2½	Lewis	25
FLYING MAX	112	8	9	6h	7h	5⁵	2h	3¹	Mann	6.25
ARRAS	108	2	10	7½	5¹	3nk	1½	4²	Remillard	10.65
FLY GUY	108	7	4	4¹	4¹	4²	5²	5⁴	Stevens	5.85
MERIDIAN QUEEN	116	6	3	3½	3½	6nk	6⁴	6⁴	Prior	6.55
POLITEN	107	10	5	1¹	1nk	1h	7½	7²	Marinelli	47.55
ARGONAUT	107	9	8	5²	6½	7h	8	8	E. Smith	128.45
LIVE ONE	106	3	1	2¹	2h	Fell			Gilbert	12.35
EAGER PLAY	110	4	7	10	8½	Fell			Prain	3.65

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SYRIAC, $42.80, $16.00, $12.10; TARNISH, $6.60, $4.50; FLYING MAX, $6.30.

SYRIAC, outrun early, worked his way up on the inside when leaving the back stretch, closed stoutly when straightened into the home stretch, disposed of ARRAS but had to be vigorously ridden to stall off TARNISH. Latter, poorly ridden, was allowed to drop out of contention after being away forwardly, was put to a drive in the closing half mile and, circling around his field while losing considerable ground, was wearing the winner down at every stride. FLYING MAX weakened after reaching the leaders midway of the home stretch. ARRAS, well placed, secured command when slipping through on the inside at the stretch turn, but faltered when kept in the deepest footing. FLY GUY had no excuse.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:15. Off at 4:16½. Winner, G. L. Stryker's b. c. (3), by Lord Martin—Peccadillo. Trained by L. Campbell. Value to winner $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24 2-5, 0:49 3-5, 1:15, 1:42 2-5, 1:56.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
TRICE	113	3	1	4nk	2h	1½	1²	Robertson	$2.30
SKIRT	106	4	8	7¹	4h	2¹	2h	Prior	20.60
NOINE	114	7	11	8¹	7¹	6²	3h	Malley	36.15
THE BREAK	108	1	2	5h	5nk	3h	4¹	DeCamillas	6.00
FAIR BILL	109	12	7	2h	6¹	7²	5½	Arthur	16.65
SIDNEY G	110	2	10	9h	9h	8½	7h	Long	10.15
DAWDLE	106	9	5	3½	1h	4½	8⁴	Lewis	6.95
ERA	106	10	4	11	3½	5¹	6h	Fowler	*10.20
JORICO	108	8	3	10⁵	10⁴	9h	9½	E. Smith	15.55
RUNDALE	109	11	6	6¹	8½	10²	10⁴	Prain	7.50
TALL GRASS	114	5	12	12	11½	11²	11⁴	Craver	*
FLY ACROSS	109	6	9	11⁴	12	12	12	Marinelli	*

*Field.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—TRICE, $6.60, $4.80, $3.30; SKIRT, $13.50, $7.80; NOINE, $12.60.

TRICE, hustled into a forward position early, moved up to join the leaders midway of the back stretch, took command when rounding the final turn and, kept under punishment through the home stretch, held SKIRT safe. Latter improved her position on the outside, responded for the closing test, but could not reach the winner. NOINE, slow to get going, circled his field and closed full of run. THE BREAK, placed in a contending position, weakened after making a determined effort approaching the home stretch. FAIR BILL showed a good test.

Boots and Saddle's

(Reg. U. S. Patent Office)

—Bowie Selections—

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

BOWIE RACE TRACK, Md., Nov. 20.—Bowie puts it best foot forward in the renewal tomorrow of the $25,000 added Southern Maryland Handicap for 3-year-olds and up at a mile and a furlong.

There are only two claiming races on the entire program, and in the various interesting offerings the W. P Burch Memorial carries a sentimental value above the ordinary, and this has attracted the first rank sprinters. Also there are the Loch Laven and the Shenandoah, fixtures at this track.

The track conditions are uncertain, except that a fast track is improbable. A capacity attendance is in order, with a break in the weather.

MATE will make his last start as a 3-year-old, it is probable, in the Southern Maryland, although he is eligible for the Thanksgiving Handicap next week. He carries 127 pounds in the week-end feature, and the Bostwick horse is not believed equal to the task of this concession, in his present form.

MR. SPONGE is selected to win, carrying J. E. Widener's colors. He is coupled with CURATE, a strong running-mate. MR. SPONGE has had a let-up in his busy campaign, and is known to be at his best. With 121 pounds, at the distance, MR. SPONGE should turn in his best performance of the fall. Preston Burch has four in the race. TAMBOUR, which has defeated MATE; HAPPY SCOT, nearing his best form, and FRIGATE BIRD, a winner at this meeting, and WHITE CLOVER II comprise the horses Burch will saddle for the stake, and TAMBOUR should be a contender.

MATE is an uncertain horse, but is rated third. He may be closer, and he may be out of the picture altogether. The fault with MATE is not considered so much a lack of class as a lack of the kind of training the horse seems to need. The two Hertz fillies, RISQUE and VALENCIENNES, could not win without an upset of form, the way they have been running this fall.

FIRST RACE—All-aged maidens make up the large field opening the program at a mile and 70 yards. CHATMOSS, second in both starts at Pimlico, is selected to win. BROADWAY LIGHTS, a beaten favorite, likely will force the pace. Out of the money only once in all his starts, the Mrs. P. A. B. Widener colt may surprise by finishing on the front end. ROBOT will figure in the race. He was carried too fast in his last race at the beginning, but finished second to Skyway.

SECOND RACE — FALL APPLE seems much the best in this race for 2-year-olds, the Loch Laven Purse. This Whitney colt was beaten a head and a nose by Snapback and Stagecraft in his last start. DARK MISSION is probably the contender, running second to Barcelona Pete at Pimlico, beaten a nose. AIR PILOT will improve.

THIRD RACE—BALKO and FOLLOW ON, coupled as the Sagamore Stable entry, should win the W. P. Burch Memorial, although BALKO is carrying 131 pounds. THE BEASEL will make it a close finish, she being weighted at 119, and in the pink of condition. She beat Flying Heels in her last start, 1:11 flat, at Empire City. MASKED BALL should take third.

FOURTH RACE — HAPPY SCOT, which also has been entered in the feature, should win the Shenandoah if he starts in it. KHORASAN, improving, beat Full Dress last out, and is dangerous in this. ORMESBY should not be overlooked. He led all the way at Pimlico, but failed badly in the Prince Georges.

SIXTH RACE—FULL DRESS is selected to take the measure of DON PEDRO in the mile and a sixteenth gallop. The latter defeated Spanish in his last, but FULL DRESS outclasses him. WHIPPER CRACKER has a chance, and should be third.

SEVENTH RACE—OLD TIMES seems the best at the long route, on his Laurel race. GULLEY JUMPER may be the contender. He also won at this distance. CALL PLAY is liked by the clockers, but could not be rated closer than third on anything he has shown.

MATE SEEKS NEW MARK FOR 1931

Would Pass Twenty Grand With Victory Today.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—With the top of the year's money winning list as his objective, A. C. Bostwick's Mate goes postward for the last time this year in the $25,000 Southern Maryland Handicap at Bowie tomorrow.

Already winner of $204,500, victory would send Mate past Twenty Grand, his rival for 3-year-old honors, and C. V. Whitney's Top Flight, the financial leader to date with earnings totaling $219,000. Twenty Grand won $218,545 before being retired for the season.

Nineteen of the country's leading handicap performers have been named to oppose the Bostwick 3-year-old over the 1⅛ miles. With 127 pounds in the saddle, Mate will be asked to give away from 6 to 24 pounds.

Mr. Sponge Assigned
121 Pounds.

Joseph E. Widener's Mr. Sponge has been assigned the second heaviest package of 121 pounds, five more than Walter J. Salmon's Dr. Freeland, winner of the Preakness two years ago, will pick up.

Tambour and Tred Avon, the two fillies that showed Mate home earlier in the fall season, have been well weighted with 113 and 108 pounds, respectively. Marine, the Canadian-owned son of Man o' War, gets in with 114 pounds, while the inconsistent but brilliant Pittsburgher will pack 115.

DAMASCUS BOOKING.

The Damascus Basket Ball Club is anxious to arrange games with strong District teams in either the 145-pound or unlimited class. The team is composed of former Damascus High School players. Games can be played either at home or away. Manager E. G. Jewell is arranging the schedule. He can be reached at Damascus 35-M during the day, or by addressing him at the postoffice.

BOWIE ENTRIES.

(Associated Press.)

FIRST RACE—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $1,300; for 2-year-old maidens.

1	Wan Hill	106	10 Chatmoss 106
2	Salama	106	11 Jack B. 106
3	Walter K.	116	12 Br'dway Lights 109
4	Miss Jamison	103	13 Fair Boy 106
5	John Barton	116	14 Austerlitz II 106
6	Brown Mary	113	15 Westy's Star 106
7	Robot	116	16 †Merrily On 106
8	Renewed	106	17 Klipdrift 106
9	Blue Banner	116	18 †Lamson 106

†Mrs. P. Corning and M. Field entry.

SECOND RACE—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $1,500; the Loch Haven; for 2-year-olds.

1	Blue Damsel	100	4 Fall Apple 114
2	Dark Mission	108	5 Bonnie Prince 105
3	War Plane	103	6 Air Pilot 108

THIRD RACE—Five and one-half furlongs; purse, $1,500; the W. P. Burch Memorial Handicap; for all ages.

1	†Balko	131	5 Masked Ball 102
2	Cayuga	106	6 †Follow On 109
3	Step Liz	90	7 Vacillate 100
4	Mabla	104	8 The Beasel 119

†Sagamore Stable entry.

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $1,500; the Shenandoah; for 3-year-olds.

1	Ormesby	112	4 Happy Scot 106
2	Halcyon	115	5 Measure 109
3	Khorasan	115	6 Hillsborough 108

FIFTH RACE — One and one-eighth miles; purse, $25,000 added; the Southern Maryland Handicap; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1	†W. Clover II	107	11 Marine 114
2	Pittsburgher	116	12 Repentance 104
3	†Blenheim	106	13 Flagstone 108
4	Sidney Grant	109	14 Tred Avon 108
5	‡Mr. Sponge	121	15 ‡Curate 110
6	†Ormesby	103	16 ‡Happy Scot 103
7	Inception	104	17 ‡Risque 112
8	†Frigate Bird	104	18 Dr. Freeland 116
9	Waterway	106	19 Mate 127
10	†Tambour	113	20 †Valenciennes 109

†Wheatley Stable and Belair Stud entry.
‡J. E. Widener entry.
§C. T. Grayson and Foxcatcher Farms and P. M. Burch entry.
‡Mrs. J. D. Hertz entry.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $1,300; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1	John F.	103	6 Frumper 113
2	Honey Grove	108	7 Spanish 108
3	*Bub McFarl'd	108	8 Inferno Lad 108
4	*Whip Cracker	107	9 *Full Dress 111
5	*Don Pedro	113	10 Gigantic 108

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-half miles; purse, $1,300; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1	Wolf Run	103	10 Gully Jumper 108
2	*Ping Coates	107	11 *Billy Baughn 107
3	*Keith	107	12 Fair Dale 114
4	Vimont	112	13 Egad 111
5	*Fair Dawn	104	14 Stretcher 112
6	Baltimore	112	15 Brown Thistle 109
7	*Our Pal	107	16 *Call Play 107
8	Old Times	112	17 *Hickey 102
9	*Bob Shannon	109	18 Forrester 112

*Apprentice allowance claimed.
Weather, drizzling; track, muddy.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

DOES THE HUNTER GO AROUND THE SQUIRREL?

7,000 Letters Received in Reply to This STRANGE AS IT SEEMS Puzzler!

Life-long friends have become enemies; lovers are estranged. These and many other disasters have been happening to readers of John Hix's "Strange as It Seems" . . . ever since the fatal question was put before them a few days ago.

The scene is a tree, the performers a squirrel and a hunter. The squirrel keeps the trunk of the tree between itself and the hunter who pursues the little animal around and around the TREE. But the question is:

Does the hunter go around the SQUIRREL?

"NO!" comes the response of many who have worked over the puzzle a bit too long, "the FUR goes around the squirrel." Still others claim that the tree goes around the acorn, while some of the best master minds in the country have given up in disgust, with the cry, "Aw NUTS!"

AROUND! That one word is what really caused all the trouble. There are two separate and distinct definitions of the preposition AROUND, as applied to the query.

1. "On all sides of." In this sense the hunter DOES NOT GO around the squirrel, because he is facing the squirrel at all times.

2. "Encircling, encompassing; so as to make a circuit of." This definition ignores any rotary motion of the object being gone around. In this sense, then, the hunter DOES GO around the squirrel, because the hunter goes around the squirrel as the squirrel goes around the tree to escape him.

Therefore, the only correct and possible answer to the question is YES and NO.

And here are the names of the readers who sent in the BEST answers, and will receive autographed copies of John Hix's new book, "STRANGE AS IT SEEMS."

1. Roy R. Johnston, Pittsburgh, Pa.
2. Laurence Peterson, Watertown, S. Dak.
3. Allen Hall, Newark, N. J.
4. Jeanette Jesperson, Anoka, Minn.
5. Frank Vomocil, Los Angeles, Calif.
6. Olga Davies, Astoria, Long Island, N. Y.
7. LaMont Ervin, Malden, N. C.
8. Mrs. E. G. Mattoon, Oakland, Calif.
9. P. L. Kidder, Minneapolis, Minn.
10. Herb Rapp, New York, N. Y.

ABE SHINDELMAN'S apple-yielding plum tree is not the result of expert grafting; it is simply another of nature's little pranks. The tree is supposed to be a plum tree . . . it has all the earmarks of a plum tree . . . and has for five years been producing plums. It is true that the plums were not very good, but they were plums nevertheless, and although the apples are nothing to brag about, it is certain that they are apples. Inside and out they have all the appearance of small green apples. It's just one of those things.

* * * *

The first real indoor putting record was set by Frank Stewart Smith, of Los

SPEEDY GONZAGA ELEVEN WINNER OVER CENTRAL, 19 TO 0

Purple Team Wins Final Contest

70-Yard March at Start Produces 1st Touchdown.

Mills Brothers Star; 4th Series Victim of Gonzaga.

By BOB CONSIDINE.

GONZAGA HIGH'S light and well-trained gridmen chalked up their fourth victory over a public high school team yesterday afternoon when they accounted for Central High by the score of 19-0 before 1,000 spectators.

Gonzaga scored in the first three minutes of the game, taking the opening kickoff 70 yards to a touchdown. Successive bucks for short gains advanced the piggie to Central's 35-yard line, where two beautiful end runs took it across. Joe Mills went around Central's left side for 20 yards, and his twin brother, Carly Mills, completed the job around the same corner. Central helped Joe drop kick the extra point by boosting up his low trajectory boot.

Central found its weight and heft of no use yesterday against the almost bantamweight outfit Gonzaga rushed on the field. Central tacklers were downed continually in the tracks by the light Gonzagans who sprayed through the daylight in the Central line with the efficiency of a stream of hose water.

Even Whitey Cumberland, Central's fastest back, and one of the fastest in the high schools found himself pitched for a 13-yard loss by zealous Gonzagans, who, when they tackled, drove their men back as if hit by a snubnose trench mortar.

Central was never in real scoring position, so continuous was the rapier defensive play of Gonzaga. The Centralites found themselves lured into all manner of trickeries, one of which, a close knit Gonzaga play which yanked the Central team together in a congealed tangle, and then sent a Gonzaga man loose around an end, was particularly effective, on the straight rushing plays.

Gonzaga Uses Passes.

Just one-half of Central's defense and about two-thirds of its attack was removed from the game at the start of the second half, when Frank Cumberland was carried off the field with a recurrence of an old chest injury. Hank Gibbins handled the Central Team after that, produced more than half the tackles and booted two 50-yards punts in critical moments.

Gonzaga unleashed a cagey abbreviated passing display to garner its second touchdown, in the fourth period. The rally started late in the third, in midfield, with Carly and Joe Mills passing brisk 5-yard spirals to men seemingly in the maze of the main tangle. The ball marched down the field in decisive plays of this sort, and Gonzaga made good its threat when Mills passed over the line to Keegin, who ran 15 yards to score. Joe Mills missed the drop-kick he attempted.

Joe Keegin, whose play was of a high order all day, brought glory and cheers down on his faded helmet late in the game when he snagged one of the many passes that helped to darken the skies and ran an even 50 yards for a touchdown, negotiating the last 30 yards through a maze of Centralites. A pass for the extra point failed.

Gonzaga.	Position.	Central.
Mulcare	L. E.	Graham
Quigley	L. T.	Boyle
Lewis	L. G.	Nicalopus
J. Mills	Center	Fitzwater
James	R. G.	Garrott
Eppard	R. T.	Gibbins
Dunan	R. E.	Buscher
C. Mills	Q. B.	Cumberland
Carr	L. H.	Porter
J. Mills	R. H.	McKenzie
Keegin	F. B.	Nau

Gonzaga	7	0	0	12—19
Central	0	0	0	0—0

Touchdowns — C. Mills, Keegin (2). Point after touchdown—J. Mills (drop-kick). Substitutions—(Gonzaga) Nolan for Mulcare, Hall for C. Mills, Horrigan for Quigley, Benjamin for Dunan, Hurley for Hall. Hurley for Benjamin: (Central) Myers for Nau. Dunlop for Cumberland, Wilson for Graham, Hay for Boyle. Referee—Magoffin. Umpire—Bidwell. Head linesman—Towers.

Takoma-Silver Spring Starts Court Practice

Approximately 25 candidates reported for the Takoma-Silver Spring High School basket ball team at the initial drill of the season yesterday. Coach Crescent Bride was in charge. The school, which was nosed out for the Montgomery County championship last year, expects to win the crown this season. Prospects for a good season are bright, with the entire first team back from last year, in addition to six reserves.

GOLF CHIEFS ORDER NEW WEIGHT BALL

Continued from Page 15.

with nothing else to do, has put the new 1.68-1.62 through exhaustive tests, leading amateurs and professionals over the country giving it a thorough trial. So general was their approval a half-dozen leading manufacturers, without waiting for the executive committee's final word, have been making the new balls in vast quantities in preparation for the rush.

Experts declare the new ball, while resembling the "balloon" in appearance, has just enough added weight to insure full length on drives and to hold its course in the wind. They say it putts better than either of its predecessors. The "balloon" weighed only 1.55 ounces.

PAWNBROKERS
Rate of Interest: 2% and 3%
No Waiting—No Phoning.
Pledges Stored in Our Burglar Proof Vaults on Premises.
ROSSLYN LOAN CO.
Rosslyn, Va.

LOANS
HORNING
Diamonds—Watches—Jewelry
South End of Highway Bridge
On the Road to Alexandria
Rate of Interest 2% and 3%

Big Ten Elevens to Renew Old Feuds in Games Today

Northwestern Seeks to Add Iowa to List of Victims While En Route to Conference Title.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Northwestern's undefeated Wildcats have a chance to move another notch closer to the undisputed Western conference gridiron championship tomorrow in engaging Iowa at Iowa City, leaving only Purdue to be conquered a week later to wind up with an unmarred record.

Tomorrow's games would have wound up the 1931 season in the "Big Ten," but along came the depression, bringing charity in its wake, and another week was added to the schedule, forcing the Wildcats to beat Purdue before they can call themselves champions.

Every team in the big ten will be in conference competition tomorrow with Minnesota's invasion of Michigan standing out as the game that promises to produce the best battle.

Traditional Trophies At Stake.

Every contest, with one exception, involves long-time rivalry and defense of jugs, buckets and other trophies. The old oaken bucket goes to the winner of the Purdue-Indiana battle at Bloomington, while Illinois and Ohio State will battle for another symbol of victory at Columbus, a wooden turtle named "Lillbuck." The little brown jug will be at stake in the Minnesota-Wolverines conflict at Ann Arbor. Wisconsin moves to Stagg Field for a game with "Old Man" Stagg's Maroons, with no-time honored trophy at stake.

The Northwestern Wildcats, conquerors of Ohio State, Illinois, Minnesota, and Indiana in the order named, are determined to defeat the Hawkeyes, so as to move against Purdue in the charity game with an unblemished record. Northwestern plans to rest "Pug" Rentner, its half back ace, and other stars tomorrow, to save them for the grand finale. The recovery of Reb Russell, the smashing full back, injured in the opening game of the season with Nebraska, will enable the Wildcats to get along without Rentner.

Gophers Hope to End Michigan Jinx.

Michigan has held a jinx over Minnesota, but the Gophers are confident of cracking it tomorrow. Minnesota has a strong line, plunging power in Full Back Jack Manders, and deceptive pass formations. Coach Fritz Crisler believes his team will triumph by two touchdowns. The Wolverine machine, which has been gathering speed as the season moved along, may have the punch to stop the Gophers, however.

The Indiana-Purdue battle promises to be a tight one, as a result of Indiana's stand against Northwestern last week, when they held the Wildcats to a 7-to-6 victory. The Hoosiers have a rugged line defense, but their attack does not appear to be as strong as Purdue's.

Illinois will make a desperate stand in attempting to conquer Ohio State, but the Buckeyes, under the leadership of Carl Cramer, sensational quarter back, should register another triumph. Wisconsin, which has played great ball in spurts, but which has faded rapidly as the season wore along, may find a tough opponent in Chicago.

92-YARD DASH WINS FROM DEVITT

Signs Bring 7-3 Victory to National Training Team.

THE National Training School gridmen wound up their regular season yesterday afternoon at Bladensburg in a burst of football pyrotechnics when Ray Signs, diminutive back, ran 92 yards behind perfect interference to a touchdown which turned a seeming 3-0 defeat by Devitt Prep into a 7-3 victory.

Devitt had led from the opening moments of the game, when Fowell place-kicked a field goal from the 15-yard line. National Training rallied strongly and sent Merryman and Painter on 30-yard trips with the ball, only to fumble in Devitt's territory near the end of the first quarter.

Fowell's Punting Factor.

Fowell's punting kept Devitt out of hot water in the second period as Thompson, National Training back, ran wild twice for gains of 25 and 20 yards, and Devitt saved itself once more in the third period when an intercepted pass on the 20-yard line broke up a National Training School march which had started in midfield.

Signs entered the game in the fourth period just as Fowell punted to the 8-yard line. Shaking off a Devitt end, Signs attached himself to a coterie of blocking colleagues and ran the last 40 yards unmolested. A pass, Signs to Harper, brought the extra point.

National Training outrushed Devitt, 15 to 8 first downs. Devitt showed far better form than anticipated and appeared to be rapidly improving for its next and biggest game, in Sioux City, Iowa.

Natl. Training.	Position.	Devitt.
Harper	L. E.	Childress
Gandie	L. T.	Gattie
Goodwin	L. G.	Long
Green	Center	Wheeler
Michelko	R. G.	Slick
Choice	R. T.	Chesley
Young	R. E.	Bateson
Johnson	Q. B.	Bradley
Painter	L. H.	Powell
Smith	R. H.	Mehlor
Merryman	F. B.	Mayer

National Training	0	0	0	7—7
Devitt	0	0	0	3—3

Touchdown—Signs. Field Goal—Fowell. Points after touchdown—Harper (pass). Substitutions—(National Training), Sasone for Gandie, Thompson for Painter, Allen for Michelko, Signs for Thompson, Golden for Goodwin, Allen for Golden, Moreland for Merryman; (Devitt), Kelly for Chesly, Campbell for Long. Referee—Sommers.

GENERALS TO TEST MARYLAND U. TODAY

Continued from Page 15.

the shining achievement of their steady improvement.

Washington and Lee's individual stars are "Monk" Mattox, half back, and "Big Frank" Bailey, full back. The first named is a tricky open field runner and hurls the ball with great precision. Bailey, who plays tackle on the defense, is a strong blocker and a hard man to stop on line plunges.

Red Eicholtz, end for the Generals, is a Washington boy, having graduated from Central High School.

No.	W. & L.	Position.	Maryland.	No.
35	Mosovich	L.E.	Pease	39
32	Tilson	L.T.	Carliss	57
33	Bolen	L.G.	Hayden	55
26	Mitchell	Center	Faber	27
31	Boland	R.G.	Krajcovic	51
27	Morris	R.T.	Keenan	53
30	Hanley	R.E.	Norris	67
20	Wilson	Q.B.	Woods	43
8	Sawyer	L.H.	Chalmers	45
3	Mattox	R.H.	Berger	35
34	Bailey	F.B.	Poppelman	44

RESERVES.

Washington and Lee—Bacon, 5; Wofford, 28; Grove, 16; Wertz, 4; MacDonald, 15; Nesbitt, 24; Eicholtz, 21; Steves, 19; Almon, 22; Martin, 11; Wilson, 1; Stevens, 25; Pride, 7; Flagg, 23; Collins, 17; Funkhouser, 10; Irvine, 9.

Maryland—Benner 81; Duley, 48; Feldman, 33; Mitchell, 39; Koelle, 49; Cole, 73; Wood, 75; Vincent, 32; Settino, 25; Miller, 23; Kiernan, 47; May, 37; Sterling, 29; Scott, 36; Simpson, 83; Buscher, 65; Hines, 46; Cromin, 31; Sothoron, 37; Nicholson, 67; Loughren, 79; Mayhew, 29; Wright, 50; Davis, 119; Snyder, 21; Hawkins, 73; Hay, 29; Keener, 23.

Maryland's gold jersey numbers—Pease, 59; Norris, 38; Carliss, 58; Hayden, 36; Faber, 47; Krajcovic, 39; Keenan, 61; Norris, 38; Woods, 17; Chalmers, 45; Berger, 46; Poppelman, 44; Benner, 26; Duley, 35; Feldman, 37; Mitchell, 20; Koelle, 32; Cole, 15; Wood, 52; Vincent, 34; Settina, 31; Miller, 54; Kiernan, 56; May, 42; Sterling, 18; Scott, 53; Buscher, 41; Hines, 33; Cronin, 46; Wright, 60.

GALLAUDET'S ELEVEN IN FINALE

Blues Meet Shepherd; Monaghan Shifted to Back Field.

SEASON'S RECORDS.

Shepherd		Gallaudet
0 Shippensburg	39	0 Loyola 72
0 Shenandoah	3	0 Catholic 91
38 B. & O. "Y"	6	0 Langley Field 18
19 Potomac State	0	0 Penn Military 20
13 American	6	12 Marines 20
26 St. John (W. Va.)	6	7 St. John's 35
0 Fairmont	31
	19	256
96	91

GALLAUDET COLLEGE brings to a close its most disastrous football season in years when Shepherd College's eleven invades Kendall Green this afternoon to do battle with Coach Teddy Hughes' warriors, beginning at 2 o'clock. The home team will be seeking its first victory of the season. Previously it has met defeat no less than six times.

Weakness on attack has been the chief fault of Gallaudet thus far, and Coach Hughes has inserted Capt. Bilbo Monaghan in the back field to add some much needed heft and drive. Monoghan has played a slashing game at end for the Blues for three years. He winds up his career at the Florida avenue school today.

No.	Shepherd.	Position.	Gal'det	No.
9	Bergdoll	L. E.	Yoder	4
21	Butcher	L. T.	Grinnell	21
17	Hahn	L. G.	Davis	20
5	Heflin	Center	Stack	17
18	Talley	R. G.	Roop	6
19	Goff	R. T.	Delp	15
7	Imphong	R. E.	Brown	3
16	Harper	Q. B.	Williams	1
3	L. Maddex	L. H.	Monaghan	13
1	H. Maddex	R. H.	Walnoha	5
6	Dailey	F. B.	Jensen	8

RESERVES.

Shepherd—Mathias (4), Main (13), Mauzy (8), Bright (12), Conard (2), Coffinberger (22), Waldeck (20), Collett (15), Crossland (10), Radcliffe (11), Stevens (14), Kline (33), Link (35), Sigafoose (31). Gallaudet—Ladner (16), Antilla (22), Hnatow (24), Travis (23), Burdette (11), Davidowitz (12), Koziar (14), Lange (9), Marsh (8), O'Branovich (2), Stanfill (10).

WINNING STREAK OF C. U. THREATENED

Continued from Page 15.

vances of a quartet that runs or passes with equal facility.

In Quarter Back Johnny Brady and Half Back Mickey Foster, Coach Golembeski is turning loose two of the greatest backs in the vicinity of New England.

C. U.		Providence.	No.
Name.	Position.	Name.
2 Fraatz	L. E.	Gobis	40
34 Gross	L. T.	Burdge	30
16 Monaco	L. G.	Mathews	54
38 Conter	Center	Nawrocki	15
7 Jim Lyons	R. G.	Kutniewski	42
35 Flynn (A.C.)	R. T.	Burns	49
4 Howe	R. E.	Jorn	22
9 C. McVean	Q. B.	Brady	58
29 Whelan	L. H.	Foster (C.)	55
23 DeMello	R. H.	Calligan	65
11 Sheary	F. B.	O'Keefe	33

RESERVES.

C. U.—Oliveri (1), Donaher (3), Baraldi (5), Guarnieri (6), Hepburn (8), John Lyons (10), Campbell (12), Ball (13), Ambrose (14), Jankoski (15), Preston (17), Bertoni (18), Billinger (19), Moffett (20), Stapleton (21), Lennon (22), Maley (24), R. McVean (25), White (26), Halleron (27), Lauer (28), Baumgardner (30), Pyne (31), Callender (32), Stafford (33), Gross (34), Longo (36), Duscha (37), J. Nally (39), T. Nally (40).

Providence—Davis (44), Roberge (37), Thompson (36), Dromgoole (34), Vleiler (51), Wright (57), McCann (6), McCarthy (12), Rennick (17), Skipp (19), Lee (21), Cody (23), Schott (26), Conley (27), Boyle (29), O'Hare (31), Solitto (35), Mardosa (39), Adamick (41), LeBlanc (43), Davis (44), Planka (45), Callahan (48), Barbarito (50), Gilligan (53), Stanisiewski (54), Katzneisoni (55), Derivian (63), Smith (66).

K. OF C. BASKETERS PLAY.

Washington Council's smooth running basket ball team opened the Knights of Columbus Court League last night with a 59 to 10 victory over the Spaulding Council Five. The game was played at the K of C gym. Brennan, of the winners, starred.

POTOMAC A. C. SEEKING.

The Potomac A. C. Gridders, 125-pound team, want a game for Sunday. Call Manager Williams at Cleveland 3014.

WESTERN 18-6 WINNER ON PASSES

Washington-Lee High Bows; Payne and Draper Stars.

UNLEASHING an airtight passing attack, on the end of stiff line bucks down the field, Western High wound up its season with a better-than-average display of football at Ballston, Va., yesterday, sending Washington-Lee High down to defeat to the tune of 18 to 6.

Slim Bill Payne, Western end, accumulated two of his team's touchdowns and the final pigskin message from the air was gathered in by Jackie Lynham.

Washington-Lee scored in the last four minutes of the game, aided by a penalty. Western's big hard-playing line had rebuffed the charges of the Little Generals on Western's 40-yard line, but Western roughed the kicker and Washington-Lee was given the ball on Western's 25-yard line, where Simpson passed over the goal line to Eaton for the touchdown.

With big Jim Draper intermixing his bull-like bucks with acute passes, Western took the opening kick-off down the field. From the 15-yard line, Draper passed to Payne as he was going over the last stripe. Payne turned in the most brilliant play of the game on the second touchdown in the second period, when he snagged a 40-yard pass from Draper from the hands of Eaton and Allen and stumbled over the goal. Lynham took a 5-yard heave, and shifted his way eight more to score the third touchdown.

Western.	Position.	W.-L.
E. Buscher	L. E.	Bragg
L. Buscher	L. T.	Canies
Nye	L. G.	Harris
Wynne	Center	Clements
Greve	R. G.	Via
Gammage	R. T.	Schroff
Payne	R. E.	Rosenberger
Draper	Q. B.	Bunch
Lynham	L. H.	Eaton
Reynolds	R. H.	Allen
Teehan	F. B.	Simpson

Western	6	6	0	6—18
W.-L.	0	0	0	6—6

Touchdowns—Payne (2), Lynham, Eaton. Substitutions—(Western), Hilleary, Dove, Keith, D. Stevens, Glassie; (W.-L.), Turner, Hunter, Dodd, Goss. Referee—Goff (Michigan). Umpire—Tulloch (Mercersburg). Head linesman—Munson.

St. Alban's Defeats Christ Church School

Special to The Washington Post.

Saluda, Va., Nov. 20.—In a game devoid of spectacular plays, St. Alban's School, of Washington, defeated Christ Church School by a score of 13-6 here today. It was the final contest of the season for both teams.

St. Alban's.	Position.	Christ Church.
Craighill	L. E.	Lawson
Cracraft	L. T.	Elmer
Raster	L. G.	Blake
Davis	Center	Morton
Stuart	R. G.	O'Hara
Shipper	R. T.	Smith
Keeble	R. E.	Windeler
Castle	Q. B.	Sheridan
Lorton	L. H.	Nase
McGee	R. H.	Aldridge
Chesley	F. B.	Gray

St. Albans	0	13	0	0—13
Christ Church	0	0	0	6—6

Touchdowns—Castle, Chesley, Nase. Points after touchdown—Chesley (drop-kick). Substitutions—(St. Alban's), R. Smith, M. Henderson, Soulois, J. Beard, M. Henderson, Thorpe, Ullman, Mettleton, Peirce, Lippitt, Gulick, J. Henderson. Referee—Mozelski (William and Mary). Umpire—Sylvan (William & Mary). Head linesman—Good (William and Mary).

Staunton Cadets Foes Of Emerson Today

Emerson Institute will wind up its disastrous football season today against the strongest prep school team on its list, Staunton Military Academy. The game will be played at Staunton, Va.

COLONIALS RUN WILD TO DEFEAT BUTLER

Continued from Page 15.

ball, Butler three times advanced into George Washington territory during the remainder of the third quarter. The Bulldogs clipped gains of from 12 to 18 yards through the air, but were unable to sustain their attack until Booz got away on his long run. When the Colonials drew in their defense for more of Booz's leg work, the Butler captain did the smart thing and heaved the ball to Hughes. The latter made an easy catch in the end zone.

Following Butler's touchdown, the Colonials came right back with one of their own as the ubiquitous Carter exploded from a fake spinner through tackle and streaked on unhampered. A 19-yard spurt by Dayton, a substitute, carried the visitors to midfield before the final whistle.

Butler.	Position.	George Wash.
Ennis	L. E.	Mulvey
Mecum	L. T.	Nielson
Rufli	L. G.	Stewart
Moore	Center	Blackistone
Sohl	R. G.	Dike
Elser	R. T.	Hale
Raber	R. E.	Chambers
Hughes	Q. B.	Fenlon
Conrad	L. H.	Carter
Booz	R. H.	Carlin
Knock	F. B.	Parrish

Butler	0	0	0	7—7
George Washington	13	6	7	6—32

Touchdowns—Carter (2), Carlin, Fenlon, Mulvey, Hughes. Points after touchdowns—Chambers (place kick), Parrish (place kick), Booz (place kick). Substitutions—(Butler) Brock for Reber, Ray for Conrad, Kealing for Elser, Stewart for Hughes, Compton for Ray; (G. W.) Payne for Blackistone, Clark for Chambers, Galloway for Mulvey, Asher for Hale, Zimmerman for Stewart, Norris for Kealing, Kriemelmeyer for Carlin, Murray for Clark, Hale for Nielson, Dayton for Ray, Matia for Fenlon, Wilson for Dike, Hickman for Stewart, McManamon for Sohl, Zimmerman for Raber, Littleton for Wilson. Edwards for Hickman. Referee—Magoffin (Michigan). Umpire—Eberts (Catholic). Linesman—Towers (Columbia).

STATISTICS OF GAME.

	Butler.	G.W.
First downs	11	16
Yards gained, rushing	139	318
Yards lost, rushing	9	3
Forward passes attempted	20	5
Forward passes completed	7	4
Yards gained, passes	69	31
Forward passes intercepted by	0	1
Punts	10	6
Distance of punts from point of kick	374	280
Average distance of punts, yds.	37	47
Return of punts	8	75
Return of kick-offs	110	60
Fumbles	1	3
Own fumbles recovered	0	0
Penalties	5	6
Yards lost by penalties	56	50

SAINTS IN TIE WITH G. U. PREP, 0-0

Scanlon Saves Game for St. John's by Fine Tackle.

GEORGETOWN PREP and St. John's Cadets tugged and hauled to a 0-0 tie yesterday afternoon at Garrett Park, Md., in the final game of the season for the Saints. The score duplicated the 1929 meeting between the two. In 1930 the Saints won by the margin of 6 to 0.

A diving, reckless tackle by Mike Scanlon saved St. John's from defeat in the last few seconds of the game. With the teams battling with no appreciable gains on Georgetown Prep's 30-yard line, Nee, the right end for the Prep Team, snared a pass, eluded the clutching linemen and three of the secondaries and set out in the direction of St. John's goal.

Scanlon Overhauls Runner.

One figure, that of Scanlon, was fleet enough to overhaul him, 40 yards from the start of the run. The two went down and the ball game was saved. Georgetown Prep had time for one more play.

G. U. Prep.	Position.	St. John's.
J. Keating	L. E.	Sullivan
Cullinan	L. T.	Stanley
Cannon	L. G.	Brune
B. Graham	Center	Dixon
Reese	R. G.	Schwartz
Cummings	R. T.	Cummings
Nee	R. E.	Wells
C. Graham	Q. B.	McCarthy
N. Scatuorcio	L. H.	Simone
T. Keating	R. H.	Dougherty
McNamara	F. B.	Scanlon

St. John's	0	0	0	0—0
G. U. Prep	0	0	0	0—0

Substitutions—(G. U. Prep.), Sheehan for Cullinan, Darresio for Reese, Cohan for T. Keating, Eddy for Sheehan; (St. John's), Scanlon for Dougherty, Lynch for Simone, Rogerson for Wells. Referee—Simpson. Umpire—Guyan. Head linesman—Brewer.

ALCOVA WANTS GAME.

Charley Deutermann is still angling for a game tomorrow for his Alcova team with an unlimited or 150-pound team. He can be reached at Adams 5983 during the day.

DIXIE PIGS DRILL.

The Dixie Pigs will work out tonight at 8 o'clock at Seat Pleasant. Tomorrow the tean engages the Griffith-Blue Coals in a Capital City League game. All players are urged to report promptly.

MARVELS IN ACTION.

The Meridian 130-Pound Basket Ball Team has changed its name to the Marvels and will play under the latter title in the future. The team is scheduled to play tonight. All players are requested to report at 6 p. m. at 904 Twelfth street northeast.

YARD TEAM ANXIOUS.

The Navy Yard 125-pound football team would like to arrange a game for tomorrow with a strong team in its class. Teams interested are requested to call Manager Schroeden at Lincoln 4972 between 5 and 6 p. m.

Georgetown Commercial League

TEAM STANDINGS.

	W.	L.		W.	L.
Crown Fuel	26	7	Morgan Bros.	18	15
Schroff Bros.	23	10	Forestville	17	16
Jef. Spring	21	12	Pot. Sav. Bank	13	20
Buckeye Malt	21	12	D. G. S.	10	23
G'town Candy	20	13	Capital Garage	6	27
West End Club	19	14	Stohlman Chev.	4	29

INDIVIDUAL AVERAGES.

CROWN FUEL CO.

	G.	H.G.	H.S.	St.	Sp.	Ave.
Fischer	33	128	347	14	73	106-27
Foxx	18	137	353	9	30	104-5
Hurd	33	125	338	10	60	102-20
Blade	24	148	345	9	37	100-16
Powell	31	132	338	10	46	100-18
Dreyer	26	121	352	10	36	97-24

SCHROFF BROS. TRUCK CO.

W. O'Neil	32	124	342	7	65	102-21
Crist	29	138	342	18	46	101-28
L. O'Neil	33	136	360	9	52	101-14
Bramley	33	119	361	8	49	100-20
Griffith	26	118	328	12	32	99
Schroff	12	126	276	3	16	94-8

JEFFERSON SPRING SERVICE CO.

Freeman	17	130	352	5	39	106-12
Swartwout	15	120	347	8	31	106-5
Rollison	33	129	343	17	53	104-12
Blackman	27	133	361	14	42	102-20
G. Bromley	21	132	332	9	34	102-9
Groves	13	122	321	7	22	101-9
McKeaver	24	121	321	9	35	98-13
Brenan	15	105	295	3	16	93-4

BECK'S BAKERY.

Beck	33	124	353	11	57	103-18
E. Saul	31	118	332	9	54	101-17
Baxter	33	134	354	8	54	99-11
N. Saul	30	113	313	6	48	96-19
Kreamer	32	123	312	10	39	95-31

GEORGETOWN CANDY KITCHEN.

Athey	33	131	346	15	60	105-32
Greer	21	127	325	4	37	105-5
Chaconas	27	121	341	11	52	103-11
Moore	20	119	319	7	23	100-12
Proctor	11	104	302	2	14	91-7
Perkins	22	114	303	5	16	90-21

WEST END CLUB.

Compton	30	130	364	12	53	105-5
Riseway	27	126	330	9	45	103-7
M. Kreamer	33	125	330	8	61	102-6
E. Kreamer	33	127	330	10	47	97-27
O. Kreamer	27	120	310	2	33	93-8

MORGAN BROS. DRUG STORE.

Sweeney	18	128	342	7	45	108-10
Sullivan	27	123	330	9	56	104
Cavanaugh	18	117	322	9	20	102-12
Scheele, A.	19	117	326	9	28	100-10
Gray	33	119	329	8	47	96-10
Sullivan	27	117	307	9	32	95-10

FORESTVILLE.

Walker	33	143	359	15	77	107-8
Miller	29	135	330	12	48	101-27
Tompson	18	115	328	6	26	99-9
Tucker	31	137	303	9	36	91-29
Carper	18	112	293	4	16	90-3

POTOMAC SAVINGS BANK.

G. Ba'kman	33	118	330	10	53	101-29
H. Ba'kman	18	112	304	2	30	95-9
Ricciardi	26	115	296	4	33	94-15
Cates	30	112	317	5	35	93-5

DISTRICT GROCERY STORES.

McClary	18	124	332	6	31	103-8
O'Donnell	24	129	323	5	43	100-13
Leukhart	32	122	324	10	41	94-16
Orzel	10	122	292	3	14	94-6
Getelson	25	119	309	4	28	92-22
Root	25	112	304	4	29	92-18
Talley	13	117	303	4	13	90-12
Orsman	15	104	285	1	16	88-14

CAPITAL GARAGE CO.

Trucks	32	133	335	9	41	99-4
Lascola	33	128	335	9	47	97-10
Ellis	19	124	315	3	30	97-5
Sherwin	15	111	287	4	18	93
Clawson	22	107	296	4	25	92-5
Byrd	29	113	305	6	12	90-25

STOHLMAN CHEVROLET.

Cuppet	20	122	299	4	24	93-8
Stohlman	20	121	323	4	22	93-5
Brawner	24	122	299	7	26	93-2
Ferris	30	110	301	7	37	92-6
Musselman	29	111	292	5	31	91-3
Smith	10	111	282	2	10	88-5

Local Golfers Aid Charity In Tourneys on 4 Courses

GOLF tournaments for the benefit of the unemployment relief fund will be held today and tomorrow on the courses of the Indian Spring, Beover Dam, Columbia and Manor Clubs. At the latter club the winners of the low gross, low net and blind bogey will be given a turkey as a prize. The tournament will be open to members and their guests, but the latter will be eligible to compete only for the low gross and blind bogey prizes.

The Bannockburn Club will hold a similar tournament next Monday and Tuesday, and all golfers will be eligible upon the payment of 50 cents, the proceeds to be devoted entirely to the relief fund. Several prizes will be provided.

The fall stag of the Manor Club will be held today, with a golf tournament in conjunction with the unemployment benefit. A supper will be held at 7 o'clock, when prizes will be presented to the winners of the important golf events during the past season.

The golf championship of Central High School has been won by John J. Quigley, jr., who defeated Ted Duvall in the final 36-hole match on the course of the Army and Navy Club, 4 and 3. Quigley's medal score was 78, while Duvall scored 81.

Hitting the Head Pin

By LEWIS F. ATCHISON

TWO big sweepstakes events, the Meyer Davis event for women, sponsored by Bill Wood, and the Greater Washington Handicap for men with maximum league averages of 110, engineered by John Blick, will usher in the tournament season for the local duckpin enthusiasts today.

The Meyer Davis is scheduled for 8 p. m. at Lucky Strike and the Greater Washington will move in two sections, the first at 2:30 p. m. and the second at 8 p. m. at Columbia.

The women will roll in blocks of three games, three each week until all nine games are on the books. Next week the activities will be transferred to the King Pin drives, returning for the final block to Lucky Strike. The men will work in five-game shifts, and afternoon and evening sessions have been arranged for the accommodation of the participants. The second block will be rolled at Arcadia and the grand finale will be staged at bowling's Madison Square Garden, Convention Hall.

Marjorie Bradt Smith, of Worcester, Mass., has returned to defend her crown which she captured last season while a resident of this city. She will be hard pressed for the honors, what with Lorraine Gulli, Billie Butler, Anna Williams, Helena Kohler, Lucy Owens and a host of other topnotchers entered. There will be no charge for the use of the alleys at any of the establishments during the event, thus all of the money derived from entry fees will be added to the prize money.

Smiling George Honey, who assumes a very serious mien when undoing the artistic work of the pin boys, carved a nice, fat chunk of bowling glory for himself at Arcadia last night, hanging up a new set record in the Building Contractor's League with a score of 445. The score also ties the District record held by Harry Dixon, of the Agriculture League, but it is problematical whether Honey's work will be officially reorganized by the National Duckpin Bowling Congress as the teams rolled without a foul-line judge. George's score sheet was a very black looking piece of paper when the young man had finished chalking up his marks. He collected a total of eighteen spares and one strike. The game scores were 133, 155, 157. The Temple star's work enabled D. C. Butcher to sweep its set with Todd Construction. Oddly enough, it was Honey's first time out with the team.

In the other league matches Fuller Stone Plant took the odd one from Rosslyn Steel, and Standard Art Marble won all three from Massapomax. Lou Freschi, rolling with the Marble crew, toppled the maples for a 381 set.

The Hyattsville All-Stars will clash with the Alexandria All-Stars in the first block of a special ten-game match tonight at 7 o'clock at the Arcade Alleys, Hyattsville. The second block will be rolled at Alexandria December 5.

Patents No. 3 registered high team game and set in the Commerce League last night, with scores of 599 and 1,700 respectively. Goodridge, of the same team, counted high set with a score of 381. The team downed Foreign and Domestic Commerce in all three. In the other matches, Patents No. 2 increased its lead to six full games by winning two from Patents No. 1. Mines took the odd one from

BOND PRICES REACT; RAILS LEAD DECLINE

Some Loans Make New Lows as Selling Pushes Volume to $9,782,000.

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—The bond market weakened again today, with selling converging on the railroad group in which losses of 2 or 3 points were numerous. Activity increased moderately on the reaction, sales totaling $9,782,000, or about $350,000 more than on Thursday.

The railroad averages lost 1.2 points, while the composite for 60 issues in the three major groups was down seven-tenths of a point. Foreign obligations were mostly heavy, an exception being the rally in Japanese bonds, which advanced 1 to 2 points net on news of the truce with China.

Numerous railroad loans dropped to new lows. The reaction was especially noticeable in Baltimore & Ohio convertible 4½s, St. Paul 5s, Rock Island general 4s, the Erie, the Missouri Pacific 5s, Nickel Plate 4½s, Reading 4½s and Union Pacific first 4s. Pennsylvania general 5s of 1968, were off nearly 2 points. The New York Central group showed outstanding weakness, although offerings were moderate.

Utilities and industrials participated in the decline to a lesser degree, although both those divisions were under some pressure. American & Foreign Power 5s lost 3 points and Pan American Petroleum 6s had a similar decline. The two Armour issues were sold rather actively. Trumbull Steel 6s, Vertientes Sugar 7s, American Metal 5½s, International Match 5s, and Fisk Rubber 8s were soft, the last mentioned tumbling 5 points on the sale of a single bond. American Telephone loans were steady.

United States Government securities tapered off, some declines approximating half a point. Treasury 4¼s dropped 1⅛.

Order Halts Dividend Payments From Capital

Baltimore, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—An order for a preliminary injunction against payment of dividends from capital of the Tri-Continental Corporation, an investment trust, was signed today by Judge Samuel K. Dennis in circuit court here.

Tri-Continental is incorporated in Maryland with a paid-in capital of $100,000,000. The injunction action, instituted by Janice Ragovin, of New York, alleged that during the first nine months of the year the corporation showed a realized loss of $8,000,000 and an unrealized loss of $22,000,000. It is claimed operating expenses, exclusive of taxes, amounted to $500,000 annually. The suit alleged also that the capital had shrunk to $34,000,000.

LOCAL STOCK EXCHANGE

Sales—Regular call, 11:15 a. m.:
Potomac Elec. 6s, 1953, $1,000 at 107½.
Potomac Elec. 6% pfd., 5 at 110½.
After call:
Wash. Gas 6s, '33, Series A, $100 at 100¼.
Federal-American Co. pfd., 10 at 90.
Potomac Elec. 5½% pfd., 5 at 107¼.
Mergenthaler Linotype, 3 at 63, 2 at 63.
Capital Traction 5s, $500 at 71.

BONDS. PUBLIC UTILITIES.	Bid.	Ask.
Amn. T. & Tel. conv. 4½s, '39	119	....
Amn. T. & Tel. col. tr. 5s	102	....
Anacostia & Pot. R. R. 5s	63	70
Ana. & Pot. R. R. guar. 5s	90	95
C. & P. Tel. of Va. 5s	101	105
Capital Traction R. R. 5s	71	75
City & Suburban 5s	62	70
Georgetown Gas Lt. 1st 5s	101	....
Potomac Elec. Power cons. 5s	101½	104
Pot. Elec. Power gl. and ref. 6s	107¼	....
Wash., Alex & Mt. Vernon ctf	3	70
Wash. Gas Lt. gold notes 4½s	98	99
Washington Gas 5s	100¼	101
Wash. Gas 6s, Series A	100⅛	100½
Wash. Gas 6s, Series B	103	105
Wash. Ry. & Elec. 4s	86	86¾
MISCELLANEOUS.
Barber & Ross, Inc., 6½s	70	....
Chevy Chase Club 5½s	100	....
Col. Country Club 1st 5½s	100	103
Dist of Col. Paper Mfg 1st 6s	25	40
Wash. Market Cold Stge. 5s	94	....
STOCKS. PUBLIC UTILITIES.
Amn. Tel. & Tel	134	....
Capital Traction	21¾	24
Washington Gas	110	....
Nor. & Wash. Steamboat	165	210
*Pot. Elec. Power pfd. 6s	110½	....
*Pot. Elec. Power pfd. 5½s	107	108
*Wash. Ry. & Elec. com	420	....
*Wash. Ry. & Elec. pfd	94	96
NATIONAL BANKS.
Capital	175	250
Columbia	375	425
Commercial (stamped)	190	210
District	196	210
Fed.-Amer. Natl. Bk. & Tr.	43½	50
Liberty	190	210
Lincoln	400	450
Metropolitan	275	310
Riggs	350	360
Second	165	195
Washington	180	220
TRUST COMPANIES.
Amer. Security & Trust	299	315
Continental Trust	....	115
Natl. Sec. & Trust	375	400
Prince Georges Bk & Tr.	28	40
Union Trust	193	220
Wash. Loan & Trust	400	440
SAVINGS BANKS.
Bank of Bethesda	54	60
Commerce & Savings	325	....
East Washington	25	35
Potomac Savings (new)	55	75
Sec. Sav. & Commercial	435	500
Seventh Street	280	650
United States	530	650
Washington Mechanics	50	60
FIRE INSURANCE.
American	280	....
Corcoran	150	....
Firemen's	30	40
National Union	15	20
TITLE INSURANCE.
Columbia	7	10½
Real Estate	145	160
MISCELLANEOUS.
Col. Medical Bldg. Corp.	90	105
Col. Sand & Gravel Co. pfd.	89	91
D. C. Paper Mfg. Co. pfd.	....	5
Dist. Natl. Sec. pfd.	66	75
Emerson's Bromo-Seltzer (a)	23½	28
Federal Storage pfd.	100	110
Federal-American Co. com.	19	22
Federal-American Co. pfd.	90	93
*Lanston Monotype	73	75
Merch. Tr. & Stge. com.	95	102
Merch. Tr. & Stge. pfd.	89	92
Mergenthaler Linotype	63	67
Natl. Mtge. & Inv. Co. pfd.	4	4½
Peoples Drug Store pfd.	90	....
Real Est. M. & G. pfd.	6½	6¾
Security Storage	100	105
Term. Ref. & Wh. Corp.	43½	50
The Carpel Corp	15	20
Wash. Mech. Mtge. Co. com.	8	8½
Wash. Medical Bldg. Corp.	90	105½
Woodward & Lothrop com.	31	35
Woodward & Lothrop pfd.	107	112

*Ex dividend.
¹1⅞ extra.

BALTIMORE LIVE STOCK.

Special to The Washington Post.

Union Stock Yards, Claremont, Baltimore, Md., Nov. 20.—CATTLE—Receipts, 900 head; heavy, well fed, choice cattle in demand at higher prices; medium and in-between kinds undesirable. Steers, choice to prime, 9.00@9.50; good to choice, 8.00@9.00; medium to good, 7.00@8.00; fair to medium, 5.50@6.50; plain to fair, 4.50@5.50; common to plain, 4.00@4.50. Bulls, medium to good, 4.00@4.25; fair to medium, 3.50@4.00; plain to fair, 3.25@3.50; common to plain, 3.00@3.25. Cows, medium to good, 3.75@4.00; fair to medium, 3.25@3.75; plain to fair, 2.50@3.25; common to plain, 1.50@2.50. Heifers, good to choice, 5.50@6.00; medium to good, 5.00@5.25; fair to medium, 4.50@5.00; plain to fair, 3.50@4.50; common to plain, 3.25@3.50. Fresh cows and springers, 30.00@60.00.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Receipts, 700 head; market steady. Sheep, 1.00@3.00. Lambs, good to choice, 6.50@7.00; common to medium, 3.50@6.05.

HOGS—Receipts, 800 head; market lower. Lights, 5.30@5.55; heavies, 4.90@5.30; medium, 5.30@5.55; roughs, 3.75@4.65; light pigs, 5.25@5.40; pigs, 5.30@5.50. Ohio and Western hogs 10 cents higher than quotations.

CALVES—Receipts, 75; market steady. Calves, 3.50@8.50.

BALTIMORE SECURITIES.

Baltimore, Nov. 20.—Closing prices:
Arundel Corporation 28
C. & P. Telephone pf. 114¾
C. G. E. L. & P. 72

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

JAMES A. SOPER.

BANKERS OF CAPITAL NAME COMMITTEES

Five of Six Fiduciary Bodies Announced by Brooks; Section Chairman.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

The personnel of five of the six standing committees of the fiduciaries section of the District of Columbia Bankers Association has been selected, according to an announcement made yesterday by Kenneth F. Brooks, assistant trust officer, Riggs National Bank, who is chairman of the executive council of the fiduciaries section. Appointments to the various committees of this section are as follows:

Standardization — T. Stanley Holland, assistant trust officer, American Security & Trust Co., chairman; Bruce Baird, assistant trust officer, National Savings & Trust Co.; Maj. Erskine Gordon, trust officer, Federal-American National Bank & Trust Co.; Edward L. Hillyer, vice president, Union Trust Co.; R. P. Hollingsworth, assistant trust officer, National Metropolitan Bank; William E. Howard, assistant cashier, National Bank of Washington; Leonard Marbury, assistant trust officer, Washington Loan & Trust Co.; Ralph D. Quinter, trust officer, Commercial National Bank; C. D. Ratcliffe, vice president, Munsey Trust Co.; James A. Soper, vice president, Lincoln National Bank; Barnum L. Colton, trust officer, District National Bank.

Trust law and legislation—Sidney F. Taliaferro, vice president and trust officer, Riggs National Bank, chairman; David N. Houston, trust officer, American Security & Trust Co.; William H. Baden, trust officer, Washington Loan & Trust Co.; Ralph P. Barnard, Evans Building; George M. McKee, assistant trust officer, Riggs National Bank.

Insurance Trust Body.

Life insurance trust—Barnum L. Colton, trust officer, District National Bank, chairman; Leonard Marbury, assistant trust officer, Washington Loan & Trust Co.; T. Stanley Holland, assistant trust officer, American Security & Trust Co.; Maj. Gordon, Mr. Hollingsworth.

Taxation—David Bornet, assistant trust officer, National Savings & Trust Co., chairman; William Rea, American Security & Trust Co.; Bernard L. Amiss, assistant trust officer, Washington Loan & Trust Co.; William S. Lyons, assistant secretary, Union Trust Co.

Education and publicity—Aubrey O. Dooley, assistant trust officer, Federal-American National Bank & Trust Co., chairman; Frederick P. H. Siddons, secretary, American Security & Trust Co.; J. Wesley Clampitt, Jr., Union Trust Co.

Since the organization of the fiduciaries section three years ago, considerable progress has been made in the direction of bringing about more uniform policies and methods governing the administration of trust business by the various banks in the District of Columbia exercising fiduciary powers. These committees are now engaged in the study and preparation of plans to further the work of the section and several important meetings are scheduled during the next few weeks.

Banking Institute Committee.

President Aubrey O. Dooley, Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking, announces appointment of the committee of public affairs and public education, as follows: James A. Soper, Lincoln National Bank, chairman; T. Hunton Leith, Security Savings & Commercial Bank; Richard A. Norris, Lincoln National Bank; I. J. Roberts, Riggs National Bank.

Mr. Soper, the chairman, was educated in the public schools and is a graduate of Business High School. He has been connected with Washington Chapter almost since its inception and has served on nearly all its committees. He has held practically every office in the chapter, including that of president; has served on the national membership committee and is at present a member of the national forum committee. He has been a delegate from Washington Chapter to national conventions at Detroit, Philadelphia, Tulsa and Pittsburgh.

Purpose of Committee.

It is the purpose of this committee to take an active part in local civic movements. It plans and supervises visits of chapter members to local industrial plants; arranges for chapter speakers before clubs, schools and civic groups and supervises radio programs of a public educational nature.

Resolutions on the deaths of President Edward J. McQuade, Liberty National Bank; President John B. Larner, Washington Loan & Trust Co., and President Joseph Schiavone, International Exchange Bank, will be presented at a meeting of the District of Columbia Bankers Association Monday. Out of respect for Mr. McQuade's memory the weekly luncheon of the association at the Willard Hotel Wednesday has been canceled. For the same reason, the card party of Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking, to have been held last night at the Willard Hotel, was also canceled.

Although Vice President and Treasurer C. H. Pope, Munsey Trust Co., who is first vice president of the bankers association, is now in charge by virtue of office, no official action has been announced with regard to the succession of officers. This may be made known today.

OIL QUOTATIONS.

Oil City, Pa., Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Credit balance, $1.95. Runs, 32,589; average runs, 34,979. Shipments, 36,182; average shipments, 52,912.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET TRANSACTIONS OF YESTERDAY

Sales in hundreds.	High	Low	Close
A
2 Acetol Prod A	6	6	6
2 All Am Gen	9½	9½	9½
3 Allied Mills	5	4⅞	4⅞
2150 Alum Co Am AS	72½	70	70¼
2 Alum Co Am pf(6)	80⅛	80	80
4 Alum Ltd	33	30	30
1 Am Arch (2) XD	18	18	18
250 Am Cigar AS	55	55	55
150 Am Cigar pf AS	80	80	80
3 Am C P & L A(3r)	28	28	28
15 Am C P&L B(10¢f)	3	2⅞	2⅞
11 Am C P A (10¢f)	2¾	2½	2¾
4750 Am Cyan B AS	4¾	4¾	4¾
2 Am Equities	2¾	2¾	2¾
23 Am & For P war	6¾	6⅛	6⅛
20 Am Founders	1⅝	1½	1⅝
42 Am Gas & El (1a)	45	43½	43¾
6 Am Lt & T (2½)	26⅝	26	26
2 Am Maracaibo	⅜	⅜	⅜
90 Am Sup Power	5¾	5⅜	5½
4 Am Sup P 1 pr (6)	65	63½	63½
2 Am Thread pf (¼)	3¼	3¼	3¼
1 Am Yvette (¼)	1	1	1
3 Anglo-Chi Nit	⅛	⅛	⅛
23 Appalach Gas	⅜	⅜	⅜
17 Appal Gas war	⅛	⅛	⅛
3 Ark Nat Gas	3	3	3
32 Ark Nat Gas A	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
1 Ark Nat G pf (.60)	5½	5½	5½
20 Ark P&L pf (7) AS	86	85	86
12 Art Metals (1.50)	3	3	3
50 As G & E ctf(8) AS	48	48	48
27 As G & El A(2/25f)	6¼	6⅛	6¼
14 Atlas Util	5½	5	5¼
3 AVM cv pr pt (⅛k)	6¾	6½	6¾
B
50 Babcock & Wil	57½	56¼	56¼
1 Ben Ind Loan (1½)	12	12	12
6 Blue Ridge	2	2	2
4 Blue R cvt pf (3r)	25½	25	25½
50 Borne Scry As	11	11	11
10 Braz Tr & Lt (1)	10½	10⅜	10⅜
3 Brt St El B	¼	¼	¼
2 Brill B	½	½	½
1 Brillo Mfg (.60)	8	8	8
17 B A Tob reg(1.136)	14⅛	14⅛	14⅛
10 Brit Celan	2⅛	2	2
1 Buf N & E pf(1.60)	24	24	24
1 Bulova Wat pf(3½)	15½	15½	15½
1 Burma Ltd (.276)	1½	1½	1½
C
22 Cab R Tube vtc	1⅜	1¼	1⅜
1 Cab & Wire A	¾	¾	¾
1 Cam Cycle	¼	¼	¼
3 Can Marc Wirel	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
1 Carnegie Met	1½	1½	1½
25 Celanese 1 pf (7) AS	25	25	25
1 Celluloid	2	2	2
1 C HG&E vtc (.80)	15½	15½	15½
6 Cent Pub S A(5¢f)	3	2¾	2¾
1 Cent P S Del	8½	8½	8½
1 Cent &SWUt (7¢f)	9½	9½	9½
37 Cent St El (10¢f)	3	3	3
1 Cent WPS A (1½r)	16	16	16
145 Cities Service(.30a)	7⅜	7	7¼
9 City Serv pf (6)	58	57⅜	58
5 Colum O & G vtc	1⅞	1¾	1¾
1 Colum Pict (¼a)	6¼	6¼	6¼
50 Comwlth Edis(8) AS	141¾	141¾	141¾
6 Comwlth & So war	¾	¾	¾
3 Com W Ser (.12½a)	3	2½	2¾
4 Cons Con Min	1¼	1⅛	1¼
16 Cons G&E Blt(3.60)	72	69⅞	70
5 Cons Ret St	2	2	2
200 Cont Sh cvt pf AS	7	6¾	6¾
1 Copeland Prod	11	11	11
42 Cord Corp	6½	6	6⅛
6 Corp S C(6¢f) XD	6	5¼	6
1 Cosden Oil	1	1	1
7 Creole Pet	2½	2½	2½
3 Cresson Gold (.04)	¼	¼	¼
1 Crown C Pet	⅛	⅛	⅛
1 Crown C Intl A	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
8 Cuban C war	⅛	⅛	⅛
1 Curtiss Wright war	½	½	½
1 Cusi Mex	½	½	½
D
1 Darby Pet	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
1 Dayton Airplane	⅜	⅜	⅜
6 Deere & Co	15⅜	14¼	14¼
15 De Forest	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
5 Derby Oil	2¼	2¼	2¼
5 Detroit Aircraft	⅛	⅛	⅛
1 Doehler Die	3¼	3¼	3¼
25 Duke Power (5) AS	83	83	83
3 Duquesne Gas	⅞	⅞	⅞
8 Durant Motor	1	⅞	⅞
E
1 East Sta Pow B	4	4	4
1 East Ut Asso cv	5	5	5
1 Eisler Elec	2	2	2
524 El Bd & Sh (6¢f)	17⅜	16¼	16¾
1 El Bd & Sh pr (6)	79	79	79
5 El Bd & Sh 5 pf (5)	67	66⅛	67
2 El Pow As (1)	8¾	8¾	8¾
2 El Pow As A (1)	8⅛	8	8
1 El P & L opt war	6¾	6¾	6¾
5 Employ Reins(1.80z)	21	21	21
1 Europe El A (.60)	4	4	4
F
1 Falcon Lead	⅛	⅛	⅛
6 Fedes Met	7½	7½	7½
1 Ferro Enamel A	19	19	19
2 Flintkote A	4½	4½	4½
1 Ford M C A (1.20)	14	14	14
6 Ford M Ltd (.366)	7¼	7⅛	7⅛
1 Franklin Mfg	2½	2½	2½
5 Fox Theater A	1	1	1
G
1 Galena Oil	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
5 Gen Aviat Cor	2¾	2⅝	2⅝
1 GenElLtd rct(.366)	8⅛	8⅛	8⅛
1 Gen Empire (1)XD	13	13	13
5 GenThEq cv pf	1⅜	1½	1½
2 GlobeUnderw (.15k)	5	5	5
5 Goldfield Cons	⅛	⅛	⅛
2 Goldman Sachs	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞
4 Grumman (1)	18¼	18¼	18¼
9 Groc Str vtc	2¼	2	2
5 Ground Grip Shoe	½	½	½
6 Gulf Oil Pa (1½)	47⅛	46⅛	46⅛
2 Hamilton Gas vtc	1⅛	1¼	1¼
2 Heyden Chem (2)	8	8	8
4 Hir Walker (½)	3¼	3¼	3¼
5 HollinGold(.70z)XD	5⅜	5	5
22 Hudson Bay M&S	2⅛	2½	2½
2 Humble Oil (2)	52½	52	52
1 Hydro El Sec (1.20)	9⅞	9⅞	9⅞
7 Hygrade Fd	3⅜	3½	3⅜
I
25 Ill P&L 86 pf(6) AS	68	68	68
6 Imp Oil Can (½)	10½	10⅛	10⅛
5 Imp Tob Brit (1.12)	14⅛	14⅛	14⅛
1 Ind Pipe Line (1)	8⅜	8⅜	8⅜
3 Insull Util (6¢f)	11	10⅝	10⅞
3 Ins Co N Am(2½a)	38⅝	38	38
3 Insuran Sec	2⅞	2¾	2⅞
26 Intercon Petrol	⅛	⅛	⅛
1 Int Cig Mach (2½)	33	33	33
24 Internat Pet (1)	11	10½	10½
1 Inter Sup Pow (1)	11¼	11¼	11¼
3 Inter Util B	2¾	2¾	2¾
3 Inter Util war	⅞	⅞	⅞
2 Interst Equit	1¼	1	1
10 IntPowDel pf(7) AS	53	53	53
330 Knott Corp AS	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝
2 Kolster Brandes	1⅜	1½	1⅜
L
6 Lackaw Sec (4)	28½	27½	27½
1 Lake Sh Min (2½a)	25¾	25¾	25¾
2 Lakey Fdy	1⅝	1½	1½
1 Leonard Oil	⅜	⅜	⅜
11 Lib McN & L	7⅛	6⅞	6⅞
2 Lit Bros	3	3	3
2 Lone Star Gas (.88)	9½	9½	9½
20 Long Is L pf (7) AS	102½	102½	102½
M
1 Marco I Mar (.734)	6⅝	6⅛	6⅜
2 May Hosiery pf (4)	20	20	20
1 Mead John (4s)	55	55	55
2 Memphis N G (.60)	5½	5½	5½
1 Merritt C & S	4	4	4
1 Mesta Mach (2)	18	18	18
2 Mid W Ut pf	1	½	½
18 Mid West Ut (8¢f)	9⅞	9¾	9⅞
1 Mid W Ut pf xw (6)	59¾	59¾	59¾
3 Mo Kans P L	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
25 Mo Hud 1 pf (7) AS	65	65	65
20 Mt. St. P pf (7) AS	69	69	69
1 Murphy Co XD	25	25	25
N
1 Nat Am Co	1½	1½	1½
1 Nat Avia	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
22 Nat Bond Sh (1)	24	23½	23½
3 Nat Fam Strs	⅛	⅛	⅛
10 Nat Fuel G (1)	15⅛	14¾	14¾
9 Nat Investors	3	3	3
150 Nat P&L6½ pf(6) AS	79½	79	79
2 Nat Service	1¼	1⅛	1¼
7 Nat S T Sec A (.60)	2⅜	2½	2⅜
1 Nat Sug Ref (2)	27½	27½	27½
10 Nat Un Rad	1¼	1¼	1¼
7 Newmont Min	16¼	15	15
1 N Y Hambg (2½)	8	8	8
2 N Y Merchand (1)	10	9½	9½
1 N Y Shipbldg Fd	3½	3½	3½
2 N Y Transit (.70a)	8¾	8¼	8¼
71 Niag H Pow (.40)	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
3 Niag Hud A war	1	⅞	⅞
3 Niag Hud B war	3	3	3
10 Niag Sh Md (.40)	4	3¾	4
10 Nitrate B	⅛	⅛	⅛
1 Noma Elec (.40)	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
1 Northam Warren pf	30¼	30¼	30¼
47 Nor Am Av A war	1-32	1-32	1-32
5 Nor Ind Oil	⅜	⅜	⅜
1 Nor Sts P A (8)	90	90	90
100 Nor St P 7 pf(7) AS	99	98⅛	98⅛
1 Novadel Ag (4)	38½	38½	38½
O
2 Ohio Cop	⅛	⅛	⅛
2 Ohio Oil pf (6) XD	80¼	80	80¼
P
2 PacG&E 1 pf (1½)	25⅞	25¾	25⅞
2 Pac West Oil	5	5	5
1 Pan-Am Airways	19½	19½	19½
1 Param Mot	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜
2 Pender Gr B	4	4	4
7 Pennroad (.40k)	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞
100 PaP&L 7 pf (7) AS	104	103½	103½
2 Pa Wat & Pow (3)	55	55	55
2 Peo Lt Pow A	1⅜	1½	1½
1 Phila Co new (1.40)	18⅝	18⅝	18⅝
11 Philip Morris	2⅜	2¼	2¼
6 Phoenix Sec	½	½	½
2 Phoenix S pf(3) XD	16	16	16
1 Pierce Gov	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
15 Pilot Radio A	3½	2⅞	3
5 Pitney Bowes (4⅝ f)	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
1 Plymouth O (¼k)	9¼	9¼	9¼
4 Pruden Inv	5⅜	5	5¼
1 Pub Ut Hold war	⅛	⅛	⅛
4 Pub Ut Hold xw	1	⅞	1
1 Pyrene	3	3	3
R
20 RadioKeithOrp rts	½	⅜	⅜
1 Relian Intl A	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
4 Relian Manage	2⅜	2¼	2¼
1 R I Pub Ser pf (2)	23¾	23¾	23¾
3 Reynolds Inv	¼	¼	¼
1 Roan A Corp	8¼	8¼	8¼
2 Rockl L & P (.90)	12	11½	11½
S
7 St Anth Gold	⅛	⅛	⅛
29 St Regis Pap (.60)	6⅞	6	6
1 Salt Cr Prod (1)	4¾	4¾	4¾
7 SecAtlCor nv (1)	7⅞	7¾	7¾
31 Segal Lock (⅛r)	3¼	3	3⅛
3 Selected Indus	1½	1⅜	1⅜
5 Sel Ind(al ctf)(5½)	45	45	45
3 Sentry S Con	⅜	⅜	⅜
12 Shenandoah	1⅞	1⅝	1¾
13 Shenandoah pf	1⅞	1⅝	1⅝
75 Sherwin Wms(4)AS	45¾	45	45⅝
10 Singer Mfg (16a) AS	185	185	185
50 Smith A O AS	65½	61¼	61¼
1 SCalEdA pf(1¾)XD	28¼	28¼	28¼
1 South Corp (.20k)	1½	1½	1½
3 So Nat Gas	¼	¼	¼
4 Southland Roy(.20)	4¼	4¼	4¼
20 S W Gas Ut	1⅜	1	1
1 Span & Gen	¼	¼	¼
2 Spieg May S pf	26¼	26¼	26¼
52 St Oil Ind (1)	20⅝	19⅞	20
6 St Oil Ky (1.60)	16¼	16⅛	16¼
100 St Oil Ohio (2½) AS	40	40	40
1 St Pow & L B (2)	24	24	24
25 Stand Screw (6) AS	50	50	50
50 St P & Lt pf (7) AS	82	82	82
9 Starrett pf (3)	4¾	4½	4½
25 Stetson J B AS	10	10	10
1 Stein & Co (1.60)	10	10	10
1 Stroock & Co	5	5	5
1 Sunray Oil	⅝	⅝	⅝
2 Swift & Co (2)	23	23	23
T
2 Tampa El (2a)	30¾	30	30
2 Technicolor	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
22 Teck H G (.65g)	4¾	4½	4⅝
1 Texon Oil (1)	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
4 Tob & Al Stks	22⅛	21¾	21¾
4 Transcont Air	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
19 Trans Lux	2½	2½	2½
2 Tri Cont war	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
2 Tri Utilities	¼	¼	¼
17 Tubize Ch B	3⅛	3	3⅛
U
3 Un Gas Can (1) XD	5⅜	5½	5⅜
1 Union Tob	⅛	⅛	⅛
553 Unit Dry Dock AS	1	1	1
31 Unit Founders	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
49 United Gas	2⅜	2¼	2⅜
24 Unit Gas war	⅛	⅛	⅛
1 Unit Gas Rad pf (7)	52	52	52
29 Up Lt & Pow A (1)	10	9¾	9½
1 Un L & P Pf (1)	18	18	18
1 Un L & P cv pf (6)	58½	58	58
1 Unit Milk Prod	1	1	1
3 U S & Int Sec	½	½	½
3 U S & I Sec pf	25½	25½	25½
23 U S Elec Pow	2½	2	2
3 U S Finish	3	3	3
130 U S Finish pf AS	21½	21	21½
2 U S Foil B (½)	3½	3½	3½
2 U S Play Cd (2½)	23¼	23	23
1 Utility Equities	2⅞	2⅝	2⅝
1 Ut Equities pf(5½)	50	50	50
32 Util P & L (1r)	5	4¾	4¾
1 Ut P & L B ctf (1r)	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
V
5 Vick Finan (.30)	5	4¾	4¾
W
2 Walgreen	13	13	13
1 Walker Min	1	1	1
5 Woolworth Ltd (.36)	8½	8½	8½
Y
3 Y Oil & Gas	⅝	⅝	⅝
1 Yukon Gold	⅛	⅛	⅛

FOREIGN BONDS.

Sales in hundreds.	High	Low	Close
A
4 Ala Pow 4½s, 1967	89¼	89¼	89¼
16 Alumin Co 5s, 1952	100⅜	100⅛	100⅛
1 Am Cmwlth Pow 5½s, 1953	24⅜	24⅜	24⅜
12 Am Cmwlth Pow 6s, 1940	27	25½	25⅝
1 Am Community P 5½s, 1953	36½	36½	36½
2 Am & Cont Corp 5s, 1943	50	50	50
1 Am El & Pow 6s, 1957, A	49	49	49
21 Am G & E 5s, 2028	88	86	86¼
1 Am G & Pow 5s, 1953	43	43	43
9 Am Pow & L 6s, 2016	85	85	85
2 Am Roll M 5s, 1948	67½	67½	67½
9 Am Roll M 4½s, 1933	80	79⅞	80
4 Appalach Gas 6s, 1945	16½	15	15

STOCK PRICES DROP ON HEAVIER SELLING

Unfavorable Market Reports Start Profit-Taking on Larger Scale.

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Selling increased on the financial front today, coincident with news of an armistice between Japan and China.

Stocks were dumped in larger volume during the afternoon, as heavy profit-taking broke wheat futures roughly 4 to 5 cents a bushel. Any expectations of a demand for raw materials and manufactured goods rising from a prolonged conflict in Manchuria appeared to have been dashed by the Paris cables, and thus the markets witnessed the paradox of a collapse in prices accompanying a constructive international development.

It was doubtless true that shares had been approaching a selling climax. News this week has been unfavorable from the speculative viewpoint, for commodities have gone down and there have been indications that trade had reached a stalemate in its attempt at recovery. Whatever the cause, stocks were first heavy and then weak, although they recovered to some degree under late short covering. Volume swelled to 2,064,367 shares.

Decline Resembled Breaks.

The decline resembled well-remembered breaks of recent months in that market leaders were particularly hard hit. U. S. Steel and New York Central both made new lows, together with numerous other rails and a few industrials. The carrier group reached a new low in the averages. The average decline for 90 stocks used in the Associated Press-Standard Statistics averages was off 2.5 points to 78.2, or 8.2 points above the October 5 minimum.

Steel common went close to 60 for an extreme loss of 4 points. The final quotation was 61, making the net decline 3¾. New York Central, Standard Gas, Reading, Case, Atchison, Union Pacific, Eastman, Air Reduction, Lambert, Coca Cola and Home Stake were down 3 to 4 at the finish, while American Telephone, Bethlehem, National Biscuit, Consolidated Gas, North American, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Pacific and Sears Roebuck gave up 2 to 3.

The railroad conference discussed the program presented by labor, the outstanding point of which is a six-hour day under existing rates of pay. In the background of the negotiations, however, lurked the question of cutting the present wage basis, although it is possible that this issue will remain quiescent until the result of some roads' negotiations with their own employes has become known and until the Interstate Commerce decision on the freight rate amendment has been announced. One section of Wall street opinion holds that certain roads may act independently on the wage issue.

Weather Is Blamed.

Weekly mercantile reviews emphasized the unfavorable influence which warm weather is exerting on trade in many sections of the country. Dun's said retail business was fully three weeks behind a year ago because of unseasonable temperatures, although it believed the ultimate sales total for this month and next would approximate 1930.

Bank clearings, according to the same review, showed some recovery this week, although they were still considerably under last year's.

The dollar rallied against most foreign currencies. British payments on raw materials bought here were reflected in a heavy pound, which closed more than 2 cents lower. The French franc sagged three-eighths of a cent. Japan's yen firmed. Scandinavians were weak.

Corn did not quite match wheat's losses, averaging about 3 cents off on the day. Rye dropped sharply. Cotton's losses ranged from 45 to 55 cents a bale.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Nov. 20 (A.P.).—Almost 5 cents a bushel violent fall in wheat prices today accompanied news of an armistice between Japan and China. Immense selling on the part of speculative interests that had been accumulating of late because of indications Russia might be openly drawn into Manchurian war moves went hand in hand with the collapse of values. Adding to downward impetus of all grains was stock market weakness and conspicuous dearth of United States wheat export business, together with rain and snow in drought sections of Kansas and also Nebraska.

Wheat closed unsteady at virtually the day's bottom figures, 3¾@4⅞ cents lower than yesterday's finish; corn 2⅞@3½ down; oats 1⅞@1¾ off, and provisions showing 17 to 30 cents setback.

In the storm of stop loss selling just before trading ended, brokers found themselves swamped. Word of at least temporary peace in Manchuria had been flashed into the crowd and had left the market empty of buyers, except foresighted bears who were in a position to realize profits by catching the holdings that were wildly thrown overboard. The armistice bulletin capped the climax of an earlier unusual succession of announcements of a price breaking character from which at no time the market showed any decided power to rally.

Exporters said that not only today, but throughout the last three weeks there had been little overseas demand for United States wheat. Coupled with this handicap were sharp downturns in Liverpool quotations, a circumstance associated with reports that despite frosts and reduced acreage, Argentine wheat production this season promised to be only a little below last year and of better quality. There were also advices of increased offerings of Argentine wheat in Europe and of enlarged future delivery selling from Australia. Under such conditions, the sudden receipts of peace news threw the pit into worse confusion, with the market in the last few minutes semidemoralized and some wheat pressed for sale at almost any price obtainable.

Corn, oats and rye gave way in sympathy with the acute weakness of wheat, despite better shipping demand here for corn and notwithstanding unfavorable weather over the corn belt.

Provisions worked lower in response to setbacks of commodities and stocks.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—December, 54⅝@54¾; March, 59¼; May, 57⅞ bids; July, 58½@58⅝; 63⅜; July, 58⅝, 63⅜; July, 58@63⅞. Corn—December, 40⅝@43¾; March, 46⅜ offers; May, 45⅛@48⅜, 48½; July, 46¾@50⅛.

Cash grain:

WHEAT—No. 3 mixed, 59¼.

CORN—No. 1 yellow, 47½; No. 2 yellow, 47½@48; No. 2 white, 47½; No. 4 white, 46½. New crop: No. 2 mixed, 45½; No. 4 mixed, 44; No. 2 yellow, 45½@46; No. 3 yellow, 44½@45½; No. 3 white, 45@45½.

OATS—No. 2 white, 27⅛@27¾; No. 3 white, 27.

RYE—No sales.

BARLEY—40@58.

TIMOTHY SEED—4.00@4.25.

CLOVER SEED—13.00@15.00.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS FUTURES

Wheat—	High.	Low.	Close
December	59½	56¾	56¾
March	62⅝	59	59
May	64¼	60¾	60⅞
July	64⅞	60⅝	60⅞
Corn—
December	44⅞	42¼	42¼
March	47½	45	45
May	49⅝	46¾	46¾
July	50¾	48½	48½
Oats—
December	26⅞	25¾	25¾
March	28⅝	27¾	27¾
May	29¼	28	28
July	28⅞	27¾	27¾
Rye—
December	50	48¼	48½
March	54⅛	52½	52½
May	55¾	53¼	53¼
July	55½	53	53
Lard—
November	6.50	6.20	6.21
December	6.20	6.05	6.07
January	6.25	6.07	6.10
Bellies—
January			6.00
May	6.52	6.40	6.40

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE TRANSACTIONS OF YESTERDAY

Sales in hundreds. | High | Low | Last | Chg. | Bid

A

7 Abitibi P & P	3½	3½	3½	— ⅛	3¼
1 Abitibi P & P pf	10½	10½	10½
40 Adams Express (1)	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞	— ⅛	7⅞
20 Adams Express pf (5) AS(z)	73	73	73	— 1	73
3 Adams Millis (2)	27	27	27	— ½	28½
3 Addressog (1)	13	13	13		13
1 Advance Rume	3	3	3	— 1¼	3
11 Affiliat Prod (1.60)	17⅛	16⅞	16⅞	— 1	17
38 Air Reduc (4½b)	63¼	59½	59½	— 4	59½
4 Air Way E Ap	2¾	2	2		2
285 Alaska Juneau (.40)	15⅞	14¼	14⅝	— 1	14½
54 Allegheny	3½	3¼	3¼	— ⅛	3¼
6 Alleg pf xw	8	8	8	— ½	7⅞
4 Alleg pf 430 ww	8	7⅞	8	— ⅛	7⅞
2 Alleg pf 940 ww	8	7⅞	7⅞	— ⅛	7⅞
345 Al Chem & Dye (6)	84⅛	81½	82⅜	— 1¼	82½
1 Al Ch & Dye pf (7)	119¾	119¾	119¾	— ¼	119¾
10 Allis Ch Mfg (1)	17¾	17¼	17¼	— ¾	17⅛
3 Amal Leather pf	7½	7½	7½		7
6 Amerada (2)	16	16	16	— ¾	15⅝
1 Am Ak Ch Del	8¼	8¼	8¼	— ⅛	8
8 Am Bank Note (2)	18	17⅝	17⅝	— ⅛	17
80 Am Bk Note pf (3) AS (z)	51⅝	51½	51⅞	+ ⅛	51½
10 Am Beet S pf AS (z)	5	5	5	— 1	4
7 Am Brake Shoe (2.40)	21½	21	21		21
10 Am Br Shoe pf (7) AS (z)	92½	92½	92½	— ½	92¼
433 Am Can (5b)	76½	73¼	74⅜	— 1⅝	74¼
5 Am Car & Fdy (1)	12½	11⅝	11⅝	— ⅝	11⅝
3 Am Chicle (3b)	35½	35	35	— ⅝	35
21 Am Comi Al	8¼	7⅞	8¼	— ⅛	8
249 Am & For Pow	12⅜	11¼	11⅜	— 1¼	11⅜
3 Am & F P 37 pf (7)	50⅜	49⅞	49⅞	— ⅞	49½
22 Am & F P 2d pf	25½	24	24	— 1¼	23¾
19 Am Hi & L pf	13	13	13	— 1	11
13 Am Home Prod (4.20)	51	49	49	— 2½	49
1 Am Ice (2)	14⅝	14⅝	14⅝	+ ⅛	14⅝
30 Am Internat	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞	— ⅛	7½
1 Am-La France & F	¾	¾	¾		¾
3 Am Loco pf (7)	59	59	59	—	58½
12 Am Mach & F (1.40)	23¾	21¾	21¾	— 1¾	21½
6 Am Metal	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛	— ⅛	6⅛
100 Am Metal 6% pf (6) AS (z)	29	29	29	— 3	28
100 Am Nat Gas pf AS (z)	2	2	2	+ ⅛	1¾
41 Am Pow & L (1a)	18	17	17⅛	— ⅜	17
2 Am P & L 6% pf (6)	65	63	63	— 2	62½
52 Am Rad St San (.60)	9⅛	8¼	8¾	— ⅛	8½
3 Am Repub	2¼	2	2	— ⅛	1¾
39 Am Roll Mill	12⅞	12	12⅛	— ⅛	12
2 Am Safety Razor (5)	33	33	33	— 1	33
5 Am Seating	3	2⅞	2⅞	— ⅛	2
2 Am Ship & Com	⅜	⅜	⅜		⅜
73 Am Smelt & Ref (1½)	25⅛	24	24⅝	+ ⅛	24½
2 Am Smelt pf (7)	100½	99¼	100⅞	— 1⅛	100½
8 Am Steel Fdrs	9½	8⅝	9⅛		8½
1 Am Stores (2½b)	39	39	39	— 1⅛	38
6 Am Sugar Ref (5)	47¾	45½	45⅝	— 2⅜	45
1 Am Sugar pf (7)	99½	99½	99½	— ½	98½
8 Am Sumat Tob	5½	5½	5⅝		5
647 Am Tel & Tel (9)	134¼	131¼	132⅝	— 2⅜	132½
5 Am Tob (5)	84¾	83⅝	83⅝	— 1⅞	83½
1 Am Tob pf (6)	117	117	117	— 1	114
136 Am Tob B (5)	86⅛	83¾	84⅝	— 1¾	84½
24 Am Wat Wks (3)	31½	30¼	31		30½
1 Am Wat Wks etf (3)	29⅝	29⅝	29⅝	— 2½	29
3 Am Woolen	5½	5¼	5¼	— ⅛	5
28 Am Woolpf	23½	22½	22⅞	— 1⅜	23
117 Anaconda	14⅛	13⅞	14⅝	+ ⅛	14
2 Anneon W & C	12	12	12		12
4 Anchor Cap (2.40)	20	18	18	— 2½	17⅜
1 Anchor Cap pf (6½)	75	75	75	— 10¾	74
3 Archer Dan M (3⅛h) XD	13⅛	12⅞	12⅞	— ⅛	12⅝
1 Armour Del pf (7)	37	37	37	— 2	37
12 Armour of Ill A	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛		1⅛
10 Armour of Ill B	⅜	⅜	⅜		⅜
3 Armour of Ill pf	9¾	9¼	9¼	— ⅛	9
1 Art Metal Con (.80)	9⅞	9⅞	9⅞	— ⅛	9¾
2 Asso App Ind	3¼	3¼	3¼	— ⅛	3
12 Assd Dry Goods (1)	11½	11½	11⅝		11¼
92 Atch T & S F (10)	104	99¾	101⅝	— 4⅜	101
2 Atl Coast Line (4)	48	47½	47⅝	— 3⅜	48
34 Atlantic Ref (4) XD	12⅜	11¾	11⅞	— ⅜	11¾
12 Atlas Stores (1)	5	5	5		5
413 Auburn Auto (4a)	115¼	104	105¼	— 10¾	105¼
46 Aviation Corp	3	2⅝	2⅝	— ¼	2⅝

B

6 Baldwin Loco	8⅝	8⅛	8½	— ⅛	8⅜
100 Bald Loco pf (7) AS (z)	49	49	49	— ½	48
172 Balt & Ohio (4)	31¼	28	28¼	— 2½	28⅛
1 Balt & O pf (4)	45	45	45		44
3 Bang & Ar (3½)	29	28⅛	28⅛	— 1⅝	28⅛
140 Barker Bros A8 (z)	2½	2½	2½		2¼
20 Barnsdall A	7	6½	7		6¾
170 Bayuk Cigar (3) AS (z)	19½	19½	19½		19½
12 Beatrice Cr (4)	47	45	45	— 1	46
1 Beatrice C pf (7)	98⅞	98⅞	98⅞	— ⅛	97⅞
1 Beech-Nut P (3)	45	45	45	+ 1	43
1 Belding Hem (4)	4	4	4	— 1	3½
1 Belg N Ry pte pf (4.81h)	63⅛	63⅛	63⅛	— 1½	62¼
182 Bendix Aviat (1)	19⅞	18⅛	18⅝	— ⅜	18⅜
10 Best & Co (2)	29½	28½	28½	— ⅝	28¾
145 Bethlehem St (2)	27½	25⅞	26	— 1⅜	26
1 Beth St 7% pf (7)	90	90	90		90
2 Blaw Knox (1½)	9⅛	9	9⅛	— 1	8⅞
15 Bohn Alum	23¾	23½	23½	— 1	24
93 Borden (3)	49¼	47⅝	48⅛	— ⅜	48⅜
39 Borg-Warner (1)	12¾	12⅛	12¼	— ⅜	12⅛
25 Briggs Mfg (1½)	10⅜	10⅛	10⅛	— ⅜	10⅛
2 Brockway Mot	1¼	1¼	1¼		1¼
15 Brklyn-Man Tr (4)	37	36	36⅜	— ⅜	36¼
2 Brklyn Tr pf (6)	72	71	71	— 2	70
2 Brklyn & Qu Tr	10¾	10¼	10¾		10½
13 Brklyn Un Gas (5)	55	55	55	— 2	54½
4 Bruns T & Ry	90	88	88	— 1¾	88
2 Buegrus-Erie	3¼	3	3	— ⅛	3
1 Bucy-E cv pf	5¾	5⅜	5⅜	— ⅛	5¼
2 Budd Mfg	9	9	9	— ⅛	8¾
18 Budd Wheel (1)	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞	+ ⅛	3
1 Bullard Co	4½	4½	4½	+ ⅛	4⅜
22 Burr Ad Mch (1)	6¼	6¼	6¼		6
30 Burr Tex Pat pf (7) AS (z)	13⅜	13⅜	13⅛	— ⅛	13¼
1 Butte Cop & Z	95	90	90	— 5	90
2 Butte & Sup M	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜		1⅜
38 Byers Co	⅞	⅞	⅞		⅞

C

17	15⅞	16	— 1½	16⅛
5 Calif Pack	11	10¾	10¾	— ⅛	10½
4 Calumet & Hec	⅜	⅜	⅜		⅜
1 Campbell Wy (1)	4¼	4	4	— ⅛	4⅛
16 Canada D G Ale (3)	8	8	8	— 1	8
61 Canad Pac (11⅛)	18	17½	17½	— ⅛	17⅝
1 Cannon Mills (1.80)	15⅝	14⅞	15¼		15
2 Cap Admin A	19⅜	19⅛	19⅛	+ ⅛	19
676 Case (J I)	73	71	71	— ⅜	70½
28 Caterpil Tr (2)	43¼	38½	39⅜	— 3½	39½
100 Cavanagh Dob AS (z)	15¼	14½	14½	— 1¼	14½
1 Celanese	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	+ ⅛	3
1 Celotex	6¼	6¼	6¼		6
1 Celotex pf	3½	3½	3½		3
2 Celotex pf AS (z)	2½	2½	2½		2½
60 Celotex pf AS (z)	15	15	15		12
24 Cerro de Pas (1)	15	13⅝	13¾	— 1¼	14
4 Checker Cab	5	5	5		5
180 Ches & Ohio (2½)	31½	29¼	30	— 1¾	29¾
18 Ches Corp (3)	23½	21½	22¼	— 1⅜	21⅝
12 Chic Gt W pf	14⅞	14	14	— ⅛	14½
7 Chi & N W pf	3¼	2¾	2¾		2¾
22 Chi M St P & P pf	4⅞	4¼	4¼		4½
37 Chic & N W	11	10½	10⅝	— 1⅜	10½
1 Chic & N W pf	25¼	25¼	25¼	— 2¾	24
4 Chic Pneu T	5½	5	5⅛		5¼
1 Chi Pneu T pf	10½	10½	10½		10½
17 Chi Rk Is & P	18¼	17⅝	17⅝	— ⅜	16½
1 C R I & P 6% pf (6)	25¼	25¼	25⅛	— 2½	25
4 C R I & P 7% pf (7)	26	26	26	— 1¾	26
30 Chic Yell C (2) AS XD (z)	15	14	14	— 1⅜	13½
1 Chick Cot Oil	10⅜	10⅜	10⅜		10⅜
1 Childs Co	11	11	11		10¾
426 Chrysler (1)	15¾	14¾	15	— ⅜	14⅞
3 City Ice & F (3.60)	32	31¼	32		31
24 City Stores	1	1	1		1
1 Cluett Pea (3)	19	19	19	—	18¼
86 Coca Cola (8b)	118¾	113	114	— 4½	113½
1 Coca Cola A (3)	51⅝	51¼	51⅜	— ⅛	50½
5 Colgate-Palm (2½)	34⅜	33¾	33⅞	— 1	33½
14 Coli & Alk	10	8½	8½	— 1⅜	8½
4 Col Fuel & Ir	12	11	11	— 1⅜	11
82 Colum G & E (1½)	21⅜	20½	20⅝	— 1⅛	20⅝
1 Col G & E A (6)	86	86	86		86
45 Colum Carb (4)	45½	42⅝	43⅛	— 3⅞	43
6 Coml Credit (1.60)	12⅛	11⅞	11⅞	— ⅜	11⅞
20 C C 6½% pf ww (6½) AS (z)	72	72	72	— 2	71½
11 Com Invest Tr (2)	23	22	22	— ¾	22
10 Com Inv Tr cv pf (6k)	73	73	73		73
10 Com Inv Tr 7% pf (7) AS (z)	100⅛	100⅛	100⅛	+ ⅛	100
20 C I Tr 6½% pf (6½) AS (z)	99	99	99	— ⅛	99
57 Coml Solv (1)	11¼	10⅛	10⅜	— ⅝	10⅜
119 Comwlth So (.30)	5¼	5	5	— ⅛	5
3 Comwith So pf (6)	76½	76	76	—	74⅜
33 Conoleum Na (1)	9¾	9½	9⅜	— ⅛	9⅜
3 Congress Cig (1)	10	10	10	— ⅛	9⅜
2 Consol Cigar (5)	25	24¾	25		23
100 C Cig 6½% pf (6½) AS (z)	56	56	56		55½
9 Cons Film pf (2)	13¾	13	13	— ⅛	12¾
285 Consol Gas (4)	71½	69⅝	69⅝	— 2¼	69½
1 Cons R R Cu pf (6)	22½	22¼	22¼	+ ⅛	22½
2 Consol Text	⅜	⅜	⅜		⅜
2 Container B	¾	¾	¾		¾
60 Conti Baking A	6⅞	6⅛	6½	— ⅛	6⅜
5 Cont Baking B	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛		1
2 Cont Baking pf (8)	49	49	49	— 1	49
34 Cont Can (2½)	37¼	36	36¼	— 1⅛	36⅛
4 Cont Diam Fib	6½	6	6	— ¼	5¾
1 Conti Ins (2.40)	27	27	27	— ½	25
3 Conti Motor	1½	1½	1½	— ⅛	1½
4281 Conti Oil Del AS	7	7	7	— ⅛	7
2 Conti Shares	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	+ ⅛	1½
75 Conn Prod (3)	50½	48	49	— 2¼	48½
7 Coty	4⅞	4½	4½	— ⅛	4½
1 Crex Carpet	10¾	10¾	10¾		10½
4 Crown Cork (2.40)	17	16¾	16¾	— ⅛	16¾
1 Crown Cork pf (2.70)	26	26	26	+ ⅛	26
2 Crown Zeller	2½	2⅜	2⅜	— ⅛	2⅜
5 Crucible Stl	29¾	27½	27½	— 1⅛	27
2 Cuban Am Sug	2½	2½	2½		2¼
30 Cuban Am S pf AS (z)	16	16	16	— 2½	15
1 Cudahy Pack (4)	35	35	35		34½
1 Curtis Pub (4) XD	37¼	37¼	37¼	— ¾	36⅝
14 Curtiss Wright	2	1⅞	1⅞		1⅞
19 Curtiss Wr A	2⅝	2½	2½	— ⅛	2⅜
10 Cushman 7% pf (7) AS (z)	91½	91½	91½		91½
2 Cutler Ham	12	12	12	— ⅛	10¼

D

6 Davison Chem	5⅞	5½	5⅝	+ ⅛	5¼
2 Deere & Co pf (1.40)	15	14⅝	14⅞	— ⅛	14⅝
11 Del & Hud (9)	89	84	84	— 6	84
10 Del Lack & W (2)	32	30½	31¼	— 1	30½
3 Detroit Ed (8)	133	133	133	— 1	130
1 Devoe & Ray A (.60)	12½	12½	12½		12½
6 Diamond Mat (1)	15½	15½	15½	— ¾	15⅜
2 Dome Mines (1)	9	9	9		9
5 Dominion St (1.20)	17⅛	16⅛	16⅛	— ⅛	16¼
3 Douglas Airc (1)	12¼	12⅛	12⅛	— ⅛	12
62 Drug Inc (4)	57	55	55⅜	— 1⅝	55½
326 Du Pont de Nem (4)	60½	58⅛	58⅝	— 1⅜	58½
1 Du Pont deb (6)	106⅛	106⅛	106⅛		106
180 Durham Hos pf AS (z)	21	21	21		21

E

3 Eastern Roll	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	— ⅛	4
132 Eastman Kod (8b)	100⅝	95⅜	97½	— 4⅛	97⅜
21 Eaton Ax & S (1)	9⅞	9⅝	9⅝	— ⅜	9¼
3 Elting Sch pf	54½	54½	54½	+ ¼	54½
209 Elec Auto L (4)	34⅞	31	32	— 2⅜	32
4 Elec Boat	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝		1⅝
125 El Pow & Lgt (1)	15¼	14½	14⅝	— ⅛	14⅝
227 Elec Pow & Lt rts	⅛	⅛	⅛	— ⅛	⅛
1 El P & L 6% pf (6)	60½	60½	60½	+ ½	60⅛
1 El P & L pf (7)	72	72	72	— ½	70¼
6 Elec Stor B (4)	34½	33¼	33⅜	— 1⅛	33⅛
30 Elec & Mus	4⅜	4⅛	4⅛	— ⅛	4⅜
100 Elk Horn Coal AS (z)	¼	¼	¼	—	¼
1 Endicott John (3)	31½	31½	31½	— ½	31
1 Ens P S 5% pf (5)	56	56	56	— ½	56
1 Ens P S 56 pf (6)	67	67	67	— ½	60
12 Erie R R	11⅜	11	11	— ⅜	11
3 Eureka Vac Cl	4	4	4	— ⅛	4
10 Exchange Buff (1) AS (z)	12½	12½	12½	— 1¼	12½

F

34 Fairbanks Mor	6⅛	6¼	6¼	— ⅛	6
50 Fed Lt & T pf (6) AS (z)	70	70	70	— 3	68
6 Fed Screw	3	3	3	+ ¼	2½
15 Fed Wat S	5	4	4	— 1	4⅛
3 Federated D St (¼h)	16	15½	16	— ⅜	15
10 Fid P Fire Ins (2.60)	32	30½	30½	— 2⅜	29
2 Firestone T & R (1)	14½	14⅜	14⅜	+ ⅛	14⅜
8 Firestone T & R pf (6)	54⅛	53½	54⅛	+ ⅛	54
2 First Nat St (2½)	51¼	51	51¼	— ¼	51
6 Fisk Rubber pf AS (z)	¾	¾	¾	— ⅛	¾
9 Foster Wheel (1)	13½	13½	13½	— 1¼	13½
1 Foundation	4¾	4¾	4¾	— ¼	4
10 Fourth N Inv (.55b)	20¾	20	20	— 1	19
31 Fox Film A	6¾	6¼	6½	— ¼	6¼
150 Frank Sim pf (7) AS (z)	72¾	72¾	72¾	+ 1⅝
33 Freeport Tex (3)	19½	18½	18½	— 1	18⅛

G

20 Gamewell (3) AS (z)	24	24	24	+ ⅛	23
1 Gardner Mot	⅝	⅝	⅝		⅝
11 Gen Am Invest	3⅝	3½	3½	— ⅛	3½
1 Gen Am Inv pf (6)	65¼	65¼	65¼	— 2¼	65
26 Gen Am Tank (4)	44	43	43	— 1	43
34 Gen Asphalt (2)	15⅝	15	15½	— ⅛	15
16 Gen Bak (2)	17¼	16¼	17	— ⅛	16½
330 Gen Bronze AS	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	+ ⅛	3½
5 Gen Cable A	7¼	7	7		7
40 Gen Cable pf AS (z)	18	18	18	— 1⅛	17
1 Gen Cigar (4)	34¾	34¾	34¾	+ ⅛	33
485 Gen Elec (1.60)	28⅝	27⅝	28¼	— ⅛	28
39 Gen Elec spl (.60)	11⅜	11¼	11¼	— ⅛	11¼
86 Gen Foods (3)	37⅞	36¼	37⅛	— ¾	37
16 Gen G & E A (6%)	2⅜	2⅛	2⅛		2½
1 Gen G & El cv pf (6)	23½	23½	23½	— 1½	20
10 Gen G&E $8 pf A(8) AS(z)	50	50	50		50
1 Gen Ital Ed (2.615b)	22	22	22	— 2	22½
1 Gen Mills (3)	34⅜	33½	33¾	— 1	33
813 Gen Motor (3)	26⅜	23¼	25¼	— ⅜	25¼
5 Gen Motor pf (5)	92¼	91½	91½	— ¾	91
11 Gen Out Adv	4	3½	4		3⅝
2 Gen Out Adv A	8¼	7⅞	7⅞	— 2⅛	7⅞
7 Gen Pub Serv	5¼	5⅛	5⅛	— ⅛	5
3 Gen Rail Sig (5)	27⅜	25½	25½	— 2⅛	25
49 Gen Real & Ut	11⅝	11⅜	11⅜		11⅜
6 Gen Real & U pf	20½	20	20	— ½	20¼
10 Gen St Cast pf AS (z)	25	25	25		21
19 Gen Thea Eq	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛		1⅛
54 Gillette Safety R	13⅛	13	13⅜	— ⅛	13⅛
2 Gillette cv pf (5)	56⅝	56⅛	56⅜	—	56⅛
4 Gimbel Bros	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝		3⅝
2 Gimbel pf (7)	36⅛	36⅛	36⅛	— ⅜	34⅛
2 Glidden Co	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞		7⅞
31 Gobel Adolph	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛		7⅛
66 Gold Dust (2½)	20⅝	20⅛	20⅛	— 1⅛	20⅛
1 Goodrich	6¾	6¾	6¾	— ⅛	6⅝
7 Goodrich pf	21	20	20	— 1½	20
31 Goodyear T (3)	25½	25	25	— ½	25
3 Goodyear T 1st pf (7)	67	65¾	65¾	— 4¼	65½
1 Gotham Silk H	8½	8½	8½	— ⅛	8¼
10 Graham Paige	3	2⅞	3	— ⅛	2⅞
2 Granby Con M (1)	8¼	8	8	— ⅛	7¾
3 Grand Sil St	4¼	4	4	— ⅛	4
15 Grand Union	10

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

EDUCATION OVER THE RADIO.

PROFESSORS of Denver University plan a radio university. Students will enroll, pay a fee, listen to lectures over the air and be classified and rated by the papers they send to the aerial professors.

* * * *

The college of the air will probably open with a theme song and close with a sales talk on a nationally known cereal. Obviously, chimes will denote a change of lecture topics and the station announcer will break in now and then to see that higher education is properly linked with national advertising.

* * * *

The microphonic school will give every boy a chance to go to college over a national network.

* * * *

No young man will have any excuse for remaining ignorant unless his outside aerial has blown down.

* * * *

The loud speaker will be his campus and the microphone his alma mater. Few colleges in the country will offer greater opportunities for important contacts. Think of going to a school where you may bump into Morton Downey, Rudy Vallee, Guy Lombardo, Kate Smith, Bing Crosby or Lowell Thomas any time!

* * * *

The University of the Air will be attractively located between a beauty cream talk and a wonderful dentifrice program on a hill commanding a splendid view of the world's most expensive cigarette broadcast.

* * * *

ON the warm spring evenings the students can gather in the shade of the cooling ginger ale programs, stroll across the microphone campus in the company of the country's best known jazz orchestra conductors, tenors, &c., and croon college songs in the laps of Amos 'n' Andy.

* * * *

No expense will be spare in getting able professors. They will be the best teachers static can provide.

* * * *

There will be the problem of finance. The college will have to start in a small way, but it will broaden out as soon as some big washing powder, gelatin or soup company endows it and arranges for a 60-piece orchestra between the class in romance languages and the class in elemental psychology.

* * * *

Get set now to hear over your radio any time:

"Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. This is the College of the Air. The next voice you hear will be that of Prof. Lucien (Are Ya Listenin') Periwinkle, who will lecture on economics and play the mandolin." &c.

* * * *

NOT INTERESTED.

"I want to sell my six-weeks hair yielding formula. What have you to offer? Laura, 4532 Murdock avenue, Bronx."—New York Times.

* * * *

Ours, if any, yields to the touch, but if we think of anybody who might be interested we'll let you know.

* * * *

HENRY FORD says business has discovered that there isn't any Santa Claus. There was until they split him ten for one.

* * * *

Add similes: As rare as a Seabury witness whose recollection needs no refreshing.

* * * *

Gov. Roosevelt and former Gov. Smith had a conference at the governor's home. Possibly one of the things Mr. Roosevelt wanted to find out from Mr. Smith was how it felt to be a Democratic candidate for the Presidency the morning after.

* * * *

The Japanese have taken Tsitsihar and are advancing on Etaioishrudl.

(Copyright, 1931.)

Fire Lieutenant Retired After 24 Years' Service

Lieut. G. Davenport, 49 years old, of No. 14 Truck Company, was retired by District Commissioners yesterday for physical disability, upon recommendation of the Police and Firemen's Retiring and Relief Board. He had been in the department 24 years. Davenport will receive a monthly pension of $118.33.

Minstrel Show Rehearses.

Under the direction of A. M. Buck, a group of young people of the Sixth Presbyterian Church are rehearsing a minstrel show to be given in the chapel on December 11.

Fifth Avenue Fashions

YOUTHFUL LINES.

A neat, smart affair is this novelty patterned woolen in trim tailoredness so conservative for all-day occasions.

The slenderizing cross closure of the bodice makes it suitable for the miss or matron.

The sleeves are smartly cut with tightened wrist.

Plaited insets kick out attractively in motion, otherwise hang straight and slim.

Brown canton-faille crepe silk with almond green trim is effective.

Style No. 536 is designed for sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. The 36-inch size requires 4⅛ yards of 39-inch material with ¼ yard of 35-inch contrasting.

Price of pattern, 15 cents. Address Fashion Department, The Washington Post, Fifth avenue and Twenty-ninth street, New York City.

The Washington Post,
Fashion Department,
Fifth Ave. and Twenty-ninth St.,
New York, N. Y.

Inclosed is 15 cents. Please send to

.....
(Write Name Clearly)

.....
(Street and Number)

City..... State.....

Pattern No..... Size.....

Daily Cross-Word Puzzle

ACROSS.

1 Coin of Italy
5 Strip of timber bolted to bowsprit
8 Steals
12 To augur
13 One hundred square meters
14 Pernicious
15 Triangular space between shoulder of arch and moldings
17 A festival
18 Dry wind that blows in Arabia (var.)
19 Having a pinnacle
21 Period of time
23 A connective
24 Shade tree
27 Strewed
31 Plunder
33 Falsehood
34 Unless 35 Predicts
38 Proturberance
39 Epoch
40 A being regarded as having personality
42 Decorates
45 Pungent bulb
49 Deep affection
50 A turtle
52 So is it
53 Arabian garment
54 Displaying no feeling
55 Withered
56 Margin
57 Joint of the leg

DOWN.

1 Deprivation
2 Body of armed Zulus
3 Twenty quires of paper
4 Vex
5 Shell fish found attached to ships
6 Prior to
7 Elongated fish
8 Frees from extraneous matter
9 Exaggerate a representation of 10 Seize with the teeth
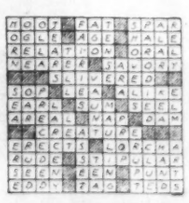
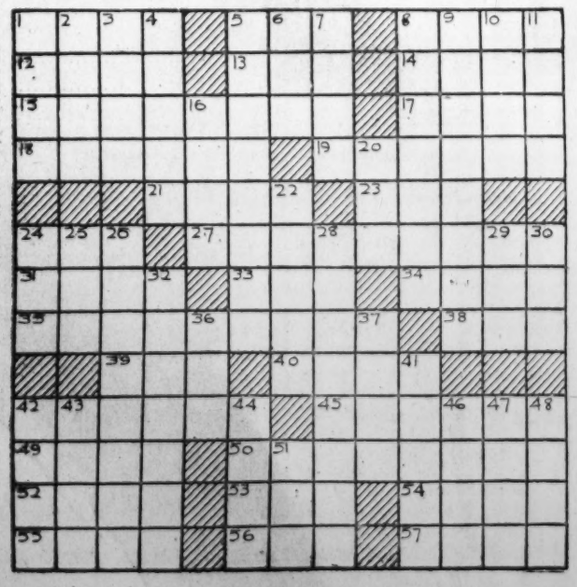
11 Vehicle without wheels
16 Executes
20 Small molded mass
22 Scolds
24 A fairy
25 Game of cards
26 Further
28 Telegraphic message
29 Mother of mankind
30 Lair
32 Mundane
36 Harden fish nets
37 Flat, narrow strip
41 Dress
42 Expression of regret
43 Cupola
44 Bespangle
46 A large animal
47 Insulate
48 Yield
51 Japanese sash

YESTERDAY' ANSWER.



(Copyright, 1931.)



BUCK ROGERS, 2431 A. D. — Down Bottomless Pit. — More strange adventures in a full color page every Sunday. — By Phil Nowlan and Dick Calkins

GASOLINE ALLEY — Don't miss this feature in colors in The Sunday Post. — The Big Parade

MINUTE MOVIES — (All rights protected by the George Matthew Adams Service. Trade Mark Registered U. S. Patent Office.) — By Ed Wheelan

BOBBY THATCHER — Turtleback's Story — By George Storm

THE GUMPS — Follow the Gumps in the colored Comic Section of The Sunday Post. — Tra-la-la—

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER — See the Winkle family in colors in The Sunday Post. — All Play and No Work

Baby Mine

LEGAL NOTICES

ALBERT LYMAN, Attorney,
601 Columbian Building.

SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 42265, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters testamentary on the estate of George Hyde Reynolds, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof legally authenticated, to the subscriber on or before the 29TH DAY OF OCTOBER, A. D. 1932, otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 9th day of November, 1931. LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK OF WASHINGTON, D. C. By JAMES A. SOPER, Vice President. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 14.21.28

HOWARD BOYD, Attorney,
Woodward Building.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT of Columbia. Holding an Equity Court. Howe Totten, 1808 Eye street northwest, plaintiff, vs. Totten & Ward, Inc., a corporation, 1808 Eye street northwest, et al., defendants. Equity No. 53467. Order of publication. The object of this suit is to procure an injunction, discovery and accounting from certain of the defendants, the appointment of a receiver for the property owned by the defendant, Totten & Ward, Inc., known as the Bendick building and the annex thereto, located at 1808 and 1812 Eye street northwest, being lots 22 and 23 in square 105, in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, the sale of said property and a proper distribution of the assets of said corporation among the persons entitled thereto, and such other and incidental relief as the nature of the litigation may require. Upon motion of the plaintiff, it is, by the court, this 12th day of November, 1931, ordered that the defendants, Margaret Willis Hartshorn, Mary Hartshorn Noonan, William J. Noonan, Benjamin H. Trask, Julia H. Trask and Henry H. Ward, cause their appearance to be entered herein on or before the fortieth day, exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays, after the date of the first publication hereof; otherwise, this cause will be proceeded with as in case of default. Provided, a copy hereof be published once a week for three consecutive weeks in the Washington Law Reporter and The Washington Post. ALFRED A. WHEAT, Chief Justice. A true copy. Test: (Seal.) FRANK E. CUNNINGHAM, Clerk. By HARRY M. HULL, Assistant Clerk. 14.21.28

GEORGE B. COWLES, Attorney,
611 Columbian Bldg.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT of Columbia. William D. Crawford, Washington, D.C., vs. Marye E. Crawford, 1916 Seventeenth street northwest, and Abe Tolkins, 1916 Seventeenth street northwest, defendants. No. 52773. Equity Docket No. ——. The object of this suit is to obtain a decree of absolute divorce. On motion of the plaintiff, it is ordered this 10th day of November, A. D. 1931, ordered that the defendants, Marye E. Crawford and Abe Tolkins, cause their appearance to be entered herein on or before the fortieth day, exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays, occurring after the day of the first publication of this order; otherwise the cause will be proceeded with as in case of default: Provided a copy of this order be published once a week for three successive weeks before the return day herein mentioned, the first publication to be not less than thirty days before said return day. O. R. LUHRING, Justice. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 7.14.21

MILTON W. KING, Attorney,
Southern Building.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT of Columbia, holding Probate Court. Estate of Carrie C. Sayles, Deceased. No. 40374. Administration Docket 88. The notification as to the trial of the issues in this case relating to the validity of the paper writing dated the 10th day of April, 1930, purporting to be the last will and testament of Carrie C. Sayles, deceased, having been returned as to Naomi Morton, New York, and Harvey Perry Philadelphia, "not to be found." It is this 26th day of October, 1931, ordered that the issues be set down for trial on the 1ST DAY OF DECEMBER, 1931, and that this order and the substance of said issues, to wit: (1) Was the paper writing filed in this court and bearing date the 10th day of April, 1930, the last will and testament of Carrie Sayles, deceased? (2) Was said Carrie Sayles at the time of making and subscribing or of the acknowledging by her of said paper writing of sound and disposing mind and capable of executing a valid deed or contract? (3) Was said paper writing dated April 10, 1930, obtained or the execution thereof or the subscription thereto procured from the said Carrie Sayles, deceased, by coercion, fraud, or duress practiced upon said Carrie Sayles by Edmund Hill, jr., or any other person or persons? shall be published once a week for four weeks in the Washington Law Reporter and twice a week for the same period in The Washington Post. JESSE C. ADKINS, Justice. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 29.31.5.7.12.14.19.21

HOGAN, DONOVAN, JONES, HARTSON, & GUIDE, Attorneys,
810 Colorado Bldg., Washington, D. C.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT of Columbia. Bergdoff & Goodman, Co., a corporation, 57th avenue, New York City, New York, plaintiff, vs. Edward B. McLean, 1509 H street northwest, Washington, D. C., defendant. At law No. 80379. The object of this suit is to recover and from the defendant the sum of $18,683.61, together with interest at the rate of 6 per cent from June 29, 1931, due on the defendant's promissory note for said amount dated June 29, 1931, and to have judgment of condemnation of certain property of the defendant's, levied on under an attachment issued in this suit to satisfy the plaintiff's claim. It is, therefore, this 20th day of November, 1931, ordered that the defendant appear in this court on or before the FORTIETH DAY, exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays, after the day of the first publication of this order, to defend this suit and show cause why said condemnation should not be had; otherwise the suit will be proceeded with as in case of default: Provided that this order be published in the Washington Law Reporter and The Washington Post once a week for three successive weeks. By the court: ALFRED A. WHEAT, Chief Justice. A true copy. Test. (Seal.) FRANK E. CUNNINGHAM, Clerk. By ANDREW A. HORNER, Asst. Clerk. no21.28de5

L. A. SPIESS, Attorney for Plaintiff,
1317 F Street Northwest.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT of Columbia. Joseph P. Tumulty, 1317 F street northwest, Washington, D. C., plaintiff, vs. C. J. Hijiyah, defendant. At law No. 80397. The object of this suit is to recover judgment in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant on a promissory note in the sum of $1,365.69 as principal, together with five per cent thereof as attorney's fee, and interest on the principal of said note at the rate of six per cent per annum from August 2, 1931, the date of the maturity of said note, and for the costs and disbursements of this action; and to have judgment of condemnation of certain property of the defendant levied on under an attachment issued in this suit to satisfy the plaintiff's claim. It is, therefore, this 17th day of November, 1931, ordered that the defendant appear in this court on or before the FORTIETH DAY, exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays, after the day of the first publication of this order, to defend this suit and show cause why said condemnation should not be had; otherwise the suit will be proceeded with as in case of default. It is further ordered that a copy of this order be published once a week for three successive weeks in the Washington Law Reporter, and The Washington Post. By the Court: ALFRED A. WHEAT, Chief Justice. A true copy. Test. (Seal.) FRANK E. CUNNINGHAM, Clerk. By ALF G. BUHRMAN, Asst. Clerk. no21.28de5

H. N. BLAUSTEIN, Attorney.
Investment Building.

SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF Columbia. Holding Probate Court. Estate of Israel Ogush, deceased. No. 42479. Administration Docket 92. Application having been made herein for probate of the last will and testament of said deceased, and for letters testamentary on said estate, by Esther Ogush, it is ordered this 19th day of November, A. D. 1931, that Benjamin Ogush, William Ogush, Joseph Ogush, Mrs. Sadie Small and Miss Rose Ogush, and all others concerned, appear in said court on MONDAY, the 28th day of December, A. D. 1931, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause why such application should not be granted. Let notice hereof be published in the Washington Law Reporter and The Washington Post, once in each of three successive weeks before the return day herein mentioned, the first publication to be not less than thirty days before said return day. O. R. LUHRING, Justice. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. no21.28de5

THOMAS H. PATTERSON and JOHN A. THOMPSON, Attorneys,
Washington Building.

SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 42492, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the State of Virginia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters of administration on the estate of James F. Judd, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same with the vouchers thereof legally authenticated, to the subscriber on or before the 5TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1932; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 5th day of November, 1931. WILLIAM F. JUDD, Luray, Va. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 14.21.28

HENRY GILLIGAN, Attorney,
Otis Building.

SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 42538, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letter of administration on the estate of Eugene Terrell, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 10th day of November, A.D. 1932; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 10th day of November, 1931. MARY E. TERRELL, 1116 Girard street northwest. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. no21.28-de5

HOWE and BRADLEY, Attorneys,
1819 H Street Northwest.

SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 42344, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters of administration on the estate of Mary A. Burch, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber on or before the 3RD OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1932; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 3rd day of November, 1931. MARY A. MOWATT, 628 Rock Creek Church road northwest. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 7.14.21

WALTER H. MARLOW, Attorney,
811 E Street Northwest.

SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF Columbia. Holding Probate Court. Estate of Charles Bussell Smith, deceased. No. 42494. Administration Docket 92. Application having been made herein for probate of the last will and testament of said deceased, and for letters testamentary on said estate, by Amy Ethel Breckenridge, executrix named in said will, it is ordered this 12th day of November, A. D. 1931, that Samuel S. Smith, Marvin Bussell Smith, minor; Carlton Smith, minor, and Samuel S. Smith, custodian, 14024 Wisconsin avenue, Detroit, Michigan, and all others concerned, appear in said court on MONDAY, the 28th day of December, A. D. 1931, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause why such application should not be granted. Let notice hereof be published in the Washington Law Reporter and in The Washington Post, once in each of three successive weeks before the return day herein mentioned, the first publication to be not less than thirty days before said return day. O. R. LUHRING, Justice. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. no21.28de5

THOMAS S. KENNEDY, Attorney,
Woodward Building.

SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 42360, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the State of Virginia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters of administration on the estate of Gordon B. Van Lear, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated to the subscriber, on or before the 13TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1932; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 13th day of November, 1931. EVERARD T. VAN LEAR, 200 Church street, Clifton Forge, Va. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. no21.28de5

LOST 1

CAMEO PIN—On 14th st. between U and V sts. or on Portner pl. nw. Liberal reward. North 2796.

CHANGE PURSE—Brown; containing amethyst ring; at 10th and L sts. Reward. Finder communicate with Miss Jenkins at Natl. 0335.

DOG—Black, Scotch terrier; reward if returned to owner. 2144 Cathedral ave. nw. Phone Adams 5481.

DOG—Scotch fox terrier; black and white; short hair, long tail; name Jiggs. Reward. Clarendon 776.

GLASSES—Nose glasses, shell rim, between 6th and Md. ave. and Un. Sta. Reward. 635 Md. ave. ne. Lin. 7350-J.

WRIST WATCH—Brown leather strap; on Friday, Nov. 20, with 2 crystal horse heads on both sides of watch. Finder please return 1326 16th st. nw. and receive reward.

PERSONALS 3

CASH for pawn tickets, diamonds, jewelry, antiques, silver, gold and watches. Livingston, 801 13th st. nw.; Natl. 5649.

ULTRA-VIOLET RAY treatment, invigorating massage; for refined only; colored nurse. North 2768.

CLAIRVOYANTS 4

LICENSED BY DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

MADAM MARIE.
Readings at home, 1735 New Hampshire ave. nw.; phone Decatur 0606.

MME. SORA.
1413 Monroe st. nw. Readings, $1. Circles, Wed., Sat., 8 p. m., 50c. Adams 0948-J.

D'ASHMAN 1212 EYE MET. 3257
Advice on all affairs of life

PROF. LOVEL, Indian clairvoyant, astrologer. He satisfies all; a born medium; readings, 50c; satisfaction. 420 6th nw.

MADAM NAOMA PALMIST MEDIUM
READS PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE. Tells who and when you'll marry, makes up lovers' quarrels and family troubles, tells how to gain and hold a good position, overcome troubles, bad luck. Hours, 9 to 9. $2 readings, $1. 623 7th st. nw. bet. G & F.

MME. DILL Gifted Life Reader
Readings and powers as a gift by birth to her to help those who are in trouble, giving names, dates, facts, guides you to success, health and happiness, settles lovers' quarrels, causes speedy and happy marriages, guarantees to help you and end all you wish your troubles are and how to overcome them. One visit at her office will mean more than thousands to your happiness. THIS CLIPPING AND $1.00—ENTITLES YOU TO A $2.00 READING. HOURS 9 TO 9 DAILY. 739 7TH ST. NW OVER SCOTTY'S TAILOR SHOP.

DON'T READ THIS IF SATISFIED WITH LIFE

But if unhappy, discouraged, a failure in business or love, this message is for you. PROF. AND MME. AVON read your entire life—past, present and future. Tell you what you want to know, giving names, dates and facts on business matters, love, health and family affairs. Tell whom you will marry and when, if the one you love is true or false, what part of the country is luckiest for you, and just what to do to be successful in life. Why be sad and downhearted, when you can be helped and everything made clear by consulting these gifted mediums?
ORIENTAL PALMISTRY STUDIO,
943 Pennsylvania ave. nw.
Next to Franklin National Bank.

27 Years' Successful Practice in Washington
Martha Spencer
THE ADVICE OF A TRUE, RELIABLE READER IS ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY AT THIS TIME OF WORRY AND DEPRESSION. MY MANY YEARS OF EXPERIENCE AND HONORABLE DEALINGS IN WASHINGTON SHOULD GIVE YOU A FEELING OF GENUINE CONFIDENCE IN ALL I AM ABLE TO ADVISE AND HELP YOU WITH.
PERFECT SATISFACTION OR NO FEE.
924 14th St. N.W.
Cut this out for future success and reference

FAMOUS SEER
THE MAN WHO KNOWS
Special Readings
$1
This strange man sees the way and tells it all. Just what your life has been, just what it will be. Tells you when and whom you will marry; whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false. Tells as to changes, travel, lost or absent friends, divorce, wills; decides whether it is best to buy or sell. He tells the good and the bad. A visit will convince you of his wonderful power. Something tells you this is the man. You feel the impulse to call. Do not delay. Copyright, Apr., 1931.
TWO ENTRANCES: 608 12TH ST. NW. 1203 F ST. NW., 2D FLOOR.
HOURS, 10 A. M. TO 7 P. M. SUNDAYS, 10 A. M. TO 3 P. M.

SPIRITUALISTS 5

J. K. SIMMONS, SPIRITUAL MEDIUM. Readings by appt.; seances Thur., 8 p. m. 1341 Newton pl. nw. Col. 4342.

MARGARET MANDIS.
2821 14th st. nw. Adams 3299.
Meetings, Friday, 8 p. m.* Readings daily.

DR. JANE COATES.
READING BY APPOINTMENT.
1473 MERIDIAN PL. NW. Col. 6221.

MRS. MISTER, 1250 10TH ST. NW. SEANCE MON. AND THURS., 8 P. M. READINGS DAILY. DISTRICT 4837.

MOTOR TRAVEL 6

CONGENIAL TRAVEL BUREAU, 631 Pa. ave. nw., desires guests sharing expenses for Fla., Tex., Chicago. Nat'l 9756.

AUTOMOBILES for SALE 7

BUICKS—Exceptional values in fine resale cars; large selection body styles. Emerson & Orme, 17th and M sts. nw.

BUICK—'28 master brougham. Excellent; beautiful upholstery; private owner; cost, $2,300; bargain, $475. Col. 8425. Extension 30.

BUICK 1931 Sedan demonstrator. New car guarantee. Low mileage, and price is greatly reduced; terms and trade.
STANLEY HORNER, INC.
1015-1111 14th ST. NW. Nat. 5800.

DODGE—Old model but in splendid condition; tires, top, paint and upholstery also in very good shape; owner no need for it; a give-away for $35. Come, drive it away. 2752 Woodley place nw.

FORDS and other makes; low prices; easy terms; see us for your next used car. Parkway Motor Co., 3040 M st. nw.

STUDEBAKER—1931 model Commander 8; de luxe equipment. Cost $2,000. Only nine hundred miles by purchaser. Car can be seen at the Triangle Motor Co., New York avenue and North Capitol street. In order to settle an estate, car will be disposed of immediately to party making best offer. All offers must be in by Wednesday, November 25, 1931, and should be submitted to Fred Conlon, Triangle Motor Co., or George Gentner, 1374 G street se. (Phone Atlantic 3765-J.)

C-H-R-Y-S-L-E-R
S-P-E-C-I-A-L-S

1932 Chrysler 6 Coupe. $925
Looks like a new car. Run 2,000 miles.

1931 Chrysler 6 Sedan. $850
A new car in every detail at a great saving.

1931 Chrysler "8," 6 w. w. Coupe. $1,275
Owned by a very careful driver and has the appearance of a new car. Cost over $1,800.

1929 Chrysler 65 Sport Rd. 6 w. w. $475
New tires, paint and mechanical condition excellent. One of the best buys offered.

1930 Chrysler 66 Sport. Rd. 6 w. w. $675
Driven by one of our foreign diplomats and has less than 7,000 miles. Looks like new.

1930 Chrysler 77 Sedan. $985
One of the famous 4-speed transmission cars. In excellent condition.

1930 Chrysler "70" Sport Rd. 6 w. w. $750
This car has been thoroughly gone over by us and is in perfect condition. One of the snappiest cars on the street.

60 Others to Select From.
30-Day Guarantee
90-Day Battery Guarantee
H. B. LEARY, JR., & BROS.
1321 14th St. N.W. Nor. 6826

25 Years Ago Today

NOVEMBER 21, 1906.

Mrs. Charlotte Emerson Main was elected president of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs at its annual convention yesterday.

President Roosevelt today made an automobile trip over the famous military road from Ponce to San Juan, Porto Rico.

Scientific men of the Weather Bureau and members of the National Geographic Society gave a dinner last night in honor of Walter Wellman, arctic explorer.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pinchot gave a small dinner last night in honor of their daughter, the Hon Lady Johnstone.

Judge William H. Moore's champion gelding, Forest King, carried off the Waldorf-Astoria Cup last night at the Madison Square Garden horse show.

AUTOMOBILES for SALE 7

BUICK
1931 Buick Sedan	$1,195
1931 Ford Roadster	445
1929 Essex Coupe	295
1927 Buick Coupe	295
1930 Chevrolet Coupe	395
1930 Chrysler 77 Sdn.	895
1931 Buick Coupe	1,095
1929 Buick Coupe	595
1928 Buick Sedan	395
1928 Oakland Sedan	295
1930 Studebaker Dic. 8 Coupe	595
1929 Hudson Sedan	495

Emerson & Orme
17th and M Sts. N.W.

WANTED—AUTOMOBILES 13

WE buy any make car; highest prices paid. The Auto Mart, 1318 14th st. nw. North 8127. Open evenings and Sundays.

CASH FOR YOUR CAR
Without a doubt I pay highest price. If your car is not paid for, will pay your undue balance, give you the difference in cash. No delays. Drive to 1720 14th st. nw
SEE MR. BARNES

HELP WANTED—FEMALE 17

ANOTHER says: "Attended Boyd School 25 days studying shorthand, touch typing; no previous knowledge; placed by Boyd's in stenographic position, $25 wk." Another: "Two months in school; placed $125 month." Exceptions, but proof of Boyd results for those who work and want positions. Easy to learn. Positions for graduates. New classes now forming Boyd School, 1333 F st.; Na. 2338.

BOOKKEEPER in real estate office, with knowledge of local fire insurance and general office work. Experience and reference required. Box 216, Washington Post.

GIRL—Colored; to answer telephone. Broadway Taxi Co., 1543 7th st. nw.

SALESLADIES—For "Life of Edison;" $4 per day being made; start quick. Austin Jenkins, 527 9th st. nw.

STENOGRAPHERS, typists, bookkeepers, clerks, P. B. X. operators, &c., needed daily. Boyd's, 1333 F st. nw (Opp. Fox)

YOUNG MAN—17 to 20, for selling work; salary and commission. Call today and Saturday, J. Sherman, 506 Atlas Bldg.

WOMEN — Cultured, with auto, to contact door-to-door residences; Chevy Chase and Mt. Pleasant. Phone Mr. Taylor, Metropolitan 1452.

One of Washington's best stores has an excellent opening for a high type young woman who is thoroughly experienced in
STATIONERY and ENGRAVING
An opportunity for the right person to become head of stock.
Box 200, Washington Post.

HELP WANTED—MALE 18

BAKER'S assistant, white or colored, who has had good experience on pies, &c.; must be sober and give reference. Apply at once Collier Inn, 1807 Columbia rd., near 18th st.

BARBER—Wanted for Saturday. 6122 Georgia ave. nw.

BARBER—White; must be sober; steady job. Apply 747 15th st. ne.

MEN, with drivers' permits, not over 25 years of age; references required; steady work. Apply, after 10 a. m. only, 2108 R st. nw.

YOUNG MAN—We have an opening for a young man; must be of neat appearance and possess a fair education. This is a permanent position and offers an excellent opportunity; resident of Northwest section preferred. Call in person between 12 and 4. Emerson & Orme, 1306 Conn. ave.

PRESSER—EXPERIENCED.
COLORED—AT ONCE.
Employment Service Bureau, 1406 G nw.

SALESMEN.
DO YOU WANT WORK? GOOD PAY?
APPLY ROOM 610, 1319 F ST. NW.

SOLICITORS — Door-to-door canvassing; experienced preferred; right men can make big money. National Laundry Co., 21 Pierce st. nw.

MISCELLANEOUS for SALE 35

SEWING MACHINE—Singer electric, latest model; leaving city; will sacrifice; no reasonable offer refused. Box 217, Washington Post.

TYPEWRITERS—Current models in standard and portable machines for rent; bargains in reconditioned typewriters. L. C. Smith & Corona, Inc., 1016 15th st. nw. National 0411.

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS 36

BOOKS bought; highest prices; all kinds; any quantity. Phone Met. 5415. Pearlman's Big Book Shop, 933 G st. nw.

FURNITURE—If you want full value for your furniture, send to D. Noles; 28 years of fair dealing. Phone Dist. 8112.

GOLD, SILVER, WATCHES, DIAMONDS, and old jewelry needed for our mfg. dept.
SELINGER'S Full Cash Value Paid.
818 F STREET.

ROOMS—FURNISHED 42

ARIZONA HOTEL—310 C st. nw., block off Pa. ave.; neatly furnished rooms; lobby; 3 baths on each floor; shower bath; continuous hot water; $4 week up; transients, 75c to $1.

ATTRACTIVE, warm front single and double rooms; in physician's quiet home; every convenience. 1747 P st. nw.

CAPITOL HILL, 704 A st. se.—South-front room; fine home; for 1 or 2; every convenience.

CENTRAL—Front living-bedrooms, also 2-rm. suites; private entrance; kitchen (frigidaire, laundry tubs); very warm, clean; references. 1626 17th st.

CLIFTON ST. NW., 1474—Bright, warm, cheerful room; next bath; fine location; $4. Dist. 3190.

COLORED—1846 Vernon st. nw., Apt. 4. Large room; suitable 2; also gentleman, share room with another; meals if desired.

CONN. AVE., 5211—Chevy Chase. Attractive room; southern exposure; next bath; gentleman. Cleve. 3662.

COMFORTABLE, quiet room, with heat and electricity; near bath; plenty hot water; convenient downtown; home privileges. 520 6th st. nw., Apt. 2.

CONARD APTS., 13th and Eye sts. nw. Apt. 410—Young man to share room and private bath; elevator, switchboard; $3.50 week; after 6 p. m.

DE SALES ST. N.W., 1715—Opposite Mayflower Hotel; 2 nicely furnished front rooms, both suitable for two.

DOWNTOWN (1305 R. I. nw.)—Single and double rooms; newly decorated; cont. hot water; 4 baths; terms reasonable.

DUPONT CIRCLE—1901 N st. nw. Large, sunny, front room; southern exposure; constant hot water; for 3 gentlemen.

EAST CAPITOL ST., 1505—One large double room, also one small hall bedroom, well furnished; clean, homelike.

EYE ST. NW., 115—Large, warm, well-furnished sleeping or l.h.k. rooms, 14 and 15, including everything; no children.

FAIRMONT, 1315—Clean, comfortable room; gentleman preferred. Inst. hot water; unlimited phone. Col. 4502.

GIRARD ST. NW., 1450—Apt. 2. Comfortably furnished room; in private family; without board. Col. 8194-J.

IROQUOIS, 1410 M ST., Apt. 403—Double room, twin beds; large closets; hot bath; well heated; private family; gentlemen.

L ST. NW., 1349—Save car fare; nicely furnished, clean rooms; reasonable.

LARGE front room, 2d floor, and other small rooms; h.w.h., elec. West 2597. 2153 K st. nw.

MERIDIAN PL. NW.—Well-heated rooms; double beds; modern; continuous hot water; 1 room, $15; 1 with large sleeping porch, $20; near car and bus lines; men only; must have refs. Col. 0535-W.

MERRILL MANSIONS—1361 Fairmont st. nw., top of hill; 14th st. car; nice suites, bath, kitchenette; $10-$15 week; rooms, $5-$10 a day or month rates.

MT. PLEASANT—3145 19th st. nw. Large front room; private home; all modern conveniences.

N ST. NW., 2140—Apts. 5 or 7. Room, $2.50 week; gentlemen.

NEAR DUPONT CIRCLE—Single outside room; large closet; near bath; housekeeping; $18 month. Fot. 5132.

NEW HAMPSHIRE NW., 1824—Single room; also 2d-floor front; adjoining bath; privileges; reduced rates. Dec. 5814.

NICE room; private family; near Meridian Park; meals optional. Mrs. Bowie, 1760 Euclid st. Col. 7702. Call after 5 p. m.

O ST. NW., 3024—Second floor; nice, neat room; next to bath; single, $4 weekly; double, $6.

OPP. MAYFLOWER—Clean, quiet home-like apts., 1 and 2 rm. k. rooms; well furnished; spacious, comfortable; service available; references. 1717 De Sales.

PARK RD. NW., 1319—Apt. 302. Nicely furnished room, $20; references required; gentleman.

RIGGS PL. NW., 1815 (off 19th)—Rooms, single or double, $4 per week; also light housekeeping.

VARNUM ST. NW., 1429—Desirable room, with screened porch; for gentleman; private family. Adams 5752.

WASHINGTON CIRCLE—1007 23d. Large front room and kitchenette; suitable for light housekeeping.

WASHINGTON CIRCLE, 2136 K St. NW.—Single and double rooms, $4, $6; available Monday; room with kitchenette, $8.

426 3RD ST. NW.—Basement; 2 large rooms; reasonable.

1030 17TH ST. NW.—Rooms, $3 to $6. The Virginia Aparts., 2120 G St. NW. Near University. Attractive rooms, $5 week.

15TH ST. NW., 1404—Single, double rooms, $3.75-$6 week; twin beds; plenty heat and water; walking distance.

1521 R. I.—Best city location; single, double rooms; well kept home; every convenience; rates reasonable; transients considered.

16TH BUS, 14TH CARS—Cozy housekeeping room; unlimited hot water and heat; $4.50 week; teacher preferred. North 2761.

16TH ST. NW., 1846—Small room, adjoining bath; continuous hot water; also room, single or twin beds.

16TH ST. NW.—2 rooms, private bath, shower; 1 or 2 gentlemen; in French family; reasonable. Georgia 5299.

1642 IRVING ST. NW.—Large, bright; single or double; newly decorated; running water; reasonable; private home. Adams 9113.

2111 BANCROFT PL. NW (off Conn. ave. and Mt. Pleasant, comfortable room, suitable for two; shower; attractive neighborhood; $7 weekly.

218T ST. NW., 1729—Large 2d-floor room; excellent neighborhood; continuous hot water; walking distance.

22D ST. NW., 1108—Two rooms; for light housekeeping; $6.50 weekly; also single room, $4 weekly.

2619 14TH ST. NW (between Euclid and Fairmont)—Comfortable room next to bath; $15 monthly (or weekly). Phone Adams 2539.

35TH ST. NW., 1416—Clean well-furnished room, with porch; 1st floor; very convenient; $2.50 week. West 2909.

ROOMS—UNFURNISHED 43

QUE ST. NW., 1765—Two rooms; for housekeeping; southern exposure; gas and lights; semiprivate bath.

ROOM and BOARD 45

B ST. NE., 516—NEAR CAPITOL. Single front room and board; reasonable; gentleman; convenient location.

COLUMBIA RD., 1754—Newly decorated, attractive front rooms; excellent table board optional; reasonable; owner's home.

F ST. NE., 511—One double room, next to bath; twin beds; excellent home cooking; $9 per week each. Phone Atlantic 0747.

FIRST ST. NW., 2307—Corner home; attractive rooms with lovely home-cooked meals; $8 week; home privileges.

K ST. NW., 1333 (facing Franklin Park)—Near downtown business; lovely double and single; refined surroundings; excellent home cooking; reasonable.

KILBOURNE PL. NW., 1712—Double and single rooms; good beds; delicious meals; hot water; $35 each. Col. 9658.

N ST. NW., 1200—Hallroom; well heated; next bath; 3 meals day; outside table board; Thanksgiving dinner, 1:30-2:30.

O ST. NW., 2001—Front room, connecting bath; 2d floor; single room, 1st floor; corner home; well heated.

PARISIAN family will take paying guests who want to practice their French; good location. Pot. 0458.

R ST. NW., 2112—Attractive single and double rooms; hot-water heat; home cooking.

R. I. AVE. NW., 1519—Single room, 2d floor; private family; suitable for young lady.

THE CAROL—300 1st st. se. A refined hotel atmosphere at rooming-house prices; also garage. Linc. 9398.

VERMONT AVE., 1326—Nicely furnished double room; excellent meals; $35 each; near Thomas Circle; plenty hot water.

10TH ST. NW., 1126—Large front room; twin beds; $9 each week; large room; for 1, $9; 2 $8.50 week; board.

1124 12TH ST.—Comfortably furn. rooms; twin beds; running water, &c.; delicious meals; early breakfast; very reasonable.

13TH ST. NW., 2903—Bright, attractive room; for 1 or 2 refined people; reasonable; private Va. family. Col. 1452.

1834 CONN. AVE. NW.—Single and double rooms, modernly furnished; home cooking; early breakfast; P st. car passes door (Mt. Pleasant line).

1941 BILTMORE ST.—Nicely furnished warm rooms; private home; every convenience; residential section. Col. 2044.

1820 G ST. N.W.
Light rooms, twins beds; baths.

AUTOMOBILE LOANS 25

CASH LOAN IMMEDIATELY.
1929 to 1931 models; year to pay; lowest rates in city. See Mr. Barnes, 1729 14th st.

FIRST AND SECOND TRUST LOANS.
C. F. WARING.
1416 F ST. NW. National 9172.

IS YOUR 1ST, 2D OR 3D TRUST DUE?
Do You Need Money?
MR. FRIEDMAN.
416 5th st. nw., Room 707. Natl. 4519.

DOGS—CATS—PETS 31

POODLE PUPPIES
Male and female. Call Shepherd 2555.

Fox terriers, Bostons, Esquimos and other pups. Singing canaries, parrots, monkeys. Gold and tropical fish. Aquariums, alligators and turtles.
We carry a complete line of medicine and supplies.
SCHMIDT'S EMPORIUM OF PETS.
712 12th st. nw. Metropolitan 7113.

MISCELLANEOUS for SALE 35

BED DAVENPORT and wing chair; overstuffed rose and taupe velour. After 5 p. m., call at 7 Elm ave., Takoma Park.

BREAKING up home; dining room, bedroom, kitchen furniture in good condition. On display 2821 Brentwood rd. ne., Saturday and Sunday 10 to 5.

CLOSING splendidly furnished Washington office; walnut bookcases, desks, chairs and files offered very cheap for cash sale before Wednesday. Call Metropolitan 1625.

COAL—Every kind; wood, oak, pine, all lengths; quick delivery. United Coal & Fuel Co., 1424 9th st. nw. North 2721 R st. nw.

COAT—Lady's; marmot, brown; ¾ size, 40; $10; 2 refrigerators; bargain. 1401 Col. rd. nw., Apt. 109.

DIAMOND bracelet; cost $5,000; also solitaire, cost over $2,000; you can have them appraised; need money at once; excellent opportunity. Phone Bowie 28F14.

DIAMOND RING—Pawned 1225; white and perfect set in handsome platinum mounting; has to be seen to be appreciated; ticket at sacrifice; cost $700 Box 220, Washington Post.

DIAMOND RING—3-karat, cost $1,300, set in platinum; real opportunity; is white and perfect; make offer; need money at once Box 218, Washington Post.

DIAMOND RING—1 kt. 12 points, platinum mounting; step diamonds on side; latest style; $200; private party; cost $450 Box 219, Washington Post.

DINETTE TABLE and 4 chairs, mahogany, perfect condition; sacrifice for $25. 718 7th st. ne. Atlantic 2928.

SITUATIONS—FEMALE 21

ASSISTANT bookkeeper, clerk, good penman, lady needing work at once, desires position. Call No. 5801-M after 1 p. m.

[illegible] to children; refined, educated, wishes position. Box 221, Washington Post.

LAUNDRESS wishes laundry to take home; references. Phone North 7181.

NURSE—Undergraduate, experienced; best references; reasonable rates. Phone Columbia 9240.

WOMAN, colored, splendid cook, waitress, nurse, mother's helper; does laundry; whole, part time or days; reference. North 9842.

PERSONS advertising for "Situations Wanted" are warned to exercise careful investigation of persons offering positions where cash deposits are required to secure employment.

SITUATIONS—MALE 22

BAKER'S HELPER—Young reliable colored man; can drive truck; also help with ice cream; 9 years' experience. Decatur 1537-W.

FILIPINO—Honest; reliable; wants work in private family; experienced houseman, waiting tables; also can drive if desired. Box 210, Washington Post.

SITUATIONS—Male—Female 23

DISABLED veteran and wife wish care of apartment, can drive car and cook. No children. References. Box 213, Washington Post.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES 24

FOR QUICK SALE—Splendidly located and equipped bowling academy; near large university; splendid money maker; owner has other interests.

JURY TO GET HARKER BRUTALITY CHARGES ON 4 POLICE MONDAY

Judge Adjourns Trial When Both Sides Rest Case in District Court.

DOCTOR SAYS DISEASE MIGHT CAUSE WELTS

Owner of Robbed Cafe Tells of Alleged Confession; Coercion Denied.

The case of four policemen who are on trial on charge of brutally extorting confession of a crime from James Henry Harker will go to the jury Monday.

Complete denial of all the charges was made yesterday by First Precinct policemen, James Mostyn, W. C. Grooms W. R. Laflin and W. T. Burroughs, when they took the stand in their own defense.

Justice James M. Proctor adjourned the trial until Monday when both the prosecution and defense announced they rested the case.

Precinct Detective Laflin was first of the four defendants on the stand. Under questioning by Defense Attorney James O'Shea, he recited events at the precinct the day of Harker's arrest and said he did not strike, beat or kick the robbery suspect.

Coercion Is Denied.

He told of alleged misstatements of Harker in regard to where he was on the night that the Postoffice Visible Lunch was broken into, in regard to the source of his money, the procuring of the new suit of clothes, the loaning of $40 to George Price, and the fact that he was with a Thomas Aloysius Curtin at the Atlas Hotel.

When confronted with evidence that he was lying, Laflin said, Harker admitted without coercion that he had robbed the restaurant and told police where the drawer from one cash register would be found.

Mostyn and Grooms reiterated the testimony of Laflin. Grooms, when cross-examined by Rover, said he had not arranged furniture for a photograph of the questioning room when he was asked to by Department of Justice agents.

Skin Disease Cited.

He stated that he only placed the position of the chair that he occupied at the time. He and the other defendants denied that a prosecution photo truly represented the room at the time Harker was there.

Rover called Charles A. Appel, a justice agent, who testified that Grooms stated that the room was substantially in the same condition when the picture was made.

Attorney Frank Kelly examined the fourth defendant, Burroughs, father of ten children, who substantiated the preceding testimony.

Dr. Charles B. Campbell, skin specialist, said, when he examined The Post photograph of Harker's back and eye, that such a condition could be caused by "urticaria," a type of sensitive skin. He also stated that he deemed the position of the stripes or welts on Harker's back to be in such a position that to cause them by striking in the manner Harker described would be improbable.

Confession Is Related.

The physician admitted to Rover that the marks could have been caused by a rubber hose and also stated that the welts might have been in the same position if Harker was lying on the floor when struck.

Louis Bacus, manager of the robbed restaurant, told of being taken to Harker's cell at the precinct station, and said Harker admitted in his presence that he broke in the door and rifled the cash registers, explaining that he was drunk. The youth's left eye was red and swollen, he said.

Sergts. A. J. Musselman and H. C. Blackman testified to taking part in a test with justice agents in which it was determined that yells or screams in the sergeant's room at the precinct could be heard in the captain's office.

O'Shea said he had subpened Curtin, the man who was with Harker on the morning after the robbery and who went to the Atlas Hotel, but he did not appear to testify. Rover later stated that he found Curtin was at Occoquan serving a 20-day sentence. O'Shea did not send for him.

Rum Traffic Truth Untold, Says Roper

Dry, Leader at Meeting to Plan Crusade, Assails Liquor in Politics.

Liquor traffic was described as "the greatest disturbance of our politics" yesterday by Daniel C. Roper, speaking at a meeting called at Calvary Baptist Church to plan for six mass meetings to be held by the flying squadron of the Allied Forces for Prohibition at the church on December 13, 14 and 15.

Mr. Roper declared that the "real truth" about the situation never has been told, and maintained that it is the duty of the Nation to test its present enforcement program to the limit until a better way can be found. He did not, however, reveal what the "real truth" may be.

Mrs. Nell Gates, representing the squadron, stated that 261 meetings are scheduled to be held next month throughout the country. Among speakers who will be heard here, she said, are Grant Hudson, Raymond Robbins, Oliver Stewart, Dr. Ira Landrith, Robert C. Roop, and Dr. Daniel A. Poling, who will address a special luncheon meeting.

Initial steps were taken for development of special committees to organize the meetings. Mr. Roper is general chairman, while Dr. W. L. Darby, of the Federation of Churches is to arrange for presiding officers. Leonard W. DeGast, secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, will be in charge of the luncheon for Dr. Poling.

Auto Fells Girl Leaving Trolley.

Miss Ida Lewis, 19 years old, of 1713 Seventh street northwest, was treated at her home last night for a sprained ankle suffered when she was knocked down by an automobile after leaving a Capital Traction Co. street car at Seventh and S streets northwest. The automobile was driven by James Grant, colored, 33 years old, of 2219 Fifth street northwest.

Skyviews of Washington, No. 21

Fairchild Aerial Surveys, Inc.

ACROSS the Anacostia River, between the Pennsylvania Avenue Bridge and the Anacostia Bridge, lies a little known section of Southeast Washington, on the city's eastern frontier.

Randle Highlands, that part of it bounded by Minnesota avenue, Naylor road and Twenty-fourth street, is shown in the above air photograph. Minnesota avenue runs nearly horizontally across the foreground of the picture. Naylor road extends upward to the right and Twenty-fourth street, in the upper left of the picture, completes the triangle.

The houses shown below Minnesota avenue are in Twining City. A corner of the playground of the Orr School, not shown in the picture, may be seen in the right foreground. The Randle Highlands Citizens Association meets at the school. The triangular-shaped building in the lower right-hand corner is George J. P. Maier & Sons, grocers.

The white thoroughfare running at right angles on the left of the triangle is Park place. White place cuts through from Minnesota avenue to intersect it.

The second structure from Minnesota avenue, shown on Naylor road, is the Fountain Memorial Baptist Church. Just to the left of the territory taken in by the photograph lies No. 19 Engine Company, which serves the community. Just above the engine house on Pennsylvania avenue is the old home of the late Arthur Randle, for whom the subdivision was named.

WARDMAN PROPERTY AUCTION IS DELAYED

Sale of 14 Buildings to Be Held on January 15; Bidders Fail to Qualify.

Auction of fourteen buildings of Wardman Real Estate Properties, Inc., has been postponed until the afternoon of January 15, at 2 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by Vernon G. Owen, auctioneer, to those assembled for the sale in front of the District Supreme Court Building. This means deferment of the largest auction in the history of the District.

The postponement, it was learned, was due to the fact that while the court decree permitting the sale required the prospective bidders be qualified the day before the auction by posting deposits with the Union Trust Co., designated depository, no deposits were made except that by the majority committee of the corporation's bondholders. It was learned further that officials of the Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., of New York City, advertising the sale, as trustees, had decided a longer period of advertisement was advisable.

Properties involved have a current assessed valuation in excess of $15,000,000 and include the following: Wardman Park Hotel, its addition, the Carlton Hotel, the Chastleton Apartments, Cathedral Mansions, north and center buildings; the Connecticut Avenue and Davenport Apartments, the Boulevard Apartments, Stoneleigh Court, the office building housing the United States Department of Justice and an apartment building at 2700 Connecticut avenue.

Man Gets 30 Years For Killing Woman

Plea of Guilt Accepted in Second-Degree Murder by Justice Letts.

Sentence of 30 years in the penitentiary was given William Henry Frazier, colored, yesterday when he appeared before Justice F. D. Letts, in Criminal Court, after having pleaded guilty to second degree murder.

Frazier was indicted for first degree murder for the killing of Grace R. Janney, also colored, August 31. He was allowed to plead to an offense lesser than first degree murder because of mitigating circumstances, the United States Attorney's office having established that fact that Frazier and the woman were drinking and also that after having shot her he walked to a police station and gave himself up.

Minimum sentence for the offense to which he pleaded is 20 years, while maximum is life.

Visitor to Food Show Is Taken Suddenly Ill

While attending the food show at the Washington Auditorium last night, Dr. Edward Seibert, 65, 1817 Nineteenth street northwest, was taken suddenly ill and was removed to Emergency Hospital in an unconscious condition in the hospital ambulance.

At the hospital his condition was said to be undetermined.

Heat Near Capital Record; Relief Improbable Today

It was very warm yesterday.

As a matter of fact, it was hot as—well, it was within one degree of the record of 76 for November 20, set in 1913.

It probably will be quite warm today also, the Weather Bureau believes.

Maybe along about tomorrow night or Monday perhaps the shipment of cold weather en route to the Capital from Omaha may arrive to provide a seasonable chill to the atmosphere, but the Weather Bureau is not yet in a position to guarantee delivery time.

There is some possibility of light showers here today, but the Weather Bureau hastens to add that they will not be of sufficient volume to interfere very seriously with football games and other outdoor activities to which some residents of the District may have been looking forward.

Guild Wins Acquittal, As Does Mary Dugan

Washington Players, in Controversy With Theater Guild of New York, Win Support By Fine Performance of Veiller Play.

An audience which was warned after the second act at "The Trial of Mary Dugan," that it was trying the defendant in the play and the Drama Guild of Washington at the same time, apparently voted for acquittal on both counts, last night.

The Drama Guild of Washington, which presented the play by Bayard Veiller at the Wardman Park Theater, has been engaged in a tiff with the Theater Guild of New York over the use of plays. The New York organization declines to allow the local group rights to plays under its control unless the word "guild" is stricken from its title.

William F. Baker, director of the Drama Guild of Washington, was greeted by applause when he appeared at the close of the second act last night and told the audience that it was trying two cases, that of Mary Dugan and of the guild itself. And the roar of applause at the end of the play showed strong sentiment for both.

The play was novel in that some of the characters taking part last night play those same parts in real life. Capt. Ray C. Montgomery, who appeared as a police captain, daily handles police matters as head of the Park Police.

Several who appeared as newspaper reporters pound out copy for press associations and the local papers.

The title role was ably carried by Caroline McKinley, while Edward C. Berryman, as her brother, and her attorney, put on a splendid performance. Maurice Jarvis, as District Attorney Galwey, was another bright light in a cast which was well rounded.

The play will be presented again tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Others in the cast included Stanley Mattern, as Tim, the chauffeur; James Kelly, as Chester Underwood; Harry Crow, as Jerome Underwood; Esther Bright as Harriet Underwood; John Almquist, as Andy Nabb, boss of the Bar M; Paul Andresson, as the deputy sheriff; Lyle Williams, as Sally's father, and Meyer Rosenfeld, Boyd Wise and Harry Ehrlich, on the sheriff's posse.

Players of Central High Give Comedy, 'Tweedles'

"Tweedles," a three-act comedy by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson, was presented last night by the Central High School Dramatic Club in the school auditorium.

A large crowd filled the hall to witness the production, which will be given again tonight. Included in the cast are Grace Coakley, Edythe Lazeroff, Dorothy Detwiler, Owenita Harrah, Virginia Jones, Theodore Tiller, Maxine Kahn, Josephine Martell, John Sikken, George Myers, Leo Bernstein, Royden Rinker, William Moran and Philip Notes.

McKinley High's Players Win in 'Nervous Wreck'

Owen Davis' melodramatic farce, "The Nervous Wreck," last night was presented by the McKinley High School Dramatic Club, starring Dorothy Clark and Robert Botkin, before an audience that nearly filled the McKinley High School auditorium.

Mr. Botkin, as the wreck who sought to mend his shattered nerves on the Bar M Ranch in Arizona; Miss Clark, as Sally Morgan; George Miller, as Mort, who could "lick anything on the ranch," and Wilfred Page, as Bob Wells, the sheriff, produced most of the laughs.

Alleged Gamblers Fined in Marlboro

Trio Taken at Bowie Race Track in 3-Card Monte Game Charged $50.

Three men who were arrested at the Bowie race track while operating a three-card monte game were sentenced to pay a fine of $50 each when tried in Marlboro Police Court yesterday.

The men are Henry Brown and Thomas Douglass, of Baltimore, arrested Monday by Sheriff W. C. Hopkins, and Jimmy Martin, arrested the following day by Sergt. A. W. Hepburn, of the county police.

A winding road caused the arrest of Herbert Spain, of Washington, he told Judge J. Chew Sheriff when he was being tried for driving while drunk and reckless driving. A policeman testified that Spain's automobile was weaving back and forth across the road, and the judge asked Spain to explain. "Well, judge," the prisoner said, "the road curves a good deal along in there."

Taxi Firm and Drivers Are Sued for $10,000

Charging that while he was a passenger in a taxi driven by Charles G. Knuckles, 106 E street northwest, another cab, driven by Norman Harris, 761 Fairmont street northwest, collided with the machine and severely hurt him, Allen A. Weathersby, 912 Maryland avenue northeast, yesterday filed a damage suit in the District Supreme Court.

Defendants are the Independent Taxicab Operators Association, 1735 Fourteenth street northwest, Knuckles and Harris. The accident occurred at First and E streets northwest last February. Knuckles, through Attorney Vivian O. Hill, asks for $10,000.

Georgetown Head Sued By Boy on Auto Injuries

William Sidney Fritter, a legal infant, of 4800 Wisconsin avenue northwest, through his next friend, Harold A. Fritter, yesterday sued Dr. W. Coleman Nevils, president of the Georgetown University, and the Georgetown University, for $2,000 damages.

Through attorney Ross H. Snyder Fritter claimed that while an automobile in which Dr. Nevils was riding on school business was speeding, the boy was struck. He was forced to remain abed for 8 weeks with a broken leg, the suit alleges. The car was driven by Preston S. Bell. The accident happened March 18 last at Forty-first and Chesapeake streets northwest.

G. W. U. Faculty Women Entertain New Members

The faculty women of George Washington University tendered a reception to the new members of the faculty last night at the Hay-Adams House. Mrs. John Donaldson, chairman of the faculty group, presided.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, wife of the president of the university; Mrs. Robert H. Harmon and Mrs. Earl W. Barnhart. The George Washington University Glee Club gave several numbers, under the direction of Dr. Robert H. Harmon.

REAL ESTATE BILLS ARE TO BE PRESSED

Regulation of Sale of Securities, Mortgage Actions and Licenses Sought.

Measures to regulate the conduct of real estate business in the District will be pressed for action in the coming Congress, Senator Blaine (Republican), Wisconsin, announced yesterday on his return to the National Capital to prepare for the forthcoming first session of the Seventy-second Congress.

The Blaine measures propose to regulate the sale of securities, place additional safeguards around the property owner against foreclosure of mortgages and provide for the licensing of all real estate brokers and salesmen of real estate in the District.

The measures were the subject of a series of hearings, which now and then became sensational, in the course of the last Congress and eventually they were passed by the Senate, despite objections of many persons interested in the real estate business in the District.

Passage by the Senate, however, failed to advance the bills toward law because they were smothered in the House, the District committee of which was at that time headed by Representative Frederick Zihlman (Republican), Maryland, who was defeated for reelection.

Senator Blaine said that he intended to introduce his bills in the new Congress which convenes December 7 and press for their enactment. The fact that they were passed by the Senate last session means nothing legislatively, inasmuch as all uncompleted legislative action comes to naught at the end of a Congress and the whole legislative process must be begun anew with the birth of a new Congress.

Edison Memorial Light Tests Made

300,000,000 Candle-Power Beam Tried Out at Hains Point.

Before a distinguished gathering, a 300,000,000 candlepower searchlight was tested at Hains Point last night to determine the proper illumination for the proposed Edison National Memorial.

Under Fairfax Nevitt, chief engineer of the project, the huge light, manned by soldiers of Battery A, 260th Coast Artillery, District of Columbia National Guard, was swung into several positions, throwing a beam visible for 75 miles. After the tests the beam was dipped three times westward as a tribute to the memory of Thomas A. Edison.

Witnessing the demonstration were Dr. Alexander Wetmore, Smithsonian Institution; Capt. Frederick Hellwig, Naval Observatory; Thomas E. Robertson, commissioner of patents; F. W. Taff, Western Union Telegraph Co.; John A. Remon, Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co.; C. Melvin Sharpe, Potomac Electric Power Co.; L. Stoddard Taylor, Belasco Theater; Isaac Gans, prominent merchant, and William A. Brown, register of copyrights.

Fairfax Clerk Denies Pollard Vote Charges

Fairfax County Clerk P. W. Richardson yesterday denied a statement made by Gov. John Garland Pollard in an address before the State Election Codes Commission in Richmond, in which he said that "in Fairfax County in the last gubernatorial election 234 Democratic votes and 41 Republican ballots were voided."

Mr. Richardson said there were only 39 void ballots in the county and it would be impossible for any one to tell whether they were Democratic or Republican, because they were merely certified as so many void ballots. Not even the judges of the election would be able to give this information, he added.

GENERAL PEOPLE'S COUNSEL DECLARED NEEDED IN DISTRICT

Keech Will Recommend Law to Next Congress to Aid Poor of Capital.

DUTIES OF HIS OFFICE CONFINED TO UTILITIES

Asserts Post Can Be Filled Without Necessitating New Appointment.

An effort to establish an actual people's counsel, outside of public utility matters, will be made at the approaching session of Congress by People's Counsel Richmond B. Keech, he announced yesterday. The job could be taken over either by the corporation counsel or the United States attorney, he said, without necessitating the creation of an additional position.

Explaining that many persons had a misconceived notion of what the duties of the people's counsel before the Public Utilities Commission are, Mr. Keech said that he is frequently consulted by poor, and often illiterate, District residents who have been robbed of their wages by unscrupulous employers.

Often in Dire Need.

While he usually does what he can for these unfortunates, Mr. Keech said that he had neither the time nor the money to handle their affairs as they should be when a letter fails to bring a settlement.

"These unfortunates are often in dire need and without resources to file suit against their employers," he explained. "Very often, when they insist on collecting back wages, they are discharged without being paid anything. And, even when a lawyer agrees to take the case without a fee, there are the court costs to be paid.

Should Be Provided For.

"The District government owes it not only to those residents, but to itself, to defend them in such instances. There should be a counsel to which they might appeal when they are unable to follow the customary procedure of filing a civil suit."

Mr. Keech added that the enactment of a criminal law which would protect workmen from being robbed by their employers might be advisable. Some States, he said, have such statutes.

Catholic U. Director In Liturgical Body

Former English Professor Writes on Altars in Society's Organ.

The Right Rev. James T. Ryan, rector of the Catholic University of America, is one of the directors of the Liturgical Arts Society, recently organized here for the purpose of fostering beauty in the construction of Catholic churches throughout the Nation.

The Rev. Edwin Ryan, former professor of English at the university, contributed to the first number of the society's official organ, "Liturgical Arts." Father Ryan's article deals with the construction of altars, on which he is considered an authority.

The society has nine directors. Charles D. Maginnis, ecclesiastical architect of Boston, is the president. It will establish exhibition rooms in New York and will sponsor books in its field.

Canon Rudd Describes Cathedral and Garden

An illustrated lecture, "The Washington Cathedral and the Beautiful Garden," was given last night at the Willard Hotel by Canon Rudd of the Washington Cathedral staff. Comparisons and contrasts with European cathedrals were pointed out with the use of stereopticon slides by Canon Rudd.

Plans for the future development of the cathedral and the gardens and the pains taken in their growth were described by the lecturer. The intricate architectural planning of great ecclesiastical structures also was discussed by Canon Rudd.

Choir Evening Is Planned.

The choir of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, of Alexandria, under the direction of Sherman B. Fowler, organist, will have an "Evening With the Choir" tomorrow at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Ethel C. Hostetter, soprano, will be the guest soloist. The regular quartet choir will be heard, Mrs. Evelyn Howard Sheridan, soprano; Mrs. Sherman Bruce Fowler, alto; Stephen M. Fuseld, tenor, and James Jones, bass, with a chorus choir of 30 voices. Violin selections will be by Miss Grace Powell.

Armed Pair in Auto Hold Up Pedestrian

$58 Is Taken From Man Walking in Pennsylvania Avenue.

Two men, one of them armed with a revolver, last night held up John H. Ireland, of 218 Fourth street southeast and robbed him of $58 just after he alighted from a street car at Sixth and Pennsylvania Avenue southeast.

Mr. Ireland, proprietor of a barber shop at 521 Seventh street southwest, was on his way home from work. He had alighted from the street car and was walking along Pennsylvania Avenue.

A large touring car drove up beside him and the driver leaned out and pointed a pistol at Mr. Ireland. "Keep quiet," the bandit warned. Mr. Ireland obeyed, and the second man descended from the automobile and searched the victim's pockets. He extracted the $58 and jumped back in the machine. The pair drove away, turning west on North Carolina avenue and escaped.

FORESTRY NOTEBOOK WINNERS SELECTED

Judges Faced Big Task as 4,000 School Children Competed.

Three judges were forced to puzzle at length yesterday to pick a winner from 4,000 contestants in the second annual forestry notebook contest of the District public schools, sponsored by the District Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The books were placed on display at the National Museum, where they will remain until Monday evening. The children of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades competed in the contest and their books present artistic examples of the flora of the District of Columbia.

Prizes, including bronze medals which went to individual student winners, were presented by the American Forestry Association. Aiding in sponsoring the forestry notebook contests are the elementary science corps of the schools, the art department and the Community Center department.

Jan Rus, of John Quincy Adams School, and Janie Belle Bradford, of West School, were named the individual winners among children of the fourth grades.

Russel Baughman, of Janney School, and Jeanne Grinnell, of Jackson School, were winners in the fifth and sixth grade contests. All four will be awarded medals.

The school room prize was awarded to the Madison School's sixth grade, taught by Miss Maude Hobbs.

The Jackson School won the American Forestry Association plaque for the best display of notebooks. The plaque was won last year by the Oyster School. This year Jackson School had 80 children eligible for the contest and 75 of them entered. Of this number, 50 were judged worthy to be sent to the display at the museum.

The judges were Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic Society; Dr. Alexander Wetmore, assistant secretary of the National Museum, and C. Powell Minnigerode, director of the Corcoran Gallery of Art.

Weaver Now Heads Society of Natives

Other Officers Chosen at Meeting in Washington Club's Quarters.

Dr. Clarence A. Weaver was elected president of the Society of Natives of the District of Columbia last night at a meeting held in the Washington Club, 1701 K street northwest.

Others elected were Judge Robert E. Mattingly, first vice president; Mrs. Ada E. Hodge, second vice president; W. H. Groverman, third vice president; Frederick G. Umhau, treasurer; Miss Ema A. Bright, recording secretary; Mrs. M. Z. Baughman, corresponding secretary; James F. Duhamel, historian, and Miss Etta L. Taggert and Fred A. Emery, delegates to the Federation of Citizens Associations. Mr. Emery was the retiring president.

A program of entertainment followed the election.

Manslaughter Plea Nets Sentence of Five Years

Pleading guilty to manslaughter, Lajole A. Cooper, colored, received a sentence of five years yesterday.

Cooper shot and killed James L. Edwards June 30, of this year, when a dispute arose over some money owed to Cooper by Edwards.

Phi Beta Gamma Hears Hinton.

The Phi Beta Gamma legal fraternity of National University met last night at the Hay-Adams House, with Cyrus Rachie, chief justice of the fraternity, presiding. The principal speaker of the evening was Lieut. Walter C. Hinton.

BIRTHS, DEATHS AND MARRIAGES

BIRTHS REPORTED.

Willard W. and Marie Jones, boy.
John W. and Catherine L. Shugrue, boy.
Harry W. and Mary J. Chaddock, boy.
Joseph R. and Olive V. Ryan, boy.
Westley F. and Thelma E. Curtis, boy.
David R. and Frances F. Craig, boy.
Homer R. and Claudine C. Thomas, boy.
William A. and Gertrude Molster, boy.
Alfonso and Bernice Alvarado, girl.
Bernard P. and Evelyn R. Donnelly, girl.
Robert H. and Mary M. Wade, girl.
Daniel L. and Thelma L. Detwiler, girl.
Benjamin A. and Ella F. Shaw, girl.
Robert M. and Mary H. Frost, girl.
Clarence R. and Eudora K. Gilmore, boy.
Romeo W. and Elsie G. Horad, girl.

DEATHS REPORTED.

Jane C. Johnson, 72 yrs., 1338 Otis pl. nw.
Mary E. Flaherty, 70 yrs., 322 Pleasant ct. ne.
William E. Owens, 64 yrs., 1610 25th se.
Annis Deltufo, 62 yrs., 427 Oneida pl. nw.
William Roe, 81 yrs., U. S. Soldiers Home Hos.
Charles R. Gosnell, 56 yrs., en route Emergency Hos.
Charles Aufenthie, 55 yrs., 3240 Colorado ave. nw.
Leigh Rovzar, 48 yrs., U. S. Veterans Hos.
John J. Connelly, 48 yrs., Prov. Hos.
Patrick J. Harman, 37 yrs., U. S. Naval Hos.
Otis E. Jenkins, 36 yrs., Georgetown Hos.
Daniel Curtin, 28 yrs., Casualty Hos.
James Sheeley, 22 yrs., Emergency Hos.
Annie Mulberry, 74 yrs., 930 Westminster st. nw.
Bettie Carey, 37 yrs., 417 Warner st. nw.
George S. Hull, 50 yrs., 1433 Corcoran st. nw.
Elain Waters, 6 yrs., Children's Hos.
George M. Batley, 4 mos., Children's Hos.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

Ralph I. Egan, 48, and Bert Jeffers, 48, Fort Smith, Ark., The Rev. H. B. Smith.
Robert L. Musser, 31, and Mary Amelia Canfield, 21, The Rev. A. A. Stockdale.
Charles E. Brecht, 24, and Beulah M. Henson, 25, The Rev. C. A. Abbott.
Richard B. Thomas, 23, and Mary Augusta Glahn, 24, The Rev. H. O. Woolfall.
John B. Bordley, 39, Petersburg, Va., and Gayle T. Armistead, 16, The Rev. E. S. Dunlap.
Hamlyn O. Potter, 45, and Harriet E. Duell, 38, The Rev. J. S. Montgomery.
Wilmer S. Stonestreet, 31, Flinton, N. Dak., and Almedia Weimer, 53, The Rev. F. F. Holsapple.
Dick L. Denman, 26, Riverside, Md., and Iva R. Anderson, 23, Riverside, Md., The Rev. William Pierpont.
Horace B. Williams, 36, Richmond, Va., and Bernice E. Lafoon Wesson, 26, Richmond, Va., The Rev. J. E. Briggs.
Christ Radertscher, 29, Milwaukee, Wis., and Viola Reed, 24, Mabel Vale, Ark., Judge R. E. Mattingly.
James Anderson, 27, and Annie Williams, 24, The Rev. W. D. Jarvis.
Horace Hupp, 25, and Lillie Murray, 24, The Rev. C. H. Fox.
Lee R. Coleman, 37, and Verla Freeman, 22, The Rev. J. A. Johnson.
Wallace J. Thorne, 21, and Dorothy L. Newton, 22, The Rev. F. M. Schneeweiss.
Allen Lawrence, 21, and Louise Hicks, 16, The Rev. H. D. Billman.

Licenses issued at Rockville, Md.:
Cecil T. Fraley, 26, Fredericksburg, Va., and Dorothy A. Karat, 21, Philadelphia, Pa.
Lee W. Jones, 26, Silver Spring, Md., and Ettie Lucille Tucker, 26, 1001 Monroe street northwest.
Frank E. Marsh, 30, London, England, and Marjorie Christina West, 30, Beaver Dam, Wis.
George H. Corcoran, 33, Marine Barracks, and Doris B. Grover, 26, 1715 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

WOMAN'S SKELETON SUSPECTED THAT OF FORMER PUPIL HERE

Sadie Murray's Stepfather Attempts to Identify Remains and Effects.

DENTIST'S CHART MAY PROVE VALUABLE CLEW

Finds Similarity in Coat and Fur Worn by Vanished Capital Waitress.

The possibility that the remains of the woman found three weeks ago on the outskirts of Philadelphia might be those of Sadie Murray, 18 years old former Central High School student, who has been missing for several months, was seen last night with the return from Philadelphia of her stepfather, who partially identified fragments of her clothing as similar to those worn by his stepdaughter.

Hope of identification of the body lies in a dentist office in Johnstown, Pa., where Miss Murray had her teeth fixed several years ago. Philadelphia police are checking her teeth with those on the dentist's chart.

Washington Store Label.

A fragment of a coat label, with "Washington, D. C.," hardly discernible might be from a coat which her father bought for her last year in a downtown department store. The black fur, found near the remains, are similar to the fur on the collar and cuffs of the coat he purchased, he said.

After a dispute on April 22, she disappeared from her home at 922 Florence street northwest, and ten days later her mother, Amelia, who is now in New York, received a letter from her postmarked Baltimore, in which she said she was married and advised them not to try to find her.

Key May Prove Clew.

Her parents have no idea whom she might have married. Most of her time, they said, was occupied as a waitress in a lunch room then owned by her father at 2002 Seventeenth street northwest.

Her father was unable to identify keys found near the skeleton. He asked permission to bring the keys here with him to determine if they were keys usually carried by the girl. Detectives refused permission. Her mother and father will return to Philadelphia tomorrow to attempt further identification.

Commission Asks Bids For Demolishing Bridge

Bids for the demolition of the present steel bridge spanning Sligo Creek, on Carroll avenue in Takoma Park, Md., are asked in advertisements today by the Maryland State Roads Commission. The bids will be opened in Baltimore December 1 at noon.

The bridge is to be replaced with a three-span concrete bridge considerably wider than the present bridge and of more sturdy construction. To cost about $75,000, it will be the largest, widest and longest bridge in Montgomery County. Bids for the construction of the new bridge will be asked within three weeks, according to Maj. E. Brooke Lee, of the roads commission.

Ferguson Chosen Head Of Fairfax Beekeepers

W. H. Ferguson has been elected president of the Fairfax County Beekeepers Association. E. F. Myers was elected vice president; H. B. Derr, secretary, and J. E. Brown, treasurer. A feature of the meeting was an address by H. W. Westherford, bee specialist from Blacksburg, Va.

A resolution was adopted by the beekeepers asking the State agricultural extension authorities to appoint a full time apiarist as a means of aiding the bee industry in the State. An invitation was given to any one interested in beekeeping to attend the beekeepers' convention in Winchester December 9.

Aircraft Modelers Ready for Exhibit

Entrants in Tournament to Have Last Tryout Today in Preliminaries.

Washington entrants in the Eastern States telegraphic indoor model aircraft tournament, scheduled next Saturday in seventeen States and the District of Columbia, will get their last chance to tune up their planes today in a preliminary meet at the Adams School Building, beginning at 9:30 a. m. Competition today is listed for three types of planes—hand-launched scientific, rising off floor fuselage and rising off water.

The cream of the Capital's model builders is expected to take part in the trials along with every boy and girl under 21 years of age who has received instruction in model building during the past year at the several centers established for that purpose by the District of Columbia Model Aircraft League, which is conducted by the playground department and the Community Center department.

John Sullivan, 1412 Twenty-ninth street northwest, and Frank Salisbury, 1024 Vermont avenue northwest, are outstanding among the leading contestants representing the Capital. Each holds a record which officials of the D. C. M. A. L. believe to be world records, although there has been no way in which to determine them as such. Sullivan has to his credit a flight of 8 minutes 9 seconds with the hand-launched scientific model, while Salisbury has flown a rising off ground fuselage model for 6 minutes 26 3-5 seconds.

Both Sullivan and Salisbury today will attempt to better their marks, while a host of other builders will try to establish new standards, too. Among the strongest rivals of Sullivan and Salisbury are Edward Grannis, 1615 Kennedy street northwest; Blair Bennett, 1410 M street northwest; Jack Parke, South Cathedral Mansions, and Everett Meeks, 2608 Myrtle avenue northeast. Any one of this latter group is regarded capable of surpassing the feats of the two record holders.

The big tournament next Saturday is to be conducted in divisions, one to each city represented.